SAF Discuss Forest Health

The Allegheny Society of American Foresters, SAF, Maryland-Delaware Division, met on Nov. 20 at the Society of American Foresters headquarters in Bethesda. Forest Health was the topic of the meeting and issues covered included diseases, weed species, and insects in the Maryland/Delaware forests.

Approximately 60 foresters, forest technicians, and forestry students attended the meeting. Among those attending were Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Forest Service personnel for the Garrett Project Wade Dorsey, Louise Upole, and Ernie Metz.

Some of the problems recognized in Garrett County forests are diseases such as ash yellows and Armillaria root rot. Insects such as gypsy moths and weed species such as multiflora rose and mile a minute also pose problems in the county, according to the SAF spokesperson.

Antiques

Japanese woodblock prints have been collected for many years. The old, rare prints are very expensive. In the early 1980s, a few collectors began noticing more modern prints that also were woodblocks made in Japan.

Paul Jacoulet (1902-1960) was a French boy who lived with his family in Tokyo. He was given the usual Japanese education and learned to speak, read and write Japanese. He was taught Japanese brushwork and Western-style oil and pastel painting.

Jacoulet collected and copied the early Japanese woodblocks. After working as an interpreter and a buyer, he began to paint. He was soon making his own woodblock prints.

The traditional Japanese print was made from about eight blocks. Jacoulet often used more than 100. During World War II, he moved from Tokyo to the mountain town of Karuizawa, where he died in 1960.

His distinctive prints sold for $300 to $3,000 in 1981. Today it is difficult to find a print for less than $5,000.

AN AMERICAN HERO

JIM ELLIOT

Jim Elliot must have questioned his own judgment when he finally reached his destination, deep in the jungles of Ecuador. It was the beginning of a new year — 1956 — and Jim had hoped that the Aucas Indians would receive him and his five companions well. After all, they had come to help and to teach about their faith.

But that's not the way it turned out, and Elliot is not available to tell his story because the natives took his life and the lives of his companions.

Jim was a native of Oregon. He developed a love of the outdoors through his visits to the Oregon coast and the majestic forests of snow-capped Mount Hood. He had many interests — including model ships and airplanes and stamp collecting.

And he was openly religious. In high school, he carried a small Bible on top of his textbooks. He was a conscientious objector in World War II. instead, he entered Wheaton College in 1945 where he became a top student. There he wrote his credo in his journal: "He is no fool who gives what he cannot keep to gain what he cannot lose."

He filled his heart and mind with verses from the Bible. From his days in high school, he judged his own conduct and probably that of others by a list of "don'ts." But late in his senior year at Wheaton, he changed — he came to see that he was cutting himself off from the very students he wished to know. He now participated more in college activities and increased his circle of influence.

He left Wheaton in 1949 with the highest honors. He went to a missionary training program where he became fascinated with the Aucas, a tribe in Ecuador untouched by civilization. It wasn't until 1952 that he reached Latin America and began the journey that took him to his goal and to his death. This American hero gave what he could not keep to gain what he could not lose.

Home Tips

PLEASE HELP! — I took out my carpet in the kitchen and it has a hardwood floor underneath.

Under that carpet, there is black junk (like glue or tar). This house is old and I guess that's what they used back then.

I bought Oops!. It didn't work. Can you please help me with this? I don't have much money to work with. Sarah P., Fowlerville, Mich.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Does anyone have a solution for Sarah? Personally, I think sanding would work (Sarah, check with your local home decorating center). However, I'm no handyperson. Let's hear from our more talented readers on this!

WHITE SHOES — I use soaped steel wool pads that you use on pots on my white shoes. They clean all the stains and dirt in a snap. All you have to do is rinse. I soak the laces in Tilex solution and rinse also to make them look new again. Martha K., Bessemer, Mich.

EASY I.D. — Do you ever have keys on your key ring or in a drawer and can't identify them?

Make it a habit to lay all your keys on a copying machine to label for your records and keep the list current. Include every key you can now identify, such as keys to suitcases, buildings, vehicles and file cabinets.

It's a good idea to have a copy with your will and estate papers for the administrators. Their job will be easier and it will also help your heirs. Fanny L., Syracuse, N.Y.

FROM THE COACH — I play a lot of soccer, and when the weather is bad, we have to play in the mud. Sometimes I will forget to take my cleats out of my shoe bag, and the mud will get caked on like cement!

My soccer coach gave a good tip that I would like to pass on. To loosen the mud without getting your hands messy, you can put your soccer shoes in a shallow container of water with a little bit of dishwasher detergent. If you leave the shoes in the container overnight, the next morning, the mud will be completely off, and your shoes will look great! Jeannie K., Ft. Worth, Texas

Correction Noted In ICES Article

In a recent article announcing the appointment of William Finztell as an area representative for International Cultural Exchange Services' (ICES) foreign student exchange program, one of the phone numbers listed for people to call if they are interested in hosting an exchange student contained an error. Finztell may be contacted at 387-8040, and the number for the national ICES office is 1-800-344-3566.

Finztell is currently interviewing and seeking families in Garrett County who are interested in hosting an international high school student from Brazil for the upcoming semester. Several students have expressed interest (to study) in the United States, and are expected to arrive in mid-January and stay until mid-June 1997. Those interested in learning more about the exchange student program are urged to call him at the above numbers, or contact the regional director, Linda Daugherty at (304) 823-2123.

The Republican Fares Well In Gallup Poll

The results of a summer Gallup Poll in Garrett County were reported to various county businesses recently and The Republican newspaper fared well in the independent market survey.

According to the report, pollers interviewed 5,935 people in the areas of Oakland, Deep Creek Lake, Accident, and Grantsville. For news and advertising, 63% of the respondents said they relied on The Republican. The Weekender, the local weekly direct-mail shopper published by the Cumberland Times News, received 1.4% of the response. The Cumberland Times daily paper was mentioned by 31.47% of the nearly 6,000 persons questioned.

The Gallup spokesperson informed Republican editor Donald Sincell that the paper's popularity grew significantly in the Grantsville area just recently. Sincell attributed that increase to the opening of the newspaper's Grantsville branch office this past

"LET'S CATCH THE NEXT BUS OUTTA HERE!" says the nervous doe to her stag as they wait anxiously in a local bus shanty. Lots of deer are on the run this week as hunters infiltrate the woods looking for the unsuspecting. Shots are ringing out all around as the animals are "harvested" during this year's hunting season. All individuals are cautioned to stay away from wooded areas at this time of year, as stray bullets are a danger. Persons who do wander about outside should be wearing articles of clothing that have fluorescent orange coloring. A hunting accident has already claimed the life of a Kansas man, and a local boy has suffered a damaging injury to his hand in another mishap. Hunters are urged to engage in the sport with safety at the top of their lists. This clever display is on the Loch Lynn area property of Bob Shank and was brought to photographer John McEwen's attention by a caller to this office yesterday.

Injunction Sought By Anti-Alcohol Activist Group

A group of Garrett Countians staunchly against the sale of alcohol on Sunday filed a suit against the Garrett County Board of Elections Supervisor Fred Sanders this week. The suit seeks a temporary injunction on the recently accepted ordinance that is to take effect on Dec. 14 in two voting districts. The ordinance allows the sale of an alcoholic beverage with a meal on Sundays. Garrett County has never allowed the Sunday sale of alcohol, and in the recent election, had the vote been a county-wide vote as opposed to district by district, the measure would have failed once again. However, by very slim margins, Avilton and the Elbow voted to accept the new allowance.

The activist group, headed by Crellin pastor Michael Mudge and local attorney Thomas Doyle, has expressed the belief that the

Grantsville Woman Dies In Vehicle Crash; Driver Charged

An Arnold man has been charged in connection with a single-vehicle accident on Savage River Road early Sunday morning that claimed the life of a young Grantsville woman.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, Norman Frederick Brown, 25, has been charged with homicide by motor vehicle while intoxicated, DWI (driving while intoxicated), fleeing the scene of a personal injury accident involving death, reckless driving, and operating a vehicle while his driving privileges were suspended following the 3:34 a.m. accident that killed 21-year-old Amy Danielle Durst.

State police said Miss Durst was a passenger in a 1992 Eagle Talon operated by Brown that was traveling north on the Savage River Road when it ran off the road and struck a tree. She was partially ejected from the vehicle, according to the report.

Brown reportedly fled the scene following the accident and was later arrested at a relative's trailer about a mile away. He was subsequently arrested and transported to the Garrett County Jail where he was held prior to posting $10,000 bond.

Miss Durst was born Aug. 16, 1975, in Meyersdale, Pa., the daughter of Daniel C. and Brenda (Resh) Durst, Grantsville. She was preceded in death by her paternal grandfather, Clark Durst; and maternal grandmother, Lola Resh.

She was a sales clerk at Dollar Tree, Cumberland. She was a member of the Jennings United Methodist Church and a junior member of the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Surviving in addition to her parents are one brother, David Durst, Grantsville; paternal grandmother, Frances Durst, Grantsville; maternal grandfather, Richard Resh, Grantsville; and a maternal great-grandmother, Alice Resh, Cumberland.

Friends were received at the Newman Funeral Home, Grantsville, where a service was conducted Wednesday, Dec. 4, with Pastor Tim Fetterman officiating. Interment was in the Grantsville Cemetery.

Bizarre Accident At Local Business Claims Life Of Loch Lynn Woman

A Loch Lynn woman was killed in a bizarre accident late Tuesday morning when she fell beneath her own car in the parking lot of a local business.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, 77-year-old Marguerite E. Miller-Wotring had pulled her car into the parking lot at Farmer's Market on Rt. 219 in Oakland and was reportedly exiting the vehicle when, for unknown reasons, it began to roll backwards, knocking her beneath the wheels. The car continued to roll backwards for approximately 40 feet, police said, then made a U-turn, and rolled to a stop in the parking lot.

The woman's 4-year-old granddaughter was strapped

WORLD AIDS DAY OBSERVED - The Garrett County Commissioners took time this Tuesday to proclaim December 1996 as the month to observe World AIDS Day. Individuals from the Garrett County Health Department and AIDS Council were on hand for the proclamation, which stated, in part, as follows: Whereas HIV/AIDS is a world pandemic affecting people of all ages, genders, and races, and whereas public education is the most effective way to fight this disease, the Garrett County AIDS Council's mission is to provide education regarding tranamission, prevention, and the psychosocial aspects of the disease, as well as counseling, testing resources, and medical treatment; and further to assist and advocate for HIV-positive persons and their families in Garrett County to enable them to remain self-sufficient in the community for as long as possible. The proclamation also noted the Council's Open Heart project, which includes a community education program on Saturday, Dec. 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Garrett Community College auditorium. Panels of the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt are currently on display at GCC's Bausch & Lomb Art Gallery. The commissioners resolved to proclaim the month as one of AIDS observance and asked citizens to support the AIDS Council and its Open Heart project in an effort to educate and further protect themselves from this devastating disease. Pictured seated left to right are Commissioners Roger Glotfelty, Wayne Wilt, and John Braskey. Standing in the same order are Donna McClintock, co-chair of the Council; Jonathan Jacks, secretary; Eileen Schiasnagle, member; and Joelle Plauger, member.

HEAVILY DAMAGED by fire Sunday afternoon was this mobile home located along Preston Lane in Crellin. Volunteer fire fighters from Oakland, Terra Alta, Deer Park, and Garrman were summoned to the residence of Linda Burgess at 1:15 p.m. and, upon arrival, found one room in flames. Quick action by fire fighters kept the blaze confined to the room, however, smoke and heat damage was extensive throughout the structure. Also responding was the Southern Rescue Squad. Crews remained on the scene for about two hours. There were no injuries reported. The cause of the blaze remains under investigation by the state fire marshal's office.

Community Again Responding To Annual Rotary Christmas Project

Over the past several weeks, the Oakland Rotary Club has been working with other county civic clubs and organizations to help ensure a happy holiday season for Garrett County children and families in need.

Over 30 businesses located in communities throughout the county have agreed to sponsor a business site Christmas Giving Tree, now decorated with gift cards. While visiting an area business, shoppers may take a card from the giving tree which indicates the items needing to be purchased, according to David Bolinger, Rotary Christmas Project chairperson. All gift need tags represent children who have been designated as in need by one of the two local social services agencies.

"Garrett Countians have always prided themselves on helping their neighbors who are in need," said Rotary Club president Kathy Zimmerman. "Now these citizens can once again demonstrate that basic kindness for those less fortunate by purchasing the items indicated on the gift need tags."

Bolinger noted that the 16th annual project is off to a fast start, with businesses already reporting that shoppers are removing the need tags from giving trees and purchasing the requested gifts; however, "extra effort will be required this year because the number of days preceding Christmas are fewer than usual," he said.

Bolinger emphasized that all purchased gifts with the need card attached should be returned to participating businesses by December 18, at which time Rotarians will gather the gifts in preparation for distribution.

On December 21, Rotarians and other participating civic organizations will gather at the Oakland National Guard Armory, preparing the gifts and food for delivery to each of the 400 identified families in need. Rotarian Walter Donalson indicated that the goal this year is to deliver just over 30,000 pounds of donated and purchased food to these families, providing a ham or turkey and the usual foods associated with a traditional holiday dinner.

"Plenty of gift needs cards are still displayed on various giving trees, awaiting a generous patron to purchase the gift requested," commented Bolinger.

For those persons wanting to provide monetary contributions in lieu of gift purchases, donations may be mailed to: Oakland Rotary Christmas Project, P.O. Box 741, Oakland, MD 21550.

"Any donation, regardless of the amount, is sincerely appreciated and will directly benefit this worthy cause," Bolinger added.

Oakland Police Investigate Theft Of Camcorder

The Oakland City Police are currently investigating a recent theft of a video camcorder from Allen's Radio Shack in Oakland.

According to a report filed by Officer Chris Feller, the Zenith VM6901 camcorder, valued at $600 (serial number 53001509), was reported missing on Tuesday when employees at the Radio Shack found the empty box on the shelf. It was last seen on Nov. 29. Still in the box, according to the report, was the carrying strap and a device which allows the C-size tape to be played in a regular VHS video cassette recorder (VCR). It was noted that the camcorder is useless without this device.

During his investigation, Feller found a piece of packing material that has been sent to a crime lab to check for fingerprints. The box containing the camcorder had not been opened prior to the theft, according to the police report. An investigation is continuing.

A hit-and-run report was filed at the city police department on Nov. 30.

According to a report filed by Chief John K. Sines, Earl H. George, Swanton, reported that someone struck the front of his light blue 1989 Ford Escort station wagon, causing approximately $1,000 in damage to the front grill, bumper, and hood.

The car, according to George, had been parked in the lot at the Oak-Mar Restaurant on Third Street. Sines is continuing his investigation into the incident.

Three Arrests Noted By GCSO

Three arrests were on file this week at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office: one for DWI (driving while intoxicated) and the other two for court offenses.

Police responded to the National Pike area and spotted the vehicle. James M. Cole, 36, Elkview, W.Va., was the driver and police suspected that he was intoxicated. He was consequently charged with DWI.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Layke J. Cassell, 45, Oakland, for violation of probation, according to the report.

Gordon L. Noble, 28, Keyser, W.Va., was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear in court, according to the police report.

Fog, Rain, Speed Blamed For One-Vehicle Accident

Foggy, rain-soaked roads were reportedly a contributing factor in a single-vehicle accident Saturday afternoon on Rt. 495 that seriously injured a Grantsville man.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, 24-year-old Brian B. McGuire was traveling too fast for the posted speed limit and failed to negotiate a turn in the road as he drove along Rt. 495, near the Brenneman Road. The 1988 Pontiac 6000 he was operating apparently spun off the roadway and struck a telephone pole.

McGuire was trapped in his vehicle for approximately 45 minutes before rescuers from Northern Garrett Rescue Squad and the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department could free him, police said. He was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital and was initially listed in "guarded" condition at that facility. He has since been released.

The state police charged McGuire with failure to reduce speed in dangerous weather conditions.

DWI ACCIDENT

An Oakland man was charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated) following a single-vehicle accident Saturday afternoon on the Spring Glade Road.

David John Kutchman, 43, was charged with the offense after he lost control of the 1996 Jeep Cherokee he was operating east on the Spring Glade Road, near Nest Lick Acres Road, causing the vehicle to travel off the road, strike an embankment, and then a tree.

Volunteers from Southern Garrett Rescue Squad transported Kutchman to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following the 4:56 p.m. accident, where he was treated and released. Also responding to the accident scene were members of the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department.

To enhance the evening, the Council has obtained panels of the famous NAMES Project Quilt Project. They are now on display in the Bausch & Lomb Art Gallery at GCC.

The program will open with a performance by the county's teen health theater, Pandora's Box. This group of high school teens has been gathered together by the Garrett County Health Department's AmeriCorps program.

Southern High School senior Jasha Teets will provide a commentary titled, "I Rant, I Rave." Teets will be followed by poetry readings from community member Jean Fafrak and area poet Barbara Hurd.

Garrett County AIDS Council member Sonya Cooper-Evans will perform a dance titled, "Memories of Yesterday," to Andrew Lloyd Webber's "Think of Me." Cooper-Evans will be accompanied by vocalist/pianist Kathleen Wold.

An intermission in the program will follow the dance, allowing audience members to visit GCC's Bausch & Lomb art gallery across the hall from the auditorium. The gallery is featuring a display of panels from the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt and a signature panel for the visitor to sign. Local quilters will be on hand to complete a panel to represent Garrett County in the AIDS Memorial Quilt. Mary Walcek will provide music in the gallery.

Following intermission, the program will feature the cast of "Gone Tomorrow," a group of teens from Charleston, W.Va. Their 30-minute play will be followed by a performance from the Garrett County Choral Society.

Master of ceremonies for the Open Heart program is Cathy Clocker of WKHJ radio.

The program will contain some adult language and content.

Four Are Slightly Injured In Three-Car Pileup

Four Oakland residents, including a year-old baby, sustained minor injuries in a three-car pileup Monday that occurred at the intersection of Rt. 135 and B Street, according to a report at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. All those involved in the accident were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released.

Patricia C. Carter, 58, Oakland, was operating a 1993 Ford Taurus eastbound on 135 when a 1988 Honda Accord, being driven northbound on B Street by Eleanor P. Slagle, 23, Oakland, approached the highway. Slagle stopped at the stop sign but apparently did not see the Carter vehicle and pulled into its path. The two collided, and the Slagle vehicle spun around and was struck by a westbound 1987 Dodge Aries being operated by Roscoe H. Swiger, 83, Oakland.

According to the police report, the three adults in the wreck were wearing safety belts and the child was properly secured in a car seat. The adults and the baby, Caleb Slagle, who was a passenger in the Honda Accord, were all taken to the hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad. Also at the scene was the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department.

Slagle was cited in the 6 p.m. mishap.

MSP Arrest Two Out-Of-State Men On Drug Charges

Two out-of-state men were arrested and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and CDS paraphernalia late Thursday evening by Tfc. A.S. MacLane of the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

Walter David Norwood, 27, Mauriceville, Texas, and his passenger, Jeffrey Neil Forrest, 32, Baltimore, were arrested after the trooper found three plastic bags containing 17.9 grams of suspected marijuana, three packs of Topps cigarette papers, and a homemade pipe containing suspected marijuana residue in their vehicle.

According to the police report, the trooper had responded to the Slopeside Market on Rt. 219 in response to a reported suspicious vehicle at that location. He later saw the vehicle parked in the Wisp Hotel parking lot and upon contact with occupants, he reportedly detected an odor of suspected marijuana. A subsequent search of the vehicle revealed the above items.

B&E, THEFT REPORTED

The state police are investigating a reported breaking, entering, and theft at the Wisp Hotel.

David Arce told the police that sometime between 6 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Tuesday, someone entered his hotel room and removed a men's gold ring, a men's gold bracelet, and approximately $200 in cash.

Tfc. E.S. Derham is continuing his investigation into the incident.

Man Convicted Of Theft Sentenced To Six Months

An Oakland man who was convicted in July on one count of theft was sentenced to jail time by Judge Gary Leasure in Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings this week. David L. Denicola, 34, will spend six months in the Garrett County Jail, according to the court report.

Denicola was found guilty of the charge by a jury of his peers and a pre-sentence investigation had been ordered at that July hearing. On Monday, Leasure sentenced the defendant to 36 months in the Maryland Department of Corrections, and then suspended 30 months of the term. He then ordered that the remaining six months be served locally. Denicola will also be on two years of supervised probation and has been ordered to make restitution to the Shaffer Ford Company in the amount of $2,000.

The charge against the defendant arose after an investigation into an incident at the car company. Denicola had apparently done transmission work on a vehicle owned by Donald M. Mannick. He charged Mannick $2,000 for the repairs even though the vehicle was still under warranty. The defendant apparently took the money himself, as Shaffer Ford's records showed the warranty coverage. Mannick then happened upon a clerk from the car company at a local grocery store and through conversation the two discovered the apparent deception. Charges were filed a short time later, according to the report.

In another case this week, a Frederick man will serve one year and two months in jail for driving under the influence. Samuel F. Polce, 25, was found guilty by a jury in September of DUI and driving with a suspended license. Judge James Sherbin sentenced him Monday to two months in jail for DUI and fined him $500 plus court costs. He added a year to the term for the other traffic violation and another $500 fine.

The charges against Polce arose in January after he wrecked his car into a snow drift. The accident was investigated by the Maryland State Police, according to the report.

Open Your Heart...

There will be a special program held this Saturday night on the Garrett Community College stage, beginning at 7:30 p.m. It has been named "Open Your Heart" by the organizers, who are the members of the Garrett County AIDS Council, and it will feature a variety of entertainment, from music to dance to poetry. Its purpose is primarily to bring awareness, education, empathy, and tolerance for those affected by this dreadful disease, and to remember its victims.

While the initial transmission of the AIDS causing virus known as HIV was primarily among homosexual males in our society, such is no longer the case. The most rapid growth of the disease is among heterosexual individuals, both male and female, and particularly among our young people. This is why education about the transmission and prevention of the virus is so crucial, and should not be ignored with an "it won't happen to me or my children" attitude, or ignored because it is too sensitive and too embarrassing to talk about. Every single young person in Garrett County, particularly when he or she "goes out into the world," is at risk, regardless of upbringing and values. Mistakes and accidents happen, especially among this age group that often feels so invincible.

We educate our children about everything else in society that can kill or injure them, and we take numerous steps to protect them, whether it has to do with poisons, firearms, automobiles, or the dangers of throwing rocks at each other. AIDS doesn't just injure, it kills; every single time, sooner or later, it kills. Why in the world wouldn't every parent want his or her children to know all there is to know about how to avoid it?

It's ironic that, while some believe that AIDS was God's way of punishing homosexuals, from the unprecedented effort to find a cure for the disease has come numerous advances in treatments of other forms of life-threatening illnesses that would not have happened without such a special endeavor. Great strides in the treatment of cancer and multiple sclerosis are among them. Even a chicken pox vaccine has been developed because of AIDS research.

We in no way suggest that we are better off because of the AIDS epidemic. But there is no question that it has brought about some good things, at least in the area of medical research. The Christian will often point out, "God works in mysterious ways."

Nonetheless, there are many families already devastated by the disease and there is much to do in order to get it stopped. So we hope there is a large crowd in the GCC auditorium Saturday evening.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Your editorial on abuse was commendable but your non-factual reply to Mr. Forman was not.

In most cases the source of the abuse that you correctly condemn is caused by the alcohol that you erroneously endorse. A death with alcohol alleged to be the contributing factor is being announced locally as I write which verilies that laws may deter but do not eliminate the abuse of any product legally or otherwise. Nearly 70% of the voters apparently recognize this fact. It's sad that as a Christian you do not. In comparing the safety factor between tobacco and alcohol, only a fool would choose an oncoming motorist with a bottle of booze in his hand than one with a cigarette in his. I think this is what the more refined message that Mr. Foreman was conveying.

To crusade against the lesser of two evils and approve of the greater is folly indeed, especially for a well-educated community leader.

Double standards are the hall-mark of a liberal, which Webster defines as "not too strict - too free." A more wise definition is given by God in Isaiah 32:5-8.

Respectfully,
Bob Groves

Dear Mr. Groves,

There is a huge difference between drinking a glass of wine or beer and being intoxicated. It is the abuse - the over consumption - of alcohol that causes so many of the tragedies in our society. I have never in any way endorsed the abuse of alcohol; in fact, I have written scores of editorials against such a practice. By being a member of the rescue squad for over 13 years and still a member of the fire department (for over 20 years), I have seen firsthand on many occasions the ugly, bloody results of the abuse of alcohol. I venture to guess I have seen the horrors of it far more often and more closely than you have.

However, an over consumption of just about anything - alcohol, food, medication, even watching television - is often harmful and can lead to tragedy. Any consumption of cigarettes is harmful, which is the only point I was attempting to make in my response to Mr. Forman.

Your assessment is that taking a drink, even a single drink, of anything alcoholic is a sinful act. To that I will refer you to an event with which you should be quite familiar - The Last Supper - at which the 12 disciples of Jesus Christ and yes, Jesus himself, shared a cup of wine. Yes, wine, not grape juice as some would suggest, for there was no means of keeping fruit juices from fermenting in those days.

Editor

P.S. Our Webster dictionary does not define the word "liberal" anywhere close to how your Webster defines it. We must have different editions.

To the Editor:

As I finished reading Thomas Moore's book The Re-Enchantment of Everyday Life this weekend, I realized that we had been blessed by our own enchanted experience when the Ecumenical Youth Ministry (EYM) performed their Gettysburg Concert.

We traveled along to Gettysburg, Pa., where this group of 29 youth plus supporting staff and musicians performed their concert at the Lutheran Theological Seminary Chapel Monday evening, December 2, in front of a crowd of over 200 people to a standing ovation and again Tuesday morning to a group of about 200 public school elementary-age children. Their performance was truly wonderful and many people in the Gettysburg area now know of this group and our town and aspire to be like them.

Their singing and performance were inspiring and anyone who has seen them perform Godspell previously or their present concert has been touched by their ability, enthusiasm, and joy. There is a message here and they said it best in their closing song Monday evening; "...If We Only Have Love."

So, I want to thank everyone involved in the EYM, from the youth who have touched a chord of love and brought a spell of enchantment to everyone who has heard them, to the people who have guided and nurtured their performances (especially Lynn and Michael Broderick) and to the people of the group of four churches who came together about a year ago and had the foresight, wisdom, and love to support the concept of an ecumenical youth ministry to engage a wide group of our community's youth from 6th grade and up in meaningful activities. These performances will long be remembered and savored by me, and I'm sure will be a lifelong positive memory for our children. Therefore, I urge you to continue to support our community's youth in this endeavor. Your vision has come to fruition and it is good.

If any youth wants to be a participant, the only prerequisite apparent to me is to be interested, and whether you can sing, dance, act, draw, paint, play an instrument (recorder, flute, guitar, bell, percussion instrument, etc.), work on set/sound production or simply shake an egg filled with something that rattles in time to music, this group will find a way to utilize and/or discover your talent.

Finally, I look forward to a local version of the Gettysburg Concert in the near future and the EYM production of the musical Joseph and The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat in the spring.

In appreciation,
Donald R. Richter
Oakland

To the Editor:

This is the time of year that many high school seniors are making choices about where to go to college and how to pay for it.

Over the years the financial aid process for higher education has been simplified by the federal and state governments and the schools themselves. This may not seem so for many who are applying for the first time who take one look at the FORM (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) and panic.

The panic has created a mecca for opportunists. Students and parents need to be aware and wary of many of these so-called "Scholarship Search Companies" and "Advisors." Students and parents are paying anywhere from $35 to $300 to receive help in filling out a form that is provided free by the federal government. With this fee, the company also guarantees a certain amount of aid or your money back. In most cases the aid the student receives is what the federal government would have given them through the school anyway. They also charge for a "Scholarship Search." Most of these searches are available free of charge at the local high school, college or university, and on the world wide web.

Student loans are also being hawked at cheaper rates than that offered by the federal government when in fact they are the very same loans only with an additional requirement to purchase an insurance policy or annuity.

All of the programs that these businesses are charging for are available at any college, university, or vocational school in the United States with no fees involved.

If you need help with a financial aid application, contact a trained professional. High school counselors and college and university financial aid professionals are all trained to assist in the process. Many schools sponsor evening workshops (free of charge) to assist in the financial aid process. In most cases a financial aid office will help even if the student is not planning to attend that school. The U.S. Department of Education has an 800 number to answer questions concerning financial aid and you can also request publications (free of charge) explaining the financial aid process and programs.

When choosing a federal loan lender, contact the school you plan to attend and ask for its preferred lender list. In some cases the school is the lender and no bank is involved in the loan process. Interest rates, fees, and loan limits are set by Federal law and are the same no matter where the student attends and no purchase required. You may find that your own local banking institution is a lender approved for federal student loans.

Take the time to seek the appropriate free help. And remember, no matter who advises you, the information on the application is your responsibility.

To the Editor:

When is a "tax break" really a "tax fake"? When the immediate effect is a big tax windfall to the current governor but payment for the "tax break" is delayed until the current governor's term ends and the bill for big and costly new spending programs also comes due.

Faced with the threat of losing his own business secretary, an outraged business community which may still sue him over collective bargaining, a Speaker of the House of Delegates itching to announce his bid for the Democratic nomination and most importantly the people of Maryland who have demanded tax relief, Parris finally acted.

But did he? What he has proposed is a back-end loaded "tax cut" while actually raising taxes during his term in office and reaping more, not less, money to spend before the 1998 election.

On whose watch will the full impact of the token "tax cut" fall? Not on his, but on

ON THE FEAST OF ST. NICHOLAS

Tomorrow is the feast day of St. Nicholas who, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, "...is as celebrated as his history is obscure." No one is quite sure when he lived, but by 565 A.D. he was being honored by the emperor of the Byzantine Empire. His name and, in large extent, his spirit, is the origin of the American "Santa Claus."

The stories told about St. Nicholas all have to do with extraordinary acts of charity. The most famous tale is that he secretly bestowed three bags of gold upon a family with three daughters too poor to get husbands. The gold served as their dowry, and each married well. Thus originated the tradition of a mysterious and good-willed gent surreptitiously leaving gifts, first on St. Nicholas' Eve and later transferred to Christmas Eve.

I heard two stories on the news the other day which made me think our land could use a visitation from St. Nicholas himself, or -- at least -- a revival of his spirit. The late-breaking news from the Girl Scouts of America is that they have dropped "cheerful" from the Girl Scouts' pledge.

Cheerfulness, the account went on, is not deemed by the Girl Scouts Council as being relevant in the 1990s. Now, if they had said cheerfulness is not common or usual in the 1990s, I could have agreed with them fully. To my mind it is the current rarity of cheerfulness which makes it a quality all the more desirable and even necessary to promote.

In our day we seem to vacillate between grumpiness and hilarity. A modicum of cheerfulness is just what we need as an antidote. St. Nicholas is the man for the job. If he could leave bags of gentle smiles, pleasing dispositions, and soft laughter on the doorsteps of all Girl Scouts (especially at the national headquarters) we would all be the better for it.

The second news story that begs for St. Nicholas to come to the rescue had to do with an ordinance in some city or another banning urban camping. Just in case you might confuse these two stories and think that urban camping is something the Girl Scouts of the '90s might do, it isn't. Urban camping is a euphemism for sleeping on sidewalks and park benches because you have no other place to sleep -- in other words, homelessness.

Those who opposed the ordinance said it was heartless, etc. Those who defended the proposal said that the homeless were discouraging people who could afford to live in the city from buying or renting homes, even from shopping.

What bothered me was that neither side suggested building shelters to house the men and women who have no roof over their heads. It is all very well and good to say they shouldn't be sleeping on the street, but where (for goodness' sake) are they supposed to sleep?

The penalty for violating the proposed urban camping ordinance was $1,000 and/or one year in jail. The former penalty is nonsense, of course. The second penalty reminded me of the musical based on O. Henry's story The Gift of the Magi. There is a bum who keeps trying to get himself arrested so he will have a warm place to sleep during the cold nights around Christmas. Good-hearted policemen keep letting him off the hook "since it's Christmas." Finally the bum taxes an officer of the law too much, and is led away (smiling) to jail.

One in every 167 Americans is in jail now. I don't think we need to further crowd our penal institutions with people whose only crime is that they haven't anywhere to sleep.

Since no one is sure about the whereabouts of St. Nicholas at present, we may have to play his part. It might just be time to take a little of the money we were going to dedicate to conspicuous consumption during Advent and Christmas in order to help those who are helping urban campers and all others who are in need.

Teachers Are Heroes

by Governor Parris Glendening

Far too often we forget to take the time to express our appreciation for the remarkable work that teachers do. Teachers shape tomorrow's leaders. They open the doors of opportunity to future generations. Teachers are heroes because they bring commitment and dedication to the important job of shaping the lives of children.

Last month, in Greenbelt, 423 elementary and middle schools from every corner of the state were recognized for significantly improving their scores on the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program. How were those scores improved? Who was responsible for the improvement? Why, Maryland's teachers, of course.

During the awards ceremony, $2.75 million was awarded to 102 schools from 18 of Maryland's 24 school systems, in amounts ranging from $14,580 to $51,394 per school. The financial awards are unrestricted. That means that the teachers and school principals can decide whether they need computers, VCR's, books, fax machines or field trips --- it's totally up to the individual schools. The money will be used at the discretion of those who made it possible for their schools to win it --- the teachers.

As a career educator myself, I know first hand what teachers do, and how hard they work to help young people grow into fulfilled and productive adults. Education has been, and continues to be, an important part of my life. I have volunteered in the library at University Park Elementary School for the past ten years, and I get a great deal of satisfaction out of knowing that I am very directly still connected to the learning process. Now that I am Governor, education continues to be my top priority, and I am extremely proud of our efforts.

Consider what has been accomplished. We have increased spending on education by $349 million, which includes a 10.7% increase for kindergarten through high school education; we have committed $258 million to schools construction; we have increased funding for Community Colleges; we have increased aid to colleges and universities; and we have increased scholarship aid 14%. We are also aggressively meeting the challenge of modernizing our schools for the 21st century.

In September I joined 5,000 volunteers across Maryland for Net Weekend which kicked off our five year, $52.8 million information technology effort that will ensure that students in every public school...wealthy or poor, rural or urban, new or old, have equal access to technology to prepare them for the future. But even as we provide these resources, the increased funding, modern facilities, and the latest technology, we must never lose sight of the fact that each school in Maryland will have to find its own way into the 21st century. I mean this as both an educator and as a father.

It is a tremendous challenge to give our children the tools and training they will need tomorrow, when we are gone. No amount of money, no state of the art building, no super computer, can substitute for a dedicated and committed school community. These things are merely tools and teachers are the crafts/men and women.

It is important that schools are rewarded for hard work, creativity, dedication, commitment...and, most of all, success. That is why I felt it important that we provide incentives and recognition for good work and real progress toward meeting state standards. You can imagine how proud I am to see the results of local efforts to improve school performance, and find a way to give meaningful recognition for all the teachers have accomplished.

What we accomplished in getting the School Performance Recognition Program enacted into law was not easy. It took a lot of meetings with the educators and legislators. It took staff work to develop the details of a program that honors genuine progress. And it took a willingness to allocate resources to this idea of recogniziag successful schools...$2.75 million to be exact.

But I do not compare the work of getting a law passed with the work you have done in mobilizing your school to meet high standards. I have heard it said that "the greatest waste in America today is the failure to use the abilities of our people."

By using our abilities to the fullest, local efforts, and individual school successes, are making the difference in improving opportunities for all children. That is what I said at my inauguration, "Change will not be measured by the laws we pass. Change will be measured in the lives and the lifetimes of our children." Teachers have effected great changes in students' lives and futures. Together, we are proving that Maryland is a community that cares for its children.

OCYF, GCC Found Garrett Info. Center

The Garrett County Office for Children, Youth and Families (GC OCYF) and Garrett Community College have collaborated their efforts to establish a Garrett Information Center at GCC.

The Garrett Rural Information Cooperative (GRIC) and Garrett Community Network (GCNet) are furnishing the necessary technological support and computer facilities for the center, while the OCYF is providing a part-time staff person. The purpose of the center is to provide comprehensive information services for Garrett County residents. The Garrett County Family Service Directory database and an online community events calendar will be maintained and updated from the GCC site, according to a spokesperson for the center.

Beginning early next year, satellite information and referral centers will be housed at key local agencies. The OCYF, along with Garrett County Community Action Committee, the Garrett County Department of Social Services, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Garrett County Health Department, and the Ruth Enlow Libraries have expressed an interest in providing information and referral services at their respective sites.

In preparation for staffing the satellite information and referral centers, representatives from these agencies are currently enrolled in a "Community Information Services" continuing education course at GCC. Course participants have been introduced to e-mail, chat rooms, forums, web browsers, news readers, and listservs. They are learning how to sort, search, query, and enter data in the Family Services Directory database. Instruction in the design of agency web pages is the current class project.

Hospital Slates Family-Centered Maternity Care Suite Open House

Garrett County Memorial Hospital will launch the opening of its new Family-Centered Maternity Suite by hosting a public open house on Wednesday, December 18, from 2 to 5 p.m.

Over the past several months, the hospital's obstetrics unit has been undergoing renovations to prepare for the implementation of Family Centered Maternity Care (FCMC).

The FCMC concept incorporates labor, delivery, recovery and postpartum (LDRP) services in the same room. Mothers-to-be can expect a comfortable, homelike atmosphere that will allow them and their babies to remain together throughout the entire hospital stay, according to Charlene Bennett, RNC, OB nurse manager at Garrett Memorial.

"LDRP adds up to single-room maternity care," said Bennett. "This long-awaited concept fosters a comfortable, private and intimate environment for the entire family."

The open house will feature guided tours of the Family-Centered Maternity Suite which houses three LDRP rooms and an LDR/exam room. Refreshments will also be served.

The renovation of Garrett Memorial's obstetrics department was planned in cooperation with area physicians and OB staff.

For more information about the open house event or Family-Centered Maternity Care, persons may call 334-2155, ext. 409.

Hunters Charged By NRP With Various Offenses

Seven hunters were charged by the Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) with hunting violations while in the Thousand Acres area, near Swanton, after officers responded to a complaint on the opening day of deer firearms season, Nov. 28.

According to a report filed with the NRP, Officers Milbourne, Sizemore, and Marple located the seven hunters, along with a boat they apparently used to enter the private property, and subsequently charged with various violations.

Charged with hunting without written permission ($120 fine each) and failure to display fluorescent orange while hunting deer ($70 fine each) were: Stephen Andrew Rendulich, 30, Chevy Chase; James Tarleton Gaffney, 35, Delmont, Pa.; Vinton David Hoffman, 32, Greensburg, Pa.; and Mark Allan Marciniak, 31, Irwin, Pa.

Robert Neil Schimizzi, 32, Jeanette, Pa. who was cited for hunting without written permission, was also given warnings for failure to field tag a deer and for operating a boat without navigation lights.

HUNTER CHARGED

Maryland NRP Cpl. Walter May charged Edward Glenn Sisler, 38, White Rock Road, Friendsville, with hunting deer during closed season ($520 line) at 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 27.

According to a report filed by May, he responded to a complaint from the NRP Catch-A-Poacher Hotline that someone was hunting deer illegally somewhere between Trap Run Road and White Rock Road. Seized from Sisler in the incident was a Remington 7400, calibre .270.

Citizens are reminded to report illegal hunting activity to the NRP hotline by calling 1-800-635-6124. It is asked that the caller be specific in the description of individuals and, when possible, give names, addresses, and vehicle descriptions. The anonymity of the information and caller is guaranteed, according to an NRP spokesperson.

ILLEGAL DEER KILL

Mark Andrew Yanta, 28, Oakland, was charged by Cpl. May on Dec. 2 with possession of an illegal (antlerless) deer, which carries a potential fine of $350.

May responded to a complaint through the NRP Catch-A-Poacher Hotline from a citizen who reported the activity.

SPOTLIGHTING

A 17-year-old Friendsville youth was apprehended by the NRP for reportedly spotlighting a deer on Freer Road, Friendsville, at 9:30 p.m. on Dec. 2.

NRP charges are pending through Juveaile Services. The juvenile was released to the custody of his parents. Seized in the incident was a Yamaha 350 four-wheeler, a .270 Winchester bolt-action rifle, and a doe.

Vandalism Cases Logged At GC Sheriff's Office

Various cases of apparent vandalism have been reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and are under investigation. Local residents have been faced with damaged vehicles and smashed mailboxes, according to the reports.

John Hinebaugh, Mtn. Lake Park, contacted the sheriff's office on Dec. 1 and reported that someone had slashed his convertible car roof. The investigating officer observed three slashes in the Chrysler convertible top that apparently occurred sometime during the night of Nov. 30 or early morning of Dec. 1. The cost to replace the damaged roof is $500, according to the report. Hinebaugh told police he had no idea who may have done the damage.

Natalie Gangler, Mtn. Lake Park, reported damages done to her 1989 Safari van. The vehicle was parked at her G Street residence when the damages were done. Sometime between 6 p.m. on Nov. 29 and 7 a.m. on Nov. 30, someone slashed two tires and scratched the paint on the van. The damage estimate was approximately $250, according to the report.

In another case, an investigation has been underway for over a month into the smashing of about nine mailboxes in Finzel. The vandalism occurred sometime near the end of October, and officers have been probing the event. Allen J. Skidmore, Oakland, reported that his mailbox was also destroyed, and officers have determined that somebody placed a small explosive in his mailbox and set it off.

Information about these crimes is being sought, and any person with information about these or any other crimes is urged to contact the sheriff's office at 334-1911.

AN ALL-SCHOOL ASSEMBLY was held yesterday at Southern High School to honor the members of the boys' and girls' cross country teams for each winning state 1A championships last month at the state meet in Hereford. It was the fourth straight state title for the boys' team, coached by Carl Booth, and the first championship by the girls' team, coached by Louis Newcomb. Among the speakers and presenters of various awards and proclamations were Lynn Bell, school principal; Garrett County Commissioner Roger Glotfelty; Oakland Mayor Asa McCain; Maryland Delegate George Edwards; Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, superintendent of schools; former cross country coach and assistant principal Bob Quick; and Tom Woods, Southern athletic director. Below, Delegate Edwards presents one of two House of Delegate proclamations to Coach Booth. At right, Dr. Ryscavage, flanked by Mrs. Bell, places a medal around the neck of girls' co-captain Lauren Newcomb, whose second-place finish in the state meet was the best individual performance among the Southern runners. Also making comments were team co-captains Newcomb, Meghan Dabney, and Matt Sincell, and Coaches Booth and Newcomb. Dave Mayfield, assistant athletic director, served as master of ceremonies. Student Council president Sarah Fike led the Pledge of Allegiance and music was provided by the Southern High Band.

DNR Announces Results Of Fall Turkey Season

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John R. Griffin announced this week results of the recently completed 1996 fall turkey season. A total of 350 wild turkeys were reported harvested during the six-day season.

"Despite good hunting weather during all but one day of the season, the harvest was down substantially from recent years," Griffin said.

Surveys conducted by DNR field staff throughout the summer indicated that turkey production was down in Western Maryland. Wildlife biologists anticipated a lower harvest during this year's fall hunting season, despite a record spring season harvest. Low recruitment during summer brood rearing periods means that fewer younger turkeys will be available for turkey hunters. It was for this reason that the 1996 fall hunting season for turkeys was not extended.

This represents a 39% decrease from 1995's total of 570 turkeys. Allegany County led the way with an unofficial harvest of 165 turkeys, followed by Garrett County with 146 birds and Washington County totaling 39 wild turkeys.

"Fall turkey hunting has a long tradition in Western Maryland," Grilfin said. "Turkeys have always been present in this part of the state, and have been hunted by some families for generations. The allure of this great game bird is strong in Western Maryland, and many families have enjoyed a Thanksgiving feast of wild turkey, just as their forefathers did."

Husky Grapplers To Open Season With Tri-Match

With a number of returning lettermen from last season's successful squad, Northern High School wrestling coach Scott Stough is anticipating another outstanding season for the Huskies, who will open their 1996-97 campaign next Tuesday in a tri-match at Keyser against the Golden Tornado and the Hyndman Hornets.

Assisting Coach Stough this season are Damon Schmuck, Tom Shimrock, and John Foston.

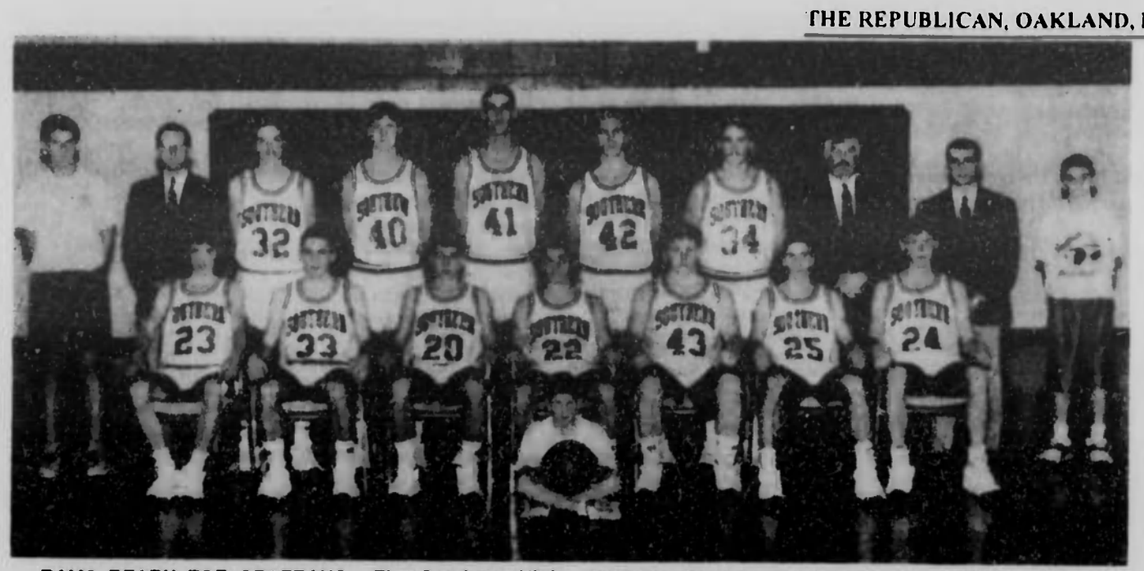
Coach Bosley Says "Ingredients Are There" For Good Season



RAMS READY FOR SPARTANS - The Southern High School boys' varsity will open its 1996-97 season this Friday night at home against the Bishop Walsh Spartans. Leading the Rams will be two returning part-time starters, Matt Ruff and Jared Beckman. The Rams will attempt to improve upon last season's 15-11 mark and a runner-up finish in the region. Pictured seated, from left, are: Chris Bittinger, Cody Lewis, John Andrews, Nathan DiSimone, (seated) manager A.J. Bender, Aaron Newcomb, Derek Everd, and Ryan Adams. Standing, same order, are: manager Eban Lynch, Coach Dave Bender, Mike Bittinger, Josh Helbig, Jared Beckman, Matt Ruff, Mike Flanagan, Coach Tom Bosley, Coach Matt Redinger, and manager Mike Saturday.

Although Coach Tom Bosley has only two part-time starters back from last season's 15-11 Southern High School boys' varsity basketball team, he believes "the ingredients are there" for another successful season. The Rams will open their season this Friday, Dec. 6, at home against a strong Bishop Walsh team.

The two part-time starters back are seniors Jared Beckman (6-6) and Matt Ruff (6-2), who helped lead the Rams to the Region I finals last season.

"Jared has good timing and has the ability to block or alter opponents' shots," Bosley said. "Matt averaged over eight points per game last year and could be our 'go-to' player in clutch situations."

Other lettermen back this year are seniors Aaron Newcomb, Ryan Adams, and Mike Flanagan, who all must make the adjustment to being key players, according to Bosley.

"Aaron is an outstanding three-sport athlete who brings good quickness and tremendous mental toughness to the squad," Bosley said. "He is a leader by his work ethic and example."

Bosley said Adams will be counted on for his long-range shooting, while Flanagan must rebound and play aggressive defense.

Rounding out the roster are players who moved up from the junior varsity program. A three-way battle for the point guard spot is being waged among sophomores John Andrews and Nathan DiSimone and junior Derek Everd.

"Nathan is one of the best man-to-man defenders on the team," Bosley said, "and Andrews, a good offensive player, and Everd, another quick defender, have also played well in our scrimmages."

Bosley said that junior Josh Helbig must make a contribution both on defense and on offense, while twin brothers Chris and Mike Bittinger, juniors, and senior Cody Lewis will compete for the remaining spots in the playing rotation.

The Rams' schedule features 20 regular season games, two in their 21st Annual Snowball Classic, and, Bosley hopes, four games in the region playoffs. "Our goal is to improve each game and to peak by tournament time," he said. "We must develop team chemistry early. If things come together as we hope, we should have a good team."

Assisting Bosley again this year with coaching chores are Dave Bender and Matt Redinger. "We are fortunate to have quality individuals like Dave and Matt helping," Bosley said. "Their experience is just invaluable to our program."

Teams that will appear with the Rams in the Snowball Classic, set for December 27-28, are Bishop Walsh, Beall, and Preston County. After this Friday's opener at home with BW, the Rams will be off until the following Friday, when they will travel to Mt. Savage.

The junior varsity game with Bishop Walsh will tip off at 6 p.m. Friday, with the varsity game to follow. The Ram varsity will be looking to avenge a pair of losses to the Spartans last year.

Early Results Of Hunting Seasons Noted

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John Griffin announced this week the early results from Maryland's deer hunting seasons.

"Deer hunting provides more than 1.7 million days of vigorous outdoor activity for about 100,000 Maryland deer hunters. This is a 128 percent increase in hunting days over the last 10 years," Griffin said.

During the first four weeks of the archery season the statewide harvest of 4,613 exceeds last year's total by five percent. Eighteen Maryland counties increased the early bow harvest from the 1995 season.

The number of days spent bow hunting climbed by 121 percent during the last 10 years. Recent figures show that each bow hunter spends 20 days deer hunting.

The October three-day muzzleloader season deer harvest was held down by unfavorable hunting weather across the state. The 1996 October muzzleloader harvest of 3,940 deer dropped 14 percent below the 1995 harvest of 4,589 deer.

The addition of the October three-day muzzleloader season, which opened in 1994, increased the total number of days spent muzzleloader hunting by 102 percent from 1993. Each muzzleloader hunter now averages eight days deer hunting for the entire muzzleloader season.

Unofficial tallies from Maryland's Second Youth Firearm Deer Hunt find a take of 1,355 deer for the one-day hunt. The harvest rose by 32 percent above the initial 1995 Youth Firearm Deer Hunt.

Maryland firearm deer hunters spend 74 percent more total days hunting than 10 years ago, Griffin said. Each firearm deer hunter averages seven days pursuing deer.

For additional information on deer hunting in Maryland, persons may call Doug Hotton, Deer Project Manager, at the Lecompte WMA Office, (410) 376-3236.

Northern Boys, Girls To Open Seasons This Evening

The Northern High School boys' and girls' basketball teams will both kick off Garrett County's season this evening, as the Northern boys, coached by Mike Friend, will host Salisbury and the girls, led by Coach Harv Speicher, will play at Fort Hill.

While the Northern boys finished a modest 8-16 last season and 0-10 in their first season in the Western Maryland Interscholastic League, they won four of their last seven games and were just edged out of the Region I playoffs by rival Southern, 76-69, in double overtime. The Rams went on to finish as the runners-up in the region.

Returning players with considerable experience for Coach Friend are senior guard Zach Leverenz (5-11), junior forward Scott Sisler (5-11), senior guard Steve Hinebaugh (5-11), and senior center Nathan Long (6-3). Leverenz averaged just over 10 points and 3.1 assists last year and was named to the All-Tournament team of the Northern Christmas Classic. He was also an honorable mention All-WMIL selection.

The top player lost to graduation was center Andy Brenneman, who led the team in scoring with 11 points per game and rebounding with eight.

"We certainly finished last season better than we started it," Coach Friend said. "So we hope to pick up where we left off. Consistency on defense and good shooting are still the keys to winning in basketball.

The Huskies will open with six straight home games before traveling to Southern on January 3 in their first road contest. After tonight's opener, they will host Mount Savage Friday evening and Westmar next Tuesday.

Coach Harv Speicher will be counting upon three returning players and a talented group of last year's jayvee players to improve upon the Huskies' 12-12 mark (3-9 in the WMIL).

Senior guard Mindy McCarty, who led the Huskies in scoring last year with nearly 12 points per game and in assists with 2.5, is in her third season as starting point guard. The second team All-Area selection last year was also second on the team in rebounding (5.7) and third in steals (2.7).

The other two returners are senior center Lea Stanton and junior forward Brooke Brenneman. Stanton was second on the team in scoring last year with just under eight points per game and led in rebounds with just under seven. Brenneman averaged six points and four boards per contest.

Among those lost to graduation were Nicole Elliott, who finished last year with 35 three-point goals, and forward Danielle Fike. Back after missing most of last season with injuries is senior forward Jamie Jo Vent.

Top former junior varsity players expected to take a major role on varsity are guards Jill Speicher and Kathy Arnold, whom Speicher believes have the ability to provide the outside shooting. "They are also very quick, are good ball handlers, and play good pressure defense," he said.

Other strong jayvee players now on varsity are Laurel Wolle, Jenny Stephans, Brandi Frazee, and Debi Dolan.

"Replacing the outside shooting of Nicole and Danielle, plus solid team defense will be the keys to our success," Coach Speicher said. "We believe we will be competitive with most of the teams on our schedule. There are a lot of good teams, so it should be an exciting year for girls' basketball."

After tonight's contest at Fort Hill, the Huskies will host Bishop Walsh on Monday and entertain Allegany next Wednesday.

Lakers Lose Two Of Three In Florida; Edge Anne Arundel

The trip to Florida last week for the Garrett Community College men's basketball team was only mildly successful, as the Lakers dropped two of three games, but they came back last night to record a 67-60 victory over host Anne Arundel CC in Arnold. The results left their record at 4-4 and 1-1 in Maryland JUCO standings.

The defeats in Florida came at the hands of Central Florida CC last Thursday, 91-74, and to Northwest Shoals College on Friday, 81-74. They then defeated Daytona Beach CC on Saturday, but details of that contest were not received.

The Lakers led Central Florida at halftime, 40-39, but were outscored in the second half, 52-34. Aubray Gray and Jerome Adams led the GCC offense with 18 and 17 points, respectively. Twelve of Adams's points came from the three-point range. VaShawn Gross was right behind with 15 points and Ronald Rhodes added 13 points.

Pacing the Florida team in scoring were Jasper Mallory and Lonsdale McCallum, who hit 24 and 23 points, respectively. LaVant Williams finished with 19 and Marshod Fairweather had 11.

Last night's contest with Anne Arundel CC was close most of the way, and it was some late three-pointers - two by Gross - that secured the victory for the Lakers.

A three-point play by Adams with less than three minutes to play and prior to Gross's two big shots put the Lakers on top for good. Anne Arundel held a 31-30 edge at halftime.

Gross finished with a game-high 23 points, Gray hit 14, Adams netted 12, and Frank Winter recorded 10 points and 17 rebounds.

"I'm pleased that we won the game, but we certainly didn't play very well," stated GCC coach Dennis Gibson. "They played a good game plan of holding the ball, and we didn't execute our plan."

Leading Anne Arundel's scoring were Carlos Evans with 16 points and Kalemba Kola Peba with 11.

The Lakers will attempt to better their .500 mark this Saturday at CC South. They will then b for a week and trave Montgomery College Germantown on Dec. 1

$1,000 REWARD
I'm offering a reward of $1,000 for the safe return of my dog, "Beauty." She was taken on September 23 without my knowledge by my daughter who thought she should be out with hunters running in a fenced area. Beauty is a mixed breed dog, but has the loose mouth to catch birds. She is 45 pounds, black short hair, yellow front paws (I can't recall her back paws). She has a tattoo ID. She is loving and gentle. I really miss her and love her and want her back. Please call me at 706-865-5066. I will accept a collect call. Leave your name and phone number.

STEWART NAMED ALL-CONFERENCE - Mike Stewart, a 1992 graduate of Southern High School and now a senior at Fairmont State University, was recently named to the second team All-West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference as a defensive end. Stewart (5-11, 215), who was the defensive captain this past fall, recorded 26 solo tackles for the Fighting Falcons, which included four quarterback sacks, plus nine assists. "Mike has a great work ethic," stated Falcon coach Doug Sams. "He didn't play a whole lot his first couple of years other than on special teams, and a lot of kids would have given it up. But he was persistent and not only did he become a starter for us, but he became one of our team leaders. More importantly, he's just a fine young man." The Falcons won the WVIA Conference title this year and Sams was named conference Coach of the Year. Stewart, who was a standout on the football field for the Southern Rams, is a son of James and Cassandra Stewart, Oakland. He will graduate this month with a degree in criminal justice and a grade point average of just under 3.0.

Garrett Women Are Defeated By Altoona Campus

The Altoona Campus of Penn State handed the Garrett Community College women's basketball team its second loss in as many starts this season by crushing the Lakers, 70-43, Tuesday evening at GCC.

The Lakers played almost evenly with their visitors throughout the first half and trailed by only four, 38-34, at intermission, but were then out-scored in the second half by a lopsided 32-9 margin.

Leading Altoona (3-1) in scoring was Alicia Pituch, who recorded 25 points. Teammates reaching double figures were Karyn Smith with 14, Angela Davis with 13, and Missy Fink with 10.

The Laker offense was paced by Crystal Wagner and Angie Friend, who finished with 19 and 14 points, respectively. All but two of Friend's points were scored from the three-point range.

The Lakers will go after their first win this Friday at Montgomery College.

"We are very pleased to be so well-received," Sincell said. "We work hard to be a reliable, responsible newspaper for the entire county. This paper has been published every week since 1877; we strive to maintain the long-standing tradition of fair reporting and full-county coverage, as well as top quality printing. We are also pleased to be able to provide such a far-reaching and effective medium for our advertisers, as demonstrated by the results of the Gallup Poll."

In other communication media, the majority of the approximately 6,000 persons surveyed listen regularly to WFRB Radio, Frostburg (43.46%), or Loch Lynn's WKHJ (21.68%). Approximately 7% if those polled tune in regularly to WAJI, Grantsville.

Local television viewers prefer Pittsburgh's WTAE (23.08%) over most other popular stations. Other local businesses that showed notable favor included Fox's Pizza Den with 49% positive response; Garrett Memorial Hospital, 41.7%; Beachy Lumber Company, 31%, and the Oak-Mar Restaurant at 29%.

The response percentages were obtained by applying sound mathematical principles and statistical methods to survey results, according to the poll result document. Also noted in the report is the Gallup Poll's accuracy: it has predicted the outcomes of presidential elections with accuracy since 1952 using a random survey of only 1,000 people nationwide.

Food For Thought

Your own pear butter tastes best. Simmer 3 pounds of pears—peeled, cored and sliced—with ½ cup water until tender, about 15 minutes. Mash or process, then stir in 2 cups sugar and simmer slowly another hour, stirring often. Refrigerate.

Punching, Kicking Result In Accident As Program Begins

By Peggy Santamaria

Crowding the auditorium of the Flowery Vale Senior Center, a group of Accident area residents listened to opening remarks by an employee of the health department and then began throwing punches, kicking and generally flexing their muscles.

The speaker was Garrett County Health Department outreach worker Donna Knox who took full responsibility for triggering this response. What Knox had done was to introduce Tim Magrath, the instructor for a free, six-week karate course. What followed were the first rigorous exercises of the evening.

The first night of class, 61 people of various ages lined the hardwood floor in Flowery Vale to participate in the martial art while 20 others observed. "This was a very good response," Knox commented, when referring to the number of people who showed up. "We usually get a good size group in this area because there is not a lot else to do," she added.

Magrath, who works for Sen. Paul Sarbanes at his Western Maryland office in Cumberland, said that he was amazed at the number of people who not only showed up for the first class, but returned the following week in the snow. He explained that he keeps close tabs on Garrett County through newspapers, and was aware that many residents felt the need to have more activities available, especially for the young. "So I decided that this was the place to come and teach a class," he said. So Magrath will come in from Cumberland each Tuesday to teach karate.

Knox said that the class in Accident was organized as part of a mini-grant program sponsored by the health department. The class was selected by the Accident Planning Committee.

"The planning group," Knox explained, "is made up of community volunteers. The volunteers work together to see what activities the people in the community want."

The health department mini-grant program started about three years ago, according to Lynn Shiffman, the prevention coordinator at the health department. "The mini-grant program originated through the state's drug and alcohol prevention funding. So our first grants were for educational programs and alternative activity programs."

Shiffman explained that the health department outreach workers show members of a community how they can come together to form a planning committee, develop ideas for activities, and apply for the min-grant money to fund their project. "It makes people feel good to be part of planning the activities for their own community," said Shiffman.

Currently five communities have planning groups and they have chosen names. The active groups are the Crellin/Rosedale Road Runners, the Gorman Go-Getters, the Friendsville Family Activities Committee, the Grantsville Planning Committee, the Accident Community Planning Group, and the Kitzmiller Empower Group.

The ideas developed by the planning committees are reviewed first at the health department. They are then sent down to the state offices for approval of the activity for funding.

"These activities give kids skills and information to help prevent use of alcohol and drugs. There are also good role models for the kids in these groups," she continued.

The pool of available funds has increased, Shiffman said. "We have received funding from the Governor's Office on Crime Control and Prevention, the Office for Children, Youth and Families, and a tobacco prevention grant. Any group that has a tax ID number can apply for one of these grants," she said.

Nancy Brady, supervisor of the outreach workers, explained that mini-grant programs reflect the communities that develop them. "The committee members find out what the residents of the area are most interested in. In Kitzmiller there has been a karate class going on for three years as well as a dance and gymnastic class," she said adding, "One girl in Kitzmiller has been in the karate class since it began. She has really advanced." 20-26 students have earned various belts through this program.

The Crellin/Rosedale group is planning a craft-making day in December.

Other groups funded by the mini-grant program include volleyball leagues and 4-H projects. According to Shiffman, the grants are generally $500-$1000 each.

FOCUS AND CONTROL are just two of the skills demanded in karate. More than 60 residents of the Accident area are participating in a six-week session of classes taught by Tim Magrath. The lessons, emphasizing strength, concentration, and control, are made possible through a mini-grant program of the Garrett County Health Department. Pictured above, Tim Magrath leads his students through punching exercises.

CONTEMPLATION FOCUSES ENERGY - Following the lead of karate instructor Tim Magrath, students at Flowery Vale, in Accident, pictured above, prepare themselves mentally for the rigorous exercise to follow. The discipline of this martial art requires practiced self-control.

Clocker said.

While the entertainment continues and Santa visits with the children, guests will also have the opportunity to visit the booths of eight crafters from the Mountain Fresh Produce Association and four local restaurants. Foods will be offered by Pizzazz Pizzeria, Cornish Manor, the French Cafe Bakery, and the Silver Tree Restaurant.

As a new high point of this year's event, WKHJ will set up Christmas trees near the performing area and organizers are inviting everyone to bring ornaments to hang on the branches. The decorated trees will remain in the downtown area throughout the season until Christmas Eve, when WKHJ staff members will remove the ornaments and present them to patients at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

"It's our hope that area children and adults will make decorations. When the trees are finished, they will have a real Garrett County appeal," Clocker said.

"WKHJ's Fresh Air Christmas is a time to share the laughter of the season and the warmth of fellowship," she said. "Although the event was initially developed for children, we have found that people of all ages like to visit a place where the simplicity and pureness of the season is alive and well."

Alcohol, No Seat Belts Lead To State Fatalities

The use of alcohol and the failure to use seat belts were evident in Maryland highway fatalities during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend, according to a report from the Department of Maryland State Police.

From 12:01 a.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 27, through Sunday at midnight, 10 people were killed in nine accidents on state roadways. Five of those killed had been drinking, including one of two pedestrians who stepped in front of oncoming traffic.

Of the eight non-pedestrian fatalities, four of the victims were not wearing seat belts, including two individuals who were ejected from their vehicle, according to the report.

Garrett County experienced one fatality early Sunday morning on Savage River Road in which a 21-year-old Gramsville woman was killed when the car she was riding in struck a tree. Among several other charges, the driver was arrested for DWI, according to reports (see related story). The remaining fatal accidents occurred in Prince George's, Harford, Anne Arundel, Charles, Montgomery, Howard, and Baltimore counties.

Colonel David Mitchell assigned 50 extra troopers to Maryland highways during the holiday weekend to target aggressive drivers and to assist motorists in need. The troopers arrested 76 drunk drivers and issued almost 1,800 speeding citations, according to the report. The officers also cited nearly 600 people for safety belt and child safety seat violations.

the governor who is in office in 2001, four years from now.

Meanwhile the governor is also making headlines by promising "free" college tuition for Maryland students. The cost of that, too, will be minimal until after the next election. That bill will come due along with the promise to Baltimore City for more school money and the cost of state employee collective bargaining. These are major financial obligations!

Wayne Curry, who followed Parris as the county executive of Prince George's County, is all too familiar with these gimmicks. Leading up to the gubernatorial election, Parris generously distributed goodies to Prince George's County Unions and announced cuts in some of the taxes he had previously raised. His campaign blatantly boasted that he was leaving the county with a $45 million surplus.

Mr. Curry got the bill after the November election. There was no surplus; just a $110 million shortfall. Parris' accounting "error" was a full 10% of his budget! The labor contracts had to be reneged and the tax cut never saw the light of day.

As the next election looms, Mr. Glendening's promises appear like "deja vu." Perhaps he should be reminded that "you can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time; but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

To the Editor:

On Wednesday, Oct. 30, 1996, Ranger J. Adams came to the Accident Elementary School to tell us about drugs.

He came because it was Red Ribbon Week. He talked about drugs that are bad for your body. Some people drink too much alcohol like beer and wine, but they usually get sick. People also misuse medicine. The prescription might say 2 pills and some people might take 5 pills. People do drugs for many reasons. One reason is from peer pressure. Peer pressure is when someone your age does drugs and tries to get you to do it too. Students also take drugs because role models do it. That means when you see a football player, baseball player, or other special people that you like take drugs, then it encourages you to do it too.

Ranger Adams made us promise not to do drugs.

P.S. Our class has been learning about the newspaper, and I was a reporter using the 5 W's.

To the Editor:

What does it take to have justice served? Since when has our judicial system begun condoning domestic violence against children? I believe contrary, that it is more than just a matter of losing tempers. It is abuse anyway you look at it.

Since when has lying on the stand become overlooked and justified as a slanting of the truth? Is not the oath "to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth so help me God?" If you are allowed to say or stretch a lie to get what you want, is that being honest or untruthful? Black or white, it seems to me a lie is a lie.

How do we protect the best interest of our children and ourselves if we continue to allow this to he acceptable. Where did our good old fashion morals and values go? Are good values and morals left outside the courtroom?

Welcome to Garrett County....

Please tell me that this isn't what we have to look forward to.

Denise Homberg

To the Editor:

I am writing you out of sheer frustration and despair. I've advertised for my dog two times in your paper (I'm not criticizing your paper, but I did not receive one reply. I'd advertised in two Cleveland, Ga., papers) and the only reply was from a man who heard my dog was taken to West Virginia; but he didn't know the men he heard saying this or where the dog is. I've also had bills posted at your animal shelters as well as all over Cleveland, Georgia.

I had been assured the dog would be somewhere in Georgia. She was taken by my daughter on September 23, so I've no idea when she went to West Virginia. (My daughter, without my knowledge, placed "Beauty" with hunters with a fenced area, as she felt she needed to run.)

I'm now placing an ad in your paper for $1,000. for the return of Beauty. She's mixed breed, spayed, 45 lbs., has black short hair and yellow on part of her front paws.

Surely someone must know where she is or ask around to hunter friends who may have missed reading my ad or this letter.

I'm heartbroken, and miss her terribly. Please try to help me find her, and get a $1,000 reward.

Sincerely,
(Mrs.) Mary Wray
Cleveland, Ga.

To the Editor:

I must admit that I did not go to Elk Garden, West Virginia, to watch a Basketball game but as things worked out, it was the best five minutes of basketball that I have ever experienced. There were no dunks, full court throws, or behind the back passes. None of those skills were required.

This is first and second grade league play. Five minute quarters are played on a floor that rivaled the infamous and now defunct Boston Garden. I have been in a lot of gymnasiums in my days, none cleaner than Elk Garden that day. The games started out normally enough with a jump ball and just prior to the jump each coach visited center court to make sure the players all stood where they belonged. It worked and the game was underway.

You have an assortment of players. Boys and girls who shoot, dribble and run; mostly run and try to take the ball away from the other team. There is a hustle and teamwork amidst the coaching activity from the brothers, sisters, aunts, uncles, and grandparents who assemble to watch their favorite player. There are even cheerleaders all neatly in a line, shortest to tallest.

At one point, there is a barrage of shooting from the yellow colored team. Shot after shot like cannon fire at Gettysburg. No shots hit their intended mark, although some are remarkably close. Smile are everywhere. Attempted defense efforts fall short. Double dribbling is not illegal at this age, adding to the innocence of this league, and the referees treat the players with the utmost respect, teaching and encouraging the children at the same time.

This is small town America and I love it. Most of the men in the building are adorned in ball caps, largely coal and lumber men, I imagine. They are taking the time to make their community a better place to live. I admire that. The coaches are likely former ball players themselves and wear their heart on their sleeves.

On the south wall of this gymnasium are two signs: "Basketball is great stuff" and "Be a sport." I believe these are words we can live by; I believe these words have been wisely chosen by the people of Elk Garden who believe in themselves and their children.

It cost one dollar to see all of this and you can't afford to miss it. To the people of Elk Garden who treated me so well that day, thank you. To the players, coaches, and raving fans, you're very special. Hold on to your dreams. Your shots will eventually make it into the rim and your spirit will carry you into the future.

The score at the end of the first quarter? 1-0. Call it a coaching clinic in life.

To the Editor:

There is a push by the Governor to cut the mental health budget seven percent. This would amount to about 28 million dollars. Doesn't the Governor know that more people suffer from mental illness than any other illness? With this cut, who suffers in the end when seriously mentally ill people do not or can not get the proper care and treatment? Who is responsible for helping the mentally ill?

In the early 1960s government de-institutionalized state hospitals and set up community mental health centers to provide care for discharged patients. As a result of those programs the state discharged patients who most often ended up homeless or in jail. Now the Governor wants to make cuts that will leave more people untreated -- more street people, and put more people in our already over populated jails.

The treatment of the mentally ill has progressed since the middle 1700s, with the introduction of new medications and psychotherapy. More mentally ill patients are returning to society as responsible productive citizens. One must ask, will the Governor's cuts eliminate the necessary care the mentally ill need to achieve that goal? Will we be filling up our jails with mentally ill people? If so, won't the cost for keeping them in jail be more than giving them the treatment they need? Then, when the cost to incarcerate the mentally ill becomes too high, will they be locked away in dungeons?

Think about it.

Sincerely,
Walter (Shorty) Wachter

To the Editor:

Thanks to Mr. Robert Watson for letting the citizens of Garrett County know what kind of a person the Governor is. The Governor is a slick liberal elitist politician that can spend our tax money and increase taxes. He has also tried to take our firearms. Voters of Garrett County should not put their trust in this person.

Sincerely,
George E. Woods

Under terms of the agreement, each shareholder of First Financial will receive common stock, at a fixed exchange rate of 1.29 shares of Keystone for each First Financial share, or an equivalent amount of cash. The stock issuance will amount to 55% to 60% of the total consideration. Based on the $26.50 per share closing bid price of Keystone on November 25, 1996, the value per share of First Financial approximates $34.19, and aggregates $74 million. In connection with the agreement, First Financial gave Keystone an option to purchase 19.9% of its outstanding common stock under certain circumstances.

First Financial's banking operations will be combined with those of American Trust Bank, N.A., the Keystone member bank currently providing financial services to these markets.

"First Financial is a well-managed organization with a proud tradition of providing quality service to its customers. We are pleased to be able to expand our Maryland banking operations through the addition of First Financial," Carl L. Campbell, president and chief executive officer of Keystone, commented. Patrick J. Coyne, chairman of the Board, president, and chief executive officer of First Financial, commented, "We are pleased to have the opportunity to join a quality organization such as Keystone. The combination will provide numerous benefits to our customers, including an expanded array of new products and services."

The agreement is subject to approval by regulatory agencies and shareholders of First Financial. Completion of the acquisition is expected during the first half of 1997. (First Financial was represented by Alex. Brown in this transaction.)

Fairview Coal Co. Recognized For Safe Mining

The Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association and the Holmes Safety Association recently recognized the Fairview Coal Company for a D-2 award, rewarding a certificate of honor to the No. 1 Surface Operation for working 50,605 work hours from Jan. 1, 1986, to March 31, 1994, without a lost time injury.

J. Davitt McAteer, president, and Robert Glatter, secretary/treasurer of the Holmes Safety Association, congratulated the company's management on their work record and commitment to safety, and the employees for their faithfulness and their efforts put forth to follow proper work procedures to reduce the number of accidents.

voting method was unconstitutional, as the question should have been issued to a county-wide vote as it has been at least twice in the past. In effect, the voting method allowed two districts to begin Sunday sales at restaurants even though the majority of voters in the county (5,852) voted against the measure.

The only establishment now eligible to begin selling drinks on Sunday is the Avilton Inn. There are no liquor-licensed restaurants in the Elbow.

The county Board of Elections office was to hold a meeting last evening to discuss a response to the lawsuit. A statement is to be released this afternoon. The board's attorney, Leonard Eiswert, would offer no comment this morning on the response.

Found Center

Criteria for community events calendar entries and a demonstration of the two-way interactive video lab at GCC will also be covered.

The Garrett Information Center concept developed from the 1995 Garrett County Comprehensive Plan for Children and Families. The Service and Activity Resource Database (SARD) committee has been coordinating efforts to construct a comprehensive services database for Garrett County for the last nine months. Based on the results of a recent agency survey, the SARD committee decided to reorganize as the Garrett Information Center Committee with plans to establish the satellite information and referral centers.

A hard copy of the Family Services Directory with over 250 entries will be available in a few weeks. Directory entries can also be accessed on the GC OCYF web page, the spokesperson said. Initially, the Garrett Information Center will be open on Wednesdays and Fridays. Persons may call Lucia Ayers, GIC coordinator, at 301-387-3135, to add program entries to the Family Services Directory database. The listing is offered free of charge for public and non-profit agencies. Proprietary and "for-profit" businesses interested in being listed in the online directory will be asked to make a small donation to cover processing fees. Volunteers are also needed to help with the community events calendar. Additional information about this project may be acquired by contacting Susan Athey-Oxford, GIC committee chair, at GC OCYF, 334-1189.

treated and released following the 3.02 p.m. mishap. Also responding to the scene were volunteers from Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad and members of the Garrett County Roads Department.

Wolfe was charged by the state police with failure to drive within a single lane.

LOSES CONTROL ON ICY PATCH

A Kitzmiller teenager was injured in a single-vehicle accident Tuesday morning on the Sand Flat Road.

Treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital was 18-year-old Laura B. Livengood, who was injured when the 1987 Ford Escort she was operating struck an icy patch of roadway near Spring Glade Road, causing the vehicle to travel off the road, into a ditch, and then overturn.

Livengood was transported to the hospital by volunteers from Southern Garrett Rescue Squad. Also responding the 7:55 a.m. accident were members of the Deer Park VFD.

MAN INJURED

A Westernport man was treated and released from Garrett Memorial Hospital after he was injured in a single-vehicle accident late Monday evening on the Sand Flat Road.

The state police said John W. McConnell Jr., 25, was operating a 1991 Pontiac Grand Am south on the Sand Flat Road, near the intersection with Rt. 219, when the vehicle struck a patch of ice, causing him to lose control. The car apparently slid off the road and struck a telephone pole.

McConnell was transported to the hospital by members of the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad. Also responding to the accident scene were volunteers from the Deer Park fire department.

MINOR INJURIES

Only minor injuries were reported in a single-vehicle accident that occurred Tuesday morning on the Sang Run Road, near the White Rock Road.

State police said Katherine L. Lipscomb, 44, Friendsville, did not require transport to the hospital following the 6:45 a.m. mishap that happened when her 1995 GMC pickup truck hit a patch of ice, slid off the road, and overturned.

DWI ARRESTS

Five additional DWI arrests were logged at the local state police barrack during the past week.

Walter David Norwood, 27, no address given, was arrested and charged with DWI on Nov. 28.

Kevin Andrew Roy, 31, McHenry, was charged with DWI on Nov. 30.

George M. Williams, 23, Confluence, Pa., was arrested on a charge of DWI on Dec. 1.

Keith Ronald Friend, 23, McHenry, was charged with DWI on Dec. 2.

James R. Bucklew, 54, Oakland, was arrested for DWI on Dec. 2.

CHARGES DISMISSED

Charges of fleeing the scene of a collision, imposed against Harold W. Wiley, 70, Grantsville, who was involved in a two-vehicle accident Nov. 25 on the Jennings Road, have been dismissed by the state's attorney's office, according to a spokesperson for the McHenry barrack.

"An additional investigation developed information which disclosed that Mr. Wiley complied with identification requirements at the time of the collision," the spokesperson said.

The accident also involved a vehicle operated by Bonnie L. Brooks, 44, Grantsville.

AIDS Quilt

the support of the community, including funding from the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council, the entire program will be admission-free and open to the public.

AIDS Quilt History

The purpose of the quilt is to help bring an end to the AIDS epidemic, as well as to do the following: provide a creative means for remembrance and healing, illustrate the enormity of the AIDS epidemic, increase public awareness of the disease, assist with HIV prevention education, and raise funds for community-based AIDS service organizations.

According to Scott Williams, communications coordinator for the NAMES Project, a small group of strangers gathered in June of 1987 in a San Francisco storefront to document the lives they feared history would neglect. Their goal was to create a memorial for those who had died of AIDS, and to thereby help people understand the devastating impact of the disease. This meeting served as the foundation of the NAMES Project AIDS Memorial Quilt.

Today, nine years later, the quilt is a powerful visual reminder of the AIDS pandemic. More than 40,000 individual 3-by-6-foot memorial panels, each one commemorating the life of someone who has died of complications related to AIDS, have been sewn together by friends and family members. The NAMES Project Foundation coordinates displays of portions of the quilt worldwide.

On October 11, 1987, the NAMES Project displayed the quilt for the first time on the Capitol Mall in Washington, D.C. It covered a space larger than a football field and included 1,920 panels. Half a million people visited the quilt that weekend, Williams reported. The overwhelming response to the quilt's inaugural display led to a four-month, 20-city, national tour in the spring of 1988. The tour raised nearly $500,000 for hundreds of AIDS service organizations. More than 9,000 volunteers across the country helped the seven-person traveling crew move and display the quilt. Local panels were added in each city, tripling its size to more than 6,000 panels by the end of the tour.

The quilt returned to Washington, D.C., in October 1988, when 8,288 panels were displayed on the Ellipse in front of the White House. Celebrities, politicians, families, and friends read aloud the names of the people represented by the quilt panels. The reading of names is now a tradition followed at nearly every quilt display.

As of 1992, the AIDS Memorial Quilt included panels from every U.S. state and 28 countries. In October 1992, the entire project was returned to Washington, D.C., this time in the shadow of the Washington Monument. To reflect the global nature of the AIDS pandemic, this display was titled the "International Display." In January 1993, the NAMES Project was invited to march in President Clinton's inaugural parade. Over 200 volunteers, including representatives of national AIDS organizations and Leanza Cornett, Miss America 1993, carried quilt panels down Pennsylvania Avenue in the parade.

An estimated 1.2 million people visited the quilt when it was shown in its entirety in Washington, D.C. in October 1996. Stretching from the Washington Monument to the grounds of the U.S. Capitol Building, the project occupied an area equal to 24 football fields and weighed more than 50 tons. Some 2,500 new panels were added over the three days it was shown, putting the total number of panels displayed at more than 40,000.

The NAMES Project Foundation has raised over $1.7 million for AIDS service organizations throughout North America, Williams reported. He added that the quilt is the largest example of a community art project in the world.

For more information about the local event, persons may contact Eileen Schlosnagle at 746-8917 or Joelle Plauger or Donna McClintock at the health department: 334-8122 or 895-3111.

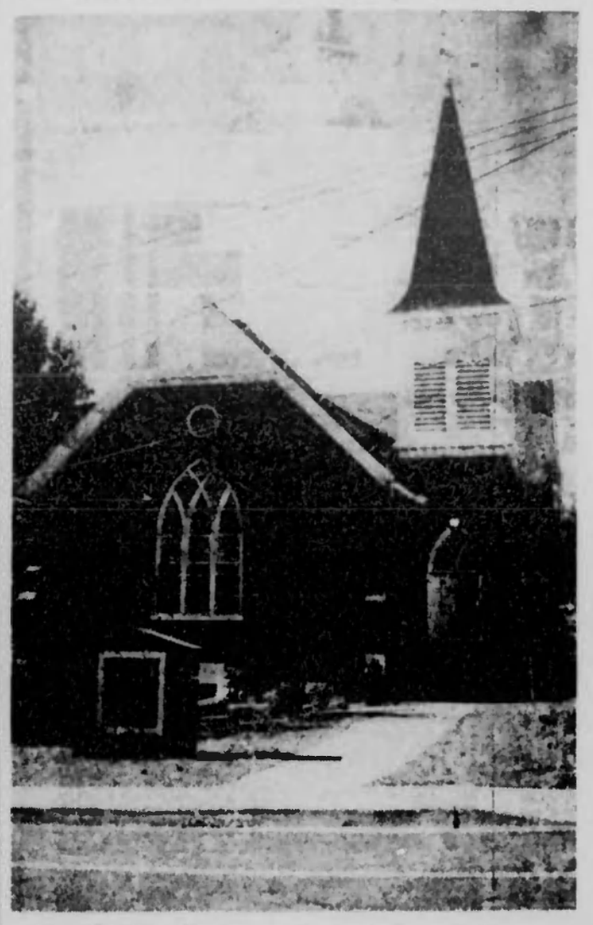
St. Paul's Lutheran Church To Be On Christmas In Flowery Vale Tour



St. Paul's Lutheran Church, built over 100 years ago in Accident, will be among the stops on the Accident Cultural and Historical Society's first Christmas in Flowery Vale Tour. Proceeds from this event, which is slated for December 14, 4-7 p.m., will benefit local veterans and their families.

Dedicated on Nov. 3, 1895, at a cost of $4,079.83, the church was at that time the most modern structure in the town. The church's "crowning glory" was the bell of solid brass made by the M.C. Shane Bell Foundry in Baltimore. The steeple was capped by an ornament of angel wings encircling the world and a crown representing Christ, a spokesperson said. Numerous stained glass windows have been donated over the years by various individuals, Sunday School classes, and neighboring churches. They remain in place today, the spokesperson noted.

Several additions and improvements have been made over the past 100 years. In the 1930's, children's furniture was built by Mr. F. E. Fox, Friendsville. These miniature tables and chairs are still in use.

From 1949 until the present, through the pastorals of William E. Carlson, Stephen Yelovich, and present pastor, Roland E. Nairn III, the church has undergone several changes. A Hammond organ was added in 1952 and another in 1986. New lighting was installed in 1956. A fire erupted in the building in 1961, resulting in the rebuilding of the altar.

The planning and construction of a basement was the most significant undertaking, the spokesperson said. A new foundation was constructed first, and then the area was dug out. The new basement was completed at a cost of nearly $16,000 and was dedicated on Oct. 15, 1967.

The self-directed tour will begin at St. Paul's, where participants will be given a map of the area. In addition to this church, the other locations open for visitors will be the historic Drane House, the Zion Lutheran Church, the Nairn home, and the Slawson home.

After touring the locations, participants are invited to attend Accident's holiday Festival of Music at 7:30 at the Flowery Vale Senior Center. Admission to the festival is free, and persons do not have to have toured the homes and churches to go to this event. All who bring their tour tickets will be eligible to win a special door prize.

Tickets for the tour are $5 for all except children under 6, for whom they are $2. They are available at Matthew's Store and the following pharmacies: Deep Creek, Beachy's, Friendsville, and Proudfoot's. They will also be available at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on the day of the tour.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

LARRY K. HARDESTY

Larry K. Hardesty, son of Larry and Alma Hardesty, Oakland, is currently stationed at Fort Casey, South Korea. He is an E2 with Unit #15096 of the U.S. Army. Hardesty is classified as a specialist electronic device repairman.

Hardesty's tour time began on Sept. 15 of this year and will continue until Sept. 15, 1997.

He is a 1994 graduate of Southern High School.

U.S. Marine Pfc. Christopher E. Hinebaugh, son of Ernest B. and Ruth A. Hinebaugh, Oakland, has departed on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea with the 26th Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), embarked aboard the ships of the USS Nassau Amphibious Readiness Group (ARG).

Hinebaugh is one of more than 2,000 marines and sailors who departed Norfolk, Va., aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Nassau, the amphibious transport dock USS Nashville, and the dock landing ship USS Pensacola.

Equipped with the 26th MEU landing force, helicopters, Harrier attack jets, high-speed assault hovercraft, landing craft, tanks, and armored and amphibious assault vehicles, the USS Nassau ARG provides theater commanders in the Mediterranean Sea a wide range of capabilities.

The 26th MEU can evacuate civilians, rescue downed pilots, conduct reconnaissance, and serve as an initial landing force ashore.

Hinebaugh and his fellow marines and sailors spent the past year training for a wide range of conventional and special operations they might be tasked with during the deployment. As part of the preparations, USS Nassau ARG participated in exercises involving air, naval, and ground operations. The exercise also included surveillance, rescue, humanitarian assistance, maritime interdiction, embassy support, and non-combat evacuations.

Hinebaugh, a 1995 graduate of Southern Garrett High School, joined the Marine Corps in July 1995.

GRIC Elects New Board Of Directors

Newly elected members of the board of directors and a new president assumed the leadership of the Garrett Rural Information Cooperative (GRIC) at a recent annual meeting where its first president, Dr. Steve Herman, passed the gavel to president-elect Mary Ruddell, president of Hobby House Press, Grantsville.

Before stepping down, Dr. Herman announced that GRIC now has 840 members, reiterated his belief that the cooperative is providing Garrett Countians with affordable telecommunications services essential to the future prosperity of the county, and noted that Hobby House Press has been a major user and beneficiary of GRIC services.

In assuming the presidency, Ruddell stated her intention and desire to sustain the progress to date and to expand GRIC services for the benefit of the community. She reported the results of the annual election and announced the following newly elected members of GRIC's board of directors: John Braskey, Garrett County Commissioner; Al Coviello, Garrett County Board of Education; Scott Resh, First United National Bank & Trust; Jim Simms, University of Maryland Extension Service; Glenn Tolbert, independent media producer; and Gary Yoder, Maryland Department of Natural Resources.

Officers elected by the new board are: chairperson-elect, Mikal McCartney, Garrett County Memorial Hospital; treasurer, Jerry Geisler, Wisp Recreation and president of the Garrett County Promotion Council; and secretary, Emily Ferren, director of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Don Storck, Garrett Community College's director of information services and the GRIC project manager, reported to the board about the cooperative's recent accomplishments. Since November 1995, the date of the last annual meeting, GRIC has installed a community information network hub that can accommodate 5,000 subscriber accounts, according to Storck. The system provides high speed, reliable communications, including redundant servers. GRIC currently has 72 lines for local dial access throughout the county. In conjunction with GCC, GRIC installed a state-of-the-art compressed video system as well as several desktop video conferencing stations, in addition to the existing full motion studio. All these facilities, according to Storck, are available at affordable cost for community use when companies and organizations want to conduct meetings without having to travel. The new compressed teleconferencing studio allows for dial-up interactive video conferencing anywhere in the world, Storck stressed. He also reported that GRIC is serving 40 businesses and has put up over 120 Web pages in support of the business community.

Stork stated that GRIC will soon be able to announce higher bandwidth capability for data transmission, graphics, and video at reduced costs to the consumer. In conjunction with the Garrett County Economic Development Department, GRIC is also pursuing a Point of Presence for Garrett County - a long distance switch that could improve the quality and reduce the cost of long distance telephone calls for Garrett County consumers.

When President Ruddell opened the meeting to questions and answers, members praised GRIC for its "affordable, quality service to the community." Jay Kamenick asked about the status of the $100,000 that Governor Glendening had budgeted for the support of GRIC. Dr. Herman reported that the budget item had been removed from the budget temporarily. He remained hopeful that the funds would be restored, and pledged to continue to pursue the funds. Some of the members asked how they could help support GRIC and its efforts. Dr. Herman encouraged them to write letters to the governor, and encouraged them to let their friends and neighbors know "how good and affordable GRIC's service is and how important it is to Garrett County's future."

LAST GENERATION, a husband and wife duo from Berlin, Pa., will minister in song during a concert at the Glendale Assembly of God Church on Sunday, Dec. 8, at 10 a.m. Composed of Mike and Karen Matleszyn, who sing a variety of southern gospel music selections, Last Generation's repertoire includes Attitudes and Johnson Family Pew, among others. The Rev. Paul Goldizen, pastor of the Glendale Assembly of God Church, invites the public to attend the concert. The church is located on the Glendale Road at Deep Creek Lake.

IT'S GOING AROUND AGAIN THIS YEAR

If you ask a friend at this time of year what it was that had kept him home sick, he is very likely to give you that stock answer - "Oh, it's just something that's been going around!" Just what that something is, nobody seems to be exactly sure of except that it's probably a virus or bug.

In all probability, it will be "going around" again this winter and many of us will be the recipients of its uncomfortable symptoms. So remember, the best advice is rest, liquids and aspirin to start and then call your doctor if you cannot shake it quickly.

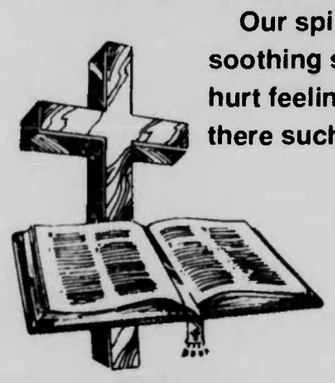
Outside of God's Love

How wonderful to warm by the fire after being outside in the cold. Relief runs through your body in a soothing rush as the warmth envelopes you snuggly with open arms...a welcome respite from the frigid, biting air.

Our spirit, as well as our body, needs warmth. We need a source of soothing spiritual warmth to relieve the chill of grief, disappointment, hurt feelings, and other unavoidable aspects of human existence. is there such a place of comfort?



God is our source of spiritual warmth. In Hosea 11:8, God assures us as He says, "...my compassion grows warm and tender." Worship each week in an atmosphere of welcoming love and rest in the spiritual comfort of His arms. It's always cold outside of God's love.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

GOD'S SPECIALTY
December 8, 1996

Background Scripture:
Luke 1:26-56
Devotional Reading:
Luke 1:4-56

Youth camp at Perkasie, Pennsylvania, was a long time ago, but I nevertheless remember many of the old camp songs. One of my favorites goes like this:

Got any rivers you think are uncrossable? Got any mountains you can't tunnel through? God specializes in things thought impossible. He'll do for you what no other power can do.

It is our thinking, not God, that is limited. We think that some things are beyond His power. Oh, we may not say it that way--that there are things that God can't do--but we act like it all the same. sometimes our prayers reflect this. There are times when I leave God off the hook, so to speak, giving him an out if the request I'm making seems to difficult or complicated for the Creator of the universe. Generally, I find, not that people ask too much of God, but not enough. And the reason they don't ask enough is that they don't really trust God to be able to deliver.

This is what we find in Luke 1. First, Zechariah and Elizabeth, then Mary and Joseph. "In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph...and the virgin's name was Mary" (26, 27). Gabriel--who certainly was one busy angel those days--came saying: "Hail, O favored one, the Lord is with you!" And just as Zechariah was troubled by Gabriel, Luke tells us, "But she was greatly troubled at the saying..."

WHY BE TROUBLED?

Why was Mary troubled? Gabriel told her she was "favored" and that "the Lord is with you." Why should that trouble her? Was it not because, although Mary did not know what God wanted of her, she knew that whatever it was, it would change her life--and many of us don't want our lives changed.

I can't help thinking of some of the responses Gabriel might get if he came to us today. "No thanks, Lord, I just want a normal life!" Don't we all! "What will it pay? What are the perks? How about retirement benefits? Can I write a book about it?"

But the angel said to Mary, "Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God" (1:31). As Gabriel had comforted Zechariah, so he now comforts Mary. What does this favor mean? "And behold, you will conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus" (1:31). Gabriel goes on to assure her that this child will be called "Son of the Most High."

GOD'S 'FAVOR'

Mary does not reject this prophetic utterance, but she still does want to know, "How can this be, since I have no husband?" It is natural for us to question how something can happen when it doesn't seem possible. "I have no husband" is a reasonable human response, but Gabriel takes her beyond mere reason: just as the Holy Spirit had made barren Elizabeth conceive, so "The Holy Spirit will come upon you..." Humanity has its limitations: God's Holy Spirit does not.

The key is found in Luke 1:37, "For with God nothing will be impossible." For that is God's specialty. To be sure, it usually requires our co-operation. Gabriel had not given her a contract or explained the fine print. She is going to have to make her decision on the basis of trust. And so, unlike Zechariah, Mary overcomes her troubled doubts and commits herself: "Behold, I am the handmaid of the Lord; let it be to me according to your word" (1:38).

When Mary went to visit Elizabeth in a little town outside of Jerusalem, the unborn John leaps within Elizabeth's womb and she says to Mary, "Blessed is she who believed that there would be a fulfillment of what was spoken to her by the Lord" (1:46).

God's specialty is what you and I call 'impossible.' Our specialty must be to believe and trust in his promises.

God specializes in things thought impossible. He'll do for you what no other power can do.

COVER STORY

Deck the halls with Martha Stewart

Martha Stewart

Happy homemakers and those with an eye for seasonal detail rejoice: Martha Stewart is right on time with her second prime-time holiday special.

Martha Stewart: Home for the Holidays airs Tuesday, Dec. 10, on CBS.

The program features an amusing trio of guest stars: Dennis Franz (NYPD Blue), Michael Jordan (Space Jam) and the immitable Miss Piggy of Muppets fame.

The ghosts of Christmas Past, Christmas Present and Christmas Absolutely Fabulous? America's anointed lifestyle guru welcomes this eclectic trio – plus an assortment of family and friends – into her Westport, Conn., home for an exhaustive session of baking, stringing, wrapping and decking of halls.

"We had a lot of fun," Stewart says. "There are lots of projects for everybody.

"This year we went outside and learned how to pick out the perfect Christmas tree. We also learned how to light our tree with unusual lights."

This holiday how-to special finds Stewart hosting a children's tree-trimming party at the New York Athletic Club. When NBA superstar Jordan makes an appearance, you can just bet the kids go wild.

"Michael is very charming," Stewart says. "And great with kids. He's certainly into the Christmas spirit!" With the recently released Space Jam a success in theaters, why shouldn't he be?

Franz makes an appearance at Stewart's home. "Something very funny happens with Dennis," Stewart says, politely refusing to offer any more information.

"I can tell you this: It's very, very amusing."

Those who watched last year's special undoubtedly will recall Miss Piggy's appearance as the guest who won't just be quiet and let Stewart make the gingerbread house. The porcine diva's no homemaker and doesn't care who knows it.

"Miss Piggy has a lot to say," Stewart says, "but she doesn't like to get her hands, well, hooves dirty."

Miss Piggy fans and fashion-watchers take note: The Muppet is evidently sporting a new look guaranteed to mesmerize and dazzle – or so claims her publicist.

Last year Miss Piggy flirted outrageously with Stewart's friend, a builder invited by to help with the construction of the gingerbread house.

The slanderous Muppet even suggested that the editor in chief of Martha Stewart Living magazine drinks from plastic glasses with the logos rubbed off!

Doubtless having a forgiving nature is an integral part of being the perfect hostess. My advice for Stewart: Keep an eye on those royal icing snowflake ornaments!

Martha Stewart: Home for the Holidays provides an opportunity for those not satisfied with a store-bought wreath and a few candles to learn a few tricks from the master of finicky domestic perfection.

So grab your wreath wire, glue gun and pastry bag. It's time to don some gay apparel and light the yule log – Martha Stewart-style, of course.

Melinda McGraw

A: Who played Dana Scully's sister, Melissa, on The X-Files? I cannot place her. –Jennifer Rowland, Berkeley, Calif.

A: Melissa was played by Melinda McGraw, who starred in last season's NBC flop The Pursuit of Happiness. You may also remember her as detective Cyd Madison on The Commish and Rebecca Travis on the short-lived medical drama The Human Factor.

A theater veteran, McGraw also made guest appearances on Quantum Leap, Night Court and Seinfeld.

Q: I heard that former Family Feud host Ray Combs had been crippled in an auto accident. Is this true? –M.R.W., North Port, Fla.

A: Shortly after Combs lost his Family Feud job, he sustained serious injuries in an auto accident. He recovered and worked for several months hosting the Family Channel game show Family Challenge.

He suffered an emotional breakdown earlier this year following several poor financial investments and the collapse of his marriage.

Combs was hospitalized after he attempted suicide, but later hanged himself at the facility. His wife and children were left almost penniless.

Q: As a child I watched an actor named Gordon McCray on a TV show in which he played the captain of a boat called the Tiki. What was the name of the show, and what became of this actor? –Clara Turner, Cave City, Ky.

A: Gardner McKay played Capt. Adam Troy in Adventures in Paradise, an ABC adventure series that ran from Oct. 5, 1959, to April 1, 1962. On the show, Capt. Troy was a Korean War veteran who skippered a free-lance schooner, the Tiki, in the South Pacific.

McKay made a movie, I Sailed to Tahiti With an All-Girl Crew, in 1968, but later left acting in favor of writing plays.

Q: Did Susan Walters, who plays attorney Anne Osborne on USA Network's The Big Easy, play Priscilla Presley in Elvis and Me? What happened to that movie? –R.V., Vineland, N.J.

A: Yes, that was Walters in Elvis and Me, which is available on video.

Walters also played Mary Beth Sutton on the Judd Hirsch sitcom Dear John, as well as Lorna Forbes on the soap opera Loving.

Q: My friend insists that Forever Knight, the series about a vampire cop, was canceled. I say it wouldn't end without some hype and will be back. Who's right? –Civilians in Connecticut.

A: Your friend.

Tomlin gets her wish with Edith Ann special

By Suzanne Gill
©TVData Features Syndicate

From where Edith Ann sits – in a big yellow rocking chair with her dog, Buster – the world is a mess that badly needs fixing. And if not the world, then at least Edgetown.

ABC presents Lily Tomlin's animated heroine in An Edith Ann Christmas, airing Saturday, Dec. 14. Since the last Edith Ann special in 1994, Tomlin has changed animation studios, looking for just the right artists for her characters.

"If I could draw the pictures myself," Tomlin says, "maybe I could do it faster.

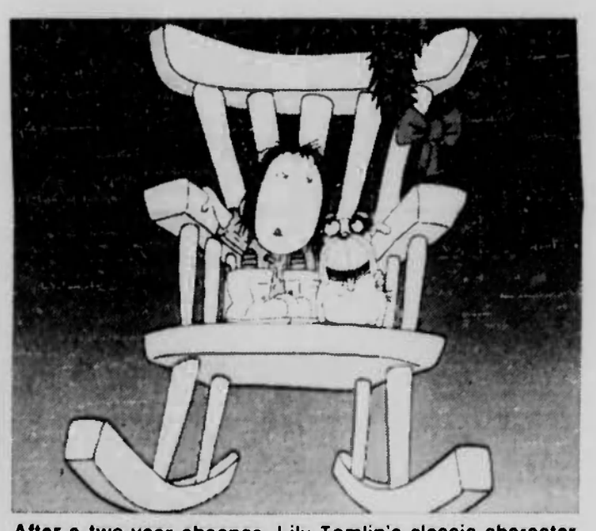
"You think of yourself as an actor, then you think of somebody who has to act by drawing. Somehow that has to go out their body and through their fingers into a pencil and make those characters live."

In An Edith Ann Christmas, Edgetown, Edith's hometown, has been named the worst place in America to live. Edith and her friends are rehearsing a play to raise funds for the town's latest drive-by shooting victims. Edith's sister, Irene, has run away after a fight with their parents over a tattoo.

"It's Earth's kind of Christmas, what would happen in her family," Tomlin explains. Though Edith feels guilty for snitching to her parents about Irene's tattoo, she is determined to use the holiday spirit to set things right. "She's trying to figure out the world and how she fits into it," Tomlin says.

Tomlin and her collaborator, writer Jane Wagner, intend the special for a family audience, particularly the moment when Edith puts a new twist on the children's play.

"Maybe I'm too naive, but I feel it's a way in for adults – to let go of cynicism for even a half-hour and identify with Edith."



After a two-year absence, Lily Tomlin's classic character returns in a new animated special. An Edith Ann Christmas airs Saturday on ABC.

SOAP TALK

Romance is alive in Patrick's Notebook

Thorsten Kaye

A cozy fire, a book of romantic poetry and a sexy Irishman. These are the makings of a wonderful scene for a soap opera.

Now it is easier than ever to play out that scene in the privacy of your own home. Oh, you'll have to provide the cozy fire, but ABC can help with the poetry and sexy Irishman.

Patrick's Notebook is the diary of Patrick Thornhart (Thorsten Kaye) on One Life to Live. It was recently released to bookstores, just in time for the holiday season.

"The book tells the story of Patrick and Margaret (Susan Haskell) during their first year together," Kaye says. "It's a journal and it is his view of their relationship. It's also filled with the poetry of most of the romantics. It includes Shakespeare, Yeats, Shelley ... all the big boys are in there."

Executives at ABC say the book also will appeal to those who are not regular viewers.

"It's a wonderful love story and collection of classic romantic poetry," says Angela Shapiro, senior vice president for marketing and promotion.

There is a cassette tape included with Kaye reading the poems. "I also wrote a few of the poems to go in the book," Kaye says. "I told them I'd like to have a shot at it because I'm closer to Patrick than anyone else. Fortunately, they let me."

When he came on the scene a year ago, Kaye wasn't prepared to become a heartthrob on daytime television. It does help that he has a great appreciation of women, but the whole idea of being a sex symbol surprises him.

"I come from a background in repertory theater," Kaye says. "It was strange to come into something like this. People ask what it is like to have all the fans, but it is a little different for me. I have mostly older women and men who like the character.

"Working on daytime is one of the toughest jobs in the acting business, and Kaye knows it. "In theater, things move quickly, but you have weeks to rehearse. Here, you get the script, and then you do it."

In some ways Kaye feels the same way as fans about daytime story lines. "The hardest part is you never know how it is going to end."

Commercial Sales Expanded At Naylor's

CHRIS TODD

Janna Naylor, president of Naylor's Hardware, has announced that the company's commercial sales is a member of the Commercial Supply Network, a division of True Value specifically designed to serve the needs of corporations, institutions, commercial businesses, independent contractors, schools, churches, and other establishments that need a reliable source for commercial cleaning and maintenance supplies, paper products, light bulbs and fixtures, material handling goods, commercial or industrial paint, and traditional hardware.

"Becoming an authorized Commercial Supply Network representative puts us in a position where we can respond to the needs of commercial businesses in our area and provide them with nationally recognized commercial products, timely delivery, competitive prices, and guaranteed satisfaction," Naylor said.

Chris Todd is Naylor's commercial sales representative in outside sales in Garrett County and in Preston and Tucker counties in West Virginia. Outside sales in Allegany County and in the West Virginia counties of Mineral, Grant, and Hampshire are handled by Phil Beeman, a 20-year veteran of Naylor's Hardware who has served as store manager in the LaVale, Cumberland, and Kingwood stores. He is currently based at the Cumberland store at 1350 West Industrial Boulevard.

Genny Schreck, a nearly nine-year employee at the Oakland store, joined the commercial sales division in September and has responsibility for inside sales as well as support for Todd and Beeman.

As the staff has grown, Naylor noted that space requirements have also increased. Remodeling of the administrative, purchasing, contracting, and commercial sales offices is now underway. A walk-up window to a new commercial sales office in Oakland is expected to be completed in January 1997.

Keystone Notes Cash Dividend

The Board of Directors of Keystone Financial, Inc., the fifth largest bank holding company in Pennsylvania, has declared an increased quarterly cash dividend of 26 cents per share, payable January 20, 1997, to shareholders of record on January 9, 1997. This is an 8.3% increase over the 24 cents per share paid quarterly in 1996. The cash dividend has been increased annually since Keystone was formed in 1984.

"The increased dividend reflects our strong earnings performance through the first nine months of 1996, and our optimism about Keystone's future. We remain focused on continuing to increase Keystone's operating performance," Carl L. Campbell, president and chief executive officer, said. "A strong dividend is one clear way that our shareholders can participate in our success, and we are pleased to announce this dividend increase."

Keystone Financial has five member banks--American Trust Bank N.A., Cumberland; Frankford Bank, Horsham, Pa.; Mid-State Bank, Altoona; Northern Central Bank, Williamsport; and Pennsylvania National Bank, Pottsville--which together operate 147 offices in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia. Keystone also operates several non-banking companies providing specialized services including Keystone Financial Mortgage Company, Lancaster, Pa.; Martindale Andres & Co., (asset management firm), West Conshohocken, Pa.

State Receives Funds To Help Stop Violence

The United States Department of Justice has awarded the state of Maryland $2,485,000 through the STOP Violence Against Women Formula Grants Program, according to Sixth District Congressman Roscoe Bartlett.

"Ending the cycle of violence in the home should be a top priority of federal, state, and local governments. The problems of abuse are insidious," Bartlett said. "We have an obligation to both protect women and send a clear message that violence in the home will not be tolerated."

Specifically, Maryland will implement the programs and projects that will assist the state and local communities to develop a coordinated and integrated approach to improve the criminal justice system's response to violence against women. According to Bartlett, the state will use its fiscal year 1996-97 funds to train criminal justice practitioners, develop policy, and reform the criminal justice system to appropriately address the needs of women who have been victims of crime.

Funds will also be used to develop a uniform statewide data collection system regarding violent offenses against women. The system will contain data pertaining to valid civil protective orders from local jurisdictions and will transfer the information to the Maryland Interagency Law Enforcement System (MILES) to ensure 24-hour accessibility for law enforcement officers. Also planned is the development of a database for offense data from the inception of a 911 call through post-conviction.

Lutheran Group Holds Dinner, Elects Officers

Western Maryland/West Virginia Branch #8483 of Lutheran Brotherhood held its annual Year-End Family Dinner at the Eastern Garrett Fire Hall in Finzel, Nov. 16.

Delegate George Edwards of the Maryland General Assembly attended the event, as did Kenneth Cryan, general agent for branch #8483; Carroll Klingensmith, unit advisor for the branch; and David Meese, unit representative for the branch.

Roxy and Eva Sliviak gave a presentation of their trip to Finland and Estonia. Their trip, sponsored by the Delaware/Maryland Synod, included 16 people, among whom were Pastor Saundra Gideon of Cumberland and Bishop Mocco, president of the synod. The group visited the companion synod in Finland and the mission congregation in Estonia.

The Sliviaks reported on the living conditions of the countries visited, noting a great difference between the two. They said that the people of Estonia were in great need of help.

Louis Griggs showed slides of his trips through the western United States.

The business meeting followed the presentations and officers were elected. Bob Easton is president of the branch, Louis Griggs is vice-president, Pauline Fancett is secretary, and Steve Heare is treasurer.

LaVale Man Sentenced In District Court On Car Rental, MDOP Offenses

A LaVale man was found guilty in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings of failure to return a rental vehicle and malicious destruction of property, and was sentenced by District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett.

Douglas E. Wagner, 28, was sentenced to a six-month jail term for the first offense and another 60 days in jail for the second offense. All of the sentence was suspended, however, except for two consecutive 60-day terms. He was also ordered to pay $3,089.01 in restitution to Raymond Yoder, owner of Hilltop Rent-A-Ride, Grantsville, and placed on two years of supervised probation. Conditions of his probation state he is not to rent a motor vehicle, and he must obtain his General Education Development (GED) certificate. Additional charges of car theft and unauthorized use of a motor vehicle were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

According to district court records, the charges against Wagner were filed after the Maryland State Police were informed that on April 4 he rented a 1989 Chevrolet Corsica from Yoder for one week. Yoder told the police that several days later he received a call from Wagner who told him he needed the vehicle a little longer and he would send a check to cover the charge. A check was sent, Yoder said, but it was written on an account that had been closed.

Yoder further stated that he talked to Wagner several times and he kept saying he would return the vehicle. He then received a call from a towing company in Georgia and was told they would return the car as soon as they received money from Wagner. That company also failed to receive its money, according to Yoder. He said that when he finally got the car back, Wagner had put 8,300 miles on it.

In other district court news, James T. Davies, 44, Pittsburgh, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty in visiting Allegany District Court Judge Paul J. Stakem's court of one count of battery.

The charges had been filed against Davies by the Maryland State Police on Aug. 25, after troopers responded to the Lake Breeze Motel at Deep Creek Lake for a reported assault. According to the charging statement, when the troopers arrived they learned Davies and his wife, Deborah A. Davies, had been involved in a domestic dispute and she had attempted to leave. The defendant reportedly struck her three times on the face with his closed fist, then forced her to the ground and dragged her across the parking lot.

A Cumberland woman was sentenced in recent district court proceedings after being found guilty in September of numerous drug and prescription violations, including five counts each of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), fraudulently obtaining CDS, and obtaining CDS by concealing/falsifying her identity.

Bonnie J. Ballou, 38, convicted of those offenses by Judge Burnett, who had initially ordered a pre-sentence investigation, was handed a four-year suspended jail term and placed on three years of supervised probation. The charges were filed against her after an investigation, conducted by the Maryland State Police, revealed that she had fraudulently filled 15 prescriptions for the drug Dilaudid, a potentially addictive pain killer, at Garrett County pharmacies.

During a sentencing hearing for Douglas P. Frost, 19, Frostburg, who was convicted in September of petty theft, the judge sentenced him to serve 60 days in the Garrett County Jail. He also ordered the defendant to pay $625 in restitution to the victim, John D. Festerman, complete 100 hours of community service by Feb. 15, 1997, and submit to alcohol/drug evaluation, testing, and treatment. The charge against Frost was filed after he reportedly stole four blank checks from Festerman over a five-week period earlier this year.

Douglas A. Knisely, 39, Westernport, pleaded guilty in recent district court proceedings of a charge of malicious destruction of property. He was handed a 30-day suspended sentence, fined $50, ordered to pay $100 in restitution to the Domestic Violence Council, and placed on one year of supervised probation. An additional charge of assault was not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

The charges against Knisely stemmed from a July 6 incident at the home of Eulah M. Fazenbaker, Accident, when he jumped on the hood of Fazenbaker's car, causing it to collapse. He also broke the windshield and a side window on the vehicle. The incident apparently began after Fazenbaker's daughter locked him out of her house.

Roger B. Gank, 19, Oakland, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty of one count of battery. The complainant, Ginger Gank, asserted her spousal privilege and refused to testify.

According to district court records, the charge stemmed from an Aug. 25 altercation at their home. Mrs. Gank said her husband grabbed her, threw her on the bed, choked her, and then threatened to slit her throat.

One count each of resisting arrest, being disorderly in a public place, and endangerment while intoxicated, filed against Joseph D. Lottman, 36, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket. Conditions of the judge's decision state he must continue alcohol counseling and complete 20 hours of community service by Jan. 15, 1997. Garrett County sheriff's deputies arrested Lottman on the above charges on Sept. 7, after he became combative and resisted arrest while they were investigating an incident at his home.

Shawn L. Smith, 18, Oakland, was not prosecuted on a charge of possessing a portable pager while at school. Sheriff's deputies charged him with the offense on Sept. 16 when it was learned that he had the pager. Smith told the deputies that he didn't realize it was illegal to carry one at school.

Christopher A. London, 21, Glenshaw, Pa., pleaded guilty in recent district court proceedings of CDS possession. He was sentenced to serve a two-day term in the Garrett County Jail, placed on six months of unsupervised probation, and fined $100. Conditions of his probation state he must complete 20 hours of community service by Jan. 15, 1997. One count of possession of CDS paraphernalia, also filed against London, was not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office. The charges were filed against him on July 17, after he was stopped for speeding. A check of his vehicle revealed a small quantity of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Two counts of animal cruelty, filed against Donald DeWitt, 38, Oakland, were placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed on Aug. 14 by Bernadine Friend, representing the Garrett County Humane Society, after she investigated a report that DeWitt was depriving a draft horse and her foal of veterinary care.

Howard S. Smith, 33, Clarksburg, W.Va., pleaded guilty in visiting Judge Stakem's court to one count of CDS possession. He was sentenced to a six-month jail term for the offense, but the judge suspended all except 10 days of that sentence. He was also fined a total of $405 in fines and court costs, placed on two years of supervised probation, and ordered to attend and complete a drug treatment program with the health department. One count of possession of CDS paraphernalia, also filed against Smith, was not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

Court records indicate Smith was charged with the offenses on Aug. 1 by officers from the Oakland/Garrett County Narcotics Task Force, who had responded to the Century 21 Building in McHenry for a report of drug activity there. Upon arrival, the officers found 3.2 grams of marijuana in a trash can in Smith's office.

Two co-defendants in the case, Shawna R. Parker, 24, Oakland, and Timothy L. Nichols, Clarksburg, were granted probation before judgment after pleading guilty before Judge Stakem to CDS possession. Each was placed on 18 months of unsupervised probation and fined $305. Additional charges of possession of drug paraphernalia were not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

Donna V. Davis, 37, Oakland, was granted probation before judgment after being convicted of one count of battery. She was placed on one year of unsupervised probation, told to have no contact with the complainant, Madeline Gank, and was ordered to stay away from Naylor's True Value Hardware store in Oakland. Davis entered a not guilty plea to the charge.

The charge stemmed from an Aug. 29 altercation between the two at the store. Davis apparently grabbed Gank by the hair, scratched her, and bit her twice on the leg.

During a sentence revision hearing for John S. Osmann, 20, Morgantown, W.Va., the judge amended the defendant's jail time to 20 days instead of 30. Osmann was convicted in October of possession of a controlled dangerous substance. The charges were filed against him on July 23 by rangers at Swallow Falls State Park, after they discovered marijuana at a campsite. Osmann reportedly threw the drugs in his possession into the woods.

Douglas M. Bircher Jr., 26, Elk Garden, W.Va., was not prosecuted on a charge of car theft. The charge was filed on May 18 by Daniel R. Tasker, also of Elk Garden, after Bircher took his car without permission.

Glimpse of The Past . . .

J.M. DAVIS & SONS HARDWARE was located along Second Street in Oakland in the early part of this century in a building that was adjacent to what was then the First National Bank Building at the corner of Second and Alder streets (now Marvin's Men's Wear). When the structure was destroyed by fire in the late 1960s it housed the Ben Franklin 5 and 10. A new building was constructed following the fire and it now accommodates V&S Variety. AN AMERICAN HERO

BABE RUTH

Not many people have a candy bar named after them. But for Babe Ruth — arguably the greatest baseball player of all time — this sweet immortality was only one of the honors he had received.

Born George Herman Ruth, for decades, he held the claim to both the most home runs in a single game and for a career. Ruth electrified the stadium every time he came to bat, because the fans knew this guy was likely to swat the ball clear out of the park.

And yet, but for some kind people who cared about him, he might just as well have wasted his talents in anonymity. Certainly, he was off to a bad start. His early youth was spent over his father's saloon in Baltimore, and when he wasn't over the saloon, he was in it.

He once said he did not know the difference between right and wrong during his childhood. That's probably what brought him to St. Mary's Industrial School — a training place for orphans, incorrigibiles, delinquents and runaways. It was as an "incorrigible" that Babe entered St. Mary's.

But a Brother Matthias at the school recognized Babe's talents at baseball, and spent hours hitting long fly balls him. After a decade of this training, Babe left school in 1914 to play ball for the Baltimore Orioles. Later that year, he found success as a pitcher with the Boston Red Sox. And by the time he wound up with the New York Yankees in 1920, he was a regular outfielder.

In 1927, the Babe hit 60 home runs — a record that was to stand until 1961. When the Yankees constructed a new stadium, they named it "the House that Ruth Built."

Ruth never forgot where he came from. He quickly became a sports idol to millions of kids, and the Babe made it a point whenever possible to spend time with them before and after the games.

The world paid attention when the Babe was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1936, and observed with sadness his passing from cancer in 1948. His spirit of giving back, though, lives on.

Q. My metal bank is in the shape of a building, with a dog sitting in front of two doors. If you place a coin on a plate in the dog's mouth, then turn a crank, the dog goes in the building, drops the coin and comes back out. Who made the bank and when?

A. H.L. Judd Manufacturing Co. of Wallingford, Conn., made the "Dog on the Turntable" bank in 1895. It was one of the first mechanical banks the company made.

There are some variations in the base and gears. Some banks have a copper bronze finish with green highlights. Some have a white dog. Depending on condition, your bank is worth from $200 to $500.

Q. I have five plates marked "Doulton AW 1679." The plates aren't exactly round; they have 10 points like a star. They have gold filigree decoration around the edges. The center of each plate shows a different kind of pink or yellow flower. Do you know how old they are or what they were used for?

A. "Doulton" was the earliest name of the company in Burslem, England, that now uses the name "Royal Doulton."

The number on the back of your plate refers to a design by artist Robert Allen, who worked at the pottery starting in 1870. The pattern is called Genoa. The gold work around the edges is called "Spanish Gold." An 1892 pattern book from the company describes your plates as part of a dessert service. The plates are rare and valuable.

CLEAN HAIR DRYER — When I need to clean out the lint screen of my hair dryer, I use the vacuum cleaner. Make sure the hair dryer is unplugged, then hold up the nozzle to the obstructed holes and voila, they're clean. Jeannie R., Cape Girardeau, Mo.

RECYCLE — The waxed paper liners in cereal boxes are far stronger than regular waxed paper. I shake out the crumbs and recycle these liners.

* Slip dishes of food inside the liner sack to keep a spotless microwave and retain just the right amount of moisture in foods.

* Crackers crush easily with no mess when you use the sack.

* Slip in chicken breasts and use a rolling pin to pound them to the desired thickness.

* Use instead of paper bags to flour foods, paper bags may not be as safe for food as the cereal-box liner. Hattie B., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ROOM FOR MORE — I have found that the plastic packaging on rolls of toilet paper takes up a lot of room in a small bathroom wastebasket.

When I get down to the last roll in the plastic wrap, I remove the finished roll from the holder and stuff the plastic wrap inside the roll, then hang the new one.

It saves a lot of room in the small wastebasket. Goldie C., Oak Point, Texas

HANDY HELPERS — My boys stick suction cups on the window of their truck and hang their baseball caps on them. I also stick them on the mirror in my bathroom to hang necklaces or other jewelry. Rita K., Hot Springs, Ark.

First Graders Host A Family Holiday Meal

A five-year tradition in Grantsville Elementary School had all the flavor of a far older tradition as first grade students planned, prepared for, and participated in a Thanksgiving feast recently.

First grade teachers Jill Evans and Suzie Norris, along with Frostburg student teachers Estrella Frazer and Shaleena Kuhn, facilitated this celebration. "We had been studying the first Thanksgiving, the pilgrims, and the Indians in both first grade classes, so the children made costumes for the occasion. They could choose to be either a pilgrim or an Indian," Evans said.

Those who chose to portray the Native Americans made vests from paper bags and head pieces. The pilgrim contingent made collars and the traditional hats. "One little girl's mother made her a complete pilgrim costume that she wore," Evans added.

Among the necessary preparations for the big day were making and sending invitations, designing and producing appropriate place mats for everyone, selecting a menu, and planning the meal. Evans explained that the meal was a cooperative effort: "Everyone contributed to the meal. Each family brought a dish and the teachers cooked turkeys and supplied drinks. We had plenty of food."

In total, the Grantsville first grade Thanksgiving feast was shared by 144 Indians, pilgrims and extended family members. "The children and families love this," Evans said. "The children come back to school the next day all saying mommy and daddy really liked it."

Bloodmobile Visit To Grantsville Nets 99 Units

One hundred eight people were on hand to donate blood Monday when the American Red Cross bloodmobile made a stop in Grantsville. According to Elizabeth Huxford, blood services chairman for the Garrett County chapter, 99 productive units were collected and will be processed to help as many as 396 people who need blood products.

Those joining the ranks as first-time blood donors were Elijah Bender and Mahlon Brenneman.

Gallon milestones were reached by several people, including Jonas Yoder, Meyersdale, Pa., who hit the one-gallon mark; Edgar Rembold, Salisbury, Pa., who has now donated four gallons; Grace Yoder, Salisbury, a five-gallon donor; Melvin Beitzel, Salisbury, who has reached the six-gallon mark; Nancy Peachy, now a seven-gallon donor; and James Rephann, Grantsville, who made his 96th visit to the bloodmobile to achieve the 12-gallon milestone.

Volunteers who assisted Lela Bender, bloodmobile coordinator, were Glenda Yoder and Lila Maust, registration; Debbie Hanning and Missy Fazenbaker, walkers; Fannie Beachy, canteen; Lula Brown and Ruth Horning, kitchen; and members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department, who served as custodians.

Helping to speed up the donation process was the recent implementation of volunteers to the registration stations, according to Huxford. Training for registration and temperatures, developed in consultation with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration, requires a minimum of five hours. This training includes an orientation to Red Cross Blood Services, regulatory Current Good Manufacturing Practices, and task, or procedure, training on registration and temperatures. Three county residents, Lila Maust, Glenda Yoder, and Ella Tice, recently completed the mandatory training for registration and temperatures.

Local residents and patients are among those served through the American Red Cross Blood Services, Johnstown Region. This region directly serves hospitals, patients, and donors in a 63-county area in Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia, and also supports blood needs experienced by patients elsewhere in hospitals served through Red Cross Blood Services.

The next Garrett County bloodmobiles will be at the Oakland Armory on Friday, Jan. 3, 1997, from 11:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.; and at the Zion Lutheran Church, Accident, on Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1997, from noon until 6 p.m. Anyone who is 17 years of age or older who weighs at least 105 pounds and is in generally good health may donate blood every 56 days.

Counselor Helps Seniors Deal With Medicare Issues

PATTY NOVAK

A new Senior Health Insurance Counselor, Patty Novak, is providing assistance and advocacy to county residents troubled by questions about Medicare coverage, according to Adina Brode, director of the Area Agency on Aging of Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc.

This Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Program, known as HICAP, is part of a nation-wide program, Brode explained. It is funded, in part, by the Health Care Financing Administration (HCFA) which manages Medicare.

Novak, a resident of Oakland, came to the HICAP position with a ten-year background in the medical field. She has also worked with elderly in personal care, most recently at Rose Terrace, an assisted living home in Oakland.

She said she believes there is a great need for insurance counseling and hopes to meet and assist many county residents. "I'm looking forward to this job," Novak said, adding, "I look forward to serving the elderly in the community."

The HICAP program has recently started its third year in Garrett County, and Brode considers it to be a valuable program. "We know there is a need for this type of counseling service, because the issues surrounding Medicare are very complex. People need help in understanding their insurance coverage. Our challenge is to get the word out to those who could benefit from this service and then find the best means of assisting them," she said.

An AmeriCorps member working at the Agency on Aging, Novak is available to provide counseling and advocacy to seniors or their family members.

Persons wishing more information on HICAP may call the Area Agency on Aging at 334-9431.

BCCSP To Offer Cancer Screening At Local Clinic

The Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Program (BCCSP) staff will be offering a breast and cervical cancer screening at the Mt. Top Clinic in Mt. Storm on Dec. 18 starting at 9 a.m.

The American Cancer Society recommends that individuals who are less than 40 years old should examine their breasts monthly, and have a breast exam by a health care provider at least every three years.

Those who are between 40 and 49 years of age the Cancer Society reminds to examine breasts monthy, have a breast exam by a health care provider every year, and have a mammogram every one to two years.

For women age 50 and over, the recommendation is to examine breasts monthly, and have a breast exam by a health care provider and a mammogram every year.

Men should do self-breast exams also, according to the American Cancer Society. One percent of the total breasts cancer cases detected each year is found in men.

To prepare for a cancer screening, women are reminded not to douche, have sex or use a tampon for 48 hours prior to a pap test. On the day of the mammogram, one should not use deodorant, perfume, powder, ointment or any other preparation in the underarm area or on the breasts.

Persons wishing to preregister for testing may call 304-693-7616. The Grant Memorial Hospital Breast and Cervical Cancer Screening Program, "You're Worth It," offers free or reduced rates for women screened. The screenings are performed by registered nurses trained through the BCCSP program.

The Delvin Mast Family Recognized As District Cooperator By GSCD

The highlight of the 11th Annual Garrett Soil Conservation District Cooperators' Dinner was recognition of the Delvin Mast family for their outstanding accomplishments in soil and water conservation and good stewardship principles.

Chairman George Bishoff welcomed the 131 cooperators in attendance, and an invocation was given by past board member Claude Wagner.

Guests were introduced by District Manager Shaun Sanders. Among the guests were: 1996 Garrett County Farm Queen Laah Broadwater and District 1A Delegate George Edwards. Laah spoke on the importance of soil conservation. Delegate Edwards addressed the crowd on several issues of local importance, ranging from bear damage to state wildlands. He urged people to let him know if there were issues they were concerned with.

Others were recognized during the after-dinner meeting. Dan Bard, area coordinator, Maryland Department of Agriculture, Office of Resource Conservation, which helps support the local conservation district, received recognition. Also being recognized was Tim Hann, RC&D Coordinator (Resource Conservation and Development) with USDA, Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS). A standing recognition was given to Martin Gordon, visiting soil conservation district supervisor from Allegany County, as well as Harry Hummel and Claude Wagner, past members of the board of supervisors for the Garrett Soil Conservation District.

In honor of the Mast family, a video presentation of their Scenic-Vista Farms was given. The narration was written and presented during the video by District Conservationist Garry Morfoot.

Delvin and Sharon Mast moved from Salisbury, Pa., to their 268-acre farm in 1986, and with the help of their sons Dale and Wayne and daughter Cheryl began building their dairy business. At that time the farmstead consisted of the house, and old barn and one silo. The farmstead grew rapidly as the new dairy barn, a heifer barn, shop, machine shed and silos were added. Ten years later this dairy operation has grown to a 190-cow herd and about 160 calves and heifers. As the herd grew they rented more cropland and currently farm about 550 acres.

The most noticeable conservation practice on the Mast farm is striperopping. Most of the cropland is managed in 90 or 120-foot strips except for a few fields that are managed for long-term hay. Delvin says that the 90 or 120-foot widths work well for spraying. Dale and Wayne feel their strips have kept erosion under control, especially in a rainy year like 1996.

The Masts use a cropping rotation of three years of corn, one year of spring barley and four to five years of orchard grass/alfalfa hay. The primary tillage tool used is the chisel plow. This type of tillage has helped keep some of the previous year's crop residue on the surface, which aids in controlling erosion immediately after planting.

With their John Deere 7000 conservation planter, corn can be planted in tilled ground or in sod. This year Delvin decided to try a couple fields of no-till corn. He was pleased with the results, and there probably will be more no-till corn on the farm in the future.

After the winter of 1993, the Masts decided they did not want to continue to haul manure daily. In 1994 they built a concrete waste storage structure. Manure from both barns and the milk house waste water are stored for up to six months. In the spring the stored manure and water are agitated and spread on the corn ground. During the summer the stored manure is applied to hay fields just after harvest.

Another conservation practice the Masts began using in 1994 is nutrient management planning. The intent of a nutrient management plan is to get the maximum value out of fertilizers by making use of nutrients already in the soil and making wise use of the nutrient value of manure. Money can be saved by matching fertilizer and manure use with crop nutrient needs, without sacrificing yields.

On many fields the manure is plowed under within a couple hours after spreading. On corn fields where the manure is incorporated into the soil within one day, the Masts have cut their commercial fertilizer application rate in half.

In 1988 Delvin decided to build a small farm pond next to the farmstead. The pond helps to control farm runoff and is in a good location to provide fire protection. This year he decided to take another step for fire protection by purchasing a dry hydrant kit that will be installed at the pond.

According to Morloot, promoting practical soil and water conservation methods is a continuons effort of the Garrett Soil Conservation District. Delvin has helped with this effort by hosting conservation practice tours for Garrett Community College students. He has been a supervisor on the Garrett Soil Conservation District Board since 1993. Delvin applied soil and water-saving practices on his farm before he became a district supervisor, and keeps an open mind about any soil and water practices that are practical and benefit his ag business as well as the environment.

Probably the best example of the Masts' commitment to conservation is the way they farm rented ground. They treat the rented land the same way they treat their own land. Morfoot says they did a fine job laying out field strips themselves, and the way they maintain a waterway and the field strips on rented ground is the same as if it were their own land.

The Garrett Soil Conservation District salnted the Masts with a plaque naming them the outstanding cooperator of the year for their conservation practices, a farm sign, and a copy of the video tape of their farm for their commitment to making conservation a part of their farming business. With their care, the soil and water resources on Scenic-Vista Farms will be sustained for this generation, and for the generations that follow.

Farm Bureau Hopes Court Grants Farmers, Ranchers ESA Recourse

Farmers and ranchers are hopeful the U.S. Supreme Court will provide them recourse to protect their interests under the federal Endangered Species Act in the event the statute causes them economic loss.

The Court heard arguments on whether the ESA provides regulated parties such as farmers and ranchers the right to protect their interests. The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals earlier this year upheld a 1995 decision that ruled farmers and ranchers do not fall into the "zone of interest" of the ESA, and have no legal standing to obtain relief from any government action taken under the statute.

According to American Farm Bureau Federation Assistant Counsel Richard Krause, the Court appeared to support Farm Bureau's interpretation of a provision of the ESA that grants anyone with an economic or environmental interest legal standing to sue over the law's enforcement.

In a friend-of-the-court brief filed in conjunction with state Farm Bureaus from California, Idaho, Oregon and Texas, the American Farm Bureau contended, "If farmers and ranchers do not have standing to challenge the government's overregulation under the ESA, it is unlikely that anyone does, and there will exist no judicial safeguard against a government run amok."

"I was encouraged that the justices seemed to agree with our position that both sides can sue to protect their interests under the Endangered Species Act," said Krause. "I would hope the opinion would address that point. If they make that decision, we would come out ahead."

The tone of the questioning seemed to indicate that the justices don't agree with the lower court's interpretation that the ESA is a one-sided statute, granting only those with environmental interests legal standing to challenge the ESA. Farm Bureau hopes the outcome of the case, Bennett v. Spear, will reinforce farmers' and ranchers' right to sue under the statute.

"We were encouraged that the justices seemed to reject the idea that relief under the Endangered Species Act can be granted only to the environmental side," said AFBF President Dean Kleckner. "They at least acknowledged the fact that the ESA could harm farmers and ranchers. The statutes should provide them an avenue of relief."

The Court's decision could have enormous impact on farmers' and ranchers' ability to protect their property from the regulatory excesses of the ESA. The Act stipulates that agencies must make "reasonable and prudent" decisions when implementing the ESA and must consider the likely economic impact of such decisions.

"We would like to see the courts acknowledge farmers' and ranchers' standing," said Krause. "If the Court were to say the law allows both sides to bring suit if they were hurt, we would consider that a success."

A decision is expected by July.

Gen. Powell To Highlight Farm Bureau's 78th Annual Meeting And Convention

General Colin L. Powell, USA (Ret.) will deliver the featured keynote address on Tuesday morning during the American Farm Bureau Federation's 78th annual meeting and convention in Nashville, Tenn. The Opryland Hotel will serve as the headquarters for the event, which is expected to attract more than 7,000 Farm Bureau leaders and members during its January 5-9, 1997, run.

Powell served as the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff from October 1, 1989, to September 30, 1993, under Presidents George Bush and Bill Clinton.

"We are honored to have Gen. Powell accept our invitation to share his story with America's farmers and ranchers," said AFBF President Dean Kleckner, who will deliver his annual address during Monday morning's general session. "His rise to prominence is an American success story. Gen. Powell is a true man of vision. The leadership he exhibited during his distinguished military career certainly makes him worthy of the attention he is now receiving."

Sen. Robert Kerrey (D-Neb.), a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, has been invited to address leaders and members of the nation's largest general farm organization during Monday morning's general session.

The gathering in Nashville promises something for everyone. While Music City USA has plenty to offer visitors during the annual meeting's "down time," there will be plenty of events inside the Opryland Convention Center to keep everyone's attention.

The annual Young Farmers and Ranchers contests are scheduled for Sunday. Top contestants from state Farm Bureaus will participate in the Discussion Meet. The final rounds of the YF&R Achievement Award competition also will be held that day, along with the Farm Bureau Women's conference, caucuses and delegate luncheon.

Sunday's commodity and informational conferences will be highlighted by a session on world food security. Catherine Bertini, executive director of the United Nation's World Food Program, will address the session. Bertini, the first woman to head the world's largest international food aid organization, will discuss WFP's role in feeding the world's hungry.

Prior to joining WFP, Bertini was the U.S. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture for Food and Consumer Services during the Bush administration.

A conference on risk management and marketing education will also be held on Sunday.

Monday's events include President Kleckner's annual address, commodity and informational conferences and the popular 1997 Farm Bureau Showcase, which gives Farm Bureau members an opportunity to visit displays from agricultural vendors, meet researchers working on agricultural projects and learn about innovative ideas produced by county Farm Bureaus. The ever-popular Farmer Idea Exchange will also be held during the Showcase, which continues on Tuesday. The idea exchange gives farmer-inventors an opportunity to display their latest ideas and innovations.

Conferences scheduled for Monday include "Property Rights: The Unfinished Agenda," "Working With an Urban Congress," "NAFTA: Views from Both Sides of the Border," and "What's Needed for Successful Regulatory Reform."

Conferences continue on Tuesday. "Reducing Agriculture's Liabilities in Food Safety," "Tax Reform: Seize the Future," "Whole Farm and Ranch Planning: Environmental Compliance and Planning - What Farmers and Ranchers Need to Know," and "Exporting and Importing Food and Feed: Where's the Action Going To Be in the 21st Century?" are among Tuesday's topics.

Tuesday evening, the legendary Oak Ridge Boys will headline the entertainment.

On Wednesday and Thursday, delegates from the state Farm Bureaus will discuss and vote on AFBF policies that will guide the organization in 1997.

Maryland Milk Production Is Down 2 Percent

Maryland dairy operators produced 106 million pounds of milk during October 1996, down 2% from the same month a year earlier. The number of milk cows declined to 85,000 head from the 91,000 head of a year earlier.

Yield per cow at 1,250 pounds increased 65 pounds from a year earlier. Milk production in the 22 major states during October totaled 10.9 billion pounds, 1% below production in these same states in October 1995. September revised production, at 10.6 billion pounds, was 1% less than September 1995. Production per cow in the 22 major states averaged 1,373 pounds for October, nine pounds above October 1995. The number of cows on farms in the 22 major states was 7.95 million head, 98,000 head less than October 1995 and 5,000 head less than September 1996.

Biotech Crops Will Help Feed A Hungry World

Agricultural products produced through biotechnology that are scientifically proven safe and approved for consumption must not be subject to restrictive labeling or segregation of any kind, according to Dean Kleckner, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

"First and foremost, America's farmers and ranchers are committed to providing consumers the world's safest and highest quality food and fiber products," Kleckner said in a statement following his return from an international seed conference. "That will continue to be the guiding principle of U.S. agriculture as proven-safe scientific advances are incorporated on the farm.

"The biotech agricultural products we see today are identical to conventual products in appearance and wholesomeness. It is impossible to segregate them. But even if they are produced specifically to look differently or carry out unique purposes, when science approves them as safe, they should not be subject to labeling or segregation requirements that falsely imply otherwise."

Kleckner, who last week participated in a major international seed conference in Rome, sponsored by the International Federation of Agriculture Producers, said biotechnology is a major key to feeding the world's burgeoning population. The seed conference coincided with the World Food Summit, which addressed the topic of alleviating world hunger. Currently, world population is growing by the equivalent of New York City each month.

"The amount of arable land in the world is limited. The world's population growth is not," Kleckner said. "Nor is the ability of the human mind. Inventions and innovations will continue. As farmers, we must encourage and accept science's progress, to help us provide safe, nutritious and affordable foods and fibers to our people."

Kleckner said sound science must continue to "lead the way."

"The mission of the world's farmers is as clear as our conscience," he said. "Improved seed quality through biotechnology will be one more tool in our toolbox to feed the world."

According to the AFBF president, future advances should further lessen the use of farm chemicals. Also, more food will be produced on existing farmland, thus reducing the need to dedicate additional acres to feeding the world's growing population.

Given those probabilities, the American farm leader questions the motives of those opposing the use of biotechnology to feed a hungry world and conserve the environment.

"Those who oppose biotechnological advances shackle the world's poor to starvation and condemn citizens of subsistence nations to shorter-then-necessary lifetimes dominated by hardscrabble work," Kleckner said.

In the United States and elsewhere, decades of scientific studies have already moved from the lab to the farm, where, according to Kleckner, they are literally bearing fruit, vegetables and animal products.

"Acceptance of new technology is a hallmark of today's successful farmer anywhere, but especially in the United States," Kleckner said. "We eagerly embrace new production methods and technology once we are sure they are safe and will help our management practices work. U.S. farmers are convinced new genetically altered seeds are the key to feeding today's and tomorrow's world."

This year, American farmers planted approximately two million acres to biotech crops. About two-thirds of those acres were soybeans, and the remainder was split between cotton and corn. Still, that remains "a drop in the bucket," considering U.S. farmers plant nearly 160 million acres to those three major crops, according to Kleckner.

The new soybeans were developed to be resistant to specific herbicides. Biotech cotton repels boll weevils, and new corn varieties offer new oil types, borer resistance or herbicide resistance. According to Kelckner, preliminary harvest information on biotech varieties of all three crops has been "extremely promising."

"The best thing is that these genetically altered crops are perfectly safe for humans," Kleckner said. "The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency says there is no foreseeable health hazard to humans. That is quite an endorsement, but it comes after mainstream, ethical scientists have extensively studied the seeds and judged them safe."

As has already been witnessed through isolated rumblings in Europe and elsewhere, some biotech opponents will be tempted to ban new farm products. Such a move to erect "non-tariff trade barriers cannot be tolerated," and will only serve to harm foreign consumers, according to Kleckner.

"If that occurs, we will continue to look to the world's jurisdictional bodies and the all-powerful court of global public opinion to open markets arbitrarily closed to our safe and wholesome products," Kleckner warned.

Farm operators paid their hired workers an average wage of $6.97 per hour during the October 1996 survey week, up 39 cents from a year earlier. Field workers received an average of $6.58 per hour, up 39 cents. Livestock workers earned $6.57 per hour compared with $6.17 a year earlier.

New Ag Web Site On Line

Nutrient Solutions in Agriculture, an agronomic services and farm computer software company based in Lancaster County, Pa., has recently opened a site on the world-wide web at www.nutrient-solutions.com.

This new home page contains a wealth of practical information concerning ag software and profit building farm services available to today's progressive farmers. The site also contains a calendar of upcoming trade shows, classes, and special events in the Northeast which will be of specific interest to farmers in the area. Nutrient Solutions will continue to expand this site to include information regarding the status of nutrient management laws and news from around the country. The goal will be to keep the site up-to-date and informative so that "web surfers" will stop by regularly.

Free demo copies of the "Nutrient Management Planner" software program (a program that farmers and service providers can use in their personal computers to easily write certifiable, professional-quality nutrient management plans) will be available for free downloading from the Nutrient Solutions site as of December 1996. By downloading this Windows compatible software program, anyone can test this remarkable new program on his or her own personal computer. Those visiting the site are also invited to post questions via e-mail regarding topics such as farm computers and software, nutrient management planning, soil testing, plant tissue analysis, field monitoring, and fertilizer usage.

Farmer Panel To Discuss Use Of Computers

A panel of successful farmers from the Northeast will be discussing how they use computers and electronics for their record keeping and communications on the farm today. This panel discussion will take place at the ACE EXPO 96 on the evening of December 11 in Lancaster, Pa., following an all-day conference and trade show. Farmers, consultants, agri-dealers and others interested in computers and electronics in agriculture today won't want to miss the new ACE EXPO 96 at Eden Resort Inn and Conference Center. Farmers should take note that pesticide points will be credited to those in attendance at the Expo. This event is sponsored by Pennsylvania Farmer magazine, Nutrient Solutions in Agriculture, the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau and the Penn State Cooperative Extension Service.

Over 20 exhibitors plus 200 farmers and agriculturists are expected to attend this all day and evening event, featuring interactive computer learning labs, seminars on the latest in computer technology, the use of electronics and mobile communications systems on the farm, and much, much more. Those interested may register by calling Pennsylvania Farmer magazine at 717-334-4300, to hear key industry and farm speakers from across the U.S. relay information on the current state of precision ag technology, global positioning systems (GPS), combine yield monitors, variable rate planters and sprayers, computer mapping and farm record keeping, etc.

An evening panel discussion featuring five farmers who have adopted various aspects of computers and electronics in their operations will be held following free vegetable and cheese snacking in the exhibit areas from 5:30 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. Basic and advanced sessions will be sure to hold the interest and educate all levels of producers and agri-business people, and the panel discussion will offer an opportunity for a stimulating question and answer session, as well.

Let's Get GET N' GO Down To Business!

Get n' Go

Get n' Go, owned by Kiley and Traci Royce, opened October 1 at the former Hometown Market location on 507 Oak Street in Oakland. The Royces and their 11 employees (Jennifer Kisner, Nancy Lewis, Juanita Browning, Mari Mellott, Tina Martin-Selders, Kay Frazee, Ruth Shuttleworth, Lois Martin, Christy Eyler, Loretta Ridder, and Audri Dillsworth) are proud to offer a wide variety of services.

The couple owns and operates another Get n' Go in Terra Alta, W.Va., and have been in business for 14 years. They live on a farm on Rt. 219 south of Oakland and enjoy their business tremendously. Traci says they enjoy working with their customers and employees one-on-one. "We enjoy our family life and value the fact that we work together and are able to bring Stevee (their daughter) with us," Traci says.

The business offers extended hours and is open from 5 a.m. to midnight daily. At Get n' Go customers can find homecooked lunch specials weekly, over 1,000 grocery items, a beverage center with coffee and cappucino, all soda fountain drinks, a full service deli, a "growing" catering department, as well as fax and copy service.

"We accept Columbia Gas bills and Bell Atlantic phone bills, and are the only place in the area that does! We sell money orders and are hoping to add beer and lottery sales," states Traci.

She adds that they have excellent employees who are "sincerely" friendly. "We listen to our customers requests and follow through in getting what they want. We want to serve everyone with the most convenience, delicious food, and the friendliest service they can find in town. We offer so much - and there is more to come!"

When asked what the future holds for Get n' Go, Traci says, "Our desire is to be a 'one-stop-shop.' However, in addition to the convenience, we add a 'hometown touch.' We know employees are the heart of a business and we want to offer our customers great service with people who are sincere. We also want to look the part. In the spring of 1997, we will continue to remodel and add to the store to ultimately give it the look it deserves. We'd love to be everyone's 'hometown' store, known for our service, delicious food, catering service and convenience."

Wye Seedlings Now Available

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John R. Griffin announced this week that the DNR Forest Service has Wye Oak seedlings available for purchase. "These offspring of the great Wye Oak were started from acorns gathered in the fall of 1994 and will soon reach an adoptable age," Griffin said.

The 12-18 inch tall seedlings will be shipped directly to any address via UPS along with a letter of authenticity, history of the Wye, print of the Wye, and planting instructions, for $25 plus tax. Shipping will begin in the spring of 1997.

"These historic Maryland treasures make wonderful gifts to commemorate the holidays, weddings, births, graduations, housewarmings or any giving occasion. They can also be used as a memorial to a loved one," Griffin said. (The paperwork which normally accompanies the seedling can be forwarded to be used to announce the arrival of the seedling next spring.) Because of local plant quarantines, the program is not available in California, Louisiana, Florida, Arizona, or Oregon.

The last time the seedlings were offered, more than 8,000 were sold in less than three months. Persons may call 1-800-TREES-MD (873-3763) or 410-673-2467 to place an order.

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

French Cafe Bakery and Restaurant

The French Cafe Bakery and Restaurant, under the management of owners Fred and Christiane Bergheim, is located on Rt. 219 one half mile from the Deep Creek Lake Bridge.

The Bergheims moved to Garrett County in 1992 and opened the French Cafe Bakery. They later moved to Oakland to operate Cornish Manor Restaurant. Currently, Fred and Christiane have remodeled and are operating the French Cafe Bakery and Restaurant, along with employees Corbin, Fabrice, Lydia and Gloria, with more employees coming soon!

"We were the first to bring fresh French breads, cheeses, patés and gourmet foods to the area," says Fred. Their business is unique in that they offer gourmet food, catering, and free delivery in the Lake area for cold winter days.

The French Cafe Bakery opens at 7 a.m. and offers authentic French food. "Nous parlons Francais (We speak French)." Also offered are fresh breads, croissants, extra large muffins, cheeses and patés, specialty cakes, pies and tarts, gourmet foods, espresso and cappuccino.

The French Cafe Restaurant opens at 9 a.m. and offers an omelet bar, crepes and waffles for breakfast. For lunch there is a variety of salads and sandwiches, and dinner offers a selection of sandwiches and entrees. They also serve beer and wine. The restaurant seats 40 people indoors during the winter, and 70 people in warmer weather with the large deck overlooking Deep Creek Lake.

French Cafe Bakery and Restaurant is open year round, and delivery is available by calling 387-8504.

FRENCH CAFE BAKERY AND RESTAURANT -- Owners Fred and Christiane Bergheim (pictured above) are operating the French Cafe Bakery and Restaurant on Rt. 219 near the Deep Creek Lake Bridge. Offering a complete line of fresh French breads, cheeses, pates and gourmet foods, the business can be reached by calling 301-387-8504.

Fire Marshal Offers Holiday Safety Tips

Maryland State Fire Marshal Rocco J. Gabriele is urging Marylanders to practice fire safety and use caution during the holiday season.

"Each holiday season, families throughout Maryland are faced with the possibility of a fire occurring due to the improper use of decorations, faulty decorative lighting and carelessness," stated Gabriele.

The fire marshal has several recommendations which will help Marylanders enjoy a fire-safe season without dampening the holiday spirit. They include the following:

Keep the base of "live cut" Christmas trees submersed in water to help supply moisture to the tree.

Christmas trees should not be placed near furnace air vents, electric baseboard heaters or other heating equipment such as woodstoves or portable heaters.

When a tree shows signs of extreme dryness, remove it from the home immediately.

Keep "live cut" garland and other natural decorations away from heating equipment, especially actively used fireplaces.

Decorative lighting should be examined for damage or cracked wiring. Only use lights listed by approved testing services such as Underwriters Laboratories, Inc.

Decorative lights should be turned off when the home is unoccupied and before going to bed.

Gabriele notes that these simple guidelines will help Marylanders enjoy a safer holiday season.

Finally, for those citizens having trouble finding a special holiday gift for loved ones, Gabriele recommends giving a smoke detector. "Smoke detectors are wonderful gifts for our families and friends. They truly show how much you care," he said.

For further information on holiday fire safety, persons may contact the Office of the State Fire Marshal at 1-800-525-3124.

ACCIDENT PTA THANKS VOLUNTEER - Marie Coddington, pictured center, was recently honored by the Accident PTA as an "outstanding volunteer." She was recognized for her efforts at last week's American Education dinner. Mrs. Coddington began at the Accident school in 1959 as a cafeteria worker, and in 1975 became the cafeteria manager. She retired in 1988 but has continued to work as a volunteer at numerous school functions. Nancy Berkebile (left) commended Mrs. Coddington for her 38+ years of service for Accident's children. Sunday Sales Issue Decision Expected Today

The November election which resulted in the allowance of the sale of a drink with a dinner in two election districts and disallowed it in all other Garrett County areas has sparked controversy and legal action by both those who support the sale and those who oppose it. One hearing on one case is to take place this afternoon in Cumberland; the other hearing has not yet been scheduled.

As of this Sunday, alcohol-licensed restaurants in the Avilton and Elbow areas of Garrett County can sell alcoholic beverages to patrons dining in the establishments. Only one restaurant, The Avilton Inn, actually falls within the guidelines. A local group of individuals who oppose Sunday sales is protesting the constitutionality of the district-by-district vote and has filed suit against the Supervisors of Elections as a result.

However, in Finzel, where the Hen House is located, alcohol remains taboo on Sunday and the proprietors there have filed a complaint claiming that the election was erroneous. In that district, the Sunday sales issue failed by a tiny margin and supporters of the allowance are maintaining that some individuals inadvertently voted in the wrong district. They have asked that a new vote be taken in the Finzel area.

Michael Mudge, Crellin, and Thomas Doyle, an Oakland attorney, are spearheading the election protest as it has to do with the district-by-district vote. The "Hen House et al." is the filer of the petition to contest the election, which is also against the board of elections.

In response to the Mudge complaint, the board of supervisors' lawyer Leonard Eiswert has stated that the suit is filed against the wrong entity, and also that the claims made by the complainants lack support.

"The plaintiff seeks an immediate . . . injunction enjoining the sale of alcoholic beverages in election districts 11 and 15 . . . as approved by voters of those districts in the election of Nov. 5," Eiswert's statement reads. "He also seeks a declaration (presumably by the Court) that the vote authorizing Sunday sales is unlawful under Maryland law and a denial of 'due process' and 'equal protection of law.' . . . The plaintiff alleges he is entitled to this relief because the legislation authorizing Sunday sales required that before it should go into effect it first be submitted to the voters of Garrett County for their approval or disapproval . . . In his view, the district by district nature of the vote violates Article XVI of the Maryland Constitution. . . . He also claims a violation of the 14th Amendment to the Constitution of the United States . . ."

Eiswert went on to write that Mudge "fails completely" to allege any facts which support the claims.

"The legislation does not deprive the plaintiff of any right to which he is entitled," Eiswert wrote. He also stated that Article XVI "has nothing whatever to do with the election of 1996," and went on to explain in detail the two types of referendums in Maryland, noting also that a similar case in Carroll County was lost by the plaintiff in that situation.

LADY IN WAITING - The little tyke on the left obviously only has eyes for the man in the red suit, as do most wee folks at this time of year. She was learning a life lesson: sometimes ya just hafta wait. Her eager demeanor caught the attention of staff photographer John McEwen as he wandered along the festive Oakland streets during the fifth annual WKHJ Fresh Air Christmas, held last Friday evening. The place was bustling with people and excitement, but the little girl was apparently oblivious to everything but that big man's lap and his listening ear. How lucky she must have thought the young man was who had already made it to the goal! Lots of local little people bent Santa's ear during the festival, and lots of grown-ups enjoyed the variety of foods and entertainment provided. It was a fine start to the season as hundreds of folks came out to enjoy the event. Thanks to 'KHJ for another successful and fun holiday treat.

Diversity Of Issues Marks Final BOE Meeting Of '96

At the final regular meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education for 1996, held Dec. 10, members considered a diversity of issues affecting long-range finances as well as internal policies.

Agenda topics included review of ethics provisions in the board employee policy, discussion of policy on use of school facilities, results of the Honeywell energy management study, considerations of response to the IRS audit of the pupil transportation program and update on a grant proposal.

Prior to wading into some complex issues, Charlotte Sebold, president of the board, led off the meeting with recognition of and thanks to retiring board member Hannah Sincell for her service during the previous four years. Noting Sincell's dedication and long hours of work, Sebold said "we're sure the parents appreciate what you have done for us." Sincell referred to her tenure as "an interesting time, an enriching time."

The Advisory Committee on Education informed the board of progress by committee members on developing concepts for a board of education information publication available to parents. Both the short range, low cost, calendar format were considered as well as the longer range computer website concept. It was agreed by all present the production of such a publication might be done through a partnership with a business.

In further discussion it was decided that school reform issues could become the driving force of the Advisory Committee on Education.

Review of the board ethics policy led to an interruption of the public session for an executive session with board attorney Robert Watson.

When the public session resumed, the board heard a report from Linda Price of Honeywell, Inc. Price presented the findings of the utility analysis committee's in a feasibility study for a performance contract to conserve energy. We were looking for things that would fit into a performance contract," Price said, adding that such a decision on the part of the board is "proactive rather than reactive."

The goal of the study, Price explained, was to identify potential enhancements to school facilities that would result in long-range energy conservation leading to operational savings. Noting boiler placement, lighting retrofits, and expanded control zones, as possible cost reducers, the Honeywell study indicates that Garrett County can qualify for a savings of $450,000 to $550,000 over a 10-year period.

Members of the board agreed to move to step two of the assessment process. At this point no funds have been committed to the project, which is still non-binding.

The board will next publish request for qualifications (RFQ) asking for bids from other vendors on the energy conservation study.

Another long-range financial matter presented to the board for consideration was the impact of the IRS audit of the pupil transportation program. At issue is the future status of the school system's contractual transportation policy. The current program may prove to be in opposition to IRS policy and therefore in need of restructure.

"We're going to have to do business differently," commented Arthur Refosco, director of transportation for the school system. He went on to say that other options would be looked at and other counties studied in order to "create a new working environment."

The board members decided to name a committee to examine possibilities of structure based on studies of other districts and input from committee members. The committee will include current contractors.

Reports were presented by Al Coviello on the development of the Indicators of Progress. Meaningful statistics are needed, he explained, saying "they never give you the answers but they give you clues about what you can go after."

The indicators being developed will help identify problems, target areas that could be improved, and provide quality assurance in

Commissioners Surprised At New Funding Figure For Shallmar Work

The Garrett County Commissioners were surprised this week when Lee Thorne, acting director of the Garrett County Roads Department, informed them that the Army Corps of Engineers' estimate for work at Shallmar had increased by nearly $300,000, and that the local fiscal authority would be responsible for 35% of that cost. The original plan, which was discussed with Corps representatives several weeks ago, called for no local money at all; the federal government was to absorb any work up to $500,000, which the commissioners had been told would be sufficient money to take care of the road project in the town.

Upon receiving this news from Thorne, the commissioners and other officials penned a letter to Congressman Roscoe Bartlett, Senator Paul Sarbanes, and Senator Barbara Mikulski, asking for an explanation and for their assistance.

"The only reason we agreed to move on with this in the first place was because it was to be federally funded," Commissioner John Braskey said. "This is really frustrating."

Shallmar Road was seriously damaged by flooding in early September, making it unsafe for the passage even though it is the only road into the small town. School buses were barred from the road for some time as the county department worked to shore it up. The Army Corps of Engineers discussed the project with the local crews and, with the input of a local engineer and other personnel, prepared the preliminary estimate, which was at about $450,000. The commissioners were told that should the cost go any higher, the county would be responsible for only 25% of the overage. Now, the officials have learned that a congressional "action" has taken place as of Oct. 1 that has apparently changed that formula.

DECEMBER 7, 1941, is a date that will "live in infamy," according to President Franklin Roosevelt, and members of American Legion posts all over the country do their part to uphold that prediction by annually remembering the attack on Pearl Harbor with solemn ceremonies. Members of Proctor Kildow Post 71, Oakland, held such an event Saturday afternoon, and the program includes a 21-gun salute, pictured above, plus a special recognition of one of Garrett County's Pearl Harbor survivors. Members of the firing squad include James Giotfelty, George Zimmerman, Jack Ford, Paul Graham, R.J. Hight, Bob Heginbotham, Reese Tasker, and George Watson. James Jackson, pictured at right, was a member of the U.S. Army Company B, 25th Medical Battalion, that was stationed at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese attack occurred. The Mtn. Lake Park resident was a 21-year-old ambulance driver who transported many of the wounded to hospitals and was right at the harbor during the second wave of the attack. Jackson was recognized by Jim Seeders, commander of Post 71, also pictured. Other veterans' organizations that were represented in the ceremony included Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Disabled American Veterans.

Garrett Trail Publication Is Funded By ARC

Funding was recently approved by the Appalachian Regional Commission for a marketing project being jointly developed by the Maryland Office of Planning, Adventure Sports Institute (ASI) at Garrett Community College, and Maryland Department of Natural Resources. The initiative will identify, catalog, and map various trails in Garrett County. This information, as well as historic sites along the National Road and relevant outdoor related service sector establishments, will be published in a format suitable for marketing and promoting the county.

In making the grant announcement, Governor Parris N. Glendening stated, "The terrain of Garrett County provides an attractive and suitable venue for a wide variety of adventure sports and recreational activities. This project will develop a comprehensive marketing tool depicting locations of existing trails and information on the use of these trails."

The ARC program in Maryland is directed through the office of Governor Glendening and coordinated by the Maryland Office of Planning. Ronald M. Kreitner, director of the Office of Planning, noted, "This initiative represents a partnership of state agencies and the ASI to promote the County's recreation and hospitality industry."

The Garrett County Trail System Mapping and Marketing project is one of several funded this year through the ARC Planning and Research Consolidated Technical Assistance Program. This program is administered by the Office of Planning and is matched by funds or services provided by the applicant or local government.

The total cost of the Trail Mapping and Market-

Steel Beam Placement To Begin On Glendale Bridge; Boaters Warned

Glendale Bridge builders are planning to begin the placement of the 156-foot-long steel beams as soon as Friday, according to Lee Thorne, acting director of the Garrett County Roads Department. Thorne gave an update on the bridge construction to the Garrett County Commissioners on Tuesday, informing them that the project is currently "right on schedule."

In order to bring the massive beams to their proper places, the workers will be using barges, cranes, and cables all around the Glendale area. Boaters using this area in the next two to three weeks are being asked to exercise extreme caution, Thorne said. The area will be buoyed off and persons should stay at a safe distance away from the work.

The placement of the beams depends a great deal on the weather, Thorne explained, as they cannot be swung into place if there is much wind. The workers hope to have the entire placement project finished in approximately two weeks.

The beams will be brought on special trucks along Rock Lodge and State Park roads. They will then be loaded onto barges and floated to the bridge site for placement.

Harpist Julia Martin To Accompany Choral Society In Annual Concert

Julia Martin, a native of Omaha, Neb., and currently a graduate student at the Peabody Institute of Music at the Johns Hopkins University, will be among the accompanists for the Garrett Choral Society's 1996 Christmas Concert, which will be presented three times this weekend.

The first performance will be held Friday at the Maranatha Assembly of God Church in Grantsville, beginning at 7:30 p.m. It will be presented at the same time Saturday evening at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Oakland and again at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, also at St. Peter's. Because of the size of both churches, Director Nancy Learey said that there should be ample room to accommodate a large crowd at all three performances, and she encourages those not holding advance tickets to purchase them at the door for the same price ($7 for adults and $3 for children 12 and under). Both churches are handicap accessible.

Miss Martin, who is pursuing a master's degree in harp performance at Peabody, is a 1995 graduate of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, where she earned bachelor's degrees in both music performance and art history. She has spent four summers at the internationally known Salzedo Harp Colony in Camden, Maine, with mentor Alice Chalifoux and she currently studies with Jeanne Chalifoux.

Vocal soloists in the concert will include Choral Society members George Schettel, Sheila Nolan, Wayne Callis, John Wilson, Wilda Massi, Don Sincell, Lowell Leitzel, Laurie Grant, Joan Lambert, Maureen Melinz, Chick Handsaker, Maureen Melinz, and others. Besides Miss Martin, the Society will also be accompanied by Marcene Heubner, piano; Susan Peterson, flute; and Ellinor Benedict, cello.

Preceding each concert will be a selection of music by the Marsh Mountain Consort, featuring recorder musicians Tom Johnson, Marci McClive, Carol Muss, Dan Muss, Ruth Seib, and Mary Walcek.

Advance tickets, although not essential in this instance, are available at Englander's Pharmacy, Oakland; Beachy's Pharmacy, Grantsville; and Arrowhead Grocery and Deli, Deep Creek Lake.

The Garrett Choral Society has been in existence since the mid 1970s, and has provided the area with musical offerings ranging from Broadway musicals to sacred oratorios. It is composed of local residents who share a passion for music and the performing arts. Mrs. Learey, who has been its director since its inception, notes that membership is open to all interested persons; no audition is required. It accommodates all persons, regardless of age, disability, and/or professional musical ability.

Police Return Runaways To Youth Center

An 18-year-old Lonaconing youth and a 17-year-old juvenile, both of whom reportedly ran away from the Savage Mtn. Youth Center last Wednesday afternoon, were apprehended and returned to that facility, according to a report filed with the Maryland State Police at Barrack W, Mellenry.

Gary Michael Slavinsky, 18, and the juvenile apparently escaped from the center at about 3 p.m. and eluded police for more than seven hours before being apprehended in the Barton area.

The juvenile was returned to the center, and Slavinsky was transported to the Garrett County Jail, where he was held on $50,000 bond following his arrest.

Violent Family Altercations Lead To Arrests

At least three incidents of apparent domestic violence led to arrests this past week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Three men are accused of assaulting family members in three separate cases. The police have also arrested four individuals in connection with the theft of a pickup truck that occurred in October.

A Kitzmiller woman came to the police station to report that her husband had battered her. Susan L. Whitacre, 25, told officers that her husband, Todd A. Whitacre, 27, had come home intoxicated on Dec. 5 and had become angered when he found pictures she had taken of herself the last time he had bruised her, which was apparently in November. She said he proceeded to pull her hair, hit her in the forehead about three times, hit her in the shoulder, push her against the wall, hit her face and punch her jaw, the force of which caused her to hit her head on a window sill.

The defendant then apparently went outside to his truck where he had a hunting rifle and yelled to his wife to come outside so he could shoot her.

Officers noted that Mrs. Whitacre had a swollen and bloody lip, bite marks on her cheek and ear, and several bruises.

Whitacre was arrested and charged with second degree assault, according to the police report.

An Oakland man was arrested on the charge of child abuse after a teenager had to be treated at Garrett County Memorial Hospital for her injuries. According to the police report, the 17-year-old female had been in the home of Charles W. Moats, 38, on Dec. 8 when he came home, allegedly intoxicated. According to the girl's statement, Moats got angry because he could not find any more beer and began to wreck the house, pushing over the Christmas tree and upsetting furniture. He then allegedly hit the teenager in the face with his fist.

Police were summoned to the hospital to interview the teenager, and Moats was subsequently charged.

A man accused of threatening his sister's life on Thanksgiving has been arrested on several charges. James L. Nicholas, 30, Oakland, was charged Friday with assault, reckless endangerment, and a handgun violation in the perpetration of a violent crime.

According to the police report, Robin A. Beeman, 33, Oakland, contacted the sheriff's office on Nov. 28 to inform them that Nicholas had gotten into an argument with her and then had loaded his handgun while threatening her life. She was apparently in fear for her life when she spoke with the police officers, and later called to drop the investigation and charges.

However, the officer on duty was apparently concerned for Beeman's welfare because she was frightened of the defendant and he went to the state's attorney, who then pressed the charges against Nicholas. He was arrested on Dec. 6, according to the report.

A domestic dispute at an Underwood Road residence led to the charging of a married couple. Police were summoned to the home on Dec. 11 at 12:30 a.m. Upon their arrival, Christinae N. Lynch, 23, was placed under arrest and charged with second degree assault. She had apparently assaulted her husband, Kevin J. Lynch, 33.

While at the residence, deputies found suspected marijuana and drug paraphernalia. Both Lynches were then charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance and drug paraphernalia, according to the report.

A six-week investigation into the theft of a local man's pickup has resulted in the arrest of three adults and one juvenile, according to reports at the sheriff's office. William Lucas of Kitzmiller reported his truck stolen on Oct. 18. It had been taken from the parking lot of Wagner Trucking, located along Spring Glade Road. It was later recovered about 500 yards off Bismarck Road in West Virginia.

The truck had been seriously damaged and several items had been removed from it. The keys and tags were gone, and the mirrors, stereo, and glove compartment were removed. The truck was also severely dented and the headlights had been taken off.

A tip through the Garrett County Crime Solvers, along with evidence gathered at the scene, led to the arrests of Jack A. Kight, 18; Alfred J. Kight, 18; Billy J. Lloyd, 18; and a 16-year-old boy. The teenagers have all been charged with motor vehicle theft, unauthorized use of a motor vehicle, and destruction of property. They were released on their own recognizance pending trial.

A Mountain Lake Park man was charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated) on Dec. 3. Glenes E. Dumire, 63, was stopped on Rt. 219 north of the Paul Friend Road when an officer noticed that he was driving erratically. The arrest was effected at 10:40 p.m.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of Jeffrey M. Priapi, 23, Accident, for failure to appear in court.

Cheryl Coombs, 40, Grantsville, was arrested on the strength of a bench warrant for failure to appear, according to the report.

Theft Of Coins

Two women contacted the sheriff's office this week to report an apparent breaking, entering, and theft at their home. Kathy E. Parker and Ina J. Arnott left their White Church Road residence on Dec. 4 at about 8:20 a.m., and when they returned at 5:30 p.m. they found that someone had broken into the house and stolen three mason jars full of change totaling over $375. Also taken was a rifle scope, a gold ring, and a wrist watch.

Persons with information about this crime are urged to contact the sheriff's office at 334-1911.

DONATIONS TO SANTA - Lou Stouffer, better known by hundreds of local youngsters as Santa Claus, received some significant donations recently to help him fulfill his mission of providing gifts to nearly 400 families in need this Christmas season. Above left is a load of gift items collected and donated by Roy Stonesifer of Westminster, who learned of Stouffer's annual campaign in The Republican newspaper. At right, Santa (he's the one with the hat and the beard) is pictured with Eagle Scout candidate Travis Tayman, of Boy Scout Troop 81, Kingwood. As his Eagle project, Tayman collected and donated gifts to Stouffer, to the Raymond Wolfe Center in Kingwood, and to Preston County Community Action. His donation included 75 dolls, 336 books, 108 games/puzzles, 227 stuffed animals, 30 bicycles, 19 boxes of miscellaneous toys, and numerous other items, many of which he repaired and/or cleaned to make them presentable. Stouffer has already traveled over 12,000 miles since June collecting gift items and making deliveries for this Christmas. Oakland area residents may drop off gifts, either new or used, at St. Mark's Lutheran Church (Center Street side entrance) and at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, or they may call Stouffer at 304-789-6743 to arrange for pick-up. Particularly needed are gifts for teenaged youth.

Spirit Of Christmas Drives Annual Rotary Giving Project

"The spirit of Christmas is alive and well in out community!" exclaimed Rotarian David Bolinger, chairperson for the 16th annual Rotary Christmas Project.

According to Bolinger, area businesses have reported that shoppers are purchasing the requested items in support of the Christmas project whose goal this year is to provide clothing, toys, and Christmas dinners to 400 Garrett County families and children in need as determined by local social service agencies working with the Rotary club.

Other Garrett County civic clubs and organizations are joining with the Rotary club by making monetary contributions that will primarily go toward the purchase of 30,000 pounds of food, providing these families with a holiday dinner.

"Turkey or ham, sweet potatoes, dressing, vegetables, cranberry sauce, rolls and other traditional holiday food items will be donated to each family to help ensure that they will enjoy a wonderful Christmas meal," said Bolinger.

Food, clothing and toys are scheduled to be delivered on December 21 by volunteers from throughout Garrett County.

Rotarian Jack Fridinger noted that monetary contributions and bundles of toys have been arriving daily at the Arrowhead Market, one of the many giving tree sites.

"Many of these donations and contributions are coming in from visitors and weekend residents who come to Deep Creek Lake," commented Fridinger. "Every year, the increased participation level of these visitors and part-time lake residents shows just how much they, too, care about Garrett County's children and families in need."

"The generosity of our part-time residents is incredible," Bolinger added. "This project is a wonderful expression of community support. With this type of reaction by shoppers throughout the county, those less fortunate will be assured of a merry Christmas."

Persons desiring to make a monetary contribution in lieu of purchasing a gift designated on a giving tree need card may do so by mailing the donation to: Oakland Rotary Christmas Project, P.O. Box 741, Oakland, MD 21550.

CIVIC CLUB SUPPORTS ROTARY CHRISTMAS PROJECT - The Junior Woman's Civic Club of Oakland recently made a cash donation to the 16th annual Rotary Christmas Project. According to Rotarian and Christmas project organizer David Bolinger, the goal of this year's project is to provide Christmas gifts, clothing, and food for holiday dinners to Garrett County children and families in need. "The Rotary Club is very appreciative of the generosity of the JWCC as well as the abundance of support we have also received from other civic organizations, area businesses and private citizens," said Bolinger. "The good will that is being generated from this project makes the holiday season especially meaningful and joyful." Pictured above, at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital giving tree site, are Sue Skeweris, recording secretary for the JWCC, presenting a donation on behalf of the club to Rotarian Walter Donalson. Persons wanting to support the Rotary Christmas Project have one more week to do so. Purchased gifts should be returned to participating businesses by Wednesday, December 18, and monetary contributions may be mailed to: Oakland Rotary Christmas Project, P.O. Box 741, Oakland, MD 21550.

State Jobless Rate Declines; County's Higher

Unemployment in Maryland declined to 4.6 percent in October, as both labor force and employment levels expanded, reaching record highs for the month.

Continuing recalls in education helped to lower unemployment rates in 21 local jurisdictions during October. Twelve areas reported unemployment rates below the statewide average, with Montgomery, Frederick, Carroll, and Talbot counties among the lowest. Garrett County's rate for October was higher, however, rising from 8.6 percent in September to 8.8 percent in October. The October 1995 rate was 8.1 percent.

Governor Parris N. Glendening said, "Unemployment in Maryland not only dropped from September to October, but it is more than half of a percentage point lower than a year ago. Seasonal employment patterns gave an expected boost to the economy. More importantly, employment gains and lower unemployment also are signaling moderate economic growth."

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate, reflecting employment growth also, eased down to 4.6 percent in October.

Compared to unemployment nationally which dropped to 4.9 percent in October, Maryland's unemployment rate is three-tenths of a percentage point below and continues to be lower than the national level. Statewide, unemployment rates ranged from a low of 2.5 percent in Montgomery County to a high of 9.8 percent in Cecil County.

During October, nearly 1,900 people entered the labor market, increasing the State's labor force to 2,823,483. The number of employed people grew by 9,575, raising total employment to 2,693,698 and trimming the unemployment rolls by about 7,700 to 129,785.

While much of the employment expansion during October can be tied to workers returning to their jobs in school systems, preliminary results from the survey of Maryland businesses also indicated other areas of hiring.

Two Treated, Released After One-Car Mishap

Two persons were transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a single-vehicle mishap Wednesday evening where they were treated for their injuries and released, according to a hospital spokesperson. The accident occurred on the Rock Lodge Road, near the Peat Moss Road.

Susan A. Brettteman, 56, Accident, and her 3-year-old passenger, Tyler R. Gregory, were treated following the 12:23 p.m. mishap.

According to reports filed by the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, Brenneman was traveling south on the Rock Lodge Road when she lost control of her 1994 Isuzu Trooper on the slushy roadway, causing the vehicle to slide off the road and into a culvert.

Also responding to the scene were volunteers from Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad and the Bittinger fire department.

CAR OVERTURNS

Two Oakland residents escaped injury when their car overturned in a single-vehicle accident Tuesday morning on the Kings Run Road.

State police said Frank W. Robinette, 44, and his passenger, 18-year-old Rachel M. Robinette, were wearing both their seatbelts and shoulder straps in the 10:17 a.m. mishap that reportedly occurred when their 1968 Chevy ran off the icy roadway, struck a utility pole, and overturned. The vehicle came to rest on the passenger's side.

Robinette was charged by the state police with failure to reduce speed on a highway while road conditions were dangerous. Although members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad were called to the accident scene,, neither of the occupants required transport to the hospital.

DWI ARRESTS

Several DWI (driving while intoxicated) arrests were logged at the local state police barrack during the past week.

John Fracis Kettering Jr., 58, Ellicott City, was charged with DWI, exceeding the speed limit, and failure to drive right of center early last Friday morning after Tfc. John LeMay paced his car at 62 miles per hour in a 40 mph zone and noticed his car cross the center line three times. Kettering reportedly failed his field sobriety test and was transported to Barrack W following his 1:47 a.m. arrest. He was later released to a sober aduh.

Walter Carthy, 43, no address given, was arrested for DWI on Dec. 5 by Sgt. Farrell.

William Church, 54, Burton, W.Va., was charged with DWI on Dec. 7 by Tfc. Tarburton.

Inez Poelstra, 50, no address given, was arrested on a charge of DWI on Dec. 7 by Tfc. Byrnes.

Local Program Offers Help To Needy Parents

Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc. (GCCAC) is offering a housing/self sufficiency program to eligible county residents. The program, Operation Bootstrap (OBS), was announced this week by GCCAC Housing Counselor Brandon Seifert.

According to Seifert, OBS is a state funded program that is in operation in a few other states. He explained that though the program will provide Section 8 assistance, "it is a different version of Section 8. It is a comprehensive program of housing, child care, transportation, personal and career counseling, adult basic education, job training, and job placement to low income parents."

OBS is a cooperative effort by several county organizations to assist the applicants in becoming self-sufficient. Seifert stated that the program is open to any parent who is a county resident and meets the income guidelines.

Applications for OBS are available in the Housing Department of GCCAC, 104 E. Center Street, Oakland. Completed applications can be returned to Sharon Corley, Case Manager, GCCAC.

Anyone wanting more information about the OBS program and application process may call Seifert or Corley at the GCCAC Housing Office 334-9431.

Reneging on a Promise...

There is a huge problem in the little town of Shallmar, and just when it appeared that it might be solved, the Garrett County Roads Department received a most disturbing letter from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers that threatens that solution.

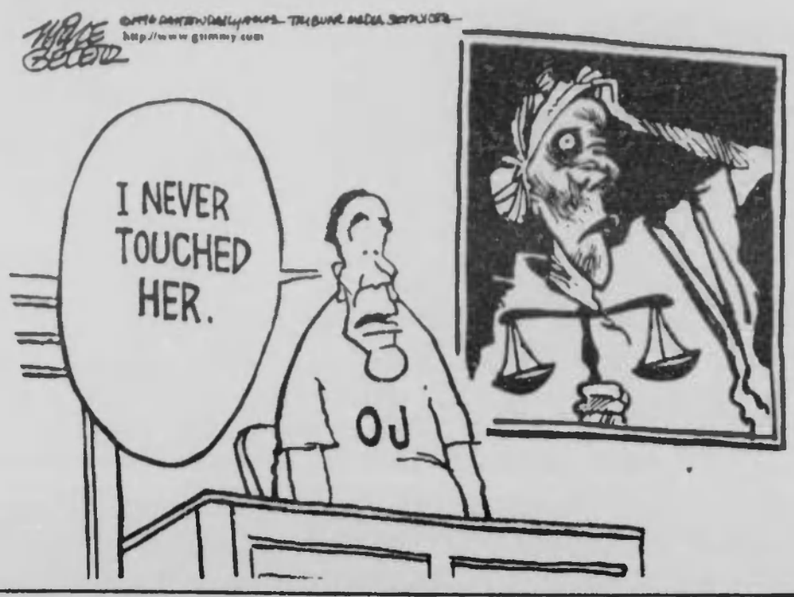
Shallmar is about 80 years old and, for about the first 75 of those years, there was never a problem with flooding in the town. But in recent years, allegedly because of reckless mining practices in neighboring West Virginia and the dumping of material into creek beds, flooding of the town has become almost commonplace. Extreme erosion under the only roadway into the town is the most imminent problem, but far more serious is the fact that the very lives of the Shallmar residents are also in danger, as the entire town could be inundated in water if certain conditions arise. The county roads department has done an excellent job at the site for the past few years, but has only been able to afford "bandaid" repairs.

Just a few weeks ago a representative from the Army Corps of Engineers assured the county commissioners and the residents of Shallmar that the Corps would take care of the problem. They assured them that the project would not exceed $500,000. They assured them that in the extremely unlikely event that the project would exceed $500,000, the county would be responsible for covering only 25% of the excess amount.

Then came the aforementioned letter, which not only said that the estimated cost of the project is now $744,000, but also that the county would have to pick up 35% of the entire amount, or just over $260,000. This is money that the county simply does not have right now.

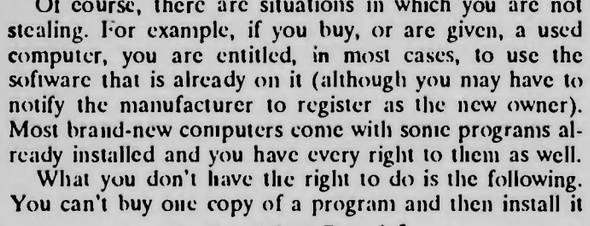
We join in the county commissioners' outrage over this, and believe strongly that the Army Corps of Engineers made a commitment on which they should not be allowed to renege. The commissioners have fired off letters to Bartlett, Mikulski, and Sarbanes about the problem, and we sincerely hope that they are able to do something to force the Corps to fulfill its original promise.

We do not agree that government should be expected provide all kinds of services to people who choose to reside way out in the sticks where many dangers are already present. However, this is not the case with Shallmar. Despite its ruralness, it was a town that until just a few years ago was perfectly safe from natural disasters such as flooding. The actions, and/or inactions, of other human beings, and not the residents, have suddenly made it unsafe. Thus the residents should not be the ones responsible for making things right again, nor should they have to move from their homes.



The Computer Corner

By Tom Hudson



STEALING IS STEALING!

Recently, a friend asked me to help out with a problem involving a well-known word-processing program. No matter what I tried, I just couldn't get it to work right. You may be familiar with the old dictum, "when all else fails, read the directions." So, I asked my friend where the owner's manual was. Sheepishly, he told me that he didn't have one. I asked a few more questions and suddenly realized the truth: he was using pirated software. Someone had said to him, "here, just make a copy of my (name of the program)." And so he did, thinking no one would be the wiser.

This got me to thinking, and my unscientific research leads me to conclude that this was not an isolated incident. I have even heard that some people who set up computers here, as a business or a hobby, "give away" software all the time. For a community such as ours, which takes pride in being staunchly conservative, it surprises me that someone would steal software without a second thought. Let me be blunt: if you didn't buy it, you stole it, and stealing is morally and legally wrong.

In general, we tend to think of software piracy as involving an illicit manufacturer in some third-world country, making thousands of copies of Windows 95 or some other new program and selling them for half the regular price. I am more concerned with the home-grown variety of software theft.

Of course, there are situations in which you are not stealing. For example, if you buy, or are given, a used computer, you are entitled, in most cases, to use the software that is already on it (although you may have to notify the manufacturer to register as the new owner). Most brand-new computers come with some programs already installed and you have every right to them as well.

What you don't have the right to do is the following. You can't buy one copy of a program and then install it

excerpted from
The Book of Hours at Deep Creek
of Katerina Schutzerin v. Wald

The lake is omnipresent through denuded trees. Blinking and winking under shifting winds, it flutters its eddies first southeasterly, then northwesterly, assured of captivated stares from all around, utterly self contained during the day. It overflows my peripheral vision when I stop to watch it from my front porch, and invades my blinkered living room past curtains that can occlude it in the summer. But with no parasol of foliage, of deciduous Battenberg, only the sparse brow of trunks running along the shore, it repossesses the air, reasserts itself onto the land and everywhere appears the bright vision of a native spirit. Who sees through our bones to the center of every shrinking piece of marrow without artifice of season, failed insight or false hope.

Tonight, again, it laid a path to my door. More ambient than candlelight. Paved with the luminous shards of an orb shattered light years ago, stepping stones to a floating terrace, it hovered brightly, suspended between the edge of my porch and the moon which rose over the mountain opposite my shore; waiting, providing, that we step from our homes onto a foot bridge cross a midnight lake as though a garden pond, travelling simultaneously from Darjeeling and Toronto, the Great Wall and Ellis Isle, journey many lifetimes until in the hope of centuries we meet one another face to face.

View From My Window

by Jeffrey Wilson

With two daughters in the family, I have come to learn the importance of balancing gender role models. Under the guidance of divine providence the church calendar has just such a balance in the season of Advent.

The Feast of St. Lucy falls on December 13 in honor of a Sicilian maiden who lived about 300 A.D. Those were the days of paganism's greatest darkness before the dawning of Christianity as the official religion of the Roman Empire in 319 A.D. Lucy, or Lucia, as her Sicilian family and friends would have called her, was converted to Christianity. She was so moved by her new faith that she gave away her dowry to the poor.

Her scoundrel of a fiancé was outraged that he should lose his prospective bride's wealth. He denounced her to the authorities as a Christian which was, in those days, a capital offense. She was sentenced to horrible abuse and torture before she was to be executed.

Lucy was miraculously delivered from the sentence of abuse and torture, and endured the martyr's death by having her head cut off, which was the way aristocrats were executed in olden days. Christians who knew her revered her memory. When Christianity became not only legal but the official religion of the Empire, she was canonized as a saint--a godly example to all Christians and especially to young women.

The story of St. Lucy herself is remarkable enough, but even more extraordinary is that her feast day is celebrated in the Scandinavian countries more than anyplace else. The chief observance is to dress the youngest daughter of the household in white with a crown of holly supporting lit candles. She then leads her brothers and sisters to their parents' bedroom just before the dawning light, and presents her mother and father with coffee and special pastry.

The identification of St. Lucy with candles probably occurred because her name is derived from the Latin word for light, "lux." I have not found any explanation for how the feast of St. Lucy got from Sicily to Scandinavia, but I have a theory.

Beginning in the eighth century the peoples of Scandinavia commenced one of those great periods of adventure and migration that transforms the world. Some sailed into the Mediterranean Sea, and back again.

My guess is that some of those Viking marauders carried the legend of St. Lucy back to their homeland. In countries dominated by darkness in the winter months, a saint whose name means "light" and whose feast day falls during the season of darkness would have great appeal.

Even in the English tradition there is evidence of St. Lucy folklore connecting her feast to the brevity of daylight hours in the middle of December. "Lucy-light, shortest day, longest night," one old saying goes.

December 13 can become a day for honoring the daughters of one's household, reminding them that they have a calling to show courage in confessing Christ as Lord. It is also a day to remind one's self--be we male or female--that principle is always more important than money.

I do not know of any household that would complain about the appearance of a special pastry, be it at breakfast or at snacktime. The Betty Crocker Cookbook (the one my mother used when I was a child and long since my old stand-by too) has a number of recipes under "Swedish" including "Lucia Buns." Joy of Cooking too has a recipe under "Pastries, Scandinavian."

Buying one of the specialty coffees at the grocery store can also make the morning rush at least a little festive. There can be coffee for the adults and coffee soup for the children. A candle-lit breakfast table would also be a safe way to remind ourselves and our families that St. Lucy's Day is part of the light of Advent. Who could go to work or to school without cheer and expectation in their hearts after such a day's beginning?

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The Garrett County AIDS Council wants to thank all those who participated in last Saturday's "Open Heart" program at Garrett Community College. It truly was a wonderful evening.

We would also like to take this opportunity to give our sincere thanks to Joelle Plauger, who did a magnificent job with the publicity for this event. Joelle will be moving downstate to a new job and we wish her every success. Her leaving is a great loss to the AIDS Council and to our community. Good luck, Joelle! We will miss you.

Sincerely,
Eileen Schlosnagle
Co-Chair Garrett County
AIDS Council

P.S. Please help spread the spirit of our "Open Heart" program and get involved with the AIDS Council. We need members of the community to help us continue this important work.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Chapter American Red Cross just ended the fifth annual "Home for the Holidays" home tour. In spite of heavy snow fall the night before, a record number of persons still came out to enjoy the beautifully decorated homes and bed and breakfast, receiving a gracious welcome from the owners of each. The event was a sellout and thanks must first go to the owners who made this year's event possible.

We also thank the media for the fine publicity, the ticket outlets who gave their time to sell tickets, the help of Town and Country Printers, Garrett County Memorial Hospital, businesses donating raffles for each home, all the volunteers who gave many hours to be greeters at each site, and lastly, but not least, all Garrett County residents and visitors who attended our event. The winners of the raffles were: Loretta

I Rant, I Care...

Editor's note: The following, which we consider to be an excellent piece of writing, is by Jasha Teets, a senior at Southern High School. It describes his belief that the Board of Education does not provide nearly enough information about the disease AIDS to local students, and is published in recognition of AIDS Awareness Day, which was last week.

I walk the hallowed hallways of this place, and I feel the walls scream at me. They flash red, sear crimson, blur my vision, and fill my head with pain ... their pain, their horror and fear, their loss and confusion ... their angst. Every day students and faculty walk these halls as I am doing. They walk along with their joy and grief. These thick, sturdy walls feel their emotions, harbor them, hide them. What walks these hallways, sheltered in a hulking behemoth of cement? These walls stand against what as a bunker?

It saddens me to say that there is a horrid secret that lives here, unknown to so many of the 900 patrons of this educational facility. We are the Rams, unenlightened and uncaring. Thanks to our wonderful patriarch of learning, a father elected and molded by our votes, we are the unenlightened. We are the lost.

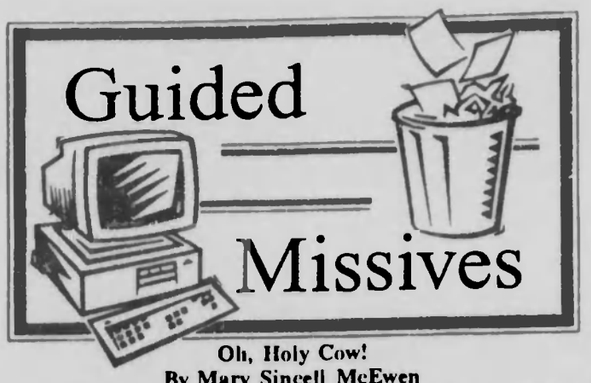
There is a killer loose today, and every minute more and more people succumb to his scheme. They do what comes naturally to them, or perhaps unnaturally, and unwittingly they have agreed to die. A suicide based on ignorance or apathy. Six thousand people a day learn that they are next on his list. Six thousand people a day realize they have made a mistake, and now it's too late to fix it ... they're soon to whistle a tune six feet under.

AIDS my friend, yes AIDS, a killer of young and old alike that lurks in needles and semen, in ghettos and suburbia, hunting us all. What do you know about it? How long did you discuss AIDS in your health class? Did you spend a whole five minutes on it, or did the teacher want to move on to simpler subjects like acne and the digestive tract? Never mind the epidemic proportions of the disease; it's much easier for teachers to skip touchy subjects and concentrate on questions five through eight in the bone fracture chapter.

When I come to my class reunions, I want to see my friends! I want them there with me, laughing about old times and sharing new times. I do not want to hear how a fifth of my classmates now have their own part of the AIDS quilt, which already stretches some 30 football fields. Show us the safe way, and we will follow. We are not stupid, and it's time our governors teach us what needs taught. Bring in those guest speakers, take students to see the AIDS Memorial Quilt, and let us learn a lesson now in safety rather than later, first-hand, when it could kill us.

Whether your beliefs run to a conservative or liberal slant, necessity dictates that we all share the same ground on this life-or-death issue. Teens have sex, teens use drugs, and AIDS continues to spread its life-ending power to more people every day. Things need changed, like the discussion of sex and AIDS in school. Should the school distribute condoms, giving the students the choice to use protection or try flying solo, or take it on its conscience for every pregnancy and STD? Whose responsibility is it, parents' or the school's? Parents elect the Board members who control the schools, so the schools' mentality is merely an extension of the community. Wise up. How many health education assemblies have you attended? Given the choice, would you want the Pep Rally or the Save-My-Life Rally? Try answering that after you watch AIDS consume your best friend. Then thank your Board of Education members for your worldly education.

Guided Missives



Oh, Holy Cow!

By Mary Sincell McEwen

Several months ago, a friend and I decided we needed a night out with just a bunch of other mothers -- no children, no husbands. In fact, we decided we needed such a night once a month. (Actually we felt we needed it about once a day, but decided we better hold back a little.) Since that time, we have attempted to get together with a few other mama friends and spend some hours talking and listening to each other as only mothers can. I don't mean to be an exclusionist, but it is simply a fact that only a mother can truly give a sympathetic and empathetic ear to another mother's trials and tribulations. It's just nature, I think.

Three of us actually made it out Monday night, despite the snow. Only three very desperate Garrett County women would have gone out on such a blizzardy night just for dinner, but it was down to either get out of our houses or set them on fire.

So, motherhood -- a staggeringly tiring career all by itself. But now comes the holidays. Yikes! I do love this time of year, but wow, what used to be so simple is now so ridiculously complicated! I have had children in the house now for five years, and I unfailingly have grand ideas as to how the house will be decorated, how the children will quietly admire the beauty of the tree and candles and nativity displays, how we'll all sit together in front of the fire and watch the classics like The Grinch and Peanuts, and how the Day will be so very special -- a photogenic wonderland. Well, as I and all my motherhood friends know, life is just way different.

The Tree: first of all, they don't stay up. As my friend Wendy has already experienced, they indeed tend to give in to gravity and crash to the floor, ornaments airborne, generally at about the same time as the baby toddles in. Since he is about to go swimming in broken glass, Mom and Dad are yelling for him to go back but are also preoccupied with bracing the prickly pine as well as choosing the most appropriate expletives to help them through this calamity. The older child, a 6-year-old, is loudly commanded to pick up her drooling, migratory brother but she's too overwhelmed at the sight of her beloved tree on its side to really give a diddly about the stinky baby. Dad yells at daughter, daughter starts to wail, Mom yells at Dad, baby happily spits up. Oh holy night!

The Christmas Special: When I was a kid, there were a select few holiday television specials, and watching them was all part of the season. Besides, their airing was an indisputable sign that the entire country finally was realizing that the Christmas season was upon us. (I personally had been ready since about Oct. 10.) One would bathe, put on p.j.'s, and settle in for The Grinch or Rudolf or the Peanuts gang. Well, when these shows come on now, my oldest boy can just about recite the entire scripts because we have them on video, of course. We've already seen Frosty the Snowman about a jillion times this season, and we went through a Santa Claus is Coming to Town phase in June. It just ain't the same.

Decorations. Okay, the idea is this: you take up the usual junk off tables and the mantle and you put out your nice Santy Clauses, candles, and nativity scenes with pine and maybe some cotton. Sounds simple. Tisn't. Ever try to explain to a 2-year-old that he isn't supposed to touch the Santa -- just look at him? Oh, sure. A few years ago, my mother made an advent calendar for Robert and the last compartment on it had a wee nativity scene -- just tiny. Well, it wasn't long 'til Rob, who was about 3 at that time, had removed the little people. At one point I looked at him and said, "Robert, what's in your ear?" Without a pause he answered, "A woman." I looked closer, and sure enough, there was the Blessed Mother sticking out of his head. And the regular nativity scene, the focal point of the whole season, of course, also becomes a toy. One year John passed by me in the kitchen and said dryly, "It appears that the cow has run amok." I looked in at my cherubic little boy and watched him assault the three kings with the hooves of a deranged bovine. Not exactly a part of the Christmas Story that I recall.

So, how are we supposed to do it? That is, be mothers and wives, work, rear children, and on top of all that, get ready for the biggest holiday of the year? Ah, I guess we'll just wing it. And we mothers will go out to dinner together once in a while and share a little w(h)ine. Besides, sometimes the nicest things happen just when we think all is lost. Kind of like the Christmas Story itself, right?

Let's Get Down To Business!

This is a feature of The Republican to better acquaint our readers with various area business establishments.

The Rose Trellis

A new shop, The Rose Trellis, has opened on Rt. 7 in Terra Alta, W.Va., (across from the Dairy Queen) just in time for Christmas.

Owned and operated by Cecil and Kay Royce, The Rose Trellis features homemade crafts, gifts, collectibles, and quilts. Many of the items are on consignment by local crafts people.

The owners and employee, Gena Royce, provide an outlet for local crafters, and offer something for everyone including all types of gifts at good prices.

The Royces have many years of business experience in the area. They owned the Terra Alta Dairy Queen for 25 years and the car wash in Terra Alta for 10 years.

In the future, The Rose Trellis will continue to add new and different gifts for each season of the year. The Rose Trellis can be reached by calling 304-789-5900.

Pernell, McHenry; Donna McClintock, Accident; Artie Dixon, Oakland; Teresa Shotwell, Mtn. Lake Park; and Karlyn Price, Swanton.

Our sincere "Thank You" to all who participated in making "Home for the Holidays" '96 a great success. The monies raised will stay in Garrett County and wisely be spent to provide aid to disaster victims.

Again, thank you and please remember to mark December 5 and 6, 1997, on your calendars to join us for "Home for the Holidays 1997."

Sincerely,
The Board of Directors

Editor's Note:
The writer of the following letter, which has been sent to Chairman Paul Davis of the Maryland Parole Commission, requested that it appear in this column.

Dear Chairman Davis:

It is my understanding that your Commission will be conducting a parole hearing on April 15, 1997, in the matter of Richard Danny Tichnell. I am writing to register my strong opposition to any possibility of Tichnell's release from jail.

While I'm certain that I don't have to re-hash the facts of Tichnell's case to you, I want you to know that I was one of the first police officers on the scene of Deputy Sheriff Dave Livengood's murder on the morning of January 18, 1979. The murder of a police officer in Garrett County seemed almost surreal, that "this couldn't happen here." This was the first time in the history of Garrett County that a law enforcement officer was killed in the line of duty. The shockwave that quaked throughout this county is still felt today. Everyone in law enforcement who knew and worked with Deputy Livengood, including his family, were deeply affected.

Richard Tichnell was one of two criminals found to be responsible for the murder of Deputy Livengood and, through an unfortunate chain of events perpetrated by our Appeals Courts, Tichnell avoided the death penalty. It is without question that Tichnell should remain in jail until he dies. The possibility of parole cannot be afforded to him.

To sum it up, it is without question that Tichnell shall not be paroled and he should remain in jail for the rest of his life, as the trial judge in this case stated. A liberal position on the part of your Commission will not be tolerated.

I thank you for your time and consideration on this matter of extreme importance.

Cordially,
Capt. Donald W. Tucker
Garrett County Sheriff's Office

To the Editor:

I have some questions that I believe need to be addressed, about the incidents of recent months regarding the Garrett Co. Sheriff's Dept. I believe that the citizens of this fine county deserve full disclosure. Why hasn't there been more info. available? What crimes did these deputies commit? Is the penalty of $3,000 to $4,000 assessed against one deputy appropriate for the crime? What was with the letter from the sheriff? What are the economic conditions within the department that allow it to operate for two months without two of its deputies? Is there fat to be trimmed within this dept.? What exactly was the role of the state police in these incidents? How deep is this apparent cover-up? Is there any evidence that a grand jury investigation needs to be considered?

I believe these to be reasonable questions to merit honest answers. I'm looking forward to The Republican engaging in some investigative journalism. This is all for now.

Thanks, and good luck,
Billy Hughes

To the Editor:

As a resident, employer, and material supplier in Allegany County, I have had the opportunity to familiarize myself with the AES-Warrior Run project. AES has done an excellent job in designing this plan while respecting both the environment and the community. Allegany County is fortunate to have such an undertaking already in the construction phase.

Questions are now being raised, after a year of construction, that perhaps the project should be stopped. Allegheny Power has proposed to buy out the project, abandon the site, then turn to an unknown, unpredictable, out-of-state energy source.

The state of Maryland, especially Allegany County, needs the jobs created by a project of the magnitude of AES-Warrior Run. This holds true not only during the construction phase but also for the long run in terms of stable employment at the plant as well as in the mining, trucking, and other spin-off industries.

AES will use local fuel, coal, and limestone. The plant will use its advanced technology to cleanly generate energy while meeting all environmental mandates as it has thus far.

We need the economic growth that can result from completion of the Warrior Run site, and AES can generate the energy requirements of this growth. We are advocates of AES-Warrior Run and ask for your help and support to move forward with this project which is in the best interest of Western Maryland and the entire state.

Very truly yours,
Allegany Aggregates, Inc

To the Editor:

On the morning of December 3, 1996, I was involved in what could have been a very serious car accident. As I was traveling on Sand Flat Road on my way to class at Garrett Community College, I hit a patch of ice and rolled my car. As I lay there upside down for what seemed like hours, I remember praying to God that he would get me out of this.

Computer Corner

on more than one computer (unless it came with a license to do this). You can't make a copy of a program from someone else's computer and then put it on your own. You can't "lend" the installation disks for software that you have bought to friends, neighbors, co-workers or anyone else. All of these are acts of stealing.

Why is software piracy wrong? I can think of at least three reasons. First, the creator of the program worked long and hard to get it right. Whether this is a single individual or a large corporation doesn't matter. This person or company deserves to receive just compensation for the effort involved. Federal and international laws confirm this right.

Second, remember what happened to my friend. Once he ran into trouble with the stolen program, he was up the creek without a paddle. He couldn't consult the manuals. He couldn't call the manufacturer for technical support, and I declined to help him any further. My advice was, "go out and buy a legitimate copy, and your problem will probably go away."

Finally, and more to the heart of the matter, if you would steal software, what does this say about you? Stealing from a department store places you in an awkward and embarrassing position if you are caught. You think, "I will be humiliated if I get arrested," and that is an adequate deterrent. Stealing software, however, is a theft which is usually not visible or easily detected. So refraining from it requires that you have a higher moral standard. "I am not a thief, therefore I will not steal, even when no one else will know." Software isn't that expensive, especially with so many discount catalogs. Do yourself a favor and be honest.

In addition to his parents he is survived by one sister, Kathy Gallagher, Frederick; three brothers, David Gallagher, Sarasota, James Gallagher, Bradenton, Fla., and Mark Gallagher, Mtn. Lake Park; and two half sisters, Karen L. Gallagher and Patty A. Gallagher, both of Mtn. Lake Park.

The body will be cremated. Private memorial services will be held at a later date.

The Stewart Funeral Home, Oakland, is in charge of arrangements.

MI EXPANDS TECHNOLOGY SERVICES

Micro-Integration Corp. (MI) (NASDAQ:MINT) this week announced the expansion of its Technology Services division to include a larger sales staff and a new Hagerstown-based office.

MI Technology Services give businesses and organizations in the Western Maryland region expert help understanding, applying, and managing technology in their business operations. "Our Technology Services division goes beyond selling a product," said Mark Proudfoot, vice president, MI Customer Service and leader of the new division. "We give personalized service and support so organizations have the technical help they need. We can work with them to figure out where they are in terms of technology and to plan and implement a strategy that matches their business objectives."

MI's Technology Services division focuses on helping organizations apply technology in ways that boost productivity levels, lower operating costs, and fulfill other company-specific needs. "Most organizations know what they need in terms of business and performance goals. We take that information and translate it into an innovative, cost-effective technology solution that meets those objectives," commented Lew Engle, who recently joined Jason Strawderman as a sales representative in the tri-state area.

Delcina Lechten, who works from the Hagerstown office, added that MI's two convenient Western Maryland locations make the services even more attractive to those looking for technology assistance. "Why go all the way to Washington, D.C., or Baltimore when the experts are right here?" Lechten asked. "MI staffs a full range of technology experts at its Frostburg headquarters, and now with a new Hagerstown office, help is practically a stone's throw away."

Persons who could use expert help solving business problems are invited to call Delcina Lechten at the Hagerstown office, 1-301-766-7300, or Lew Engle or Jason Strawderman at MI's home office based in Frostburg, 1-301-689-0800.

Micro-Integration Corp. offers system integration, consultation, and Internet/Intranet services to organizations that want to use information technology as a strategic business tool. MI specializes in providing high-quality products and services that help customers take advantage of distributed computing and downsizing applications from IBM host-based systems to client-server and PC-based systems.

IN RECOGNITION of American Trust Bank's partnership with Garrett County's Habitat for Humanity in a new "Homes for the Holidays" program, Barbara Briggs, Habitat's executive director, presents a plaque of appreciation to Dave Turney, Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) officer for American Trust Bank. As part of the program, the bank has agreed to donate $100 and one hour of service towards any of Habitat's projects for every home that closed in September and October.

ICES Seeking Host Families In Garrett Co.

International Cultural Exchange Services (ICES) Area Representative William Fintzell is seeking and interviewing families in Garrett County who are interested in hosting an international high school student for the upcoming spring semester at Southern High School.

ICES is designated by the United States Information Agency (USIA) and listed with the Council for Standards on International Education and Travel (CSIET). Students accepted into the ICES program must pass an extensive screening process to ensure they meet ICES requirements. These requirements are implemented to facilitate a rewarding and enjoyable exchange experience for all involved.

ICES students must maintain no lower than a "C" average in each class and are expected to abide and respect all school and household rules. ICES students are between the ages of 15 and 18, speak English, have full insurance coverage, and have their own spending money.

Students are required to have their own beds, but not their own bedrooms, and may share with a host brother or sister. Students are expected to help with any household chores assigned to them by their host family and respect their host parents and their rules.

Fintzell is seeking a home for 17-year-old Joao Felipe, who lists his sports interests as volleyball, basketball, soccer, and tennis. Felipe has had seven years of English and four years of French. He does not smoke and likes pets. His parents write, "His best quality is the responsibility that he always has with all his tasks. We are sure that he'll achieve a good experience in this exchange program because he's looking forward to learning more...."

Families interested in hosting Felipe or a student like him will have an opportunity to review the student's application, the student's letter of introduction, the parents' letter of introduction, the school academic transcript, a CulturGram of Brazil, the student's health record, and a letter from a teacher.

The students are also required to enclose a picture portfolio of themselves and family for prospective families to review.

"The letters, application, and pictures really help the host family develop a sense of whether or not that exchange student will blend in well with their family," Fintzell said. "Placement of students allows the student and the host family the opportunity to correspond with each other prior to the student's arrival in the United States."

Fintzell explained that the correspondence helps for a smoother transition for the host family and the student by allowing them to become somewhat familiar with each other before meeting. "It is not necessary for a family to have another teenager in order to host," he added. "In fact, many families that host either have young children, or they are retired and their own children are grown, in college, or have started their own families. This young man (Felipe) would just like a caring home environment while he attends school until June 1997."

ICES students coming to the United States will only be placed in an area where there is an area representative. It is the role of this person to assist the student, the family, and the school whenever necessary, and ensure the smoothest transition and experience for everyone.

Fintzell asks for community members' help in placing Felipe or another exchange student for the coming school year. More information is available by calling him at 387-8040 or the national office at 1-800-344-3566.

Letters

The automatic seat belt would not allow me to get out of the car. The passenger-side window was completely broken out so I began to stick my feet out of the window, hoping someone would see them. By the grace of God, someone did. A man came to the window and told me that he was going to get me out.

It wasn't until he pulled me out of the car that I realized my car was leaking gasoline. I looked around and saw many faces staring back at me. Within minutes the ambulance arrived and I was transported to the hospital. Miraculously, I has no serious injuries, just a lew bumps and bruises.

My only regret is that I did not get to thank all the people who stopped to help me; that is what this letter is for. God answered my prayers and I got out virtually untouched. My mom has always said that everyone has a guardian angel. I am lucky enough to have many. I cannot thank you enough for your help. God bless you.

Laura Livengood

To the Editor:

It is not my intent to engage in a debate but to present what is fact only and to correct the mis-information you gave in reply to my letter.

To support your approval of using wine on a limited basis, you stated that Jesus used fermented wine instead of unfermented juice because people in His day did not have the means of keeping fruit juices from fermenting. This is not true, my friend.

Cato the Elder (234-149 B.C.) in his De Agri Cultura CXX has this recipe: "If you wish to have must (grape-juice) all year, put grape-juice in an amphora and seal the cork with pitch; sink it in a fishpond. After 30 days take it out. It will be grape-juice for a whole year."

The word wine(s) is used 230 times (by my count) by the writers of the 66 books of the Bible and the usage is nearly always in a negative light. Since Solomon (the wisest of all men that ever lived, before or since) (I Kings 3:12) warned against the USE of it, and Jesus condemned all who ABUSE it, to ignore such wisdom would not be prudent to say the least.

Was it irony or destiny that the example you used was the location of the Lord's betrayal? I favor the latter.

Respectfully,
Bob Groves

Dear Mr. Groves,

I would try that recipe hut I don't have a fish pond.

Also, if your information is correct, I certainly feel sorry for the millions of people who suffered from the disease of alcoholism in this life and are now burning in hell. Let's see...who was it who said, "I came not to condemn the world, but to save it."??

NAIRN AND SLAWSON HOMES TO BE ON ACCIDENT TOUR - The Main Street homes of the Slawson and Nairn families will be featured on the Accident Cultural and Historical Society's Christmas In Flower Vale Tour, slated for Saturday, Dec. 14. The Slawson house, pictured above, was built in 1910 and was remodeled in 1992. Carol Slawson bought the house this year and has done extensive interior work with sponge painting, wallpapering, and stenciling. The Nairn house, below, was built in 1921 and serves as a parsonage for St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The lumber used to build the home was taken from what was known as the "little brown church," a spokesperson said. Both houses will be decorated for the holiday season. In addition to these homes, tour-goers will also visit the Lutheran parishes in the town, St. Paul's and Zion, as well as the historic Drane House. The proceeds of the event will benefit local veterans and their families. Tickets for the tour are $4 for general admission and $2 for children under 6. They are available at Matthew's Store and the following pharmacies: Deep Creek, Beachy's, Friendsville, and Proudfoot's. They will also be available at St. Paul's Lutheran Church on the day of the tour. The self-directed tour, which will take place from 4 to 7 p.m., will begin at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, where participants will be given a map of the area.

A letter from the Distilled Spirits Council of the United States to Federal Communications Commission Chairman Reed E. Hundt said, "Treating distilled spirits advertising differently from beer and wine advertising acts to perpetuate the dangerous misconception that consumption of a typical serving of distilled spirits is somehow "worse" or "less sale" than consumption of the equivalent typical serving of beer or wine--a misconception that our government agencies and organizations have fought long and hard to correct."

Last month Chairman Hundt began an inquiry into the appearance of Seagram products on television stations in New Hampshire and Texas. He said, "This decision is disappointing for our parents and dangerous for our kids." The Federal Trade Commission is looking at whether the Stroh Brewing Company is running television ads that are aimed at underage viewers. O. Burtch Drake, president of the American Association of Advertising Agencies in New York, said, "The liquor industry is within its rights to advertise. But it's up to the industry to make sure the advertising is placed in a responsible manner. The right of the media to accept or reject advertising remains unchanged."

Hard liquor sales are down compared to wine and beer sales, so beer brewers and sellers are also

HUSKIES' SEASON UNDERWAY - The Northern High School varsity and junior varsity boys' basketball teams opened their seasons this past week, with the varsity winning one of two contests and the jayvees capturing three straight victories. At left, Nathan Long puts up a shot against Mount Savage in Friday night's varsity game while #42 Shane Frazee positions himself to go up for the rebound if necessary. Playing for Coach Mike Friend this year are, pictured above, kneeling, from left: Tavaris Harriss, Matt Fletcher, Zach Leverenz, Matt Houser, and Herman Arndt; and standing: Shane Frazee, Eric Neubert, Scott Sisler, Nathan Long, Shaun Savage, and Steve Hinebaugh. The Huskies will host Allegany this Friday night.

Huskies Defeat Elks Before Losing To Indians, Wildcats

The boys' varsity basketball team of Northern High School opened its 1996-97 campaign with a victory last Thursday evening, but then dropped two straight this week. The Huskies defeated visiting Salisbury in overtime on Thursday, 55-44, fell to Mt. Savage on Friday, 61-42, also at the Cove, and where whipped last night at home by Westmar, 88-52.

A three-point bucket by Northern's Zach Leverenz at the buzzer sent the contest with Salisbury into overtime with the score knotted at 44-44. Northern was down by as many as nine points with less than 90 seconds remaining in regulation. The Huskies then dominated the overtime period by scoring 11 points and holding the Elks scoreless.

Nathan Long led the Huskies in the overtime period, as he scored six of his 11 points in that stretch. He also finished with five blocks for the evening.

Leverenz paced the Huskies with 19 points, while Scott Sisler finished with 12. Shawn Savage grabbed 10 rebounds.

Pacing the Elks' scoring was Rob Millard, who netted 18 points and also pulled down 20 rebounds. Also reaching double figures was Nick McKenzie with 10 points.

"Coming back to tie the game really gave us an emotional lift going into the overtime period," stated Northern coach Mike Friend. "Obviously it also help when Millard fouled out." The Elks' leader recorded his fifth foul late in the fourth period.

The Northern junior varsity was also victorious in the preliminary game that followed as similar pattern. The Huskies had to rally from a 12-point halftime deficit and win 66-52. Dustin Long had an incredible game for the Huskies, as he scored 35 points and pulled down 20 rebounds. Dave Short paced the Salisbury jayvees with 14 points.

The Huskies never really got on track Friday night against Mt. Savage, as they fell behind 17-6 by the end of the first quarter, trailed 31-18 at halftime, and were out-scored in the third period by a 22-5 margin to make it 53-23 at the end of three quarters.

Leading the Indians (1-0) was Carl Crawford with 19 points, while teammates Mike Brailer and Corey Twigg netted 13 and 12 points, respectively. Bill O'Neal recorded nine points, nine rebounds, and eight assists.

Steve Hinebaugh finished with 11 to lead Northern and Nathan Long scored 10.

Dustin Long had another big night for the Northern junior varsity, as he led the Huskies to a 55-49 win with his 28 points and 10 rebounds. Pat Brehm scored 17 to lead the Indians.

The third period was the nemesis again for the Huskies' Tuesday night against Westmar, as they were outscored in that stanza by a 25-8 margin after trailing 23-15 and 43-27 at the end of the first and second quarters. The Huskies stayed close in the first period and were down by only two, 17-15, but then the Wildcats scored the next 14 points to take a commanding 31-15 lead early in the second quarter.

Joey Langham led four Wildcats (2-0) in double figures with his total of 19 points. Aaron Wilt was right behind with 18, while Troy Morris and Mike Dunn netted 11 and 10, respectively.

Scott Sisler led the Huskies with 14 points, Nathan Long finished with 11, and Steve Hinebaugh scored 10.

Dustin Long once again paced the Northern jayvees to their third straight victory in the first game, as he recorded 19 points and 19 rebounds in a 58-51 win.

The Huskies are scheduled to play again this Friday when they will host Allegany in another WMHL contest.

Southern Girls Open With Win Before Falling To Vikes, Falcons

The Southern High School girls' varsity basketball team, which is the defending WMIL champion and the Region IA runner-up, opened its season this past week with a win and two losses, as the Rams topped host Mt. Savage last Thursday evening, 49-36, dropped a 63-49 decision at Petersburg Tuesday night and were flattened last night by Frankfort, 53-18, on the Falcons' court.

The Rams, under new head coach Bill Dignan, were dominating the Mt. Savage Indians with leads of 36-16 at halftime and 47-26 after three quarters before scoring only two points in the final period. Kerri Cannon provided most of the Rams' scoring as she finished with a game-high 26 points. Liz Paesani also finished in double figures with 12 points.

Pacing the Indians' offensive effort were Heather Abucevicz and Mary Beth Kennell, who each netted 12 points. Abucevicz also pulled down 15 rebounds. It was also the season opener for Mt. Savage.

It was also in the fourth quarter Tuesday night that the Rams literally fell apart, after leading the Petersburg Vikings at the quarters by margins of 14-10, 25-21, and 42-39. The Viking offense exploded for 24 points in that final stanza, while the Rams managed only seven.

Abby Junkins and Gwen Simmons led Petersburg (1-0) with 21 and 16 points, respectively, while Danielle Oats added 12 points and four assists. Simmons also recorded 15 rebounds.

Meghan Dabney led the Rams with 14 points, Lauren Newcomb netted 11, and Paesani finished with 10.

The Rams simply could not generate any offense last night against a powerful Frankfort team that returned four starters from last season's 19-3 squad. The Falcons (6-0) dominated the contest from the opening tipoff, building leads of 16-2, 33-7, and 43-15 at the quarters.

None of the Rams reached double figures, as Dabney led the team with eight points and Paesani recorded six. Kelly Mielecki and Valerie Chaney each scored 13 for the Falcons, while Erin Furey netted 11.

The Southern junior varsity was defeated in the preliminary game, 37-21.

The Rams will face another stiff challenge Monday when they host Westmar. They will play at Beall next Wednesday to wrap up their pre-holiday schedule.

Coach Dignan has large shoes to fill with the retirement of Coach Don Stemple, who compiled an overall record of 214-102 in 15 years as head of the Southern girls' program. He was also a successful coach of the boys' varsity for six years.

The Rams, who finished last season with a 21-4 mark after being upset by Westmar in the regional final, lost most of their starters to graduation, as All-Area first team selection Emily Friend is now playing for Shepherd and Alisa Rugg, Angela Shafer, Kristi Stemple, and Miranda Marple are also now in college. Returning starters include senior guard Meghan Dabney and forward Kerri Cannon. Lauren Newcomb, also a senior forward, had considerable playing time last season as well.

Assisting Dignan is Gary Newcomb.

Rams Edged By Spartans, 63-62, In Season Opener

A jump shot by Bishop Walsh's Travis Jessie with just four seconds left in the game resulted in a 63-62 defeat for the Southern High Rams in their season opener Friday night in Oakland.

The Rams led throughout most of the game, holding quarter advantages of 13-9, 33-21, and 45-41, before the Spartans finally took their first lead late in the fourth stanza. The Rams trailed 61-60 and the Spartans had possession of the ball, but senior Ryan Adams stole the ball and went the length of the court for a lay-up which gave Southern a 62-61 lead with 11 seconds remaining.

Jessie took the inbounds throw, drove down the floor, and went up for a quick jumper just to the right of the free-throw line that gave BW the win, as the Rams' long desperation shot at the buzzer was no good.

Leading the Rams' scoring was Aaron Newcomb with 17 points, while John Andrews netted 15 and Jared Beckman recorded 11 points and 14 rebounds. Adams had four assists to go with his six points.

Jessie was the game's top scorer with 26 points, and Justin DuVall also reached double figures with 10.

The Southern junior varsity won the first game, 49-41, as Jason Garland led the Rams with 14 points and Mike Paesani and Mike Panepinto each netted 10. Damian DuVall led the Spartan jayvees with 16 points and Mike Serpone finished with 13.

The Rams, coached by Tom Bosley, will play at Mt. Savage this Friday night and then host Westmar next Tuesday.

In Memory of my mother

Mom, the house is still there.
My last time around I stood there in the front yard.
Most of the roses and other flowers kind of gave up.
You even had flowers in the back yard.
Well, not really, because to you it was all up front.
When I turned to leave, seems I could see your face in the front window, then I knew I was back home.
So Mom, we'll just have to wait.

Lakers Fall To CCAC - South; Record Now 4-5

The men's basketball team of Garrett Community College saw its season mark dip to 4-5 Saturday night when they dropped a 76-73 decision to host CCAC-South in Pittsburgh.

The Lakers held the lead most of the game and were on top 38-35 halftime lead, but couldn't hold on down the stretch. South took the lead with about three minutes to play and never relinquished it.

Leading the home team in scoring were Chuck McCutcheon and Kenny Lee, who finished with 19 and 18 points, respectively, while Camija Williams and Chad Corley each scored 12 points. Lee also had six assists.

Pacing the Lakers with a game-high 20 points was VaShawn Gross, while Jerome Adams recorded 16 points, including nine from three-point range, and five assists. Jimmy Pamepinto and Aubray Gray each netted 12 points, with all of Pamepinto's coming on three-point shots. Frank Winter finished with 11 points and 13 rebounds.

"We did not play well defensively and we struggled with fouls the whole game," stated GCC coach Dennis Gibson. "We also never got them into a one-and-one situation in either half."

The Lakers will play again this Saturday at Germantown before taking a three-week break for the holidays.

NICOLE MEYERS

CHRISTAL MILLER

Three members of the Garrett Community College women's volleyball team have received post-season honors for their outstanding efforts in the 1996 season, a campaign which the Lakers finished with an overall record of 18-8 and a close loss to Frederick CC in the semifinal round of the Region XX Tournament.

Named first-team All Region XX and first-team All Region XX Tournament was two-time All-American candidate Nicole Meyers, of Keyser, W.Va., while Erica King, a 1996 graduate of Perry Hall High School was named to the tournament's second team and honorable mention for the region. Christal Miller, a freshman from Connellsville, Pa., was named to the All-Region XX second team.

Meyers led the Lakers in kills with 277 for the season, an average of 4.1 per game, despite missing four weeks of play because of injury. She posted a serving efficiency of 81.1 percent and ranked second on the team in aces. As a freshman, she was named GCC Female Athlete of the Year, first-team All-Region XX, first-team All-Region Tournament, and Most Valuable Player for the 1995 season. She was also a dean's list student for the fall of 1995 and spring of this year.

King was second on the team in kills and hitting efficiency, with 175 kills and 18.6 efficiency. Her service efficiency percentage was 91.9. She earned numerous all-city and all-county honors during her high school career.

Miller led the Lakers this season in service aces with just under one per game and was second on the team in service efficiency with a 92.5 percent. She was third in hitting with 142 kills, or 1.4 per game.

"It is evidenced by the awards our athletes received that Garrett Community College is beginning to be recognized by the Region XX," stated GCC Coach Margaret Quinn. "It is quite an honor for the smallest institution participating to have a third place team finish. Volleyball differs from others sports by the division options. We only have the opportunity to be Division I or Division III. Division I is able to offer scholarships and Division III is unable to offer any financial support. Therefore, we are still basically competing with the entire region."

HUNTING'S HIGH SEASON

Garrett County hunters going out for the regular deer season that opened Saturday, November 30, faced a cold freezing rain situation. Some tree-stand hunters had a tough time getting into their perches because of the ice. The rain that continued all day certainly affected the harvest. Congratulations are in order for those who did manage to bring home a buck in spite of the weather. Some we know about are Roger Hinebaugh who got a nice seven-pointer in the Deer Park area and Rick Paugh who took an eight-point in the North Hill area.

Other reports coming in from the North Hill area have Sean Nazelrod tagging a four-point and Richard McCrorie checking in with a six-point. Doug Lewis picked up a six-point in the Sang Run area. These reports are from Dan Milavec at D & B Sport Shop.

Ray Wharton at R & S Enterprises tells that he has been seeing lots of deer down in the Pleasant Valley area and surrounds; but, few with antlers. He believes that the bucks are there but they just aren't moving. Reports into his shop are that hunters have been doing pretty well in the Snaggy Mountain and Mt. Nebo areas. Some successes he did note were Tom Roy with an eight-point, Neal and Poke Winters (father and son) with eight-pointers and Floyd Massey with a four-pointer.

Of note, former Marylander Guy Tressler bagged a 344-pound black bear near Confluence, Pa., on November 27, the last day of Pennsylvania's bear season.

TAKE YOUR CAMERA OUTDOORS

Garrett County offers much more to the person interested in the outdoors and wildlife than just hunting and fishing. Those interested in photography have no closed seasons and don't have to buy a license. Yet, they enjoy a most challenging and satisfying activity.

To successfully photograph outdoor activities, scenic and wild life, aspiring photographers need to acquire some basic equipment and skills. The skills needed to photograph wildlife are similar to those needed for successful hunting. Hunters who take up a camera get a dual benefit of extending the time they spend afield and sharpening their woodsmen skills.

Good outdoor photographs can be produced with most any of the modern 35mm cameras on the market. These may be the expensive models featuring interchangeable lenses similar to those used by professional photojournalists or the simpler automatic zoom equipped compacts that have become very popular. Good brand names in both types of cameras include Nikon, Canon, Minolta, Olympus, among others.

For those who are serious about outdoor photography, the 35mm single lens reflex with interchangeable lenses is probably the best choice in equipment. The most important consideration here is the quality of lenses available and most professionals would advise to buy the best lenses you can afford. It is the lens that cuts the image on the film. Many modern cameras offer automatic exposure and automatic focus. These features are more important if the subject matter tends to move than if your interests are in scenics that allow more time to calculate your exposure and adjust the focus.

The automatic compact cameras are excellent choices for hunters and fishermen when selecting a take-along camera. These small wonders take good images, are relatively impervious to weather and, for the most part, are fully automatic.

BAGGING HER FIRST BUCK on the recent Youth Hunting Day was Alison Sines, Friendsville, pictured above with her trophy and her father, Ken Sines. It was the first time that Alison had ever gone hunting. She is a sophomore at Northern High School and a granddaughter of Ralph Sines, also of Friendsville, who said that Alison is the first female member of the family to ever harvest a deer.

Husky Grapplers Open With Wins Over Keyser, Hyndman

The wrestling team of Northern High School, which is ranked among the better 1A squads in the state going into the 1996-97 season, justified that recognition so far by opening with victories over host Keyser, 57-24, and Hyndman, 47-36, in a tri-meet Tuesday on the Golden Tornado's mats.

Recording pins in both matches for the Huskies, coached by Scott Stough, was Jimmy Green in the 145-pound division. Other Huskies earning pins against Keyser were Brandon Stein (103), Seth Huber (112), Jimmy Warnick (119), E.J. Scofield (125), Paul Beitzel (130), Matt Kauffman (140), and Cody Brenneman (171).

Adam Brenneman won by default in the 135-pound bout, while Nate Kauffman decisioned his opponent in the 152-pound division.

Earning pins for Keyser were Luke Hoover (189) and Doug Ravenscroft (275), while Steve Starcher (160) won by default.

Besides Green's pin against Hyndman, John Durst won the 160-pound match by decision and the Huskies were awarded five forfeits for the rest of their points.

Butch Davis (275) won via a pin for Hyndman, while Aaron Elliott (119), Travis Twigg (135), and Ray Flanagan (140) won on points.

Keyser edged Hyndman, 42-41, in the other team match.

The Huskies will compete again next Tuesday at home against Fort Hill and travel to Westmar next Thursday.

Defending state runner-up Nathan Rickman opened his campaign with a pair of pins in the 171-pound class, even though his actual weight is considerably less than that. Rickman pinned Jim Llewellyn of Westmar and Josh Robbins of Williamsport.

Also recording victories for the Rams against the Westmar Wildcats were Eric Rexrode (135), Tommy Sweitzer (160), and Howard Crosco (189) via decisions, and Jeff Maule (119), Jeremy Sweitzer (130), Paul Tepper (140), and Rodney Bird (145) on forfeits.

The only other Southern victories against Williamsport besides Rickman's were decisions by Sweitzer and Darrick Dove in the 119-pound bout.

Westmar also lost to Williamsport, 39-20.

If your photographs are good enough, you can use them as wall decoration for your home or office and even sell some to magazines that use this kind of subject matter. If your purpose is to produce wall art or mementos, color prim film will suffice. However, if you aspire to sell to publications, you should be using transparency (slide) film as editors generally prefer this.

Some close-by spots that offer outstanding potential for outdoor photos are the Cranesville Swamp area, Swallow Falls, the Yough River (anywhere from the source to Friendsville) the Savage Forest and river valley, the Mt. Nebo Wildlife Management Area, Deep Creek State Park, and some of the quieter coves on Deep Creek Lake.

Explore these areas in mid-winter, when the photographic potential is at its peak for both scenic material and wildlife, particularly wild turkeys and whitetail deer. Abandoned farms also offer excellent photographic material. It is always best to be courteous and ask the landowner's permission before trespassing.

WINTER EVENING ENTERTAINMENT

Anyone interested in hunting and fishing could do worse than spend a cold winter evening watching a video on their favorite sport. Dan Milavec at D & B Sport Shop has an extensive collection of all kinds of hunting and fishing tapes at his shop on Route 135 in the Deer Park area. Some are high adventure narrative and others are more instructional. Dan rents these to interested sportsmen for a couple of bucks for an evening. It's the next best thing to being there.

THIS IS YOUR FORUM

This column, "Garrett County Outdoors," can be a forum for distributing information of interest to sporting men and women. If you have something you would like discussed or a question about any pertinent subject matter send it to Garrett County Outdoors, PO Box 326, Oakland, MD 21550.

Let's Get Down To Business!

Bear Creek Supply

Bear Creek Supply has been opened in Friendsville by owners Kris Mitchell and Jessica Hunter. Located on 272 Maple Street, Bear Creek Supply offers hunting and fishing supplies, muzzleloading supplies, ammo, camouflage, scent attractants, bait lures, flytying, archery supplies, bows, antiques and more.

The owners work at Bear Creek Supply full time, and are experienced hunters and fishermen schooled in wildlife habitat and conservation.

Some of the unique items offered are flytying classes, bow repair and custom arrows, at low prices, say the owners.

Kris and Jessica expect expansion and growth in the future and are planning 3-D shoots, and guided fishing and hunting trips.

Bear Creek Supply can be reached by calling 746-5993.

Thorne received a letter dated Dec. 4 from Susan K. Lewis, chief of the Civil Projects Support Branch of the Army Corps, and she stated that the Shallmar-Kitzmiller Road Emergency Shoreline Erosion Control Project's total cost is "currently estimated to be $744,000." She went on to claim that the "non-federal" share of this amount is 35%, or $260,400. The "non-federal" entity would be Garrett County.

"It is beyond our understanding how the current status of this project could be so different from what we were originally told," the letter from the commissioners states. "Therefore, we are requesting any assistance that you can provide in resolving this matter."

Thorne told the commissioners that in addition to the cost estimates, his office has also received the Corps' specifications and outline for stabilization work on the damaged road. He informed the officials that he was in agreement with most of that material, although he feels that a guardrail should be erected along the road and the Corps made no mention of such.

measuring progress toward newly stated school goals.

Coviello also presented an update on the grant proposal to be submitted to the Schools for Success grant program on Dec. 21. The funds sought will be used to develop a program to improve student reading skills.

Among other information items at the meeting were review of the letter from the County Commissioners approving the Board of Education's long-range capital improvement plan, and recognition of the improvement efforts by Broad Ford Elementary, Grantsville Elementary, and Southern Middle schools. These school were honored by Gov. Parris Glendening in November and awarded additional funds for school improvement.

Eiswert also notes near the end of the document that Fred Sanders, to whom the suit has been directed, "is an employee of the Board and is not a proper party to this litigation. He should be dismissed from the case."

A hearing in Allegany County will take place today at 3 p.m.

In response to the Hen House case, Eiswert first notes that to file such an action, the plaintiff must be a "registered voter," as directed by the Annotated Code of Maryland, Article 33, Section 19-1. As the "Hen House et al." is listed as the plaintiff, Eiswert maintains that this is improper. He also stated that the Supervisors of the Board of Elections denies any mistakes or irregularities in the Nov. 5 vote in Finzel.

A hearing date on this case has not been announced.

interested in the ads and what is going on. They fear regulators will decide to kill all forms of liquor advertising. One beer industry source said, "The distilled spirits industry has wanted to be on TV or pull us off." This could be the regulatory and congressional battle of the new year.

Sam Eastman
Mtn. Lake Park

To the Editor:

What I'm writing about is not an uncommon issue in 1996. I'm talking about failure to pay child support obligations.

I am the mother of two children, ages 5 and 6. I do the best that I can to take care of them. I have worked at different jobs, depending on the time of year, so that I am able to spend the most time possible with them.

Their father has been ordered to pay support several times. Not surprisingly, he has not done so. With his being a Virginia resident, it is very hard to get results. The Bureau of Support in Virginia is a privately run agency, and it has been very difficult to get any cooperation from them.

Almost six weeks ago I finally got him into court! He stated in court he was employed, and was capable of paying. He was placed on unsupervised probation and was ordered to make arrangements to pay.

Immediately following court, a wage withholding was turned in to his employer. Not coming as a surprise, I have learned that he has not been working since September (he lied in court). He spoke with the director of personnel at this company and stated that he would return to work on Monday following Thanksgiving. This company has not seen or heard from him since, so he no longer is employed by them. Once again, we are back to square 1, with him trying to hide and claim he is unemployed. He is actually running a cleaning service called "Sparkle" out of his home.

I was very pleased when the judge ordered him to make arrangements to pay. In my heart I knew he would not do so. I held a small glimmer of hope that he would pay, because who in his right state of mind would want to disobey a court order and go to jail? However, why should negligent parents be given chance after chance to pay, when they clearly have no intentions of doing so?

The Bureau of Support in Oakland does try to get my money for these kids. They are so busy it takes time to get results. I do appreciate the efforts they have made in my case. However, something needs to be done with these deadbeats.

It takes every nickel to raise kids today. Every dime I earn goes to pay rent, car insurance, clothing for the kids, and personal expenses. We do receive food stamps, and I am extremely grateful for this. It takes money to hire an attorney, and I can not afford one. So, I guess I must wait to see what will happen.

I'll be the first to admit that I am not perfect. I have made mistakes, a lot of them pretty dumb. But, I never ignore the responsibility I have to my kids.

Granted, Virginia is a far distance from Oakland. These kids would be tickled to receive a letter, card, birthday gift, or anything from their father. My 6-year-old can read and write, and my 5-year-old is learning. They would enjoy writing and getting mail from him. The reply they would send would be simple, but they would enjoy it.

It takes a special man to be a dad; anyone can be a sperm donor.

Once again, if these deadbeats are clearly not going to pay, they should be put away. Why should a negligent father enjoy his life to the fullest, when his children are denied his support?

Any suggestions in this matter would be appreciated, as I'm sure I'm not the only mother in this situation.

Anita Fike

Also shown are William Crawford, second from the left, and Eric Sanders, far right, members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club, sponsors of the event. The parade is followed by an evening of fun and games at the fire hall. Also shown is a cake Nicholas won during the social.

A third accident occurred on Dec. 9 at 6:15 a.m. According to the report, Mamie C. Reckart, 48, Oakland, was operating a 1983 Ford eastbound on Rt. 39 when the car slid on snow, spun around twice, and came to rest on top of a guardrail. The rescue squad and fire department responded to the wreck, according to the report, and Reckart was transported to the hospital and treated for minor injuries.

Icy Roads Are Cause Of Three Car Accidents

Three car wrecks were investigated this week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office and icy road conditions were blamed for all three mishaps, according to the report. In all, four individuals were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital where they were treated and released.

A Terra Alta, W.Va., woman wrecked on Dec. 5, according to the report. Rheba D. Friend, 46, was operating a 1993 Chevrolet Beretta westbound on Rt. 39 near Old Crellin Road when the vehicle slid off the roadway and hit a culvert. The Southern Rescue Squad and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department responded to the accident.

Friend was transported to the hospital by the rescue squad after the 9 p.m. accident.

Two Oakland men sustained slight injuries following a Dec. 6, 6 a.m., car wreck on Oakland-Sang Run Road. According to the sheriff's office report, Larry W. Cooper, 54, was driving a 1982 AMC station wagon northbound on the roadway when the car began to skid on snow. It apparently went into a 360° turn and hit a southbound 1979 Chevrolet truck being driven by Robert H. Sines,

Antiques

Sometimes a collectible is wanted for its looks or use, and sometimes it is wanted for its "sizzle." It is fun and even ego-building to know you own a bracelet that belonged to Judy Garland, a lock of Babe Ruth's hair or a dish once used in the White House.

Many collectors want old Western badges, and many collect relics from famous Western desperadoes.

Ski buffs who vacation today in historic Telluride, Colo., search for pictures and mementos of the town's early days. Only one can own the badge used by Ben Hastings, who was the Telluride marshal the year Butch Cassidy robbed his first bank. The marshal's badge is now for sale at an appropriate high price — in the thousands of dollars — at a Sedona, Ariz., shop.

Q. What is moriage? I just bought a vase that the dealer said was moriage (I got the spelling from her). It is heavy pottery decorated with raised beaded designs of dragons.

A. Moriage ware is a type of Japanese pottery or porcelain with a raised decoration. Water is added to some clay, making it a thin mixture about the consistency of cream or toothpaste, called "slip." Designs are applied to a vase, much like someone might squeeze toothpaste from a tube.

The raised designs are often colored or touched with gold.

The word "moriage" means "squeezed."

Moriage was very popular in the 1860s and is still being made.

Q. I just bought an old folding bed. When closed, it looks like a hutch. There's a beveled mirror on top and "handles" where the drawers would be. Is it rare?

A. Folding beds were the rage in the 1870s. Many American furniture companies made them. Some notable companies include The Hale & Kilburn Co. of Philadelphia, which made the Champion automatic folding bedstead, and A.H. Andrews & Co. of Chicago, which made Squires brand beds. M. Samuels & Co. of New York also made several versions of folding beds.

An elaborately decorated, solid walnut bed cost as much as $170 back then. Today it's worth about $500.

AN AMERICAN HERO

PETER MARSHALL

He left his mark on America because of the things he said as Chaplain of the United States Senate in the late 1940s. But Peter Marshall would not have had a thing to say had he not been willing to listen.

Peter Marshall was not born an American. He was a native of Scotland, who grew up poor. His father had died when Peter was 4, and the family barely got by.

One summer he worked in the village of Bamburg, England, in the Northumberland countryside. The area is known for its limestone mines, fields of wheat and barley, pastures and open moorland where sheep graze.

While walking from a nearby village to Bamburg one night, he decided to take a shortcut across the moor. His only concern was that the path would take him near the deep pit of an abandoned limestone quarry.

The night was totally dark. It was eerily quiet as he pushed through the moor with a confidence only the young know.

Suddenly, he heard a voice call his name. He stopped and said, "Who's there?"

There was no response. Peter decided to get out of there in a hurry, and ran deeper into the darkness. Once again the voice called out, this time with an urgency that stopped Marshall dead in his tracks: "PETER!"

Marshall stopped so abruptly he fell face forward. In the complete silence, before he stood up, he groped about him. His hands felt what his eyes could not see: he was on a ledge jutting out into the abyss of the limestone quarry. Had he moved in any direction but back the way he came, he would have plunged into the pit to certain death.

He was certain the voice saved him so he could spend the rest of his live serving others. He emigrated to the United States and became a Presbyterian minister. His career included acting as Chaplain to the U.S. Senate — all because he listened.

Home Tips

NOTHING FISHY HERE! — When cooking shrimp, lobster or other seafood, I have found that the remaining liquid when frozen makes an excellent base for fish chowder or other soup.

If the liquid is too diluted, it can be cooked down before freezing. This concentrates the flavor and reduces the volume, thus saving freezer space. Leslie W., Wallingford, Conn.

PIN IT UP — Save old earrings for pierced ears or buy really cheap ones at garage sales. Use them as decorative thumbtacks for bulletin boards or cork boards.

Also, you can use earrings that have missing backs. Jill T., Worcester, Mass.

ICE PACK — We take three-day car trips twice a year and take along a 16-quart insulated chest. The ice containers do not last more than one full day. So now we freeze a 2-liter plastic bottle with water, 90 percent full, and after three days, it still has 25 percent ice in it. Hilda F., Lexington, S.C.

EMERY EXTENDER — While filing my nails this morning with a much-used emery board, I decided to trim off the worn sides with a pair of old scissors. Voila! I had a brand new emery board. Grace P., Louisville, Ky.

NHS CLASS OF '96 DONATES TO LIBRARY - Members of the 1996 graduating class from Northern High School recently donated a set of World Book Encyclopedias, valued at $670, to Northern's library in memory of deceased classmates Tim Durst and Roger "Bo" Durst. The class still had money in its treasury after graduation, according to a spokesperson, and members decided to remember their classmates by donating the books in their names. Pictured above, from left to right, are Jackie DeWitt, vice president; Lori Glotfelty, treasurer; Amy Wagner, secretary; Julie Brenneman, NHS media specialist; and Cindy Frantz, president.

Rice Named To Who's Who

Brett Rice, son of Jay and Diane Rice, Oakland, was among 22 Bluefield (Va.) College students who were recently named "outstanding national leaders" in the 1997 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual Who's Who directory select recipients of the annual honor based on the students' academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities, and potential continued success.

The 22 Bluefield College students join a group of students selected from more than 1,900 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign countries who have been honored in the annual director since it was first published in 1934.

PUT SOME LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT

Never, never take ANY medicine in the dark! Always turn on a light so you can see what you're doing and check to make sure that you're taking the right medication. A lot of medicine bottles are similar in design and can be easily interchanged with one another if you're not paying attention to what you're doing.

It never makes sense to take unnecessary chances and avoidable risks. In fact, it's downright foolish! Today's drugs are potent compounds, and accidentally taking the wrong one can lead to serious - and perhaps fatal - consequences. You can't be too careful when it comes to using medicines, and we hope you will exercise the necessary precautions.

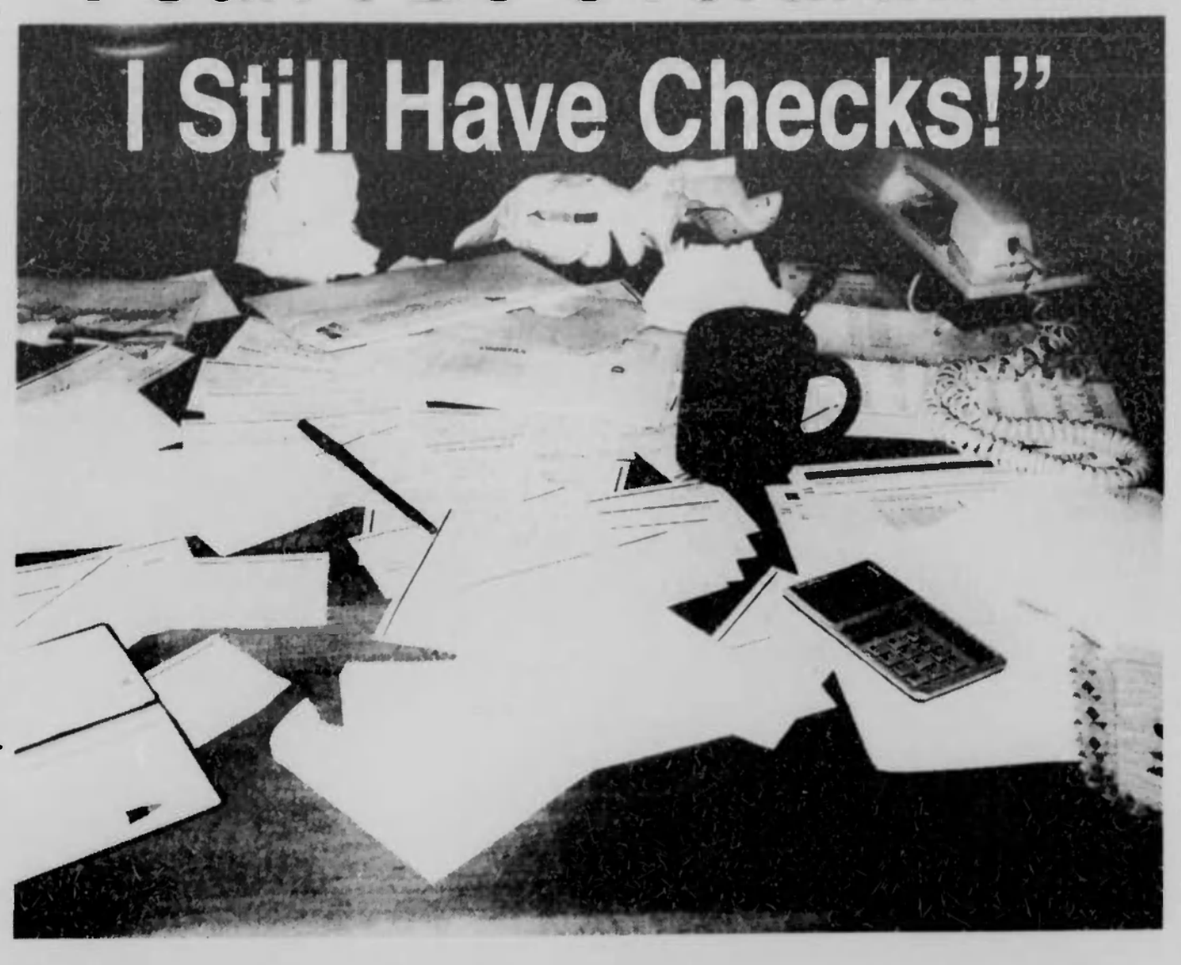
"I Can't Be Overdrawn...



Illogical logic is evident in this whimsical phrase that appeared on some playful lapel pins in a nearby novelty shop. Yet many among us try unsuccessively to live this way, continuing to attempt to draw upon a Source we do not possess, only to find that time after time our souls are spent. How can we enrich our lives?

We must invest in God as our Source. In 2 Corinthians 9:8 we are promised, "And God is able to provide you with every blessing in abundance, so that you may always have enough of everything and may provide in abundance for every good work."

If we have faith in God's Word and draw upon it daily to meet each challenge, God will redeem us...our soul secure, covered by the Source from which all blessings flow. Worship God each Sabbath and invest in His promises. Your dividends will increase with interest.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

NOTE: TO ALL SHEPHERDS
December 15, 1996

Background Scripture:
Luke 2:1-20
Devotional Reading:
Micah 5:2-9

Many years ago, when I was working in a suburban New York church, I was asked to take part in an ecumenical Easter dawn pageant held at a large shopping center just off the Bronx river Parkway

At 5:15 a.m. I was zipping down the parkway. But, within moments, the flashing red lights of a police car ordered me to pull over. As the officer got out of his car and walked toward me, I began to be nervous, for I was in the costume of an angel–complete with wings and halo! When he looked in the window, I thought his eyes were going to pop out of his head.

He regained his composure to ask, "Do you have any idea how fast you were going?" I told him I didn't, but I really had to hurry because "I've got to get to the resurrection on time." As he stared at me, his face clouded over and he blurted out: "Go! Just go!" And I did.

Angels sometimes appear in the most unlikely places. Like the fields outside Bethlehem where shepherds kept "watch over their flock by night." Angels–in a field? In unimportant little Bethlehem? They should have showed up in Jerusalem–at the temple or the house of the high priest.

NO PLACE FOR ANGELS

But God chose the humblest of beginnings for the birth of Jesus. Two commoners from a backwater town. Mary was with child, says Luke. Some of the locals might have observed that she was just another pregnant single girl giving birth to another welfare baby! Nothing very important could possible come from a baby born in a manger.

And then look who gets the engraved invitation–common shepherds, one of the most humble vocations. Nevertheless, "an angel of the Lord appeared to them and the glory of the Lord shone around them." Now why would God squander his glory on people like them? They knew nothing; they were nothing; they would never be anything. Just shepherds, common people who would not be turned off by a child lying in a manger.

How do they respond to this angelic visitation? " ..and they were filled with fear" (2:9). Zechariah had been troubled by Gabriel's appearance. Mary had been troubled by his words. So it is not surprising that these simple shepherds should have been filled with fear. But the angel reassures them: "Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news..." (2:10). Once again the angel emphasizes that the message is "good news"– "for to you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior who is Christ the Lord."

"And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling cloths and lying in a manger" (2:12). It was not by chance that the Christ would be born in the most common of circumstances. That was the sign: God with us, even among the most lowly and humble.

GOING WITH HASTE

The angels did not make a mistake in appearing among shepherds on a hillside instead of the temple of Jerusalem. Humble as they were, these men knew what to do when they heard angels sing: "Let us go over to Bethlehem and see this thing that has happened" (2:15). "And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph and the babe lying in a manger." (Do you know what to do when you hear an angel singing?")

That wasn't the end of it "And when they saw it they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them" (2:17). They didn't have to be scholars or orators; all they needed to do was to seek the Christ child and share what they found with others.

That's where we fit in the picture. In Advent we, like the shepherds, keep watch in the midst of our busy lives. Waiting to hear the good news that the angels brought to the shepherds so that we, too, may go over to Bethlehem to see this thing and then to make known what we have found there.

COVER STORY

Ben Tyler tells tale of racism, courage

By Roberta C. Nelson
©TVData Features Syndicate

James Woods

The Summer of Ben Tyler, airing Sunday, Dec. 15, on CBS, is a story of the not-so-old South, where a white lawyer in a small town stands up to his neighbors' racism and bigotry.

In doing so, he jeopardizes his livelihood and perhaps his family's safety.

But while the echo of the mockingbird's song is clearly heard, Ben Tyler's Temple Rayburn is not Atticus Finch.

"I guess anyone who writes about Southern small-town life, as I do, lives under the shadow of Harper Lee (To Kill a Mockingbird)," says Robert Inman, screenwriter of Ben Tyler. "But there are marked differences between Atticus and Temple."

"They are both men of great integrity, but Temple seems infinitely more human to me. Atticus was godlike, a fount of all wisdom, never had any self-doubts, always did exactly the right thing, always had exactly the right motives," he says.

Temple (James Woods), however, needs a little gentle pushing.

When the Rayburns' housekeeper dies, Temple gets that nudge from his wife, Celia (Elizabeth McGovern).

Celia had promised the housekeeper that she would look after Ben (Charles Mattocks), the woman's mentally challenged son. Celia intends to have Ben move into the Rayburn home, but Temple is reluctant. In 1942, in a small Southern town, the community will surely react.

Inman, a Southerner who covered the civil rights movement as a young reporter, recalls when Southern towns were dominated by a white power structure intent on enforcing segregation.

"But, invariably, there was somebody in the town who was considered a little odd on the race issue. They might not get their way, but they were a gentle reminder that things are not right, and need to be set right, and we need to do the right thing."

In Ben Tyler, Celia is that person. She convinces Temple that Ben should live with them and their young daughter, Nell (Julia McIlvaine).

"I suppose Temple would have shipped him off to the state institution," Inman says. "But he learns from other people. He learns from his wife."

Later, Temple has a chance to learn from Ben. One of Temple's clients, the irresponsible son (Kevin Isola) of the town patriarch (Len Cariou), is accused of a hit-and-run accident. Temple uncovers evidence that the young man is guilty, and weighs the costs of revealing the truth.

When Temple looks to Ben for the answer, Ben reminds Temple that Celia married him because he always knows the right thing to do.

Ben Tyler, a Hallmark Hall of Fame special, was inspired by a story Inman read in the newspaper about six years ago. In the late 1930s or early 1940s, a white family in a small North Carolina town took in a mentally challenged black teenager. As the years passed, the parents became infirm and were cared for by the man, who still resides in their home with the couple's daughter.

"I wondered, 'What if?,' " Inman says. "What if there had been a community reaction?"

Michael T. Weiss

Q: I love the new series The Pretender. Michael T. Weiss is a great actor. What other work did he do before this show? –Geneva Tucker, Tyler, Texas.

A: A native of Chicago, Weiss has been acting since he was a child. Shortly after earning a degree from the University of Southern California's school of drama, he landed his first big role, playing Dr. Mike Horton on the soap Days of Our Lives.

He left the soap in 1990, then co-starred in the ill-fated NBC remake of Dark Shadows, in which he had a dual role. He also co-starred with Drew Barrymore and Jennifer Beals in 2000 Malibu Road.

Weiss earned rave reviews as an HIV-positive gay man in love with the title character in the film version of Paul Rudnick's hit comedy Jeffrey, and recently starred in Freeway with Reese Witherspoon and Kiefer Sutherland.

A passionate environmentalist, Weiss sits on the board of the Earth Communications Office. He is also a playwright and recently completed a piece called Streams of Consciousness.

Q: Recently you identified the manor house used in A&E's Pride and Prejudice as being on the Cheshire-Derbyshire border in southwest England.

As a Yorkshire woman, I must point out that you should have said northwest England. –D.P. Armstrong, Vienna, Va.

A: Thanks for setting the record straight.

Q: Why did Grace Under Fire cast a new actor as Quentin? Why didn't the producers at least get one who was the same age as the other one? –Chris Ciske, Neenah, Wis.

Q: Is the actress playing Nadine in Grace Under Fire really pregnant? –D.A., Easton, Pa.

A: Carsey-Werner publicist Diane Shaw says Jon Paul Steuer, 12, decided to leave the show to pursue other offers. Of the several young actors who read for the part, producers thought 15-year-old Sam Horrigan was the best.

By the way, Steuer was the second Quentin. Noah Segan played the role in the pilot episode.

No, actress Julie White is not pregnant.

Q: Was Nancy McKeon ever a regular on Empty Nest? If not, who was? –E.K., Grand Blanc, Mich.

A: That was Kristy McNichol as policewoman Barbara Weston during the sitcom's first four seasons. The other female regulars were Dinah Manoff (Carol), Park Overall (LaVerne) and Lisa Rieffel (Emily).

New year ushers in changes to P&G series

By Candace Havens

Felicia Minei Behr

In preparation for the new year, there are big changes on the Procter & Gamble Co. soaps Guiding Light, As the World Turns and Another World.

Two GL favorites are returning to the show on Wednesday, Dec. 25. Fiona Hutchison, who played Jenna Bradshaw from 1992-94, is back. Jenna had been romantically involved with Buzz Cooper (Justin Deas) and returns to Springfield with a surprise for him.

For now, Jordan Clarke, who has played Billy off and on since 1985, is scheduled to appear only on the Dec. 25 episode. But the door will be left open for the actor's return. In the story, the Lewis family and friends receive mysterious invitations to a party. They are overjoyed to discover the identity of their host, Billy.

GL also has a new executive producer, Paul Rauch, who replaces Michael Laibson.

"I feel particularly challenged to become involved with a series that has one of the most talented, exciting casts in daytime," Rauch says. "All the raw material is there. I intend to revitalize GL. ... we're going to have an even more compelling show."

Rauch previously was executive producer for One Life to Live and Another World.

P&G also has announced that Felicia Minei Behr will replace John Valente as executive producer of AW.

Behr has been involved in daytime for more than 25 years. She was a part of the team that launched All My Children in 1970. In 1989, she was the first person with a daytime series to hold the title of executive producer.

"I'm excited about joining a serial that holds such a solid place in daytime history," Behr says. "It's a part of American life."

Fan favorite Amanda Cory is back on AW. The character will be played by Laura Moss, a newcomer to the daytime scene. In the story, Amanda will challenge those around her in order to bring her family back together.

Kevin McClatchy, who played Nick Hudson on AW, is leaving the role. The show wants to take the character in a different direction, and McClatchy will be replaced.

HOME ECONOMICS
Guide to Better Living

SURVIVING THE HOLIDAYS WITHOUT A FINANCIAL HANGOVER

The holiday season is a time of parties and friends. Unfortunately, for many people this results in overspending and credit card debt that can cause severe headaches and budget problems as the bills begin to tumble in next January. The Cooperative Extension Service offers the following suggestions to help you avoid the hangover while still enjoying the holidays.

It's the thought and not the cost that counts - Too often we try to express our feelings by the cost or amount of the gifts we give, rather than recognizing that the thought behind the gift is the really important consideration. Rather than spending a lot of money on each gift, take a little extra time to try to make each gift personal and special to the person to whom you are giving it.

Plan ahead - Ideally the process of saving money and seeking low-cost bargains should start early in the year, but it is not too late to start now. Before you go shopping, determine how much you can afford to spend for the holidays, list people you need to get gifts for, and then determine what your budget for each person needs to be. It's a tough task, but you will be thankful that you did it come next January.

Keep track of your purchases - It is all too easy to get caught up in the excitement and frenzy of holiday shopping. Impulse shopping can result in some large bills that you did not realize you were making.

Use your credit cards wisely - Learn the interest rate of each of your credit cards and use the lowest ones. Use only one or two cards to keep temptation down and make it easier to keep track of your expenditures. Pay off your credit charges as soon as you can to reduce interest charges.

Be a smart shopper - Take advantage of seasonal sales, trips to outlet stores and flea markets to purchase inexpensive gifts. Be cautious of options such as deferred payment plans that encourage you to purchase more, and often increase interest costs.

Personalize your gifts - Consider making some of your own gifts. Homemade cakes, or spices in attractively packaged jars are always appreciated. Perhaps you have a special broach or pin that you could pass on to a family member who will cherish it. An offer to provide a service such as painting a room or baby sitting is also appropriate. The possibilities are endless.

The Cooperative Extension Service hopes that these tips help you to have happy holidays without the usual financial hangover. For more information on managing credit and reducing debts, contact the Garrett County Extension Service at 202 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550, (301) 334-1990. The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service's programs are open to all citizens without regard to race, color, sex, disability, religion, age or national origin.

Governor Announces Health Plan For Children, Pregnant Women

Maryland Governor Parris N. Glendening announced at a news conference last week that he will establish Thriving By Three, a program that he says will assure that more young children and pregnant women in Maryland have access to primary and preventive health care services. The program will be included in his fiscal year 1998 budget.

"Unfortunately, too many children and pregnant women in Maryland lack health insurance coverage," said Governor Glendening. "Working parents without health insurance often have to make terrible choices between basic needs -- like housing, food, and utilities -- and health care for their children. As a father, my heart goes out to other fathers and mothers whose struggle is so difficult. That's why I'm so pleased to announce this program."

Thriving By Three will cover pregnant women and children through 3 years old whose family income is between 185 percent and 250 percent of the Federal poverty level. The women and children will receive basic primary and prenatal care, screenings, lab and x-ray services, prescriptions, nutrition counseling, and other health care services.

About 4,230 children and 1,020 pregnant women are expected to participate in Thriving By Three during the first year, at a cost of $5.6 million. "We all know that relatively inexpensive basic health care can address small medical problems before they become complex, expensive medical problems," added Glendening. "What a good investment to protect our children and give their parents peace of mind."

The Governor was joined by Dr. Georges Benjamin, deputy secretary of the Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. "For too many years, the uninsured children of this state have been forced to receive their care in hospital emergency departments. Often, parents take their kids to the ER when things have gotten to the desperate stage. This is no way to run a health care system -- and it's certainly no way to take care of our children. It's too fragmented and too expensive. Thriving By Three is the right program, at the right time, for the right people," said Dr. Benjamin.

Dr. George Dover, chief of pediatrics at Johns Hopkins Hospital, and Jann Jackson, executive director of Advocates for Children and Youth, also spoke in support of the new program. "The medical community wants to join the Governor. We want to see the health care of our children and of our pregnant mothers moved out of our emergency department. We are looking for a healthier Maryland and this is an initiative that I call a 'no-brainer,' one that anyone can support. This makes so much sense from every aspect of health that we know about, but it also makes sense from a financial standpoint."

Essex Health Center client JoAnn Parson attended the news conference with her two small children, while her husband, Eddie, was at work. "This will really help," she said, as Governor Glendening held her 15-month child. "Just in the last week, I've spent almost $300 on doctor's visits and medicine for two children. That would have bought a lot of groceries."

Governor Glendening's new initiative comes at a time when studies by the Lewin Group and Harvard School of Public Health reveal that many working families are losing their health care coverage. Nationally, employer-sponsored coverage dropped from 77.7% of workers in 1990 to 73.9% in 1995. The number of uninsured is expected to increase from 39.6 million in 1995 to 45.6 million in 2002.

Families of workers are those most likely to lose their health insurance as employers increase the amount that workers have to pay to maintain family coverage. In 1988, about 40% of full-time workers had fullypaid health insurance. By 1994, only 31% of full-time workers had fully paid health coverage.

Smaller employers have increased their efforts to outsource their work or use part-time and temporary workers who do not receive health benefits. The Harvard study exploded the myth that uninsured workers can get free or discounted medical care. More people were reported to bill collectors than received free care in the year prior to the study. The two studies were supported by the American Hospital Association and the Kaiser Family Foundation.

Governor Glendening plans to begin the program in July 1998.

FIRST UNITED BANK & TRUST recently donated a computer to County United Way. "We are proud to do what we can to help an organization that works so hard to improve the quality of life for so many of our neighbors," said Rick Thayer, first vice president of First United, who is shown above with Linda Beachy of County United Way, as she puts the new computer to use.

DNR Initiates Deer Planning; Meetings Slated

Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John R. Griffin has announced that the department, in conjunction with the Wildlife Advisory Committee, has initiated a citizen participation process to develop a statewide deer management plan. "Whitetailed deer are one of the most popular native wildlife species inhabiting the state. DNR, in exercising the responsibility for the management of this invaluable resource, wants all concerned to be involved in development of a comprehensive plan," Griffin said.

Deer populations in Maryland were small and scattered by the turn of the 20th century, primarily as a result of habitat loss because of extensive forest clearing and unregulated market hunting. In the early 1900s, deer were so scarce that sightings were often reported in local newspapers. Passage of the Federal Aid in Wildlife Restoration Act (better known as the Pittman-Robertson Program) in 1937 marked the beginning of modern-day wildlife management in Maryland. This act earmarked income from an already existing tax on sporting arms and ammunition for use in wildlife development, research and land acquisition.

Early deer management efforts featured protection from unregulated exploitation. Today, efforts are directed toward the maintenance of deer populations at levels intended to: (1) ensure the present and future well-being of the species and its habitat, (2) provide opportunities for people to enjoy this valuable resource, whether hunters or non-hunters, and (3) allow for compatibility between deer populations and human land-use practices, as well as with other plant and ani-mal communities.

"Maryland's diverse landscape provides excellent habitat for this adaptable wildlife species," Griffin said. White-tailed deer are prolific animals and have the potential to double their population numbers every one to two years. The state's deer herd has increased dramatically during the past ten years with the present population estimated to be in excess of 300,000 animals.

Considerable confusion and controversy exists concerning the management of this high profile wildlife species. High deer populations are causing considerable problems in Maryland's suburban environments where deer/vehicle collisions are on the rise in addition to landscape damage caused by deer browsing on expensive ornamental plants, the secretary said, noting that in some parts of the state, deer damage to agricultural crops has become a significant economic issue for farmers.

Griffin encourages public participation in the deer planning process, and has scheduled the following meeting for the western Maryland area: Cumberland, January 7, Fort Hill High School, 7 p.m.

For additional information, persons may contact the DNR Wildlife and Heritage Division at (410) 974-3195.

Christmas Play Planned At Pine Grove Church

The Pine Grove Church of the Brethren, located on Oakland Sang Run Road at Swallow Falls, will present the Christmas play "The Unexpected Guest" on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 7 p.m.

"The play presents a humorous look at the type of members found in far too many of our churches today," said Pastor Owen H. Preston. "It is important to remember that most church members are basically good Christian people, but people who have fallen prey to the commercialism, and the hustle and bustle that surrounds this holiday season."

Several youths will have recitations, and a group of ladies will be singing a rendition of "The First Noel Musical."

Santa will visit and tell the story of "The Candy Cane," and give a cane to each one present.

Rev. Preston and the church's congregation invite the public to attend.

FSU To Offer MS Degree In Humanities

The Modern Humanities Institute of Frostburg State University is currently accepting applications for its 1997 summer session. The institute will offer a program leading to the degree of Master of Arts in Modern Humanities.

This summer-only, interdisciplinary program focuses on the 20th century and encompasses literature, history and philosophy. The topical focus of the program is on the ethical and moral issues examined from these three perspectives.

A spokesperson for FSU said this program has proved to have broad appeal, which is seen in the diversity of participants. The age of students has ranged from 21 to 60, and student professions have included educators, librarians, ministers, engineers, and homemakers.

Dr. Keith Schlegel is scheduled as instructor for the summer 1997 program. Candidates wishing to apply for the Modern Humanities program have been asked to do so as soon as possible by contacting Dr. Nicholas Clulee, Director, Modern Humanities Institute, FSU, Frostburg, MD 21532, or by calling 301-687-4428 or 301-687-7769.

November Sales Tax Receipts Up

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says revenue grew 8% in November 1996 over the same month of the prior year, the fastest monthly growth rate since April 1996.

"November sales and use tax receipts totaled $172.4 million," Goldstein said. "The growth appears to continue to be focused in both construction and consumer sectors, reflecting the growth in consumer confidence since last spring."

Goldstein noted that the continued growth in sales tax revenue will be reflected in new revenue estimates presented to Governor Glendening yesterday. "For the first four months of fiscal year 1997, sales and use tax revenue totals $690.5 million, a 5% growth over the $657.7 million collected for the same period of the previous year," he said.

Sales and use tax revenue are the second largest source of general fund revenue. The largest source of general fund revenue is the personal income tax.

Choose And Cut Christmas Tree Lists Available

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley wants all Marylanders to know that there are numerous Christmas tree farms throughout Maryland where families can go and cut down their own live Christmas tree. A directory of Choose and Cut farms may be obtained from The Maryland Christmas Tree Association by calling 1-800-935-MCTA. In addition, anyone who has access to the internet can locate the Christmas tree Choose and Cut farms in their county by accessing the home page of the Maryland Christmas Tree Association at <http://www.mda.state.md.us/org/mcta.htm>. The home page contains a click able map which brings viewers right to the Choose and Cut farms in their area.

"Taking the family out to cut a live Christmas tree is a wonderful outing and is becoming more and more popular each year. In addition to being fun, the tree is fresh, the choices are large and the prices excellent," Riley said.

Besides the 50 or so Choose and Cut farms there are approximately 100 more Christmas tree growers in Maryland who offer a wide variety of trees to customers.

"Maryland Governor Parris N. Glendening has declared December 'Maryland Real Christmas Tree Month' and we both urge families to establish a tradition of selecting a Maryland Christmas tree right off the farm to celebrate the holidays," said Riley.

As part of "Maryland Real Christmas Tree Month," George and Ellen Locke of Pleasant Hill Tree Farm in Monkton have donated a 12-foot Douglas Fir on behalf of the Maryland Christmas Tree Association for this year's Government House Christmas Display in Annapolis.

"Those in attendance will share the joys and trials of a Christian family trying to make sense of the Christmas season when worldwide war appears just around the corner," the spokesman said. DEEP CREEK LIONESSES DONATE TO ROTARY PROJECT - The Deep Creek Lionesses recently "adopted" the Rotary Club Giving Tree at Red Run Lodge, which held the wishes of 34 children. The gifts have already been purchased and wrapped by the Lioness Club. The Giving Trees are located throughout Garrett County and persons may still participate in the Rotary Christmas Project by either taking care of a wish from one of the trees or by sending a monetary donation to The Oakland Rotary Christmas Project, P.O. Box 741, Oakland, MD 21550. In addition to the fulfillment of the Red Run Giving Tree, the Lioness Club also made a monetary donation toward the project which will be used to purchase food for local needy families. Pictured left to right are Jane Frawley, Lioness president; Kathy Zimmerman, Rotary president; David Bolinger, Rotary project chairperson; Goldie Shugars, chairperson for the Lioness Christmas Charity; and Kathy Gibson, owner of Red Run.

Oakland Man Found Guilty Of Battery Charge

An Oakland man pleaded guilty in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings to one count of battery and was sentenced by visiting Allegany District Court Judge W. Timothy Finan.

Timothy A. Welch, 31, was sentenced by Judge Finan to serve six months in the Garrett County Jail, and was given 161 days credit for time served since June 26. Additional charges of battery and malicious destruction of property were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

According to the charging statement, Welch was arrested on the above offenses on May 17 after Garrett County sheriff's deputies responded to a residence in Loch Lynn for a reported assault. They were told by the victim, Brenda S. Broadwater, that Welch (her ex-husband) had arrived there, intoxicated, and was upset over tire tracks in the yard. He apparently kicked and broke a deck railing, struck Ms. Broadwater on the head, and hit their son in the ribs during the incident.

In other district court news, an Oakland man found guilty in Augnst of two fourth degree sexual offense charges was sentenced during last week's district court proceedings.

David G. Albert, 46, was sentenced to serve two concurrent six-month jail terms for the combined offenses, but all of that sentence was suspended except for one month. He was also placed on one year of supervised probation, and work release was recommended.

Albert's conviction resulted from incidents that occurred between July 15 and Aug. 15, 1995, when he sexually assaulted two juvenile girls, ages 10 and 11, who were in his care.

Brent A. Yoder, 26, and Everett W. Morgan, 37, both of Accident, were not prosecuted on one count each of battery. The charges were filed against the men by Benny J. Wilt, Grantsville, after a March 31 altercation at McGreevy's Bar and Grill in Accident.

In a related case, Steven G. Savage, 36, Friendsville, was also not prosecuted on a charge of battery after the same incident. Another battery charge earned him a not guilty verdict. The complainants in the case against Savage were Kenneth G. Wiley, Grantsville, and the Maryland State Police. The charges stemmed from the same altercation at McGreevy's Bar and Grill.

Joseph L. Kroll, 54, Mt. Savage, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty of one count each of battery and trespassing. The charges against him were filed on July 15 after Kroll was involved in a dispute with Thomas Schroyer for money he claimed Schroyer owed him for services rendered.

In a cross complaint, filed by Kroll, Schroyer, 56, Grantsville, was also handed a not guilty verdict for one count of battery after the same incident.

Gordon M. King, 26, Washington, D.C., was not prosecuted in last week's district court proceedings of giving a false statement to a police officer. An additional charge of obstructing/hindering, also filed against King, was placed on the stet docket.

The charges against the defendant stemmed from a July 24, 1994, incident at the Harbor Bar, Deep Creek Lake, and his involvement in an attack on a patron at that establishment.

DWI CASES

Several DWI (driving while intoxicated) and DUI (driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) cases were heard in recent district court proceedings.

Carlon David Doerr, 30, Md., pleaded guilty to one count of DUI. He was fined $250, sentenced to serve 48 hours of a 30-day jail term, and placed on one year of supervised probation for the offense. Conditions of his probation state he must complete 40 hours of community service by Jan. 15, 1997, attend and successfully complete a 26-week alcohol treatment program with his local health department, and attend addictions counseling. A one-year alcohol restriction was also placed on his driver's license.

Robert Lee Hogdson, 29, W.Va., failed to appear in court for his DWI hearing. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Rick Harold Mintick, 36, Md., was convicted on a DUI charge. He was fined $250, handed a 30-day suspended sentence, and placed on 18 months of supervised probation.

David Wayne Tasker, 26, W.Va., failed to appear in court for his DWI hearing. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Robert Ervin McRobie, 40, Md., was granted probation before judgment after pleading guilty to DUI. He was fined a total of $325 and placed on 18 months of supervised probation for the offense.

Shoppers Save Money And Help Others At Highland Thrift Shop

Santaman

Many people enjoy shopping. Some even pursue it as a sport or hobby. A select few have raised it to an art form. None of us should need to look too far afield to find, among our acquaintances, someone who fits one of these descriptions.

From among these recreational shoppers, professionals and amateurs alike, however, we may be hard pressed to find even a few who equally enjoy forking over the cash after making the selection. High prices often take the joy out of the art of shopping. There may even be feelings of guilt over money spent that could well have been used for a better purpose.

Attention, shoppers! There is a way to keep that desire to acquire activated and finely honed. There is a way to get lots of stuff and not spend much money.

Yes, gentle readers, there is a way to replenish the coming season's wardrobe for about the cost of a large pepperoni pizza but with none of the calories.

But wait, there is more. Not only can your shopping be inexpensive, but the money that you spend can also be used for that better purpose referred to above.

If you doubt this to be possible, read on. This type of low cost, high yield, v altruistic shopping can experienced at the Highland Thrift Shop in the Casselman Ventures building on Main St. in Grantsville.

This thrift shop has been serving the community for over nine years as a non-profit group. "We started the shop in response to needs in the community. Our purpose was to meet the needs of the needy and make things available to them," explained Leona Maust, president of the board of directors for the Highland Thrift Shop.

Individuals in the county were collecting donations and storing them in their homes to be given to people as their needs were identified. A group met to discuss the possibility of opening a shop. We already had a lot of donations and other people knew of the work being done by these individuals," Maust said. "Our group was to find that the shop was more than feasible, it would be a success.

The shop is staffed by volunteers. "We have 40-50 volunteers from different church congregations," Maust said, adding, "Each volunteer works a couple of days a month. They seem to returned to the community. "We donate to organized local charities," Beulah Moon, board treasurer, explained. She went on to say, "In the first nine years of operation, the shop donated over $93,000 to charitable organizations in the area."

VALUE FOR THE DOLLAR - The Highland Thrift Shop in Grantsville provides an opportunity to shop and contribute to the community at the same time. Proceeds of all sales are donated to local charitable organizations. Pictured above, Kayla Freed and her mother Patty, of Normalville, Pa. enjoy a mother-daughter shopping trip to the thrift shop. The prices will keep mother smiling.

Listed among the many groups the thrift shop supports are the House of Hope, Habitat for Humanity, Big Brothers Big Sisters, the Grantsville Library, the Emergency Fund, Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Resource Center, the Pregnancy Crisis Center and local fire departments. And there are others.

Janet Brenneman, board member, also serves as shop manager. The donation area, located down the hall from the shop, is always crowded with items. Brenneman has the job of sorting through the merchandise and preparing it for sale.

Beulah Moon in the thrift shopping. Yes, they both agree that many more people are shopping second hand. "Some are from out of town. They may just be browsing for knickknacks. They stop in. Some have said it is the nicest thrift shop they have been in," Maust said.

On a recent Monday morning, during the first 30 minutes the shop was open, eight or nine customers came in to browse and purchase. Among the weekday shoppers was a mother and daughter from Normalville, Pa. Patty Freed and her daughter Kayla said that they have passed the shop often and not had an opportunity to stop. "We have a cabin near hear," Freed said, "but this is the first time we've been able to do some shopping here. My husband is hunting today, so we thought we would come and see what they have here." The Freeds did find some things that seemed to please them.

Also among the shoppers was a frequent visitor to Highland Thrift Shop, Cecil Schaefer from the Grantsville area. "This wreath with the goose caught my eye," he said. "I think I'll just put it up by the cash register so no one buys it while I look around."

Being a semi-regular at the shop, Schaefer is aware that the community benefits from sales. He knows of the work done by the volunteers.

One customer watched as her purchases were totaled. "I got two sweaters, a sweater vest, two turtle neck shirts, and coat with a zip-out lining. I spent $4.12. The clothes are in great shape. This is my favorite place to shop. I also bring in bags of items to donate when I make purchases," she said.

Maust is pleased to see that it is not only the very needy who frequent her shop. "I don't think that those in great need are going without because others shop here. There is always plenty of stock. Besides, many of the less needy customers donate items and we always need that," she said.

Maust also said she has found that over the years more people have felt the pinch of the economy and so appreciate being able to get some of the things they need at a very affordable price.

In June 1997 The Highland Thrift Shop will celebrate its tenth anniversary of serving the Garrett County community.

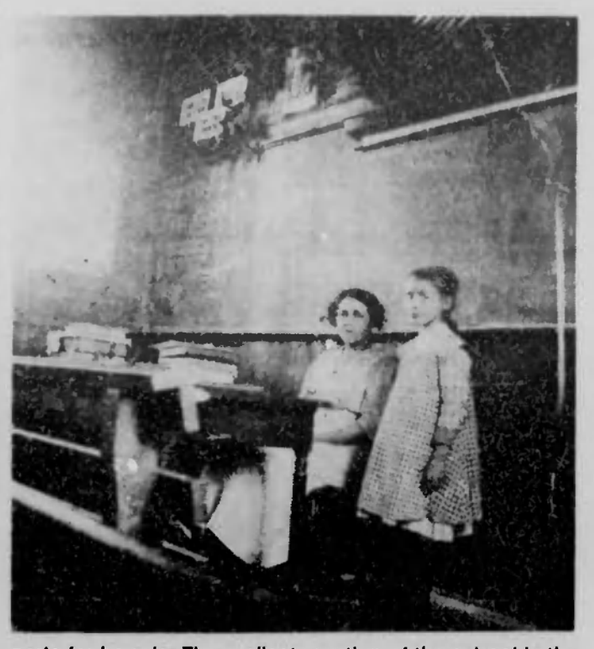
Glimpse of The Past . . .



THE SHOOK SHOP SCHOOL was located at the foot of Nay Harvey Hill near White Church Road off what is now Rt. 560 and was also known as Kearney School. The building, believed to have been erected in 1871, first served as a shook shop for the making of shooks, which are wooden parts for barrels. The earliest mention of the school in the minutes of the Garrett County School Commissioners (forerunner to the Board of Education) was Oct. 10, 1892. The last mention of the school in official school records was in 1939. This information and photos were provided by Alice Eary and Jean Grose, retired Garrett County school teachers, who have been working for some three years compiling a history of Garrett County school houses. They are most anxious to learn the identity of the teacher and student in the photo above right. Persons with such information, or any information about the Shook Shop/Kearney School, are invited to contact Mrs. Eary at 4188 Cranesville Road, Oakland, MD 21550, or telephone 387-9654. These photos were provided to Mrs. Eary and Mrs. Grose by Leona Hardesty, another retired Garrett County teacher who resides in North Carolina. Poacher Hotline Rewards Total $1,900 In 1996

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John R. Griffin reports that the Catch-A-Poacher (CAP) hotline program awarded $1,900 in 1996 to individuals who reported game and fish violations to the CAP hotline number.

Citizens calling the hotline number 1-800-635-6124 have given information that has led to the arrest and convictions of individuals throughout the state. It has resulted in thousands of dollars in fines and confiscations of equipment since the inception of the program in 1984, and since that time DNR has awarded a total of $25,000. Callers remain anonymous as the cases are developed by the Natural Resources Police (NRP).

"In one recent case a caller reported evidence of someone poaching turkey on his property. That information led the NRP to set up surveillance of the area that resulted in the arrest of individuals with a turkey taken out of season," stated Griffin.

Cases brought under the CAP program are reviewed by a Citizen Advisory Board and awards of $50 or more are presented for each case. All award money is received from donations of individuals and interested clubs and associations who care about preserving natural resources.

"DNR needs your support to continue this important program," Griffin said. Tax deductible donations should be sent to: Maryland Department of Natural Resources, Catch-A-Poacher Program, E-3, Tawes State Office Bldg., Annapolis, MD 21401.

County Native Is MSP's First Female Lt. Col.

Colonel David B. Mitchell recently announced the promotion of a Garrett County native to the position of lieutenant colonel within the ranks of the Maryland State Police.

Major Cynthia R. Smith, who currently serves as the commander of the western region, was the first female officer in the history of the Maryland State Police to achieve the rank, according to Mitchell. A 15-year veteran of the state police, Smith also has the designation of being the state's first female commissioned officer. In her new position, she will become the chief of the Administrative Services Bureau, replacing retiring Lieutenant Colonel Charles R. Mazzone. Her promotion becomes effective Jan. 1, 1997.

In addition to Smith's advancement, Col. Mitchell also announced the promotion of seven new majors, 11 captains, 21 lieutenants, 12 first/detective sergeants, and 12 sergeants.

"The troopers receiving promotions have exhibited the commitment to service and possess the experience and expertise necessary to be leaders in the Maryland State Police," Mitchell said. "I am proud of all of them and look forward to working with them as they fulfill their new roles as commanders and supervisors."

Farm Bureau Urging Action To Bolster Farm Milk Prices

The American Farm Bureau Federation is urging Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman to take several steps to bolster farm-gate milk prices due to expected significant declines in those prices over the next three months.

AFBF President Dean Kleckner, in a letter to Glickman, said milk producers across the nation are concerned about a $4 to $5 per hundredweight drop in farm milk prices expected between now and February 1997. Despite lower milk production and increased demand for dairy products, dairy industry experts are predicting the price drop based on recent movement in the cheese market.

In addition, dairy producers also are faced with high feed costs, which have not yet reflected current lower grain and soybean prices, and low prices for the cows they sell on the cattle market.

To help support farm prices in the short term, AFBF is "strongly encouraging" Glickman to make advance purchases of dairy products for the school lunch program, as well as to use the dairy export incentive program (DEIP) and the PL-480 international food aid program "to the maximum extent allowed."

Those actions are currently authorized and funded, which means they require no new legislation and have no negative budget implications, according to the letter.

"We encourage you to move forward rapidly with these steps," Kleckner's letter stated. "These actions will positively impact producer prices, but it will take time, since (their effects) still must work through the market. The sooner you take these actions, the more rapidly the financial stress in the countryside will be reduced."

In addition to these short-term actions, AFBF expressed support for USDA's efforts to expand the availability of dairy price information. Kleckner said expanded surveys that are being developed as a pilot project "should be a useful tool as the industry is expected to move to new pricing mechanisms in the current milk order reform."

AFBF also is urging USDA to explore options for additional oversight of the National Cheese Exchange, since that market impacts the pricing of almost all the nation's milk.

"Since the National Cheese Exchange currently has a direct impact on pricing over 90 percent of the nation's milk supply, while it trades less than one percent of the nation's cheese supply, it would seem to merit oversight to assure that it operates properly," Kleckner's letter stated. "Producers deserve no less."

Congressional Ag Panels Choose Leaders

Congressional leaders in both parties recently appointed members to serve on standing committees in the 105th Congress. The new Congress will bring changes at the top for both the Republican majority and Democrat minority on the House Agriculture Committee and new faces will be seen on both sides of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

House Republican leaders appointed Rep. Bob Smith (R-Ore.) to serve as the new Agriculture Committee chairman, replacing Sen.-elect Pat Roberts (R-Kan.) who will take a seat on the Senate Agriculture Committee.

House Democrats selected Rep. Charles Stenholm (D-Texas) to serve as ranking minority member on the Agriculture Committee. Stenholm replaces former chairman and ranking member Rep. Kika de la Garza (D-Texas), who retired from the House.

Across the Hill, Republican Senate leaders voted to stay the course with Sen. Richard Lugar (R-Ind.) at the helm of the Agriculture Committee. In the new alignment, Republicans will hold 10 seats and the Democrats eight on the agriculture panel. Roberts, as the only new Republican committee member, joins veterans Lugar, Jesse Helms (N.C.), Thad Cochran (Miss.), Mitch McConnell (Ky.), Paul Coverdell (Ga.), Rick Santorum (Pa.), Chuck Grassley (Iowa), Phil Gramm (Texas) and Larry Craig (Idaho) on the majority side.

Senate Democrats moved Iowa Sen. Tom Harkin into the top spot for the minority on the Agriculture Committee. Harkin replaces former ranking member Patrick Leahy (Vt.), who will assume the top minority position on the Senate Judiciary Committee, but also will maintain a seat on the agriculture panel. Democrat Sens. Kent Conrad (N.D.), Tom Daschle (S.D.), Max Baucus (Mont.), Bob Kerrey (Neb.) and incoming Sens. Mary Landrieu (La.) and Tim Johnson (S.D.) will round out the Democrats on the committee.

Despite the changes in both committees, Congress watchers don't expect the bodies to make major changes to the 1996 farm bill. Several top congressional Democrats, however, have expressed wishes to work to secure changes to the law that would build in an income "safety net." It is not known when or if such a change would be proposed.

Richard Newpher, executive director of the American Farm Bureau Federation's Washington, D.C., office, said some changes to the overhauled farm program will likely be offered, but he said the agriculture committees will also deal with other issues traditionally outside their jurisdiction. He expects committee members to look at environmental issues like the Endangered Species Act, and Clean Water Act and the Clean Air Act, as well as private property rights, international trade and other issues.

"Obviously there will be amendments offered to the existing farm program, but I think the agriculture committees have a much broader agenda that they need to attend to," Newpher said. "I think they will get into some of the environmental issues and how they impact farmers, which is very important. I don't think there will be much sentiment for a re-write of the farm programs."

Farmers and ranchers still have a number of lawmakers they can call their own. The latest count shows three senators and 19 House members list their occupations as farmers or ranchers.

Ext. Fraternity Holds Meeting In Annapolis

About 165 Cooperative Extension Service educators associated with land-grant universities across the nation attended the annual meeting of Epsilon Sigma Phi, the national honorary fraternity for Cooperative Extension Service workers in all subject areas, both at state and county levels, this past weekend (December 5-7).

Conference sessions were held at the Annapolis Marriott Waterfront Hotel. The opening workshop featured a nationwide live, interactive videoconference uplinked from the conference site. Craig Pace, senior consultant with the Covey Leadership Center, based in Colorado, was the presenter. His topic was "Moving Forward . . . Keeping Pace With Change."

Epsilon Sigma Phi's traditional Ruby Award luncheon was held Friday. It featured an address by Henry A. Wadsworth, director of the Indiana Cooperative Extension Service, based at Purdue University. Dr. Wadsworth is this year's recipient of the Ruby Award--the highest, most prestigious national distinguished service award presented by Epsilon Sigma Phi. The Ruby is designed to recognize truly outstanding thinking, performance and leadership in the Cooperative Extension Service.

Born in Cortland, N.Y., Wadsworth holds B.S., M.S, and Ph.D. degrees in agricultural economics from Cornell University. He has served in academic and administrative positions at Cornell, Oregon State and Purdue.

Wadsworth also has held several positions of leadership with the Extension Committee on Organization and Policy, affiliated with the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. He is described as "an effective, efficient visionary who has propelled Indiana's Extension programs into high regard."

One or more National Friend of Extension award winners were recognized at Saturday evening's awards dinner. This is the highest award offered by Epsilon Sigma Phi to a non-Extension person for outstanding support and personal involvement in Extension education efforts. Louis L. Goldstein, Maryland state comptroller, received this award in 1994.

Awards for outstanding accomplishments by professional Extension educators were also made at the Saturday banquet.

Maryland's Tau chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, established in 1928, was the host organization for this year's national conference.

Reminder Given About 4-H Market Animal Ownership

Garrett County youth interested in raising, showing and selling baby beef market animals through the Garrett County 4-H or FFA programs are reminded that the animals must be purchased and eartagged by January 1, 1997. Youth not currently enrolled in either program, but interested in participating, should contact the Garrett County Extension Office immediately at 334-1990. Currently enrolled youth should contact their club leader or FFA advisor for details on identification procedures.

Youth interested in participating in the program with market lambs, market hogs, and veal calves also need to contact the Extension Office about joining 4-H. Deadline for ownership of these animals is later in the spring, but membership in 4-H is required by January 31, 1997.

To participate in the programs, youth must be eight years of age by January 1, 1997, and not over age 19 by January 1, 1997. For additional information about 4-H and the Livestock Programs, those interested may contact the Extension Office at 334-1990.

Four-State Farm Financial Management Workshops Set

Thanks in part to satellite technology, farmers and farm partners in the Mid-Atlantic area will have an opportunity to link up with Cooperative Extension Service farm management specialists in a series of six farm financial management workshops being conducted simultaneously throughout Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New York during the next three months.

The workshops are designed to help participants prepare financial statements and four-year plans in line with farm borrower requirements of the 1990 Farm Bill. A two-way satellite television portion of each workshop will feature Extension farm management specialists from Penn State University.

Wesley N. Musser, Extension farm management specialist at the University of Maryland at College Park, is the coordinator for the Maryland and Delaware workshops. Dr. Musser is a professor of agricultural and resource economics.

Workshop dates are December 11, 13 and 18, plus January 22 and February 19 and 26. Most are Wednesday dates; all will run from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. There is a charge of $190 for up to two participants from each farm or business. This cost includes refreshments, lunches and a notebook of printed materials.

Workshops will be held at Keedysville's University of Maryland's Western Maryland Research and Education Center. Interested persons may contact Dale Johnson, (301) 432-7173, or Lynn Little, (301) 791-1504.

Farm Income Tax Management Workshop

I have scheduled Dr. Wesley Musser, Farm Management Specialist, University of Maryland, to conduct a workshop on tax management on Thursday, December 19, 1996 from 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Garrett Community College, Room 306 in the Continuing Education Building.

Dr. Musser's program will provide information on management strategies to reduce taxes and the effect of tax management on profits. This workshop will give you some insight in preparing for the April 15 due date.

You may make reservations by calling my office at 301-334-1990 no later than December 16, 1996.

Is Your Corn Moisture Meter Accurate?

I would bet a $10 bill that there are not two moisture meters in Garrett County that would give you the same moisture reading on the same corn. I have seen variances up to 8% between moisture meters. If I were buying or selling corn, I would use the "old" microwave system with a good set of scales to weigh out the corn. We have checked our moisture meter several times with the microwave method and found it to be consistently 2 to 3% higher in reading moisture. That does not sound like much water until you start talking about tons of corn.

Upcoming Conference On Silage: Field To Feedbunk Scheduled

Silage is a primary component of animal agriculture in temperate climates. Silage: Field to Feedbunk, a national conference to be held in Hershey, Pa., on February 11-13, 1997, will focus on this significant agricultural issue. Thirty-five leading agricultural scientists from North America will discuss all aspects of silage production and utilization. Speakers will include agronomists, agricultural engineers, farm advisers, industry representatives, animal scientists, plant pathologists, dairy nutritionists and extension educators.

The conference will provide practical guidelines for producers and promote an integrated systems approach to silage production. Session topics are: plant and field issues to meet the challenge, harvesting a high-quality silage (including kernel processing), storage methods, additives management, mycotoxins and spoilage, quality evaluation, and feeding.

Dairy and livestock producers, consultants, industry representatives, veterinarians, extension educators, and university specialists should consider attending this important event. The conference structure will encourage interaction between participants and speakers through discussion periods after every few presentations.

A trade show and reception may be held February 11, 1997, from 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m., as part of the conference. A preconference and tour, to be announced, are also being planned.

To reserve a room, those interested may call the Hershey Lodge at (717) 533-3311, and mention that they are attending the silage conference.

Conference brochures contain a complete conference program, a registration form, directions to the conference site, and other information are available from NRAES. To order one or more free brochures, interested persons may contact NRAES, Cooperative Extension, 152 Riley-Robb Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853-5701, phone (607) 255-7654; fax (607) 254-8770; or E-mail nraes@cornell.edu.

Publications For Growers, Marketers Now Available

The following Northeast Regional Agricultural Engineering Service publications are being highlighted this month for growers and marketers.

Orders should be sent to NRAES, Cooperative Extension, 152 Riley-Robb Hall, Ithaca, NY 14853-5701. Quantity discounts are available. Checks should be made to NRAES. Credit cards are accepted. Those interested should phone (607) 255-7654, or fax (607) 254-8770.

Successful direct marketing of fresh fruits and vegetables depends on providing quality items in a clean and customer-friendly environment. Produce Handling for Direct Marketing, NRAES-51, is an invaluable guide for the grower who sells seasonal produce at local farmers' markets or roadside markets.

The 26-page publication describes produce-handling techniques that satisfy the needs dictated by postharvest physiology of produce and concerns about food safety. It includes general guidelines on field handling and market displays, with sections on iced and refrigerated displays. It also discusses the principles of refrigerated storage and the options a grower has for cold storage rooms and refrigeration equipment.

Produce Handling for Direct Marketing, NRAES-51, features specific recommendations for handling over 40 types of vegetables and fruits. Eleven tables and eight figures supplement the text, which was reviewed by extension agents and scientists from throughout the Northeast region.

Produce Handling for Direct Marketing, NRAES-51, is available for $7.00. Shipping and handling for single copies is $3.50 within the continental United States.

Selling produce from a roadside market can be satisfying and profitable, but only with careful planning. A valuable planning tool for persons considering a roadside market, or looking to improve or expand a current one, is Facilities for Roadside Markets, NRAES-52. It features plans for a roadside stand and a roadside market, along with 26 illustrations and four tables.

This 32-page publication addresses the factors that affect whether a market will succeed or fail. The first step, choosing a site, is discussed with respect to zoning and building ordinances, visibility and accessibility, utilities, and appropriate drainage.

Facilities for Roadside Markets, NRAES-52, reviews the necessary features of the sales area: it should allow for smooth customer traffic; and space should be used so that items for sale can be prepared, stocked, and stored efficiently. Other aspects of the market which can influence customers to come or to return include adequate parking, good lighting, fire protection, and an accessible building.

Facilities for Roadside Markets, NRAES-52, is available for $7.00. Shipping and handling for single copies is $3.50.

Spruce Forest School Project Becomes Learning Adventure

By Peggy Santamaria

When Spruce Forest became a classroom for some Grantsville Elementary School children recently, their studies came to life.

The private non-profit organization of artisans housed in a village of relocated historical buildings in Grantsville, Spruce Forest offered plenty of subject matter to the third grade students. It provided a three-dimensional portrait of life in an earlier period, and was the focal point of a long-term study by the children.

Using an Action Research Grant, Carol Warnick and Marlene Perkins, third grade teachers at Grantsville Elementary School, developed a creative performance task for their students. This type of active learning experience, according to Perkins, develops a wide variety of skills and brings together many subjects.

"In the third grade we study Garrett County. We started with a general overview then narrowed it to our area. We were studying how communities form. The early days of communities are exemplified by Spruce Forest," Warnick said.

Warnick and Perkins sat down together to plan a course that would use multiple skills, senses, and disciplines and take advantage of a community resource, Spruce Forest. Feeling that they were lucky to have the village near by, Perkins said, "we knew we could do something special here."

Dr. Alta Schrock, founder of Spruce Forest Village, met with the teachers and shared information and history of the buildings. Perkins and Warnick scheduled class time to discuss and study with the children many aspects of life in this area in earlier centuries, including home construction, heating systems, and transportation.

"I told my students that this year they would be scientists, and that scientists learn things by observing and asking questions," Perkins said.

The children taught each other as they learned. "We did cooperative group work to study different buildings in the village. Each group of children selected a village building to study. They learned all they could within each group and then shared the information with the other groups," Warnick explained.

Many skills were exercised as the project progressed, the teachers said. "In addition to taking notes," Perkins said, "they used reading, report writing, mapping and computer skills. They also worked on observation skills, comparing and contrasting, and critical thinking." The students compared construction of the village houses to houses built today. They asked questions about the differences they saw.

Because a community site was being used for the learning activity, many children were able to personalize the experience, according to Perkins. She said they would talk with their parents about what they were doing in school and would often bring back more information to the class. Sometimes they recognized names associated with the village.

Before visiting the forest, the teachers made a video of the artisans at work in the village. The purpose was not just to see artisans working, but to study the culture and history of the area, Warnick explained.

The day-long visit to Spruce Forest offered opportunities for the children to experience the history they had been learning about in the classroom, according to Trish Morgan, village administrator of Spruce Forest. "We did not just have a guided tour that day. We had a full day of learning activities," she said.

Each of the classroom groups had listed things about the house it had chosen for study prior to the visit. A scavenger hunt was developed from the lists. The children had to visit each house and find the items on the scavenger list.

Other community members took part in the educational project. As the children ate lunch on the Casselman Bridge, Jack Carruthers told them stories about the area. Ken Rush, from the National Pike Festival, shared information with them about travel on the national pike in earlier times. He showed them different types of horse shoes used when the road was icy and slippery. A first hand look at the transportation of those days was provided by Tom Yoder, who came in a horse-drawn wagon. A video was made of children at the village.

To share their experience with the other children at school, the third graders prepared a bulletin board display. They drew pictures of the houses they studied in their work groups; they wrote reports; they wrote stories about the experience; and using modern technology, the children made a brochure on the computer.

Both Warnick and Perkins said that not only did the children enjoy this learning experience, but that it was exciting for them as well.

GRANTSVILLE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL third graders recently experienced a learning adventure developed by their teachers and implemented with the help of other members of the community. Spruce Forest became a three-dimensional lesson in history and culture of the early Garrett County residents. The students and teachers involved in this multi-subject learning project are pictured here. County Math Educators Gain Attention At Int'l Conference

A team of educators from Garrett County recently traveled to Reno, Nev., to present a program at the Ninth Annual International Conference on Technology in Collegiate Mathematics (ICTCM), and while there sparked interest from abroad.

Headed by Dr. Nancy J. Priselac, coordinator of mathematics at Garrett Community College, the team consisted of Southern High School's math instructor Wade Grove; instructor Tim Foster and student Linda May-Gerard, both from GCC; and Dr. Stephen Priselac, who developed a multi-media presentation to go along with their program. The Garrett County team, joined at this year's conference by 2,500 other attendees representing 40 nations, caught the attention of one of the participants, who just happened to be the director of the German ICTCM. At the completion of the team's presentation he invited them to travel to Cologne, Germany, in September 1997 to give the same showing at an international collegiate mathematics conference there.

The GCC team members had been selected for the third year to attend the conference, and this year's demonstration by the group focused on Casio's 9850 color graphing calculator and the use of specially designed sheets to help people learn to do skills on the calculator by utilizing simple-to-use concepts.

"The German representative was impressed by the nature of the presenting team (to have college and high school instructors and a student together as presenting partners on the team)," Priselac said, "and with the ease in which the concepts for the graphing calculators were learned."

When a national reform movement began several years ago to change the mathematics curriculum and teaching methods, Priselac authored a grant that was funded in 1993 by the United States Department of Education (USDE) that put computers, graphing calculators, multi-media equipment, laser printers, and laptop computers into mathematics classrooms at the college (and later into both Southern and Northern high schools). It also allowed for training of college, high school, and middle school instructors to use technology to enhance the learning of mathematics and put the county "on the cutting edge" of where it needs to be with the rest of the nation.

"Many of our students come to us without much knowledge about the graphing calculators (which are used for much of the math homework, as well as within the classroom)," Priselac said. "So we put together a training package to help them learn how to use the calculators. The USDE grant started us on the reform effort, but what I saw that wasn't out there was an easy-to-read manual on how to use the graphing calculator. So, our teachers started developing a graphing calculator training package with Casio. This year we developed what we call 'concept sheets' so that to teach a single mathematical concept we can do it on one sheet of paper, hand it to the teacher (or student), and to learn it they need only that single sheet. We also developed 'discovery sheets' which also go along with this reform method, where you don't just do skills (like 2+2=4), but discover how a mathematical concept fits into a real world problem and be able to analyze and make decisions such as whether water is poisonous or non-poisonous, whether there's too much air polution or not, whether a disease is deadly or not...they all relate math to real world problems.

"We started developing those topics three years ago and have been selected each year to give a presentation at the international conference, and Casio has been working with us since then," Priselac said. She likened learning the concepts on the sheets to walking on stepping stones. "Students take one step at a time... learn each concept before going on to the next one... and learn at their own pace."

Since Casio's involvement with Garrett Community College and its partner teachers at the public schools, it has supplied free graphing calculators and free training (with the idea that Garrett County teachers would become trainers for Casio, for the region, and for areas throughout the eastern seaboard). And Priselac is hopeful that after the first of the year, Casio will name GCC as a training site for teachers involved in the grant to train other teachers throughout Maryland, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania (and regions beyond).

"We are gaining respect in Maryland for what we are doing at GCC, and respect in the nation (from Casio) what we're doing in Maryland," Dr. Priselac said. "And now we're gaining international respect (through the ICTCM). It didn't all happen because of one thing, but it happened because of many things that were carefully focused...all with the same goal in mind. To me, that goal is to make it such that Garrett Countians can be successful in mathematics where ever they go, and I believe it is happening."

GARRETT MEMORIAL RECEIVES STATE AWARD - Garrett County Memorial Hospital has received the Maryland State Award from the Maryland Rural Health Association. The award recognizes the hospital for its activities and achievements in reaching out to promote health care within the community. "Garrett Memorial is seen as a leader in the community, whether it is through participation in educational classes; health screenings; support groups; collaborating with other healthcare agencies; or testifying before a legislative committee on healthcare issues," said Walter Donalson, CHE, president and CEO at Garrett Memorial. "It is important that we continue to respond to the changes in the healthcare environment without compromising the level of healthcare to the community we serve." Pictured from left, at the third annual Office of Rural Health Conference held on Solomon's Island in southern Maryland, are Barbara Stepura, vice president of St. Mary's Hospital in Leonardstown, MD, who accepted the award on behalf of health officer Dr. William Marek, and Mikal McCartney, program specialist at Garrett Memorial, who accepted the award on behalf of the hospital.

Youghiogheny River Study And Plan Completed

After several years of work, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the Youghiogheny River Local Advisory Board have announced the completion of the "Youghiogheny Scenic and Wild River Study and Management Plan."

The document provides a framework for a cooperative program between the state, Garrett County, and local citizens to conserve and protect the natural, cultural, and recreational resources of the Yough, according to a DNR spokesperson. The plan has been endorsed by the local advisory board, the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, and the Maryland State Scenic and Wild Rivers Review Board.

Copies of the plan will be available for review as of today, Dec. 12. They are to be placed at local libraries, at the commissioners' Oakland office, and at the Deep Creek Lake recreational office.

For more information, persons may contact John F. Wilson at 410-974-3654.

Oakland Man Arrested In Allegany Co.

An Oakland man was charged by the Cumberland police with a variety of offenses after he apparently threatened another person at a residence in that city on Sunday evening.

According to written reports, Richard H. Minnick, 34, was charged with wearing and carrying a handgun, use of a handgun in commission of a crime, first-degree burglary, first degree assault, stalking, reckless endangerment, harassment, destruction of property, and two counts of violation of a restraining order.

Following his arrest, Minnick was held in the Allegany County Detention Center in lieu of $80,000 bond.

The police said an investigation revealed that the alleged threat stemmed from a "third party intervention into a boyfriend-girlfriend situation."

McCLIVE'S LAKEFRONT DINING

Food For Thought

Another glaze for salmon steaks: 3 Tbs. dark brown sugar, 4 tsp. hot mustard, 1 Tbs. soy sauce and 1 tsp. rice vinegar. Grill or broil 4 minutes per side; the glaze will char slightly.

Freezing will slow or stop the growth of most bacteria—but it doesn't kill them. In fact, some keep growing in the freezer. Cook defrosed food as thoroughly as you would fresh.

Baked potatoes taste great when they're split, scooped out and mashed, then refilled with plenty of shredded cheese and sour cream. Bake again at 425 degrees about 25 minutes, until browned.

More-colorful potato pancakes are made with shredded red pepper and green onion in addition to the usual shredded potatoes. For a health bonus, mix with egg whites instead of whole eggs.

Casual dinner favorite: grilled vegetables served at room temperature with a log of goat cheese. Pick up vegetable pieces by hand and "wipe" them over the cheese.

EPA Notes That New Lead Paint Rule In Effect

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency is reminding the general public and industry that the recently released lead paint disclosure rule will affect all real estate sales and rentals, with few exceptions, as of last Friday, Dec. 6. The principal purpose of the rule is to warn the public of lead poisoning hazards so they can take actions to prevent their children and other family members from becoming victims of this disease.

Effective December 6, before a sales contract or rental agreement is finalized, the following steps are required:

Sellers and landlords must disclose known lead-based paint and lead-based paint hazards and give available reports to buyers or new and renewing renters.

Sellers and landlords must give buyers and renters the pamphlet, Protect Your Family From Lead in Your Home.

Home buyers have 10 days to conduct a lead-paint inspection at their own expense.

Sales contracts and leasing agreements must include certain notification and disclosure language. Sellers, lessors and real estate agents share joint responsibility to ensure compliance with this rule.

More than three-quarters of all residential property in the United States was built before 1978 and may contain lead-based paint. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention report that childhood lead exposure is the "number one environmental threat to the health of children in the United States." In poor neighborhoods, one of two children may have elevated blood-lead levels. African-American children of all incomes continue to have double the average blood-lead levels. Ninety percent of all children are still not tested for lead poisoning and common lead poisoning symptoms, such as hyperactivity, are frequently misdiagnosed.

EPA Mid-Atlantic Regional Administrator W. Michael McCabe said, "This rule helps protect our children from an entirely preventable condition. As scientific data show us, excess lead undermines the healthy development of youngsters in all income levels."

McCabe said this new rule, the Residential Lead-Based Paint Hazard Reduction Act of 1992 (also known as Title X), is "the most important legislation passed in 20 years to fight the insidious effects of lead poisoning." Prepared and released jointly by EPA and the US Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) on March 6, 1996, the rule affects owners of five or more housing units as of September 6, 1996. Owners of four or fewer units must comply as of December 6.

The rule affects any sale or rental of housing units built prior to 1978, except zero bedroom units (e.g., efficiencies, dormitories, lofts), leases for less than 100 days, housing for the elderly and disabled (unless children live there) and foreclosure sales (which are sold on an "as-is" basis).

This rule does not require any testing or removal of lead-based paint by sellers or landlords, nor does it invalidate existing leases and sales contracts. It affects all sales contracts and leases which are executed after the effective dates and will affect new or renewed leases as they come up for consideration.

For fact sheets, copies of the residential disclosure brochure, or sample disclosure forms, persons may call the National Lead Information Clearinghouse at (800) 424-LEAD. For copies of the rules, persons may call (202) 554-1404. The rules and certain disclosure documents are also available through the Internet at: gopher.epa.gov/docs/leadpm. For general information on lead issues, persons may call the EPA Region III customer service hotline at (800) 438-2474.

Audubon Society Christmas Bird Count Scheduled

It is time again to get out binoculars, fill up the thermos with coffee, pull on thermal socks, and grab a field guide to birds.

The date of the National Audubon Society's Christmas Bird Count is drawing near. Connie Skipper, a volunteer who organizes other bird watchers for this annual event, said recently that the Chrismas count will be held in Garrett County from midnight Dec. 21 to midnight Dec. 22.

Skipper, who graduated from Frostburg this year with a degree in wildlife management, took the responsibility of the local bird count after serving as an avid volunteer watcher for a number of years. "Actually, this is not a new interest for me. Starting in the fourth or fifth grade at the Yoder School I developed an interest in birds when we would go on bird walks," she explained.

Skipper described the designated area for observation as a circle, 15 miles in diameter, the center of which is Mayhew Inn Road and Lake Shore Drive.

Volunteer observers for bird counts are stationed at various points within the circle, far enough apart to reduce the possibility of duplicating the count. "Some of these people will watch from daylight until dark. Others may also watch after dark for owls," Skipper said.

For those who prefer to remain within the comfort of their living rooms, she continued, there are feeder watchers. "The feeder watchers usually do it from two to four hours at a time," Skipper explained, and can do it all from the warmth of home.

Last year more than a dozen volunteers participated in the local seasonal count. Skipper recently sent out information to participants for the up-coming event. "There is paper work involved. I'm sending out maps, instructions, and a list of birds that can probably be seen in Garrett County," she said. Between 60 and 80 species are usually recorded on these outings.

Kevin Dodge, Wildlife Management instructor at Garrett Community College, is a regular watcher for the Christmas count. Dodge said he usually puts in a pretty full day scanning the area around Deep Creek Lake that is his responsibility and generally will be accompanied by a student who is joining in the count for the first time. "It's a very old tradition," he said of the count. "It is fun to be involved in it for that reason. But the data are used for studies," he explained, so those involved are also contributing information.

As more people learn that they do not need to be experts to be involved in bird counts, this activity is becoming more popular, Dodge said. "They are learning that there are all sorts of opportunities to do things in their own back yards. They find that it is fun to see just how many birds you do have at your feeder," he added.

The Christmas Bird Count is held in all 50 states, all Canadian provinces, Central and South America, and other nations. The data collected from the 24 hour watch are sent to the National Audubon Society headquarters in New York for publication.

Skipper is accepting new volunteers for the count. Birdwatchers of all levels are welcome, she said, and may contact her for further information at 387-5227.

LIONS DONATE TO LOCAL ORGANIZATIONS - The Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club recently designated a portion of its funds to the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department and the Oakland Rotary Club's annual community Christmas project. Above, David Beard, Lions club president, right, presents a check for $1,000 to Fred Callis, assistant chief of the OVFD. Below, Beard presents a check for $500 to Dave Bolinger, chairman of the Chrismas project. Members of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions Club also plan to help the Rotary unload, sort, pack, and deliver the "goodies" collected from the Christmas project to recipients throughout the area on Dec. 20 and 21.

Christmas Concert, Services Slated At St. Paul's Church

St. Paul's United Methodist Church will present its 53rd Annual Service of Music and Candlelighting on Sunday, Dec. 22, at 5 and 7:30 p.m. This year's theme is "Angels."

The choir is under the direction of Dorothy Leighton. The youth of the church, directed by Kathy Shaffer, will participate in the service in song and dance. The organist is Cynthia Carr.

A fragment of the Hessian flag that crossed the Delaware River with George Washington on Dec. 24, 1776, will be featured during a segment focusing on guardian angels throughout United States history. The fragment now belongs to Dr. Lawrence Sherwood. Musical selections focusing on what Jesus said about angels is also planned.

A variety of European, Caribbean, Early American, and folk Christmas carols will be presented during the services. Mary's Little Boy Child will be sung by Earl Clark, Ann Bell Boltz will perform As Lately We Watched, and Joan Lambert and Carol Slagle will sing a duet titled Let The Angels Sing. Dance, You Angels will be sung by St. Paul's senior choir and will be interpreted in dance by the youth.

A nursery will be available during the 5 p.m. presentation. For more information, persons may call the church office at 334-2391.

A Christmas Eve service with communion at St. Paul's church will be conducted by Dr. Sherwood beginning at 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided, and a children's worship service will be available for those 5 years old through the fifth grade. At 11 p.m., a candlelight service will be led by the Rev. Roger A. Harrison Sr.

The community is invited to attend any or all of these activities.

Road Runners Plan Christmas Craft Making

The Crellin Road Runners activity group has planned two sessions of Christmas craft making for all ages. All interested persons may come to the Crellin Community Building on Friday, Dec. 13, 6-9 p.m., or on Saturday, Dec. 14, 1-3 p.m.

All materials will be provided free of charge and there will be a variety of crafts to choose from, a spokesperson said. Christmas cookies, hot chocolate, and soda will be served.

The organizers are also asking for some volunteers to help supervise the younger crafters. Teenagers who help out can earn student service learning hours, the spokesperson noted.

For more information, persons may call Judy Tusing, president, at 334-2634.

Printed on RECYCLED NEWSPRINT

IT WAS HARD TO TELL WHO WAS MORE EXCITED, the kids on atage or their giddy video-taping moms and dads at Red House Elementary School'a Christmas program, which was held Monday. Schools across the county presented holiday shows and parents came out in force with their cameras, which nowadays are about as common as shoes. This aeason is made all the more exciting and fun through these programs when youngsters can learn new songs and taste the thrill of being "on stage" and parents can glow with pride as their little ones gain confidence and self-esteem. They're all pretty darn cute, too. Photographer John McEwen couldn't decide who waa the more photogenic, though, so we have printed both groups, the young and the young at heart. (Note: the front page picture of the deer hiding out in a bus shanty was well-received by our readers. However, the Shank family was dismayed to find this past Sunday morning that someone had stolen the deer heads, which were family poasessions. Maybe in the spirit of Chriatmas they will be returned. One can only hope.)

Edwards, Hafer Outline Goals For 1997 Legislative Session

District 1-A Delegate George C. Edwards and District 1 Senator John J. Hafer of the Maryland General Assembly held an informational meeting on Saturday at Garrett Community College, the purpose of which was to give the elected officials the opportunity to give an overview of their goals for this year's legislative session. Although the meeting had been publicized for at least two weeks, the two men spoke to a gathering of only nine persons.

Edwards opened the meeting by reviewing requests made by the Garrett County Commissioners concerning the local personal property tax, local preference purchasing, tactics in collecting delinquent taxes, and the role of the county attorney as it pertains to representing the Garrett County Sheriff. He also discussed possible changes in the collection of sewer bills, a bond bill for the development of a new information complex, a minor change in Garrett County District Court proceedings, and a funding formula adjustment that should benefit GCC.

The Garrett County Commissioners have asked Edwards and Hafer to seek enabling legislation that would allow the local fiscal authority to phase out the personal property tax within the next 10 years. Garrett is one of only six counties in the state that has a personal property tax, and the Garrett County Development Corporation (GCDC) submitted this suggestion to the elected officials in an effort to make the county more attractive to incoming industry.

The tax provides about $1.2 million to the county, but GCDC representatives maintain that the profit earned in new businesses as well as through growth within already established businesses (which would be free of the substantial yearly tax) would more than offset any loss. Edwards noted

County To Receive State Funds For Septage Disposal Facility

A project to construct a treatment and disposal facility for septage generated in Garrett County will soon receive a financial boost as a result of state assistance.

Governor Parris N. Glendening announced yesterday Board of Public Works approval of a state grant increase of $323,740 for construction of a treatment and disposal facility at the Deep Creek Wastewater Treatment Plant. The facility will serve approximately 8,000 residents.

Chaired by the governor, the Board of Public Works also consists of Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein and Treasurer Richard N. Dixon. The board is empowered by the General Assembly to approve major construction and consultant contracts, equipment purchases, property transactions, and other procurement actions.

."This project is important in helping Garrett County to manage the disposal of this material by having a facility that can treat and dispose of it," said Glendening. "Currently, none of the county's other wastewater treatment facilities is designed to handle this waste and the alternative of spreading untreated septic tank waste on the land is unacceptable."

The grant increase is in response to higher than expected construction cost estimates. In addition to this grant and a previous grant of $869,260, the Garrett County Sanitary Commission is contributing $268,128 for a total project cost of $1,461,128. Construction began in July 1996 and is expected to be completed by April 1997.

"A construction contract has been awarded and work is underway on a facility to receive and treat septage pumped from individual on-site disposal systems in Garrett County," said Wendell R. Beitzel, chairman of the Garrett County Sanitary Commission. "Additional grant funding is essential for successful completion of

Young Man Critically Burned By Kerosene; Cabin Destroyed

A young Deer Park area man is listed in "critical" condition in the intensive care unit at the West Penn Burn Center in Pittsburgh after sustaining serious burns in an incident that destroyed a vacant, wood-frame cabin Friday night.

According to the Deputy Fire Marshal Steve Wendling, Alfred Kight, 18, was with three other young men in the cabin, located along Bethlehem Road off Gorman Road (Rt. 560), when a kerosene heater caused a flash fire. Witnesses told Wendling that when they filled the kerosene stove some of the kerosene spilled on the floor. They used a rag to wipe up the kerosene, but the rag was placed under the heater and the area then burst into flame.

Kight was the only one seriously injured in the incident and was rushed to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the other three, who included Billy Lloyd, 18, Marvin White Jr., 19, and a 16-year-old juvenile. In the meantime the cabin became engulfed in flames. The blaze was discovered by an area resident, Tom Corbin, who called for assistance at 11 p.m. Responding to the scene were fire units from Deer Park, Oakland, and Gorman volunteer fire departments, who found the structure nearly on the ground.

Kight was treated at Garrett Memorial and then flown to the West Penn Burn Center. According to Wendling's report, he sustained second degree burns from his head to his waist and third degree burns to his fingers and nose. The burns reportedly covered about 45% of his body.

Wendling said the cabin was owned by Walter and Mable McRobie of Massillon, Ohio, but had been vacant for some 30 years. Reportedly the four young men were in the structure without permission of the owners.

White and Lloyd told Wendling that they arrived at the house at about 9 p.m. and brought the kerosene heater with them, which they placed between a sofa and a bed. There was no heat, water, or electric power in the structure.

The financial loss of the single-story structure, which also had a basement, has been estimated to be $25,000.

Approximately two dozen fire fighters responded to the scene and remained

Island Creek Coal Co. Lays Off 49 Workers

Island Creek Coal Company confirmed this week that a layoff of employees at its Potomac Mine near Mt. Storm, W.Va., took place Tuesday.

According to Paul Kvederis, a spokesperson for the CONSOL Coal Group based in Pittsburgh, the action was attributed to a loss of a coal contract with Virginia Electric & Power Co. (VEPCO). Island Creek Coal Co. is a member of the CONSOL group.

"Approximately 140 will remain at the Grant County mine," Kvederis told The Republican this week. "The mine will continue to operate at a reduced level until all the coal is removed from its longwall panels."

The company announced in mid-October the possibility of 80 lost jobs in this week's layoff. "Last December, 129 employees at the mine lost their jobs when CONSOL lost a coal contract to VEPCO," Kvederis said. He could not predict how long the 140 remaining employees would remain on the job, but said the mine will be closed eventually because of an insufficient market for coal.

Judge Renders Decision About Sunday Sales

The Avilton began serving alcoholic beverages with meals on Sunday, as a recent injunction request failed by order of Allegany County Judge Gary Leasure. The Avilton district and the Elbow approved the Sunday sales issue in the November election. No other voting district approved the measure.

Michael Mudge, a Crellin pastor, had filed a motion for an injunction, claiming that the process by which Sunday sales decision was made was unconstitutional because is was a district-by-district vote.

Leasure disagreed, noting in his ruling that there is "substantial precedent" in Maryland for allowing this sort of referendum and that "the power of the Legislature to refer local legislation affecting it along to the people of such a . . . defined locality cannot be questioned in this state."

Adventure Sports Center Site To Be Near Wisp

A site for the proposed adventure sports center has been agreed upon by the Garrett County Commissioners. The privately owned area is located on Marsh Mountain behind the Wisp Resort, according to reports.

Commissioners Wayne Wilt and Roger Glotfelty decided the issue, while John Braskey abstained from the vote. Braskey was recently named as the state's special projects officer for the program, and therefore felt he should not be involved with the county decision.

A committee had been appointed to find a site and apparently looked into at least five. The selected site was deemed the best because of its proximity to Wisp and its accessibility, as it is so close to U.S. Route 219. Organizers hope to incorporate cross-country ski trails and an ice rink near the center.

The Department of Natural Resources, the special committee, and the county officials noted that in order to continue on with the project, a site had to be named and solidified. There appeared to be a consensus among all the groups that the chosen site was the ideal location.

Long Awaited School Grant Awarded to Western Region

Two years of anticipation and preparation by Garrett County educators, business people, and administrators ended when Maryland State School Superintendent Nancy S. Grasmick recently announced the awarding of up to $6.7 million in federal grants. These funds will support the work of public-private partnerships in integrating students' classroom learning and work experience, according to a spokesperson for Grasmick's office.

Three years ago, when the state first released information on the new program requirements as part of school reform, Garrett County took the initiative and began planning and developing courses. Spearheading these efforts was Jo Ann Vent, Supervisor of Careers and Technology at the Garrett County Board of Education.

When the first grant money became available in 1995, application was made for funds to implement plans in Garrett County. The request was not funded.

Vent explained the state's decision not to fund. "It's not that they didn't like our ideas, but they had changed the criteria and decided to Garrett would funded as part of a region and not as an individual county."

The state requested that Garrett unite with Washington and Allegany counties forming a Western Maryland District for purposes of future applications.

In response to this decision Vent began the work of linking with the school systems of the other two counties. Vent's work became a foundation of this joint venture. She explained that the other two counties have been "looking to Garrett for direction in this."

There have been difficulties in teaming up as a region due to distance and differing economic situa-

Domestic Violence Center Suffers Funding Cut

Just as the local Domestic Violence/Sexual Abuse Resource Center (DV/SARC) has opened a shelter and has received positive public response, an apparent bureaucratic snag has resulted in a $21,000 cut in grant funding for the center. According to Francis Callis, director of the center, officials hope to recoup some of the loss, but the cut will cause some difficulties.

The issue was noted at Saturday's informational session hosted by Delegate George Edward$ and Senator John Hafer. Brenda Arnold, of the DV/SARC, expressed her gratitude to Edwards, who apparently stepped in to help when he heard of the problem. Edwards then explained what had happened.

Apparently, the DV/SARC had sent in a grant request to the state in the usual manner. The state individual who reviewed the

Garrett Schools Get Good Marks On State Testing

A report card on state schools indicating progress toward reform goals set for the year 2000 shows continuing improvement in Garrett County schools.

The gauge for this report is the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program (MSPAP) testing.

MSPAP tests are given to students in grades three, five, and eight, and in grades nine and 11.

According to information released by the Garrett County Board of Education, Garrett County eighth graders surpassed state averages in all six test areas of reading, writing, language usage, math, science and social studies. Third graders tested scored higher than state averages in science and fifth graders surpassed the average in social studies.

The board spokesperson also noted that for the fifth consecutive year, Garrett County schools met 11 of the 12 original standards set by the MSPAP.

The two levels of achievement established by the MSPAP are excellent and satisfactory. Excellence denotes "outstanding accomplishment in meeting the needs of students," the spokesperson explained adding, "Satisfactory performance is a realistic and rigorous level of achievement indicating proficiency in meeting the needs of students."

Of the nine Maryland Functional Test areas, Garrett County ninth graders achieved excellence in read-

Correction Noted On Wreck Report

In last week's issue of The Republican, a story appeared about recent car accidents. One involved Oakland drivers Larry W. Cooper, 54, and Robert H. Sines, 51. Because of a small mistake in the Garrett County Sheriff's Office report, the information printed about the accident was incorrect. It should be noted that the Dec. 6 wreck occurred in the following fashion:

Sines was northbound on Oakland Sang-Run Road when he skidded on snow and his vehicle went into a 360-degree turn. His car hit a vehicle being driven by Cooper, who was southbound on the roadway. Sines, not Cooper, was at fault in the mishap.

Two Injured In Vehicle Mishap Near Grantsville

A two-vehicle accident Wednesday afternoon near Grantsville sent two people to Sacred Heart Hospital in Cumberland.

Maryland State Police at Barrack W, McHenry, said Joseph Woodrow Paul, 79, no address given, was traveling north on the Chestnut Ridge Road, just north of Interstate 68, when a vehicle operated by Charles M. Haddix III, Bowie, failed to yield the right-of-way as he exited the ramp from I-68 and drove into his path.

Both Paul and Haddix were transported to the hospital by volunteers from the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad, where they were reportedly treated and released. Two passengers in the Haddix vehicle, Mary Michelle Haddix, 48, and Jennifer A. Haddix, 19, were apparently uninjured in the 1:30 p.m. accident.

Also responding to the scene were members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department.

CAR OVERTURNS

A Rockville woman was injured in a single-vehicle accident Monday morning after her car hit an icy spot on Interstate 68 and overturned.

State police said Catherine E. Sorrell, 60, was traveling west on I-68, near the Finzel Road, when her 1988 Chevrolet Blazer struck a patch of ice, causing the vehicle to travel across the road, strike an embankment, and overturn.

She was transported to Sacred Heart Hospital by volunteers from the Frostburg Ambulance and was treated for her injuries following the 8:15 a.m. accident.

DWI ARRESTS

Three DWI/DUI (driving while intoxicated/driving under the influence of alcohol and/or drugs) arrests were logged at the local state police barrack during the past week.

Bryan Lee Appel, 22, Ridgeley, W.Va., was arrested and charged with DWI/DUI, as well as negligent driving and failure to stop at a stop sign after a Dec. 15 traffic stop on the Rock Lodge Road. He was transported to the state police barrack following his 12:18 a.m. arrest, and later released on his own recognizance.

Brian Kirk Lantz, 24, Aurora, W.Va., was charged with DWI/DUI on Dec. 15 after an initial stop by Tfc. Mark S. Clapper for traveling 64.6 miles per hour in a 45 mph speed zone. He was also charged in the 2:32 a.m. stop with failure to drive right of center and negligent driving. He was later released on his own recognizance.

Charles Jacob Getson III, 21, Oakland, was arrested on a charge of DWI on Dec. 15 by Tfc. Eric S. Derham.

Blanket Drive To Help Needy Surpasses Goal

The number of blankets collected in a recent drive, exceeded the goal set by project organizer, Tina Sumpter. An AmeriCorps member working in the Community and Emergency Services Office at Garrett County Community Action Committee, Sumpter has participated in this program to help the needy of the county for two years.

According to Kellie Warnick, the AmeriCorps Coordinator at Garrett Community Action Committee, the annual blanket drive has two purposes. The free blankets are distributed to those in need to provide them warmth and to help keep their energy costs down.

This year the collection of blankets took place around the county from Oct. 27 to Nov. 8. "We collected 152 blankets. There were new ones and used ones. There were also quilts and sleeping bags," Warnick said.

There were collection sites throughout the county in libraries, businesses, and churches. "It was really a community effort," Warnick commented.

Donated blankets have been given to some of Garrett County's needy families, to the domestic violence shelter, and to Habitat for Humanity, Warnick said. "There are still blankets available for those who need them," she added.

Anyone wishing to get more information about the free blanket program may call the Emergency Services Office at 334-9431.

IN THE SPIRIT OF GIVING - Rather than follow the tradition of exchanging namea for gift giving in the office, everyone at the Garrett County Sheriff's Office decided to do something different this year. All officers and staff members selected a Rotary Giving Tree and "adopted" it. As a result, 36 gifts from GCSO staff personnel were donated to the Rotary to be given to needy families this holiday season. Members of the Sheriff's Department pictured above from left to right, in the front row, are Det. Clark Warnick, Teetsie Sines, correctional officer, and Kerri Shaffer, secretary. In the back row, in the same order, are Maj. Dick Sanders, Lt. Larry Gnegy, Warden Dan Rumer, Ofc. Ron Sisler, Sheriff Randy Sines, and Capt. Don Tucker.

Oakland Man Accused Of DWI After Accident

An Oakland man was charged with driving while intoxicated (DWI) this week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. Harry W. Mayle Sr., 60, was cited for several other traffic violations after a short investigation into the Dec. 14 wreck.

According to the report, the defendant was operating his 1980 Ford pickup northbound on Rt. 560 when he failed to negotiate a curve. The truck hit an embankment and ended up in the southbound lane ditch.

In addition to sheriff's office personnel, members of the Southern Garrett Rescue Squad, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, and the Trooper 5 helicopter responded to the 2:10 p.m. wreck. Mayle was transported to the hospital, where he remained a patient for a few days.

In addition to DWI, Mayle was cited for driving with a revoked license, speeding, failure to keep right of center, and failure to wear a seat belt, according to the report.

In other sheriff's office news, an Oakland man was arrested for uttering a false document. Bradley J. Kisner, 19, apparently forged and cashed a check belonging to Clarence Cogley. Kisner was also charged with felony theft, according to the report.

Steven R. Uphold, 37, Oakland, was arrested on the strength of a warrant for failure to inform the Department of Social Services of a rent agreement he had this summer. He allegedly received more money than what was due him, and he has been charged with welfare fraud.

Bench warrants for persons who failed to appear in court were issued for the following individuals: Brian B. McGuire, 24, Grantsville; Leonard E. Goodson, 49, Wheeling, W.Va.; Jeffrey M. Priapi, 23, Accident; Thomas P. Hintz, 41, Gaithersburg; and Dominick J. Pisano, 52, Yonkers, N.Y.

Persons accused of violation of probation and arrested on the strength of bench warrants this week were Russell L. Jones, 39, Fairfax, Va., and Karen S. Boyce, 34, Oakland.

Joseph A. Refosco, 25, Oakland, was charged for violating an ex parte order, according to the report.

ST. PAUL'S UNITED METHODIST CHURCH will present its 53rd Annual Service of Music and Candlelighting on Sunday, Dec. 22, at 5 and 7:30 p.m. This year's theme is "Angels." The choir, under the direction of Dorothy Leighton, will perform a variety of European, Caribbean, Early American, and folk Christmas carols, and featured performers will include Earl Clark, Ann Bell Boltz, Joan Lambert, and Carol Slagle. A representation of the church's youth, directed by Kathy Shaffer, will also participate in the service in song and dance. Choir members pictured above, from left to right, front row, are Pastor Roger Harrison, organist Cindy Carr, Jane Sickeler, Helen Earles, Ann Bell Boltz, and Dorothy Leighton; second row: Joan Lambert, Dorothy Purbaugh, Ethel Rae Snyder, Emelee DeWitt, and Ann Leighton; and third row: Herb Leighton, Earl Clark, Bob Stockslager, Jay Umstot, and George Acton. A nursery will be available during the 5 p.m. presentation. For more information persons may call the church office at 334-2391.

Funding Cut

request for $50,000 was Adrienne Siegel, assistant director of the Office of Transitional Services. Siegel denied the local center $21,000 of the request because she said the request contained errors.

Edwards was apparently surprised and annoyed at the situation because, as he explained Saturday, the usual procedure is to return the request with instructions on how to correct it and then it is reviewed again. He said he had never heard of a grant request being denied at first review.

Callis stated in an interview that the funding resource until this year had been restricted to certain human service organizations.

"This year, they opened it up to everyone," she said, explaining that nearly anyone could claim they are providing some kind of "direct victim" service and could apply for the funds. She said that this new, less rigid policy has resulted in losses in funding for programs across the state.

"We weren't the only ones cut," she said.

Callis has since met with Siegel in an attempt to clear up any misunderstandings about the local system. Siegel was apparently new at the job and felt she was following the proper procedure in denying the request at first review.

Callis said the two women did reach some understanding. She also noted that the center has since recouped some of the funding through other grants.

"We apply for everything out there," she said. Edwards said the county should be eligible for some non-designated funding as well, and said he felt confident that this money will come to the county.

The program against domestic violence is funded mainly through fines paid into the court system by convicted individuals.

Friendsville Youth Arrested On Theft, Burglary Charges

A Friendsville teenager was arrested and jailed on felony theft and fourth degree burglary charges late last Wednesday evening after he reportedly hid in Buckel's Market, Grantsville, until after closing and stole more than $500 from the cash register.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, Brandon Shane Baumgardner, 18, was arrested in the Avilton area after he apparently fled the scene when he was confronted by the store's owner, William B. Buckel, who had returned to the establishment and found Baumgardner inside.

Police said Baumgardner had hidden in a secluded area of the basement of the store until closing. He then gained access to the cash register and had just removed $552 in cash when Buckel returned shortly after 9 p.m. and saw the youth standing at the register wearing a ski mask and gloves. Buckel was able to remove the mask, police said, and Baumgardner fled. He was apprehended a short time later and identified by Buckel as the perpetrator. The money was recovered, police said.

Baumgardner was transported to the Garrett County Jail, where he remains incarcerated on $5,000 bond.

Cpl. R. Jay Resh investigated the incident.

there for approximately one hour. Also responding was the Southern Rescue Squad. There were no other injuries reported.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office also had a report on the incident since Deputy Jeff Green saw the speeding vehicle transporting Kight to the hospital. Not knowing what was occurring, Green gave chase and then, upon the vehicle's arrival at the hospital emergency room, realized what had happened. He then assisted the victim into the emergency room.

Lots of Good...

Because of innate human sinfulness, evil permeates our world in various forms, but we still believe strongly that the vast majority of people are basically good. Human behavior this particular time of year always confirms that belief, which elevates our spirits and keeps us from becoming angry, embittered people.

Numerous examples of this human goodness are all around us right here at home. Just off the tops of our heads here in the newsroom, we came up with the following:

This weekend the Oakland Rotary Club, with lots of help from numerous other organizations and individuals, will package and distribute tens of thousands of pounds of food and hundreds of gifts to local families in need to help assure that they, too, will have a merry Christmas. Most of the gifts and food were either donated or provided to the Rotary Club at cost.

Lou Stouffer, better known as the Terra Alta Santa Claus, is well into his second decade of being a real Santa, by collecting thousands of gifts, repairing and cleaning those that need it, and traveling thousands of miles to deliver them to hundreds of local families in need. Again, most of what Lou delivers is donated.

Chuck Nolan, a deputy with the Sheriff's Office, will be conducting his 18th annual food and fund drive for the House of Hope in downtown Oakland this Saturday. Just this past year, the House of Hope fed over 1,000 people, provided nearly 5,000 gallons of fuel, and assisted in many other ways. The House of Hope operates entirely by donations, which come from many people.

Travis Tayman, a young man who resides in nearby Kingwood, is working on his Eagle Scout project, which has been the collection and repair of toys and various other items that will be provided as Christmas gifts for families in need. His collection totalled 30 bicycles, 75 dolls, 336 books, 227 stuffed animals, and many boxes of other items. Again, nearly everything he has collected has been donated by many people.

Then, of course, there are the scores of churches that prepare baskets of goodies and gifts for shut-ins and other folks in need. There are dozens of school projects conducted by teachers and students that provide a similar service. There are various other organizations, besides Rotary, that annually do special things to make the holidays brighter for others. To expound on all of these would probably fill every page of this newspaper.

Yes, the world is full of evil; but thank heavens it is also full of much wonder, beauty, and people like Lou, Chuck, Travis, and millions of other good, generous people. Merry Christmas to one and all.

Editor's note: A few weeks ago the focus of this column was the opening of the Garrett County Domestic Abuse Shelter, and among the opinions in that editorial was that our judicial system "has done little than slap the fingers of abusers." We wish to clarify that this view was referring to the judicial system "at large" and to its general history in our country. It in no way was referring specifically to the Garrett County District Court, which hears most of the local domestic abuse cases. In fact, the present judge of that court, Ralph Burnett, has an excellent record of doing considerably more to such offenders than "slapping them on the fingers," and we appreciate it.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The road to Shallmar from Kitzmiller has always had trouble with the mountainside falling in and covering the road, especially in the spring of the year when we had a lot of rain. More than the side of the mountain would fall in and cover the road. We had to park our cars in a spot that takes the road up the mountain which we called "North Hill" and I guess it still is referred to as such. The town of Potomac Manor was just across the river, and at that time the only way you could get to the town was over the structure, by foot. After the town was just about torn down they put a wooden floor on this structure so cars and people could get to the town of Potomac Manor in West Virginia.

The biggest problem as I see it is they let all the flood walls fall down. There was a big wall just below the Shallmar store that kept the water from "Aburnsen's Creek" from flooding the town and ball field and the houses in this section of town.

The swimming hole we called "slippery" was located along the road in the lower end of Shallmar. The wall there kept the river from entering the town during the high water. There were several walls built at the expense of the Wolf Den Coal Co., for which Shallmar was founded.

Still sometimes in the spring of the year, we went up the hill to the power house to spend the night, or however long it took for the river to get back to normal.

Shallmar is in danger all along the Potomac River banks, whenever the river reaches flood stage, and now it makes its own way without the walls.

I lived in Shallmar as a small boy, went to school in Dodsen, Md., in a big building that had four grades. They finally built a school in Shallmar and I spent my 7th year in school here and then to Kitzmiller High School for four years. We had to walk the two miles to school, rain, snow or shine, both ways.

Then when we went on trips for "sports" we were let out at the Kitzmiller High School and we had to walk the two miles home. We did not have showers after the game, or hot meals when we went to school. We carried our lunch in a brown paper bag, and we didn't have indoor bathrooms. We had a toilet for the boys and one for the girls, all outside. So if anyone thinks they had it tough in school these days, I hope they read this letter to the Editor. I could tell you more but its all history now, and what does it matter?

Always,
Charles McIntyre

P.S. I am not against the County or State fixing the road, but do it right; not a "Band-aid" job as in the past!!

To the Editor:

Governor Parris Glendening recently proposed $485 million in income tax cuts for Maryland and should be applauded for his efforts. A low tax and low regulatory environment is the best way to help the state increase economic growth and gain business from neighboring states as numerous studies of American states demonstrate. For example, Dr. Richard Vedder of Ohio University has found a clear relationship between higher state taxes and lower economic growth. During the period of 1979 to 1989, the ten states that raised taxes the most in relation to personal income grew far less than half as rapidly as the ten states that lowered their tax burdens the most.

The Glendening proposal is not perfect--Glendening unfortunately proposes to pay for his cuts through other tax hikes and use of one-time funds. The right way to fund tax cuts is through cuts in state spending--which has grown far too fast in recent years. Adjusting for inflation and changes in population, Maryland state spending grew by 22 percent from 1979-1992. Over the period of 1980-1991, while private sector salaries grew by 79 percent, state employee salaries were growing by 99 percent.

Voters should push the legislature to adopt a tax cut, but paid for through cuts in bloated state spending. There is no better way to ensure a bright economic future for the state.

Sincerely,
John E. Berthoud

To the Editor:

If we take an oath to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, then that shouldn't allow too much for biases, opinions, and "slants" of the truth now should it?

If we hold these "slanted" truths to be self evident, then all men are not created equal in Garrett County. Those that have built their homes on "slants" just might fall over someday.

Ask a court official about it sometime regarding recent custody proceedings. Chances are, the boys won't know what you're talking about. They may have long forgotten. I guess an expert witness's reports don't slack up against "slanted" truths.

Maybe those with homes built on "slants" should at least try to clean up their own backyards and be more empathetic to those still pursuing the ultimate issue: the best interests of a child and not maintaining the status quo and taking the easy way out.

This is just the kind of spineless legal action that has put such a sour taste in so many American mouths who just want the truth and fair justice instead of technicalities, red tape, and bureaucracy.

Accident

To the Editor:

I am writing in response to Anita Fike's letter.

I know exactly how you feel. My ex-husband has not paid child support in almost three years. He also quit his job in California, remarried, started a new family, moved to Missouri, and now has a new life. What about the two children he already has? He has almost no contact with them. They are 10 and 12, but it still hurts them to think that their so-called dad doesn't want them. Last year he sued me for custody of MY children. I had to get an attorney and we filed our case last August. I am still waiting for a court date.

When are the courts going to finally say enough is enough and stand up for our children and make these people responsible for the children that they helped bring into this world?

You are not alone. I'm sure there are many others just like us. Always remember that, no matter what, God will always be there. (Isaiah 41:10)

FERMENTING THINGS

A two-gallon crock of cabbage has been fermenting in my cellar for just over two weeks now. I have been skimming foam off the top on a regular basis, which gives me reasonable hope that it will be sauerkraut by Christmas.

The process of making sauerkraut is one to inspire a life culture. I shred the cabbage, and then layer it in a crock with canning salt (six and a half percent by weight, says the book, but the salting is difficult to get wrong).

I tamp each layer until the crock is full. The cabbage and salt start working right away so that by the time the crock is filled, there is water enough to drive out the air pockets. If it hasn't started working when I put in the last cabbage, then I haven't added enough salt.

I put a small plate in the crock and weight it if necessary in order to keep driving off the air. I then put a second plate over the mouth of the crock and cover that with a tea towel. Once a week the foam needs skimming. In a few weeks I'll have sauerkraut.

You may have noticed that I said this sauerkraut was made with "Christmas" in mind and not the "winter holiday." I am sure this would come as a surprise to federal judges all across our land who thought they had pretty well gotten rid of Christmas in favor of the highly mysterious "winter holiday." They have effectively driven Christmas out of our schools, which gives them hope that they are only a generation away from ridding America of the peculiar cultural fixation on Christmas.

Someone is bound to point out that we are a multicultural society and that we have to have respect for other people's cultures. And I say, why not? I am all for Hanukkah, and even better for making non-Jews aware of all the important Jewish holydays. I don't mind having Kwanza explained to my children in school even if I do think it something of a fabrication.

What I do object to is that the courts have effectively banned the speaking of the word "Christmas" in our schools and other public institutions ostensibly because of the separation of church and state. I say "ostensibly" because Christians have been chafing against the secularization of Christmas for my entire lifetime. The federal bench has decided secularizing Christmas isn't enough; it must be gotten rid of.

Against the judicial anti-Christmas (and anti-Christian) landscape the commercialization of Christmas almost seems welcome. I don't think there is a merchant in the land of any or no religious persuasion who believes Americans are prepared to spend up to one-fourth of their disposable income on the "winter holiday." If they have no interest in keeping Christ in Christmas, they at least recognize the importance of keeping Christmas in Christmas, which puts them one step ahead of most federal judges.

Like the two-gallon of salted cabbage in my cellar, there is a fermentation process underway. Some Christians see themselves as the salt and the cabbage as the world: for them the fermentation is participating in the process. While that is a worthy enterprise it is also worrisome. The cabbage is often rotten, and the salt is not always pure.

I begin to suspect that another kind of fermentation may prove more significant, that of withdrawal from the macro-economy of the world to establish a micro-economy, say, of a family. It is a context in which culture can most readily be transformed, for we have reached a point where Christians in the world often have less effect upon it than they are affected by it.

There is a paradigm for the family as a sub-culture to transform culture, that of a husband and wife and a child. It is a model which is most triumphant when being run out of town, when persecuted, sneered at, threatened with death. It is a model to render federal judges as ineffectual as Herod of old, and to proclaim a message forever new and free.

by Mary Sincell McEwen

I remember:

♥ my sister Kathryn and me sitting nearly underneath the Christmas tree pointing out which gifts were ours and being simply giddy with anticipation. I also recall dressing up our cat, Sahib, in a gown and a "mink" stole over his head, placing him under the tree, and snapping his picture. Kath and I laughed 'til we couldn't breathe. The cat wasn't all that flipping amused.

♥ the family tradition of having to sit at the top of the stairs Christmas morning while Mom and Dad turned on the tree lights and started the good old Christmas records. What a feeling! And always up there with me were my sister and three brothers, and my cousin, Mary Largent, who was about 64 years my senior. She was just as excited as we were. There was something so wonderful about this older lady who was having absolutely as much fun as I was. She died this past summer at age 97. At the graveside, my Uncle Loy said that over the years, no matter what the situation might have been, things were always better if Mary was there. So very true. She made my life all the better, no question. I was named for her; attempting to live up to her selfless, giving legacy is a daunting prospect.

♥ the Christmas of 1985 -- the year John and I started dating. Over that holiday he was in North Carolina, delivering pizzas for Dominos, and I was here, in Mountain Lake Park. I made a tape of various Christmas songs and sent it to him; he told me later how touched he was to get that tape and how listening to it cheered him as he drove around the still-strange town, so far away from friends and family. I didn't know at the time that we would be making a life together, but I did know that I would love this sweet guy probably all of my life.

♥ staying in the kitchen with Mom as she made the hundreds of Christmas cookies (which she continues to make each year, by the way). She always let me help, even when I was little and probably far more irritating than helpful by any measure. I doggedly decorated the butter cookies with cinnamon heart eyes and red and green sprinkles, and I helped roll the peacan puffs and almond cookies in powdered sugar that always made me think of drifting snow.

♥ the delightful Christmas Eve, when the whole family would have a meal together in candlelight. (My brother Jeff once said Mom made the house magical with the candles.) We went through a phase of having beef fondue every year, and I remember quite vividly one year my grandfather, Elwood Wagoner, picking up the raw beef squares and popping one in his mouth. He was gnawing away when my mother said, "Daddy! You're supposed to put it in the pot first!" His hoarse, quiet chuckling at his own mistake still echoes in my head.

♥ the year my brother Ben didn't have time to wrap his gifts. He would go to his room, put a gift in an old winkled brown paper bag, and come back down and let the recipient reach in and get his or her gift. Then he would grab the bag back, tear upstairs and put the next person's gift in the sack and beat it back down to the family. He did this for all four of his siblings and both parents.

♥ the year an old boyfriend gave me a wee tiny mewing Siamese cat. I couldn't believe it when he came through the door with that fist-sized furrball. I still have her -- she's 12 now. She sleeps on my side of the bed each night and tolerates with great patience the sometimes less-than-gentle hands of my three boys. She's a great friend. Thanks, Randy.

♥ a Christmas Eve in the '80's, I think, when the temperature was about 20 below zero. My sister-in-law Suzie and I were out for some reason, and we ended up jumping two people's car batteries for them. I remember thinking that it was a really interesting way to spend the holiday.

♥ getting a 78 record from my brother Don that had a recording of Santa and his elves, and that jolly fat man and his height-challenged helpers actually said, on that record, my name. "And whose house is this?" Santa asked. "It's Mary Ruth's house, Santa!" I was absolutely stunned. He gave Kathryn one, too, that oddly enough said exactly the same thing, except the elves said her name at the appropriate spot. I was only 3 -- give me a break.

♥ last year as John and I began to decorate the tree. Robert, at that time nearly 4, was "helping." Alex, 14 months, was being detained in the playpen; and Michael, three weeks, was sitting peacefully in a baby chair. I looked at the room full of people and at that man to whom I had sent a Christmas tape ten years earlier. "Good grief, John, we are five!" I said. It was kind of a shock.

♥ every year: the candlelight service in our church. It is a most meaningful time for me; an hour to really concentrate on the birth of that amazing baby; to focus on why we have this holiday in the first place. Singing Silent Night, a yearly tradition at St. Mark's service, always made Pam Ashby cry. She loved it so; she related to the Mother Mary because Pam was a mother, too, and that was of utmost importance to her. Now when we sing the carol as our candles burn, I think of Pam. And I wish she were here. But I think she is quite the angel now, helping to circulate and communicate the Good News. She doesn't have to cry anymore.

♥ finally, just last night. I had a lot to do, but I ended up popping in our tape of It's a Wonderful Life and helping John put together a holiday jigsaw puzzle (one of the hardest stinkin' ones I've ever done!). It was a nice quiet evening, even if I didn't get a single gift wrapped or one cookie baked. At least Clarence got his wings.

MSPAP - What It Is, How It Works

As the scores are announced for the Maryland State School Performance Assessment Program (MSPAP) again, a review of the testing program may be in order.

The State Board of Education developed and adopted student learning goals to be achieved by the year 2000. The goals selected focus on such things as ability to think critically, transfer knowledge from one subject to another, and relate classroom learning to life experience.

In order to monitor the progress of the state school system in teaching these skills to students, a method of testing had to be developed. The testing would grade the teaching and the curriculum as measured by student test performance. Schools and school systems would be evaluated and not the individual students.

With these ground rules in mind, a collaborative effort of administrators, teachers, and consultants was undertaken to develop and design a system of testing and scoring to review progress. The result of this multi-year-effort, the Maryland School Performance Assessment Program was approved by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The testing is given annually to students in grades 3, 5, and 8 to assess the learning outcomes in the schools. According to spokesperson for the State Department of Education, "MSPAP is intended to measure school improvement, not individual student performance." In describing the tests, the spokesperson said, "They are not multiple choice questions that can be answered by simple rote learning and memorization of facts. MSPAP tasks are related to real life situations."

ALLEGANY COMMISSIONERS THANK DEER PARK SPRING WATER - The commissioners of Allegany County recently recognized a local company for its efforts after the flood of Sept. 6. The Deer Park Spring Water Company donated a tractor trailer and a half of bottled water to Allegany County to be distributed to residents who were without water after the disaster. The neighboring county's commissioners wished to publicly thank the company for the generous donation and did so last week at the Garrett County Commissioners' office. A certificate presented to the company stated in part that the commissioners extended their sincere appreciation for the outstanding volunteer efforts of Deer Park Spring Water. "Your devotion in lending assistance to others during the time of crisis, your display of courage in order to protect the safety of those in desperate need, and your unselfish and heartfelt humanitarian acts of kindness and generosity will long be remembered by the citizens of Allegany County," the certificate states. Pictured left to right are Commissioner John Braskey, Mayor Robert Lyons, Charlene Lennox (administrative assistant for Deer Park Spring Water), Walter Finster of the Allegany County Health Department, and Commissioners Roger Glotfelty and Wayne Wilt.

ing, and math, while eleventh graders hit the excellent mark in reading.

Satisfactory standards were met in ninth grade writing and citizenship and in grade 11 math, writing, and citizenship.

"Elementary schools met the excellence standard in attendance, while secondary schools met the satisfactory standard," the spokesperson said. "Since 1990 Garrett County students have continued to top the state average in attendance. The rate of missing more than 20 days is 3.4 compared to the state average of 13.6."

The secondary drop-out rate of 4.51 did not meet the satisfactory mark of 3.0, the reports showed, while the 26.7% of graduates intending to attend a 4-year college is a one year increase of 9.9%.

The board spokesperson said that school principals will release performance reports on individual schools by next month.

At the state level, department of education officials have applauded the teachers, students and communities in their efforts to move aggressively toward school reform.

A spokesperson for the Maryland State Department of Education recently announced that the local school systems have improved in 15 of 18 content areas of the MSPAP, while 19 of 24 school districts posted higher achievement on the tests over last year.

The report also indicates improvement in attendance and a lower drop-out rate over the previous year. "The state as a whole registered improvements in 21 of 30 state measures of school performance and student learning," the spokesperson said.

Grant Awarded

tions in each of the three counties. "But we are doing our best," Vent said of the teams that have been working to submit application as a region.

The current award of School-to-Career grants will go to six regional labor market teams, including Western Maryland.

Vent explained that the $1.2 million grant allocated to Western Maryland will be shared by the three counties. "It will not be split among the counties," she said.

Vent also said that Garrett County is ahead of the game. Of the three elements of the school-to-career system, "we already have two in place." The three elements are the career development program, technology development clusters, and work-based learning.

She explained that various methods of implementing the final element, work-based learning, have been considered. "Some of the ways we can approach work based learning include shadowing experience, intern programs, and mentoring."

Shadowing is a process of following a person who is going about daily routines of a job. Intern programs allow students to work for an employer, under supervision, with stated learning objectives. The mentoring program provides role models to students who share with them information and experience from the workplace.

The hope of the educators developing the school-to-career programs, according to Vent, is that "once the students see the relevance of what we are trying to do, they will want to learn. It is a time they can explore careers." Vent also spoke of the effect that this type of education can have on students' awareness of life's choices. "We are hoping that they will set goals for themselves that are higher."

Concerning the long awaited announcement of the award to Garrett County, Vent said, "We are ready to go as soon as we have the money in hand."

State CPA Association Offers Tax Facts on Charitable Contributions

December is the month when people are most likely their hearts and their checkbooks. Whether you're touched by the season or motivated by a tax deduction, the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants suggests that you familiarize yourself with the rules covering charitable deductions and you'd better hurry. In order to claim a deduction on your 1996 tax return, you must mail your check or deliver donated property by the last day of the year. In order to claim a charitable contribution, you must itemize your deductions on Schedule A of your federal tax return. And your gift must be made to a qualified organization such as a nonprofit religious, educational, scientific, or charitable organization that meets IRS standards. The amount of your deduction may depend on both the type of charity and nature of property contributed. However, donations to needy individuals and families are not deductible.

MOST DONATIONS ARE IN THE FORM OF CASH

In most cases, cash donations are fully deductible. However, if you get something in return, you may not be able to write off the full amount of your contribution. Say, for example, that your $150 ticket to a fund-raising charity ball includes dinner. If the value of the dinner is $50, your deduction is limited to $100, the difference between the price of your ticket and the value of what you received in exchange. For gifts of more than $75, the law requires charities to advise contributors of the non-deductible amount.

Your write-off is also limited when you participate in a charity raffle. If you have a chance to win something, the law says you are gambling, not giving. There's no charitable deduction, but you can deduct your costs for raffle or lottery tickets against any kind of gambling winnings.

And, when you make a contribution of $250 or more in cash or property value, you must have a contemporaneous written receipt from the charity. For donations below that amount, a canceled check will suffice.

PROPERTY DONATIONS

The easiest way to contribute to charities is to write checks, but donations of property from used clothing to valuable antiques can earn you tax deductions just the same. When you donate property, your deduction is generally equal to the fair market value of the property at the time you give it. If the total value of property you donate exceeds $500, in addition to getting a contemporaneous written receipt, you need to file Form 8283, Noncash Charitable Contributions, with your tax return. If you are donating a single item or group of items valued at over $5,000, you also must obtain an appraisal from a qualified appraiser to determine the value of the property.

To make the most of your charitable contributions, you might consider the tax advantage of donating appreciated capital gains property that you've owned for more than a year, such as shares of stock or a mutual fund. When you donate long-term property that has appreciated in value, you earn a deduction for the property's fair market value and never have to pay capital gains tax on its appreciation. By contrast, if you donate cash and keep the appreciated assets, you'll face capital gains taxes when you sell the asset.

DON'T FORGET VOLUNTEER-RELATED EXPENSES

In addition to deductions for contributions of cash or goods to charity, you also generally can write off expenses you incur doing volunteer work on behalf of a charity. While claiming the value of your time or services is not allowable, you can deduct unreimbursed expenses, such as the cost of telephone calls, stamps, stationery, and other materials, as well as 50% of meal expenses and the cost and care of a uniform you're required to wear while performing volunteer services.

When you drive your car in connection with volunteer activities, you're entitled to a deduction of 12 cents per mile, plus out-of-pocket cash expenses, such as tolls and parking. If you use public transportation, you can count the fares as charitable donations. Beyond local transportation expenses, you may be able to write off the cost of travel, including meals and lodging, should your volunteer efforts require you to be away from home overnight. However, there are limits on the deductibility of such expenses when there is any personal or vacation aspect to a trip.

DON'T UNDERESTIMATE THE TAX VALUE OF CONTRIBUTING TO CHARITY

If you're anticipating a big tax bill this year, you might consider making extra charitable donations before year end. Charitable gifts reduce your taxable income and, in turn, your taxes.

The Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants (MACPA) is a statewide professional association comprised of nearly 10,000 CPA members employed in private practice, industry, government and education. CPAs are expert business and financial advisors who have passed a rigorous licensing examination. CPAs are licensed by the state and must adhere to stringent ethical standards and continuing professional education requirements. MACPA provides educational programs, information and services to help CPAs continue to meet high standards of professional service and conduct.

Nearly Two Thousand Enjoy "Christmas In The Village"

Spruce Forest Artisan Village, located on Old Route 40 in Grantsville, was the site of the 11th annual Christmas In The Village, where nearly 2,000 people converged this past weekend to experience an old-fashioned Christmas.

"Nine artisans were on hand to demonstrate their 'old-time' crafts in an 'old-time' setting, nestled under the 75-year-old spruce trees," said Trish Morgan, village administrator. Visitors strolled through the candle-lit village and stopped at the log cabins, schoolhouses, plankhouses, and the Village Church. Hundreds of luminaries were set along the many pathways throughout the Village. Guests also talked with the artisans about their various works.

"This was the first year that we've had nine of our 10 artisans on campus for the festival, and they certainly added to the atmosphere," Morgan said.

Volunteers and organizations involved with this event included Susan Anderson, Spruce Forest Artisans' Guild; Spruce Forest Artisan Village Board of Directors; Tony and Andy Morgan; Corinn and Luke Jordan; Dr. Alta Schrock, Penn Alps Restaurant; Gerry and Sue Beachy; Janet Cavin; Grantsville Community Chorus; St. John's United Church of Christ Bell Choir; Barry Beal and the Oak Grove Mennonite Church Youth Group; Garrett Community College; and David Morgan.

Visitors were given complimentary refreshments in The Village Office and complimentary evening concerts were given in the Great Hall at Penn Alps. The Oak Grove Mennonite Church staged a live nativity scene each evening, complete with Christmas music. The festival door prize, a $20 gift certificate for Penn Alps Restaurant, was won by Mike Miller, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Guests also cast their ballots for the "People's Choice Award," which was presented to the artisan who had the most favored decorated building. The winners were quilter Susan Holt and watercolor artist and calligrapher Bonnie Frederick, who were working in the 1775 Markley House. These artisans were given a $50 cash prize, donated by Morgan.

The 12th annual Christmas in the Village has already been scheduled, and will take place on Dec. 5 and 6, 1997. To volunteer for next year's planning committee or to offer suggestions on festival improvements, persons may call Morgan at 895-3332.

The event was sponsored in part by the Maryland State and Garrett County arts councils.

the project, which will bring Garrett County into compliance with environmental mandates currently prohibiting the spreading of untreated septic tank waste on land. The septage treatment facility will provide a location where septic waste can be disposed of at any time during the year regardless of weather conditions. This is another example of the state's commitment to aid and assist counties to meet the challenges of environmentally acceptable sewage disposal methods."

SECOND PLACE WINNER--Doris R. Paugh, of Oakland, is being handed her $50 second prize by Ad Rep Connie Reams.

The Christmas Wonders Cash Contest evoked a tremendous response from readers of The Republican. A total of 202 entries was submitted, many of them just one or two numbers off the correct total. We congratulate all of you who tried so hard and took the time to count the number of times "Christmas" appeared in the ads. We hope it helped to get you into the Christmas spirit.

In an effort to be fair, we counted four numbers as winning totals. On page 33, Christmas was spelled wrong (Christams) in the Wayne's Water & Wells ad. This was not a trick, just a mistake on our part. We gave credit to those of you who counted it and those who did not. Many also questioned whether the number of times Christmas appeared in the "house ad" on page 2 should be counted, so we gave credit to those who did and those who did not. That made the four winning totals 132, 133, 140 and 141. Twenty-seven of you had one of those totals. Your entries were put into a "hat" and the three lucky winners were chosen.

In case you're wondering where you may have missed the word Christmas once or twice, there were several ads that hid the word quite well. On page 41 it was mentioned twice on the CDs in the V&S Variety ad; it appeared on the cake in the Advantage Florist ad on page 10; and it was hand written in the signature at the bottom of the Design Your Own ad on page 13. Thank you all for entering our contest, and we hope you are looking forward to taking part in the contest again next year.

Southern Girls Fall To Westmar, Roll Over Beall

After dropping a third straight game Monday evening, the Southern High school girls' varsity got back on the winning track in their next by rolling over Beall 71-34, to improve their record to 2-3. The Rams' 60-50 loss Monday was to visiting Westmar, the top-ranked team in Maryland 1A pre-season polls. Southern came into the season ranked number

The Rams held a 13-12 lead at the end of the first quarter Monday night against the Wildcats, but fell behind for good in the second quarter. Westmar was on top 31-24 at halftime and led by 11, 42-31, at the end of the third stanza.

Southern stayed close by hitting 14 of 24 free throw opportunities while the Wildcats managed to make good on only five of 16 at the line. The Rams were outgunned from the floor by a 27-18 margin.

Jill McGowan, one of the area's top players, led the Wildcats with 15 points, while Evie Morris finished with 13 and Helene Duncan added 10.

Pacing the Rams was Kerri Cannon with a game-high 16 points. Meghan Dabney and Lauren Newcomb netted 13 and 11 points, respectively, with all but two of Newcomb's scored from the foul line.

It was the first Western Maryland Interscholastic League loss ever for the Rams, who just joined the league last year and won the WMIL title with a perfect 12-0 mark.

The Southern junior varsity was also defeated in the preliminary game, 31-24, as Staci Moorehead led Westmar with 11 points. Coriell Lewis scored nine for the Rams.

The Rams had little trouble disposing of 1-3 Beall last night in Frostburg, as they moved out to a 12-7 lead by the end of the first quarter, were up 38-20 by halftime, and outscored the Mountaineers in the third period by a 23-8 margin to take a commanding 61-28 advantage into the final quarter.

Dabney led three Rams in double figures as she finished with 14 points. Cannon and Laura Friend each recorded 10 points and Newcomb was right behind with nine.

Beall, whose starting five is comprised of three freshmen and two juniors, was led offensively by Donna Skidmore with eight points. Krissy Jackson and Heather Price each netted seven.

The win improved the Rams' WMIL mark to 2-1.

The Southern junior varsity also easily won the first game, 52-14, behind a 12-point performance by Katelyn McBee. Angel Spataro scored five to lead the Beall jayvees.

The Rams will not play again until next weekend in the Fairmont Christmas Tournament, slated for Dec. 27-28.

Matt Fritz, Matt Sincell Named All-Area In Soccer

Andrews Second Team

MATT FRITZ

MATT SINCELL

JOHN ANDREWS

Two Garrett County high school students, one from Northern High School and one from Southern High School, were among the 14 soccer players in Garrett and Allegany counties in Maryland and surrounding areas in Pennsylvania and West Virginia who were named to the 1996 All-Area Soccer Team by a vote of the area coaches.

Matt Fritz, who played goalkeeper the past three seasons for the Northern Huskies, and Matt Sincell, a four-year starting defensive player for the Southern Rams, were both named to the All-Area first team, while John Andrews, also of Southern, was selected to the second team. Fritz and Sincell were also named to the All-Western Maryland Interscholastic League first team.

Fritz, who is a junior at Northern and the son of Mel and Jo Ann Fritz, Grantsville, recorded an incredible 145 saves in 10 matches this past season for Coach Tom Ables and the Huskies. He allowed a total of only 19 goals, which gave him a save percentage of 88.4, third best in the area. He had one shutout and 20 or more saves twice.

Fritz's best performances of the past season were 26 saves against powerhouse Flintstone in a regional playoff contest, which the Huskies lost by only a 1-0 score, plus a 20-save match in another 1-0 defeat by a strong Allegany team.

This is the third straight year that Fritz has been named to the All-WMIL team.

"Matt is an extremely hard worker and a team player," Coach Ables said. "He is very coachable and is willing to play any position that will help the team. If we are going to be successful next year, we will need the drive, determination, and leadership of Matt Fritz."

Fritz has already been named a co-captain for Northern's 1997 team. He is also a pitcher and shortstop for Northern's baseball team, plus an honor student in the classroom.

"Matt uses his academic skills to enhance his performance on the athletic field," Ables added.

Sincell, a senior, was a co-captain this past season for Coach Tom Powers at Southern and in every match recorded numerous outstanding plays that stopped sure goals for opponents. Under his leadership, the Rams had one shutout in 1996, allowed one goal or fewer three times, and two goals or fewer eight times. Among the Rams' biggest victories was a 2-1 win over Beall in Frostburg. They also lost by only a 2-1 margin to an outstanding Mt. Savage team in the regional playoffs.

"I really admire Matt," stated Coach Powers. "He plays hard, he controls himself, he understands the game, he has respect for everyone else on the field, and he enjoys himself. I'm really going to miss him next year. He'll be hard to replace."

Sincell was also senior co-captain of the Southern boys' cross country team, which captured its fourth straight Maryland 1A championship this past season. He was one of the top seven runners on the state title team in both 1994 and 1995. He also runs hurdles for the Southern track and field team and qualified for the state meet last spring.

Sincell also excels in academics, as he holds a grade point average of just under 3.7 in the honors curriculum. He is a member of the National Honor Society, the Ecumenical Youth Ministry, the Garrett Choral Society, St. Mark's Lutheran Church, and is currently president of the West Virginia-Western Maryland Synod's Lutheran Youth Organization. He is the son of Don and Suzie Sincell, Mtn. Lake Park.

John Andrews, a sophomore and son of Joe and Darlene Andrews, Mtn. Lake Park, was the top offensive player for the Rams this past season and finished ninth in the area in individual scoring. He recorded 12 goals and four assists in 13 matches for the Rams this past season, which gave him 28 points for a 2.15 average.

A gifted athlete, Andrews also excels as a starting guard on the Southern High varsity boys' team and is a member of the junior varsity baseball team. He is also a distinguished honor roll student and a sophomore representative on the Student Council.

"It's exciting to watch John play soccer," Coach Powers said. "He has so much natural ability as an athlete, and more importantly, he's a real nice guy with a pleasant personality; a little hard-headed maybe, but we're working on that!"

Local Gymnasts Fare Well In Morgantown Meet

Three local gymnasts, all members of the G-Force Gymnastics Team of Morgantown, W.Va., were among those who participated in the Season's Greetings Meet in Morgantown on Saturday, and one of them placed first overall in the level 6, age 10 division.

Laura Preston, Oakland, placed first in that division with a total score of 35.60. She won first place in both the vault and uneven bars events with respective scores of 9.25 and 8.65, finished second in balance beam with a 9.20, and was sixth in the floor exercise with a score of 8.50.

Finishing in second place in age group 12 and older was Grantsville resident Randi Beiler, who placed first in the vault with a score of 9.3, second on the bars with an 8.00, fourth in floor exercise with an 8.5, and eighth on the balance beam with an 8.00.

Earning a third place overall award in the age group 11 was Heather Walterhoefer, also of Grantsville. Heather finished second in the vault (9.0), fourth in floor exercise (8.30), fifth on the bars (7.40), and sixth on the beam (7.75).

There was a total of 38 gymnasts representing teams from West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

The Lakers will be off until January 4 when they will be hosted by the Waynesburg College junior varsity.

Ram Grapplers Finish Fourth In Invitational

The Southern High School wrestling team captured fourth place in the nine-team Berkeley Springs Invitational, held this past weekend, as four Rams won championships in their respective weight classes.

Finishing first for Coach Kurt Lear and Southern fans were: Eric Rexrode, who pinned Jeremy Wiles of South Hagerstown in the title bout of the 130-pound division; Tommy Sweitzer, who pinned Blair Miller of Berkeley Springs in the final 152-pound class; Nathan Rickman, who recorded a technical fall victory in the 160-pound final; and Howard Crosco, who also won by technical fall in the 171-pound division championship round.

Cameron High School won the tournament, followed by Berkeley Springs and Williamsport.

Coach Lear is anticipating an excellent season for the Rams, who return four of their five state meet qualifiers from last season. Lost to graduation were Eric Bendler, who went 23-7 last year, Jack Kight (11-11), and Jay Kight (9-10).

While the Rams finished a disappointing 8-10 in the regular 1995-96 season, they placed 10th overall in the state tournament primarily because of a second-place finish by Nathan Rickman and a third-place finish by Tommy Sweitzer.

The other two state qualifiers back from last season, besides Rickman and Sweitzer, are Eric Rexrode and Howard Crosco.

Rickman, a senior, enters the season ranked number two in the state (160-pound) behind the three-time returning state champion from Owings Mills. He finished last season with a 31-1 record, having won first place in the region and in all of the Rams' major tournaments.

"Nathan is the complete package," stated Coach Lear, "dedication, determination, attitude, work ethic,...I could go on and on."

Sweitzer, who is only a sophomore, returns with a 28-3 personal mark from last year and is currently ranked number three in the state in all classifications (1A through 4A, plus parochial schools).

"Tommy is a natural to the sport, and just unbelievable to watch," Lear said. "He's probably on his way to a state championship."

Crosco, a senior who wrestles primarily in the 171-pound division, recorded a record of 28-8 last year. "Howard is our most physical wrestler," Lear said. "No one on our team enters matches with the intensity and mental fortitude that Howard brings."

The returning starter with the next best record is Rexrode, a sophomore, who finished 24-8 last year and a second-place finish in the region in the 130-pound division. "Eric was able to win his first match at the state tournament before finding himself against a returning champ," Lear said.

Also back with a winning record is junior Rodney Bird, who is wrestling at 145 this year. Bird finished at 17-13 last year, and also won first place in the Bi-County tourney. "Rodney has set his sights on qualifying for the state tournament this year after coming up just short last season," Lear noted.

Other returnees and their respective records from last year are: Darrick Dove, junior, 112 pounds, 11-13; Jeff Maule, sophomore, 119 pounds, 8-13; Paul Tepper, senior, 135 pounds, 12-13; Nick Dolan, sophomore, 140 pounds, 7-8; Steve Shifflett, junior, 160 pounds; Ricky Hamilton, sophomore, 189 pounds; and Jeremiah Johnson, junior, heavyweight. New on the team are freshmen Jeremy Sweitzer and John Johnson, both 125 pounds, and Chad Troshak, junior, heavyweight.

The Rams will be in action this evening at home against Fort Hill (7:30) and then participate in the WMIL Tournament at Beall, which will get underway at 10 a.m. Monday.

Northern Girls Whip Salisbury For Second Win

The Northern girls' varsity upped its record to 2-1 last night by whipping visiting Salisbury, 58-39, behind a 19-point, eight-steal performance by Mindy McCarty.

The Huskies controlled the game from the opening tipoff and jumped out to a 19-8 lead by the end of the first quarter. They were up 31-19 at halftime and outscored the Elks in the third stanza by a 21-5 margin to take a 52-24 lead into the final quarter.

Joining McCarty in double figures for the evening were Jill Speicher, who finished with 12 points, and Brooke Brenneman with 11.

Leading the Elks' offense was Rachel Miller, who recorded 17 points. Rachel Deer added nine points.

"It was nice to get everyone into the game this early in the season," stated Husky coach Harv Speicher. "We were able to do that by taking the lead early and really stretching it out in the third quarter."

The Northern junior varsity was edged in the first game, 27-23, as Andrea Deal paced the Salisbury jayvees with 10 points. Heather Nugent netted nine for the Huskies.

Northern will face a stiff challenge Friday night by meeting Westmar in Lonaconing.

Huskies Drop To 1-3 With Loss To Alco

The Northern boys' varsity fell to 1-3 on the season Friday night when they dropped a 75-69 Western Maryland Interscholastic League contest to visiting Allegany.

The Huskies stayed close through most of the first half and drew to within five points in the second half, but the Campers poured it on late in the third stanza and through much of the fourth to record their second win in as many starts.

The score was knotted at 18-18 at the end of the first quarter and, after trailing 35-30, the Huskies suddenly found themselves down by 10 at halftime, 40-30, as Matt Kalbaugh and Nik Gates scored the last five points of the half for Alco.

The Huskies cut the gap to 46-41 with just under four minutes remaining in the third quarter, but the Campers erupted for 11 straight points to take a commanding 57-41 lead by the end of that period and go on to win by the same margin.

Brian Powell led Allegany in scoring with 16 points. Gates finished with 13, Jason Pendergast netted 12, and Kalbaugh scored 11.

The Huskies were led in scoring by Nathan Long with a game-high 17 points and 13 rebounds, while Steve Hinebaugh scored 14 points and Zach Leverenz finished with 12.

The Northern junior varsity sustained its first loss of the season in the preliminary game, falling to the Allegany jayvees, 66-47. Danny Lindner and Sam Long each scored 16 points for the Campers, while Matt Settle and Dustin Long also each netted 16 points for the Huskies.

The Huskies will host their annual Christmas Tournament this weekend, an event that will also include Berlin, Salisbury, and Turkeyfoot. Berlin and Salisbury will meet Friday at 6 p.m., followed by the Northern/Turkeyfoot game at 7:30. The consolation game will be at 6 p.m. on Saturday and the championship contest will tip off at 7:30.

Southern	10	26	37	55

The Rams were behind in the Mt. Savage game almost from the opening tip-off, but stayed close throughout. They trailed by two, 12-10, at the end of the first quarter, were down 31-26 at halftime, and were behind by 10, 47-37, going into the fourth stanza. The Rams were forced to foul midway through the final period and the Indians converted seven of 10 shots to preserve their win and improve their overall mark to 2-1.

Mike Brailer paced the home team in scoring with 19 points, Bill O'Neal netted 14 and dished out six assists, and Corey Twigg scored 13. Pat Robb grabbed a dozen rebounds.

Leading the Rams in scoring were Jared Beckman and Aaron Newcomb with 14 and 12 points, respectively. Ryan Adams and Matt Ruff each recorded nine points.

The Southern junior varsity won the first game, 55-35, behind a 20-point performance by Chris Ewing. Pat Brehm led the Mt. Savage jayvees with 13 points.

It was the one and only shot made all evening by Westmar's Mike Dunn Tuesday night that ultimately meant the difference in the Rams' game with the Wildcats, as Dunn put up a shot from three-point range with just 12 seconds left in the game to give his team the lead for good at 47-46. Teammate Aaron Wilt hit a pair of free throws with about nine seconds remaining, as the Rams were forced to foul him with time running out.

Westmar	10	21	31	49
Southern	10	22	32	46

The Rams held the lead through most of the game, although it was usually by just one or two points, but they had a couple of crucial misses and turnovers in the final minute of play. The score was knotted at 10-10 at the end of the first quarter, and the Rams held one-point leads (22-21 and 32-31) at the end of the second and third periods.

Troy Morris led the Wildcats in scoring with 16 points, while Alex Kinnie finished with 12 and Wilt netted 10.

Pacing the Rams' offensive effort were Beckman and Matt Ruff, who each recorded 14 points.

It was the fourth win in as many starts for Westmar.

The Southern junior varsity improved its record to 3-0 by easily winning the first game, 55-24. Ewing again led the Rams in scoring with 18 points. Shawn Mowbray and Jeff Baker each hit six points to pace the Westmar jayvees.

The Rams will play again this Friday at Beall.

Lakers Snap Three-Game Skid With 97-84 Victory

After dropping three straight games, the Garrett Community College Lakers rebounded into the win column before they take a holiday break by topping host Montgomery-Rockville Community College, 97-84, on Saturday. The win improved the Lakers' record to 5-5.

Ronald Rhodes led a balanced offensive attack with 21 points and five assists, while Jerome Adams and VaShawn Gross each finished with 19 and Aubray Gray scored 11. Gross also pulled down 13 rebounds and Frank Winter grabbed 11. Twelve of Adams's points were scored on three-point shots.

The lead exchanged hands several times in the early part of the game, and after the score was knotted at 21-21 the Lakers went on a 10-2 run and never trailed again. Garrett held a 41-33 advantage at halftime.

Montgomery used effective three-point shooting and chipped away at the Laker advantage after intermission and cut the lead to just two points, 72-70, with 6:49 remaining. Then Rhodes and Gross each scored four unanswered points apiece to put Garrett back up by an 80-70 margin. Montgomery finished with 11 long-range goals.

The home team was led by Derek Hines with a game-high 36 points. Curtis Scott and Raymon Holmes finished with 15 and 13 points, respectively.

"It was a real team effort," stated Dennis Gibson, GCC coach. "It's been a tough seven game stretch on the road. Three of the teams we met were in the national tournament last year."

Breaking With Holiday Tradition: Ten Ways To Reduce Credit Debt

If spending more than you can readily pay has become a holiday custom, it's time to break with tradition. The Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants has ten suggestions to help you start reducing your credit load.

1. Stop shopping on credit. The most important step in any debt management program is to stop running up bills. One effective way to do so is simply to get rid of your credit cards. If you find that step too drastic, consider the following strategy: keep a running list of all of your credit purchases and make sure you set aside equal sums out of your available funds each month. When your credit card bills arrive, then, you'll have the money to pay all the charges.

2. Establish pay-off priorities. Paying off high-interest debt is one of the wisest financial moves you can make. Prioritize which accounts to tackle first by categorizing all your outstanding debt from the highest interest rate to the lowest. If, for example, you have department store charges at 21 percent, bank credit cards at 18 percent, and a home equity loan at 10 percent, begin paying off those department store charges first -- of course, after making at least the minimum payments on all of your credit accounts.

3. Shop for cheaper credit. With dozens of credit card issuers offering rates of 12 percent or lower, there is little reason to hang onto a higher-rate card. Call your credit card company and mention that you're thinking of switching to a lower-rate card. Many banks and credit card issuers will agree to lower your interest rate rather than lose you as a customer. If yours doesn't, make the move.

4. Pay off as much as you can. One expensive money trap is the credit card balance that never gets paid off. Credit card issuers en-courage you to stretch out repayment by setting the minimum payment due each month at as low as two or 2.5 percent of the balance. This schedule allows them to make more money as you pay more interest on your outstanding balance. You can avoid this scenario by paying the most you can each month.

5. Consider dipping into savings. If you already have an emergency fund equal to six months of living expenses, using money in your savings account to pay off high-interest debt is a good strategy. After all, it hardly makes sense to have money sitting in the bank earning three or four percent while you pay 18 percent on your credit card balances.

6. Apply for a home equity loan. One of the cheapest ways to pay off high-interest credit card balances is with a home equity loan. A $5,000 balance at a credit card rate of 20 percent would cost you $1,000 per year in interest costs. By contrast, the same $5,000 on a home equity loan at eight percent would cost you only $400. And, don't forget, the interest on home equity loans, unlike credit card interest, is almost always tax deductible. However, it's important to keep in mind that a home equity loan puts your house at risk if you should default.

7. Refinance your mortgage. You may be able to save a bundle by refinancing if you have a hefty mortgage. But before you rush into it, compare the amount you'll save each month to the refinancing costs. If you plan to live in your home beyond the time it will take you to break even, it's probably worth it to refinance. Just remember, it may take you several years to realize any cost savings.

8. Borrow from yourself. A good option for those who need to borrow is to borrow from yourself. Most 401(k) plans permit you to borrow up to 50 percent of your account balance at an interest rate that is often well below the rate you would pay elsewhere. You may also be able to borrow against the cash value of your life insurance policy or against securities you own. However, you may only want to borrow amounts you can pay back within a reasonable amount of time.

9. Negotiate with lenders. If you're so much in debt that you're having trouble meeting your minimum monthly payments, you may be able to negotiate some short-term relief by explaining your situation to your creditors. Most lenders will go along with a reasonable repayment plan since they would rather be paid even if it takes longer than they would like.

10. Seek help. If your debt is too high for you to handle on your own, contact the Consumer Credit Counseling Service (1-800-388-2227), a non-profit organization that educates and counsels people on the use of credit. The service offers free debt counseling and also will negotiate with your creditors on your behalf and set up a debt repayment plan.

You take care of what passes from generation to generation.

Many families pass heirlooms from generation to generation. Perhaps it's great grandfather's pocket watch or grandmother's china plates. These items are cherished and protected.

The same is true for passing on a family farm. That's why generations of American farmers and ranchers have protected the soil and natural resources for the future with grass waterway strips, planted windbreaks, contour farming, and the latest in mechanical and computer technology. And just like today's urban families, farm families follow extensive reuse and recycling programs.

at the informational session that should the legislation pass, the commissioners could reduce the tax at any rate they choose; it would not have to be phased out strictly over 10 years.

"They will have to do it responsibly, though," the delegate said. "We couldn't handle a sudden million-dollar loss, but we could feasibly phase it out over five or six years -- if that's what the commissioners want to do." He and Hafer both appeared to be in agreement with the position of the GCDC and stated that the legislation should pass with little difficulty.

The commissioners have also requested enabling legislation to allow county authorities to purchase locally made materials even if those materials may be somewhat more costly. Currently, the fiscal authority is bound to accept to lowest qualified bid. In a previous meeting, Edwards had noted that a similar request from Frederick County had been voted down because the neighboring counties felt it would negatively affect them. However, at Saturday's gathering, the delegate corrected himself, noting that even though it had caused a "floor fight," it had ultimately passed.

The legislators will also seek enabling legislation to allow a modification in the code relating to the sale of tax-delinquent properties to include Garrett County under the general tax sale authority contained in the Tax Property Article of the Annotated Code of Maryland. This will apparently simplify certain tax procedures.

The final piece of legislation sought by the commissioners and county attorney (Gorman "Mike" Getty) relates to the attorney's duties in regard to the Garrett County Sheriff. Getty reportedly feels that representing the sheriff as well as the commissioners may at some point constitution a conflict of interest.

Edwards and Hafer will also be seeking a bond bill to help construct the proposed information complex, which is to house the Garrett County Promotion Council, Chamber of Commerce, and possibly other informational entities. The legislators said they are currently waiting for an actual dollar figure for construction.

Edwards said the officials of Garrett County Sanitary District have asked for enabling legislation to allow them to cut off water to individuals who have not paid their sewer bills. Currently there is no recourse for the collection of these bills, and there are apparently numerous outstanding accounts.

District Court Judge Ralph Burnett has asked Edwards and Hafer to seek a minor amendment to the county's probation before judgment law. The change is slight, but according to Edwards, it would enhance the incarceration of first-time DWI (driving while intoxicated) offenders.

Edwards also said he and Hafer will be discussing changes in the funding formula for Garrett Community College. The purpose of any change would be to try to get more money for the local college.

Emily Ferren, director of the Ruth Enlow Library, addressed the legislators about the library's function as a hub for information. She explained that the Legislative Advisory Panel is currently working with the ICC concerning the reception of electronic information. According to Ferren, rural communities are eligible for the largest discount in any fees. She asked that Hafer and Edwards keep attuned to the issue and do what they can to help facilitate any benefits to the local system.

A member of the audience asked Edwards about the economic future of Garrett County, asserting that low-paying jobs are the only ones available throughout this area.

"People can't make a living by flippin' hamburgers," he said. "We have to get some industry in here."

Edwards responded to the concern by expressing his confidence in the future of the county.

"I truly believe the economic picture for our county is pretty bright," Edwards said. "We've come close to getting major companies several times, and I think it's just a matter of time before one or more come in here. We're certainly working in that direction. The personal property tax elimination will help, I'm sure.

"We're not trying to attract people to come here. That may be part of it, but our main goal is to allow our young people to stay here if they want. I'm really very hopeful about that," he said.

Brenda Arnold, an employee of the Domestic Violence/Sexual Assault Resource Center (DV/SARC), was present, and she expressed her gratitude to Edwards for his recent efforts in regaining some of the funding recently lost by the Center. Apparently, the regular grant request had gone to the state, but because it contained some errors, the local entity received only about half of the expected $50,000 (see related story). Edwards was contacted and he immediately contacted the state to ask why the grant had been so hastily denied.

"It's customary that if there's a problem with a grant request, it gets sent back with instructions on how to correct it," Edwards said. "I've never seen a request denied on the first try."

The delegate apparently made some in-roads into the problem, and the local Center may recoup some of its losses.

"We really appreciate your efforts. I'm just here to thank you," Ms. Arnold said.

Edwards said the session will begin on the second Wednesday in January and is to continue until the second Wednesday in April. He said there will be another local information meeting during the session to update residents on the progress of various issues.

"If you have any questions or need more information, don't hesitate to call us," Edwards said.

The delegate can be reached at his Grantsville home at 895-5720 or at his Annapolis office, Room 320, Lowe House Office Building: 1-800-492-7122, ext. 3435.

Senator Hafer's Frostburg home phone is 301-689-4666. His Annapolis office is Room 406, James Senate Office Building: 1-800-492-7122, ext. 3565.

"Knitting In The Mountains" Weekend Coming To Lodge At Sawmill Hollow

by David Foster

The Lodge at Sawmill Hollow, located on the shore of Deep Creek Lake in the Sky Valley area, is sponsoring a three-day "Knitting In The Mountains" event open to interested knitters of all skill and experience levels for the weekend of January 18-20.

The lodge is an eight-bedroom facility built five years ago by Target, Inc., a human service agency based out of Westminster. The lodge runs one-week camps all summer, and during the rest of the year hosts weekend programs providing vacation experiences for people with disabilities who rarely get the opportunity to enjoy time away from their homes. The lodge is now expanding its services to bring together both disabled and non-disabled participants for a weekend of food, music, and plenty of knit-one, pearl-two.

The activity organizer, Katie Reimers, sees the weekend as a unique opportunity for knitters to create new bonds of friendship based on their shared passion. "I just think it's so wonderful to be able to get together with a bunch of people with the same interest...just to be able to say, 'Oh wow, did you see that pattern? Isn't that beautiful?' and have them get really excited, too. It is so essential to get together with other knitters who understand each other. I just think it would be a great thing."

Paul Webster, director of The Lodge at Sawmill Hollow, is also excited about the knitting weekend, but for a different reason. He sees it as "a real opportunity to be able to bring disabled and non-disabled folks together for a genuine sharing experience." Both Webster and Reimers see knitting as an activity that has the potential to bring together people of different walks of life with varying abilities.

"That's what could make this work so well," says Reimers. "I know of people who are blind who knit. I know there are other people with disabilities who can knit." She points out that the knitting guild she is a member of, in her hometown of Buffalo, N.Y., includes different people from all types of backgrounds: children, adult men and women from many careers, and also, of course the stereotypical older folks who knit sweaters and booties for newborn grandchildren. "Really, knitting is something that can be lots of different things to different people. There is something for everyone."

The knitting weekend activities at the lodge include workshops each of the three days, home-style cooking, and musical entertainment on Sunday night. The day and evening activities are open at a reduced fee for commuters from the local area, and 16 beds are available for those who would like to come stay at the lodge for the two nights. Advance registration is required, and interested people can call Paul Webster at The Lodge at Sawmill Hollow at 301-387-8455 for information or to sign up.

Although the schedule includes language that would be familiar only to those who knit--words such as "I-Cord" variations and "Beebles," for example--Reimers stresses that the weekend will be fun for anyone who knows how to knit and pearl. "I think the thing to stress about this weekend is that it's going to be a lot of fun," says Reimers. "It's a chance to get away to a beautiful setting, sit by the fire, enjoy some music and enjoy the company of other knitters."

GCSO Awarded Grant To Help Prevent Violence

The Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention has announced the award of a formula grant to the Garrett County Sheriff's Office. The amount of the grant, which is 75% federally funded, is in the amount of $3,032 and will assist in the funding of a program designed to prevent domestic violence.

Sheriff Randy Sines reported that each year in the United States, between two and six million women are beaten by their husbands or boyfriends. Between two and four thousand women are killed each year as a result of domestic violence. Locally, Sheriff Sines reported that his officers respond to approximately 80 domestic violence complaints annually.

According to a sheriff's office spokesperson, the grant will provide for public awareness and educational programs for community groups. The programs will focus on the laws pertaining to domestic violence incidents and procedures to follow in dealing with domestic violence incidents.

The program will also focus on the training of police officers and dispatchers to enable them to respond more quickly and effectively to domestic assaults and complaints.

The program will be available to community and civic groups. Anyone interested in obtaining more information may contact Lt. Larry Gnegy, Garrett County Sheriff's Office, 334-1911.

RECTORS EMERITI of historic St. Matthew's Episcopal Church, Oakland, is a new title received by two local Episcopal priests during a special service held there on Sunday, Dec. 8. The Rt. Rev. Charles Longest, Suffragan Bishop of Maryland, was the guest celebrant for the service and Rev. Chip Lee, current rector of St. Matthew's and St. John's Episcopal churches, gave the sermon. Rev. Grant, a resident of Oakland, and Rev. Smith, who resides in Mtn. Lake Park, each served the parish for a number of years. Rev. Grant was also made Vicar Emeritus in a separate service at St. John's Church in Deer Park. A reception was held following the service. Pictured above, from left, are: Rev. Longest, Rev. Grant, Rev. Smith, and Rev. Lee.

On To Maturity...

The writer of Hebrews' phrase, "let us...go on to maturity" (Hebrews 6:1) has meaning for all people, especially that long suffering group of people known as parents. Mark Twain put his finger on what causes parents to suffer when he said,

"When I was fourteen I thought my dad was the most ignorant man in the world. But when I became twenty-one I was amazed how much the old man had learned in seven short years."

That reality of such an experience not only causes pain in parents, it also produces maturity. Maturity comes from being able to survive some of the frustrations that come from parenting children, especially during teenage years.

Yet, when the children follow Hebrews' advice and "go on to maturity", then the parents experience a growing maturity that comes precisely because they have hung in there with the growing children.

And both children and parents ultimately come to know the joy of being family and more importantly of being a "maturing family."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IN THE WISE MEN'S FOOTSTEPS
December 22, 1996

Background Scripture:
Matthew 2
Devotional Reading:
Matthew 2:13-23

In the midst of the rush and bedlam of Christmas, we ought to be asking the very same question the wise men asked Herod the King: "Where is he who has been born king of the Jews?"

Surrounded by the decorations, canned carols, and holiday spectaculars, we need to ask where is Jesus in all this? Maybe even in the midst of our busy Christmas schedules at church we need to ask the same thing: where can we find him? There's nothing wrong with decorations, lights, carols, shopping, programs, and all the rest–so long as these things do not make it more difficult for us to find him. The essence of Christmas is not alone to celebrate an event 2,000 years ago, but to seek and find him again as did the wise men.

Where, in your observance of both advent and Christmas can you best and most truly find him who was born Christ the Lord? I can't answer that question for you. Only you can. The wise men of Jesus' day were guided by only a star in the sky. What do we have to follow?

THEY WERE 'TROUBLED'

You will remember that when confronted by the angel Gabriel, Zechariah, the father of John the Baptist, was "troubled." Then Gabriel comes to Mary and she is also "troubled." We may assume that Joseph was also troubled because Matthew tells us that in a dream Joseph was also told not to fear. And when the angels appeared to the shepherds "keeping watch over their flock by night," they were filled with fear and also were told, "Be not afraid."

Then the wise men from the East come to King Herod with this question. "Where is he who has been born king of the Jews," and now Herod is "troubled"! Matthew tells us: "When Herod the king heard this, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him" (Matt. 2:3). (When the king is troubled, the people tremble!)

Each of them is troubled by fear and the angel's message to Zechariah, Mary, Joseph and the shepherds is "Fear not!" But Herod, it seems, is not in communication with angels and instead of inquiring of the Lord, he consults the religious authorities "...assembling all the chief priests and scribes of the people, he inquired of them where the Christ was to be born" (2:4). Where was he to look for the Christ? Where are we to look?

There was a difference between Herod and the others– Zechariah, Mary, Joseph, the shepherds–for they were awed by the good news that the angels gave them. Herod was fearful because the newborn Christ was a threat to him. Here was a man who seemed to be substantially established in his authority, so why is he threatened by a newborn baby? The answer is simple: Herod believed his position as king of the Hews was certainly threatened by the coming of the promised Messiah. For him, the good news was really bad news.

GOOD NEWS/BAD NEWS

The assembled scholars answer Herod's question unanimously: "In bethlehem of Judea, for so it is written by the prophet..." (2:5). This may have been the first and only time in history that a group of scholars were fully in agreement! So threatened is Herod that he determines to murder all the male children of Bethlehem "two years old or under" (2:16).

The wise men still point the way for us: "...going into the house they saw the child with Mary his mother, and they fell down and worshiped him. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts..." (2:11)

They celebrated the first Christmas exactly the way we ought to celebrate it today. We need to earnestly seek the Christ, kneel and worship him. Something about being in his presence brings us to our knees. And, like them, we need to open our treasures and offer him the only gift he wants of us: our lives.

IF YOU COULD GO BACK IN TIME

...to as recent as the early 1950's, scarcely 40 years ago, you'd discover that most of the drugs we take for granted today didn't exist then. Doctors in the 1950's were severely limited - compared to today - in their choice of medicines for treating their patients.

During the past four decades, we have all become the beneficiaries of what can only be described as a "pharmaceutical revolution." Our illnesses can presently be treated with hundreds of new and effective medical compounds that have come into being in recent years. This, then, is an exciting time to be alive. And we, as pharmacists in this community, are pleased that we can play a part in this age of progress.

HOME ECONOMICS
Guide to Better Living

by Irmgard R. Koscielniak
Faculty Assistant, Home Economics

BE PREPARED

As we go into the winter season, we may not like to think about it, but severe winter storms could be on the horizon. Last year's winter reminded us how severe and difficult winter weather can be.

Natural disasters like severe snow and ice storms often strike suddenly and unexpectedly. People cope best when basic preparation and a plan are in place. Here are some recommendations that can help you feel safe and prepared in case severe winter weather strikes our area again this year.

Experts recommend a disaster supplies kit for the home, with a smaller version for the car. The home kit should be stored in a convenient place known to all family members. Food, water and other time-sensitive items need to be replaced twice a year, perhaps most conveniently when clocks are reset in spring and fall.

Store three days' worth of water, which is one gallon per person per day. Water should be stored in clean sanitized containers with tight fitting screw-on caps. Water should be labeled, stored in a cool, dark place, and the water replaced ev-ery six months.

Set aside a three-day supply of nonperishable food. Choose foods that do not need mixing or cooking with water such as: ready-to-eat canned meats, fruits, and vegetables; canned juices, milk, and soup; staples such as sugar, salt, and pepper; high energy foods such as peanut butter, jelly, trail mix, and granola bars; comfort foods such as cookies, candy, cereals, coffee, tea, and soda, and special foods for any special needs such as infant formula or special dietary foods.

Buy or assemble a first aid kit. Kits assembled at home should include items most likely to be needed in an emergency such as: adhesive bandages in assorted sizes; adhesive tape; scissors, tweezers, needles, safety pins; moistened antibacterial towelettes; antiseptic; thermometer; soap; pain relieving medication; and anti-diarrhea medication/laxatives/antacids.

You will also want to select appropriate tools and supplies such as: battery operated radio and flashlight and extra batteries for both; non-electric can opener; utility knife; cash, checks in a safe container; pliers, heavy duty tape, matches, candles; aluminum foil, plastic storage containers, garbage bags, toilet paper, soap, other personal supplies, paper cups, plates, and plastic utensils.

Remember different family members have different needs. Remember to have on hand special medications, glasses, and other needs to care for yourselves for three days in case an emergency strikes this year.

The Cooperative Extension Service hopes that these tips help you to be prepared for a safe and happy winter season. For more information, contact the Garrett County Extension Service at 202 South Third Street, Oakland, MD 21550, or call (301) 334-1990.

McCormick, Dixon Graduate From Nat'l Commercial Lending School

PAT MCCORMICK

JOHN DIXON

William B. Grant, chairman of the board and chief executive officer for First United Corporation, announced that two members of the bank's staff recently graduated from the National Commercial Lending Graduate School at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, Okla. K. Patrick McCormick and John H. Dixon were among the 1996 graduates.

The National Commercial Lending Graduate School is sponsored through the American Bankers Association. The school was divided into two sessions and focused on the issues of managing a lending portfolio and the concepts behind policy decisions that affect profitability, risk and liquidity of the loan portfolio. During the first session, participants used a computer-based simulation model to learn how to manage a loan portfolio. Based on the knowledge they gained in the first session, each participant was given an interim problem which involved an analysis of the commercial lending department of a bank. This analysis included an overall analysis of the bank, a critical review of the lending function, and recommendations and strategies of a curative nature. Session two brought all the participants together through lecture and panel discussions, to exchange ideas and views on concepts gained through the completion of the interim problem.

"I look forward to Pat and John applying this lending education to their respective jobs. It has proven very beneficial for other First United officers," said Grant.

McCormick began his career with First United in 1974. He has held numerous positions within the bank, including customer service officer and community office manager. His current position is assistant vice president and commercial services officer. McCormick is a graduate of Bishop Walsh High School in Cumberland. He obtained his associate in arts degree in business administration from Allegany Community College with a grade point average of 4.0 and was the class valedictorian.

He is a graduate of the National Consumer Lending School, sponsored by the American Institute of Banking in Norman, Okla. McCormick is also a licensed life and health and a property and casualty insurance agent in the state of Maryland, and a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cumberland, where he serves as chairman of the finance committee. He also is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Cumberland and holds the office of president-elect.

McCormick and his wife, Patty, reside in Cumberland. They have two children, Brandon and Molly.

Dixon began his career with First United in 1973 as a note teller. During his career he has held the positions of credit manager, mortgage loan officer and community office manager. His present position is commercial services officer.

Dixon is a graduate of Terra Alta High School, Terra Alta, W.Va. and Morgantown Business College, Morgantown, W.Va. During his career at First United he has attended the American Bankers Association Bank Compliance School and Maryland Banking School. He is a licensed life and health and property and casualty insurance agent in the state of West Virginia.

Dixon is president of Terra Alta/East Preston Alumni Scholarship Committee. He is also a past treasurer of Garrett County Chamber of Commerce.

Dixon and his wife, Becky, reside in Terra Alta, W.Va. They have two children, Brian and Melissa, who are both attending West Virginia University. Brian is in the medical school, and Melissa is studying pharmacy.

LEGION DONATES TO AREA ORGANIZATIONS - Proctor Kildow Post 71, American Legion, Oakland, recently made donations to area non-profit organizations, including the Service Club Basketball League and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, among others, which use such funds to help with their operating expenses. Above, Jim Seeders, Post 71 commander, left, presents a check to Fred Gregg, president of the Service Club Basketball League. Below, Seeders presents a similar check to Mike Saunders, secretary of the OVFD, who accepts the donation on behalf of that organization.

Christmas Eve worship services with scripture readings, Holy Community, and a closing candlelight service are planned for Trinity at 7:30 p.m. and St. John's at 10 p.m.

Regular Sunday worship times during the winter quarter are 9:30 a.m. at St. John's and 11 a.m. at Trinity. Rev. Raymond Brown, pastor, invites all to attend.

Omission Noted

A photo caption in last week's issue of The Republican noted the donation of a set of World Book Encyclopedias from Northern High School's class of 1996 to the school's library in memory of deceased classmates Timothy Durst and Robert "Bo" Durst. It was learned this week that the donation was also made in memory of another deceased classmate, Annette Jenkins.

ST. JUDE'S NOVENA

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever. Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, help of the hopeless, pray for us. Say this prayer nine times a day for nine days. By the eighth day, your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. Thank you, St. Jude. RMM

42-1t

With deepest appreciation for your friendship and good will in the past, thanks and Merry Christmas.

Meet Garrett County's NEW TEACHERS

JAMES FRIEND

New faces at Friendsville Elementary School include the new principal, Douglas Gaither, recently appointed to the top position, and James Friend, who has been employed on a part-time basis through the Title I Program as a math resource teacher.

Mr. Gaither, who began his career with the Garrett County Board of Education as a traveling art resource teacher based at Friendsville Elementary School 11 years ago, has now returned there as the principal after serving in that capacity at Bloomington School for the past four years. He completed his undergraduate studies in art at Fairmont State and earned his master's degree in administration and supervision at Frostburg State University.

While serving as a traveling art resource teacher, Mr. Gaither worked with students at Route 40, Loch Lynn, Kitzmiller, and Red House elementary schools as well as those at Friendsville. He later worked for two years as a classroom teacher for students in grades four and five at Friendsville just prior to his appointment as principal at Bloomington.

He resides in McHenry with his wife Renata and daughters Leslie, Alayne, and Olivia. Of his new position, Gaither said: "It's like coming home. The staff has been wonderful and the parents are very accepting. Everyone is open to new ideas."

James Friend graduated from Allegany Community College and Frostburg State University with a degree in elementary education with a math concentration. His student teaching experiences were both completed in Garrett County schools. He worked with Dorothy Miniek's kindergarten at Route 40 Elementary School and with Mary Jo Johnson's second grade class at Accident Elementary. He has served as a substitute teacher for both Allegany and Garrett Counties.

Mr. Friend currently resides in Grantsville with his wife Latisha and their daughter Ashleigh.

"Jamie is fantastic," Gaither said of the new employee. "He is like an experienced teacher. He has excellent plans and is already implementing dimensions of learning in his lessons. He is very mature and has benefitted from his many past educational experiences."

Friend is currently teaching two classes of first grade and two classes of fifth.

Paugh Retires After 38 Years Guard Service

Leroy M. Paugh retired from the Maryland Army National Guard in 1986 with 38 years of service. He entered the National Guard Jan. 7, 1948, at age 17.

The weekly drills were held at the armory, which was temporarily housed at the renovated St. Matthew's Episcopal parish house, now the Garrett County Historical Society Museum. In 1950 the Oakland Armory was built, and guard members attended drills there.

On Dec. 1, 1948, 2nd Lt. Frederick M. Kisner accepted command of the armory from his predecessor, 1st Lt. Stuart F. Hamill Jr.

During his years with the Guard, Paugh served under 11 company commanders, including Cpt. Arthur C. Calhun, Cpt. Mahlon W. Yost, Cpt. Kenneth L. May, 1Lt. Paul D. Hostetler, Cpt. William B. Wood, Cpt. Donald E. Smith, Cpt. Kemeth W. Metheny, Cpt. Robert L. Wempe, Cpt. Donald E. Smith, and Cpt. Dewight C. Metcall.

Paugh's National Guard unit provided various community activities such as collecting food for the needy of the county, helping the Mtn. Top Chamber of Commerce with Christmas treats for children, and participating in a community basketball league.

The Oakland unit also helped in a two-day search for missing crew members of an Army B-26, which crashed in a mountainous area of W.Va.

Paugh served most of his 38 years as a cook, holding the rank of Spc.-6. He received many awards and citations during his service. Most recently he was honored by the Governor of Maryland and the state military department.

As a state employee, Paugh worked as a caretaker and maintenance person for the Oakland Armory from 1952 to 1996, a total of 48 years.

Rodney Wayne Tichinel recently graduated from Marine Corps Recruit Training at Parris Island, S.C.

While at Parris Island, he received training in first aid, general military subjects, physical fitness, Marine Corps history, and weapons familiarization.

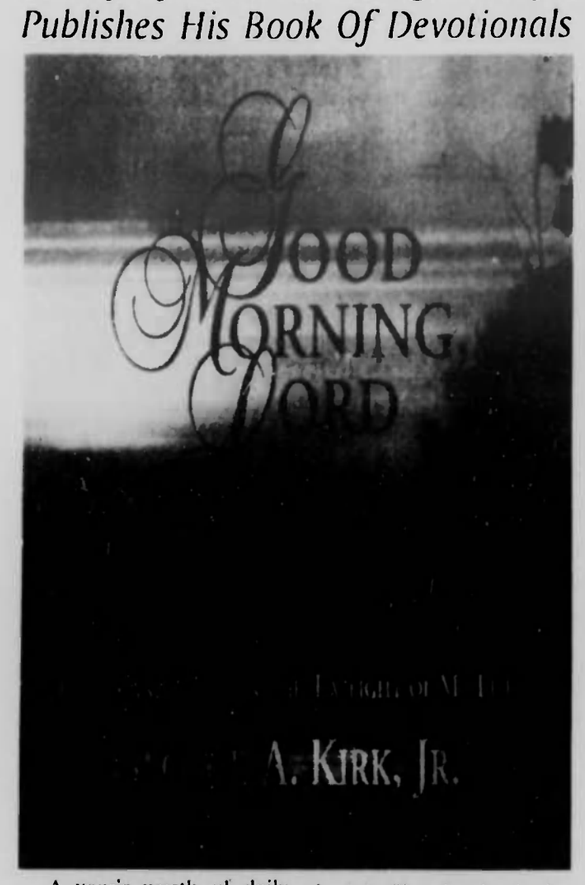
Family Of The Late George Kirk Jr. Publishes His Book Of Devotionals



A year's worth of daily devotionals, authored by the late George A. Kirk Jr., have been compiled and published into a book titled, Good Morning, Lord. Now in its second printing, the book is "not designed to take the place of regular quiet time with the Lord, but rather to enhance it."

Kirk, who spent most of his life in Terra Alta, died on June 7, 1993, after a battle with cancer. He decided to share his personal thoughts and experiences recalled during what he described as "the twilight" of his life, and wrote much of the book while he was battling the disease. He finished his last entry just a few weeks before his death.

An example of the devotions in the book, titled "A Good Beginning," starts with a passage from Genesis 1:1: "In the beginning God created the heaven and earth," followed by Kirk's thoughts: "Dear Lord, what a privilege to say to You, 'Good morning.' As we begin another year, month, week, and yes, a new day, may I fully realize to Whom I am speaking. You made everything in absolute perfection. Even after mankind had marred it, You bought it back with the precious blood of Your only and blessed Son, Jesus. Again, dear Lord, it is so wonderful to start each day calling upon You. I surely do want to thank You for loving me."

Kirk was born on March 22, 1928, in Tunnelton, and grew up in Terra Alta. He graduated from Terra Alta High School and attended West Virginia University. He spent much of his career in the banking business and served for many years as president of the First National Bank of Terra Alta. He was actively involved in social and civic organizations and, in 1966, began holding Bible meetings in his home. He was instrumental in forming Hillcrest Chapel in Terra Alta.

In 1987, Kirk retired from the banking business and moved with his wife, Mary "Blanche" (Benson) Kirk, to Florence, N.C., to help with the work at Florence Bible Chapel. In the fall of 1988, Kirk was diagnosed with prostate cancer and underwent surgery and radiation therapy. He was still able to preach and help with the work in Florence, but his health continued to deteriorate. In September 1992, he and Blanche moved back to Terra Alta to be near their sons, Barry and Jerry Kirk, and daughter, Beverly Kerns.

In the year following his death, Kirk's daughter began transcribing his writings and, in 1995, the first edition of Good Morning, Lord was sent to the printers. The results of that effort was the distribution of 1,000 books to friends and acquaintances all over the United States. Because of the positive response, Kirk's family decided to print a second edition, with all the profits to be used to print Christian literature.

Good Morning, Lord features 200-plus pages of devotions and daily Bible references and is currently available for $7 at area retailers, including Lamplighter Christian Books in Oakland; Calico Cat and Country Accents in Kingwood; The Rose Trellis in Terra Alta; and Cabin Crafts, located in the lodge at Alpine Lake Resort. It may also be ordered by mail by sending an additional $1.25 for shipping and handling to Mary B. Kirk, 100A Fourth Street, Terra Alta, WV 26764.

AN AMERICAN HERO
MOTHER TERESA

Everyone knows the self-sacrificing nun Mother Teresa of India is a hero — but an American hero? She is now.

She has created a network of homes, shelters, aid stations, and people who give aid to thousands of the most helpless human beings. She leads 517 Missionaries of Charity centers around the world. Wherever there is human suffering, the octogenarian nun is likely to appear.

She was born of an Albanian family in Yugoslavia in 1910 and became a citizen of India in 1948. But America reached out and claimed her.

Mother Teresa is only the fourth individual to be chosen as an honorary U.S. citizen. Others include Winston Churchill, who led Great Britain during World War II; Raoul Wallenberg, the Swedish diplomat who saved as many as 20,000 Jews during the war; and the founder of Pennsylvania, William Penn.

The symbolic award does not give Mother Teresa the vote or any other right or privilege. But when she was given the award in the middle of November, 1996, she added it to other recognition, such as the 1979 Nobel Peace Prize.

When India gained its independence from England, she moved into the slums of Calcutta and began to help the poorest of the poor, lepers and the dying. She worked tirelessly, and was able to find others who would join her.

A building was donated for her headquarters. After she set up a system for delivering food and medical care, she started a school and then a place where the dying poor could pass away peacefully. She extended help to everyone in need.

When she received the Nobel Peace Prize, she used the money to establish new shelters, buy medical supplies and expand her work. She told a biographer: "I am not important. Write about the work and the people.

Always modest and always working hard to help others, she gives honor to this country by becoming an honorary American citizen.

Q. I have an old paperweight. No matter how much I wash it, it still feels greasy. Does that lessen its value?

A. Some old glass always feels greasy. It doesn't mean that you haven't cleaned it correctly. The greasy feel, a result of the glass's chemical composition, doesn't change the value.

Q. I have the metal Slinky toy I played with as a child. Since it is probably one of the original ones, it must be valuable.

A. You must be old enough to have played with Slinky in 1945 to have an early model. That is the year Slinky was introduced in Philadelphia.

The earliest Slinkys were made of an expensive blue-black Swedish steel. The company soon switched to a more-silver steel. In the mid-1960s, the Slinkys were coated, and the color was even more silvery. In 1973, metal tips were put on the ends of the Slinkys.

There have been many types of Slinkys since then, including gold-colored, colorful plastic, animal and frog Slinkys, and even a train.

An original blue-black Slinky sells for about $100. The company is making a 50th anniversary Slinky of dark colored steel that is to be sold in a copy of the 1945 box.

Q. I have some flatware marked "Nevada Silver." Who made it?

A. Daniel and Arter Globe Nevada Silver Works made silver-plated goods during the late 1800s. The company was located in Birmingham, England.

Home Tips

THREE HANDY TIPS — I read Home Tips in the Family Section of the Sunday edition of the Herald-Leader in Siloam Springs, Ark. I would like to share three tips with other readers.

1. Recently I arrived at my destination to discover I had failed to brush my black canvas shoes. I happened to have in the car one of those mesh bags which grapes come in at the grocery store. I folded it up and found it to be a wonderful shoe brush — also a good clothes brush. I now carry a supply of those mesh bags in the car to use as a brush or for whatever I may need them. They also make good scrubbers for vegetables or pots and pans in the kitchen.

2. Instead of greasing and flouring a cake pan, cut a liner to fit the bottom only out of a brown paper grocery bag. After cake is done, let it cool in the pan, then run a knife blade around the sides. Turn the cake out and peel off the paper. This also works well for loaves of dessert breads. It's much easier to handle a cold cake and the pan cleans more easily.

3. I use a 24-oz. cottage cheese container to hold water for cats or dogs. In order to keep this lightweight container from being turned over and causing a spill to clean up, set it inside an empty facial tissue box that has a long oval-shaped opening in the top. No more spills!

I enjoy your column in the newspaper and have used tips from other readers. Thanks for all the help. Stella Tate II, Bentonville, Ark.

Effort To Save The Honeybee Is Initiated

A fund-raising program with the purpose of saving the honeybee has been initiated by a coalition of General Mills, Inc., (manufacturers of the breakfast cereal "Honey Nut Cheerios"), United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) entomologists, and representatives of the American Honey Producers Association. The effort was noted recently by West Virginia Agriculture Commissioner Gus R. Douglass in a press release from the WVDA.

According to Dr. Eric Mussen, professor of entomology at the University of California, the invasion of parasitic mites (Varroa mites and the honeybee tracheal mite - HBTM) that has come from Latin America "now represents the single greatest threat to America's food chain and agricultural industries."

Almost all of America's wild honeybees have been eradicated by the mites since they first arrived in the United States, and more than 60% of the country's commercial honeybees have been killed by the tiny, spider-like creatures.

Douglass said beekeepers and beekeeping organizations will have to work fast and in unison to make the most of the General Mills "Save the Honeybee" campaign. The focal point of the effort is a box top redemption program through which General Mills will contribute 25 cents to beekeeping research for each Honey Nut Cheerios honeybee caricature clipped from the front of the cereal box and returned to the company. There will be no instructions printed on the cereal boxes promoting the redemption program.

Gene Brandi, chair of the American Beekeeping Federation's Research and Technical Committee, said that beekeepers and other interested individuals need to "spread the word" if the campaign is to reach its goal of $100,000 to be donated to bee research.

To help in the effort, Brandi gave the following suggestions: persons may call the Help Save the Honeybee Hotline at 1-800-362-2006 and request the full information packet. Participation on the hotline is one way General Mills will be judging the response to determine whether the program should be extended or expanded.

Persons may also contact local news media and ask for support in the campaign, and encourage state and local beekeeping associations to spread the word and personally participate in the box top redemption program.

Schools and youth groups are also encouraged to collect the Honey Nut Cheerios bee caricatures, Brandi said.

"General Mills is still evaluating its plans for Help Save the Honeybee," Brandi said. "By our response to this first effort, we can encourage them to go beyond their initial program and raise even more money for honeybee research."

For more information about the campaign, persons may contact Help Save the Honeybee Hotline at the number noted above. The box top redemption address is Help Save the Honeybee, P.O. Box 5450, Minneapolis, MN 55460-5450.

Northern GOP Women Share Holiday Meal

The Northern Garrett Republican Women's Christmas luncheon was held last week at the Hill Top Inn with the members joining in holiday-related readings and music.

Cora Bowser led the devotions and after lunch read The Twelve Days of Christmas. Jean Friend read a poem titled Whistling at Their Work. The members then played a game, led by Mrs. Bowser, called "Santa and his Reindeer."

Lois Rowe and Iona Broadwater performed several songs with Ms. Broadwater playing the guitar. She also became a new member during the affair.

A total of $25 was collected for the group's fund-raiser and Zeola Robeson was the winner. Dues were collected and members not present are reminded to soon get them to Louise McKenzie, treasurer.

The group needs a new president, according to a spokesperson, and volunteers are being sought. The group will not meet again until March.

Present for the holiday lunch were Cleda Baker, Stella Edwards, Orpha Miller, Jean Friend, Hazel Margroff, Cora Bowser, Mary Durst, Laura Turner, Zeola Robeson, Louise McKenzie, Carolyn Ganoe, Lois Rowe, Twila Mae Fike, and Diona Broadwater.

GCMH COPES WITH "MASS DISASTER" - As part of its preparedness training, the staff of Garrett County Memorial Hospital was tested Friday evening in the area of emergency medical care, as a mock disaster staged at the Wisp Ski Area in McHenry provided some 15 "patients" with a wide variety of injuries to the Garrett Memorial ER. Ambulances from both Southern and Northern rescue squads transported the injured to the hospital, where they were quickly triaged as to severity and then "treated" by physicians, nurses, and other hospital personnel. Being unloaded at the ER door above is a victim with a rather gruesome-looking leg injury, made all the more dramatic with realistic make-up. Above right, nursing ataff console a patient while Dr. Karl Schwaim "gloves and maaka up" to begin treatment. An unexpected curve thrown at the ER staff was when ambulance driver Dave Moon of the Southern Rescue Squad suddenly "paaaed out" at the wheel of the vehicle and became one of the patienta. He is pictured below left being pushed into the ER by Randy Friend, a member of the hospital custodial staff. Also in the photo is Jeff Hinebaugh, the manager of Garrett Memorial's ER, who was one of the coordinators of the drill. The big smile on the face of Dr. Peg Kaiser, below right, was the surest sign that this was only a drill and, fortunately, not the real thing. See story.

Disaster Preparedness At GCMH Measured Via Drill

By Pam Grebow

It wasn't ER last Friday night at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, but we can all rest assured in the emergency preparedness of our hospital staff. Friday evening, they conducted a disaster preparedness drill designed to simulate a real emergency and assist the hospital in evaluating its responsiveness.

The "disaster" was a simulated chairlift fall at the Wisp Ski Area, and the severity of injuries ranged from a handaged hand to someone carrying several "fingers" in a plastic bag. The use of barbecue sauce to resemble blood, blue coloring to simulate hypothermia, and eyedrops to dilate pupils added drama to the event.

Hospital staff provided stretchers, wheelchairs, and blankets as necessary for the patients, who received identifying tags according to the nature and severity of their injuries. Although staff members were told to expect approximately 25 patients, only 15 were actually transported to the hospital. Of these, six went through ambulatory care, two were admitted to the hospital, and two were transported to Ruby Memorial Hospital in Morgantown. An end to the drill was called before the tally was completed on the remaining patients.

The drill was planned by a disaster committee that includes 2" representatives from throughout the hospital with significant input from Jeff Hinebaugh, Emergency Room manager. Southern Rescue Squad crews transported patients from the Wisp, and a Northern Rescue Squad unit transported a patient to Ruby Memorial.

During the drill, hospital staff members also coped with a fire alarm and with the arrival of several actual patients, who were promptly informed about the drill situation. Walter P. Donalson, president of Garrett Memorial, said, "From my perspective, it went extremely well."

Patients arrived at significant intervals, as would have occurred in an actual disaster that distance from the hospital. Although the hospital was more than adequately prepared to receive them, Donalson noted that some support service areas couid have used additional staff. Unlike in an actual emergency, when hospital stall are paid for their time on duty, staff members participate in drills on a voluntary basis. Donalson feels

PSI Ordered In Dist. Court For Man Convicted Of MDOP, Battery

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered by Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett for a Grantsville man found guilty in recent Garrett County District Court proceedings of one count each of malicious destruction of property (MDOP) and battery.

Timothy D. Wilt, 32, who pleaded not guilty to the offenses, will be sentenced upon completion of the investigation. He was ordered by Judge Burnett to remain in jail until the sentencing.

Wilt was charged with the offenses by the Maryland State Police on March 31 after a trooper responded to McGreevy's Bar & Grill for a reported disturbance. Upon his arrival, the trooper learned from witnesses that the defendant had kicked in the front door at the establishment and struck Everett W. Morgan four times in the head with a hammer. Morgan reportedly suffered four lacerations, a black eye, minor skull fracture, and a concussion as a result of the attack.

In other district court news, Jay S. Dixon, 26, Swanton, pleaded not guilty, but was found guilty of assault. He was ordered to serve 30 days in jail for the offense. An additional charge of disturbing the peace was not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

The charge against Dixon was filed by DiAnna G. Durst, Grantsville, who reported that the defendant attacked her while she was getting into a vehicle. She claimed that Dixon nearly shut her leg in the car door, and raised his fist in an attempt to strike her.

In a related case, also filed against Dixon, he was handed another 30-day jail term (to be served concurrently with the other charge) after being found guilty of malicious destruction of property. Initially ordered to serve a 90-day term, all of the sentence was suspended except for 30 days. Dixon also pleaded not guilty to this offense, but was ordered to pay $500 in restitution to the victim, Roy Jenkins, Grantsville by March 1, 1997. He was placed on one year of supervised probation upon his release from incarceration, and was ordered to obtain his General Education Development (GED) certificate while in jail.

The above charge was filed against Dixon by Jenkins following the incident involving Durst. Jenkins claimed that during the assault, Dixon slammed the door to his vehicle and destroyed the door latch. He also kicked the door and an outside mirror, jumped on the hood of the vehicle, bent the antenna, then jumped off the car and kicked the bumper. The total damage to the vehicle, according to the charging statement, was approximately $1,000. As the car was driven away, the defendant was said to have shouted obscenities to its occupants.

Robin E. Moats, 33, Oakland, pleaded guilty in district court to a charge of welfare fraud, and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered by the judge. According to court records, Moats fraudulently obtained food stamps and Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) benefits from the Garrett County Department of Social Services to which she was not entitled.

Moats apparently applied for and received welfare benefits during May, June, and July, valued at $1,869, after she gave a false address to officials at the social services office. It was learned that she gave the officials an address in Oakland when she was living with her husband in Friendsville.

Paladin S. Roy, 33, Oakland, pleaded guilty last week to a charge of inhaling a harmful substance. He was ordered to serve a six-month jail term, and was credited with 55 days for time already served.

Roy was arrested for the offense on Oct. 14, after the Maryland State Police found him in possession of a can of gold spray paint and a plastic bag. According to the charging statement, the defendant had gold paint on his hands, face, nose, mouth, shirt, and shoes at the time of his arrest, and admitted to the trooper that he needed help.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for a young Swanton man found guilty in last week's district

Drivers Urged To Participate In "Lights On For Life" On Friday

In a symbolic nationwide observance to focus attention on the impaired driving issue, the Garrett County Health Department is joining law enforcement, businesses, government agencies, and private citizens throughout Maryland and the entire United States in keeping their vehicle headlights on as they drive during the day this Friday, December 20.

Citizens are asked to participate in the "Lights On for Life" day in remembrance of persons killed or injured in alcohol-related crashes and to show their support of law enforcement's watchful eye on drunk drivers.

"The 'Lights On for Life' observance is a small way you can encourage local law enforcement in their efforts to eliminate the tragedy of drunk driving," said Diane Lee, director of highway safety at the Health Department. "Last year alone, seven people died in Garrett County because of alcohol-related crashes."

Friday is also the beginning of "National Holiday Lifesaver Weekend" (December 20-22), when law enforcement agencies in Garrett County and across the nation will be stepping up efforts to enforce impaired driving and other traffic safety laws.

In a local effort, police agencies across Maryland, including Garrett County, have received additional funding to conduct a "Blanket Patrol," allowing them to "blanket" Maryland's roads with a greater police presence to intercept and deter impaired and unsafe drivers. The funds were made available by the Maryland State Highway Administration's Office of Traffic and Safety.

These events are part of December's month-long designation as National Drunk and Drugged Driving (3D) Prevention Month. Law enforcement, anti-DUI groups and others are participating in various activities throughout the month to call attention to the continued drinking and driving problem in the country, according to Ms. Lee.

Today Maryland is participating in the national kick-off for National 3D Prevention Month with a Live National Satellite Broadcast at the Shock Trauma Center at the University of Maryland Medical Center.

"These combined events will help focus attention on the impaired driving issue and hopefully prevent people from getting behind the wheel after drinking," Lee said. "We want to send a positive message to the community and remind the public that during the holidays, law enforcement will be cracking down on those who choose to drink and drive and place innocent people's lives in jeopardy."

"Lights On for Life" is sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) and a coalition of government, corporate and advocacy groups, the National 3D Prevention Month Coalition.

Prices Drop During Fourth Quarter Of Marketbasket Survey

Consumers got a break at the supermarket line during the fourth quarter of 1996, according to the American Farm Bureau Federation's latest informal survey of retail food prices. Farm Bureau's Marketbasket Survey showed a 52 cent drop in selected grocery items during the fourth quarter.

Americans paid $32.27 for 16 select items on the survey during the fourth quarter, down from the third quarter's $32.79 figure. It marked the first decrease of the year as food prices inched higher during the first three quarters. The cost of Farm Bureau's marketbasket is $1.96 higher than a year ago.

While pork products were a big factor in price increases earlier in the year, they also contributed to the drop during the fourth quarter. A pound of bacon, which jumped 68 cents during the first three quarters, dropped 23 cents this quarter. Shoppers paid $2.34 a pound for bacon this quarter, compared to $2.57 during the third quarter. A pound of pork chops cost $3.27, down nine cents.

Dave Miller, livestock policy specialist with AFBF, isn't surprised by the drop in bacon prices. Normally, bacon prices fall this time of year. "Bacon is still somewhat of a seasonable product," said Miller. "It is a summer-demand product. The high demand for bacon is still for sandwiches. We are out of the bacon, lettuce and tomato season."

Miller added that the trend is changing somewhat with fast-food restaurants such as McDonald's and Burger King adding bacon to many of their popular items.

Of the 16 items surveyed nationwide, seven jumped in price from the third quarter. Following a trend of the past year, dairy prices increased during the fourth quarter. A pound of cheddar cheese increased 22 cents to $3.21. A gallon of whole milk, which jumped 13 cents during the third quarter, slowed down a little this survey with a four-cent increase to $2.58.

The higher milk and cheese prices partially reflect increased grain prices farmers had to pay during the past year.

Other increases included ground chuck, $1.66 per pound, up 12 cents; mayonnaise, $2.56 per 32-ounce jar, up 12 cents; sirloin tip roast, $2.77 per pound, up eight cents; eggs, $1.10 per dozen, up four cents; and cereal, $2.62 per 10-ounce box, up one cent.

A five-pound bag of flour represented the sharpest price decrease during the fourth quarter, dropping 27 cents to $1.17. Other decreases included Russet Potatoes, $1.53 per five-pound bag, down 24 cents; apples, 92 cents per pound, down 18 cents; whole fryers, 91 cents per pound, down six cents; white bread, $1.09 per 20-ounce loaf, down six cents; corn oil, $2.36 per 32-ounce jar, down six cents; and vegetable oil, $2.17 per 32-ounce jar, down six cents.

AFBF, the nation's largest general farm organization, conducts its informal quarterly marketbasket survey to help track retail food prices to ensure they are in line with prices received by the nation's farmers and ranchers. While grocery prices have gradually increased throughout the year, the farmers' and ranchers' share remains steady. The farm value of each food dollar spent in the United States is approximately 22 cents. Labor, at 35 cents, is the largest component of the consumers' food dollar.

Volunteer shoppers from 35 states participated in the latest survey in mid-November. Even with the 62-cent drop, the $32.27 figure represents the second highest average since the survey started in 1989. The third quarter average this year was $32.79.

Ed Wiederstein, president of the Iowa Farm Bureau, and Joseph Dial of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission are among the speakers.

Commodity conferences--including an outlook on tobacco policy with Rep. Ed Bryant (R-Tenn.)--and marketing education breakout sessions will round out Sunday's events.

AFBF President Dean Kleckner will hold a news conference at 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

A general session will kickoff Monday's events, with President Kleckner delivering his annual address. Sen. Kerrey, a member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, will address members during the morning session.

Monday afternoon's conferences include a session on "Property Rights: The Unfinished Agenda." Rep. Collin Peterson (D-Minn.) will speak.

Later Monday afternoon, President Kleckner will headline a session on "NAFTA: Views from Both Sides of the Border." "What's Needed for a Successful Regulatory Reform Campaign," a discussion led by Rep. David McIntosh (R-Ind.), will also be held Monday afternoon.

Tuesday's general session will feature Gen. Powell's keynote address. Powell served as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff under Presidents George Bush and Bill Clinton.

Tuesday afternoon's conferences will include "Whole Farm and Ranch Planning: Environmental Compliance and Planning - What Farmers and Ranchers Need to Know." Conference speakers will include Charles Kruse, president of the Missouri Farm Bureau who chaired a recent Farm Bureau task force studying whole farm and ranch planning.

Kleckner Says To Make China Adhere To WTO Rules Before Admittance

China should have to abide by all World Trade Organization rules before it is allowed membership, says American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner.

Kleckner, attending the WTO ministerial meeting in Singapore this week, said he has heard rumblings that the United States will push for China to be admitted into the WTO sometime next year. He believes China should be required to open its markets and adhere to other WTO edicts before being let in.

"China has not made the commitment to open its markets," Kleckner said. "It should live up to the rules that are there, not just promise to live up to them after they are allowed to join the WTO."

Some trade groups are encouraging the WTO to grant membership based on China's promise to live up to trade and human rights requirements spelled out in the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

Kleckner worries granting admittance now will remove any incentive China has of opening its markets to foreign products. Several trade disputes--many resulting from unfounded claims of tainted U.S. farm products entering China ports--have erupted between the U.S. and China this year.

"We have the leverage of making them live up to world trade rules before they come in," said Kleckner. "Once they're in the WTO, that leverage is gone. I don't buy the notion that we let them in, and then we can either push them or shame them into playing by the rules."

The American Farm Bureau recognizes the WTO as the principal international forum governing world trade. AFBF supports the principles of GATT and encourages all countries to adhere strictly to them. Farm Bureau is not convinced China has met the criteria, and fears admittance now would further erode key provisions outlined in the GATT agreement.

"With 20 percent of the world's population, China represents a huge chunk of the world's economy," said Kleckner, president of the nation's largest general farm organization. "It is not a member of the WTO for good reason. China simply hasn't agreed to play by the rules."

From Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Christmas to me has always been a time to reflect. Perhaps it's the weather, more time spent indoors, the time of year, or the birth of the Christ child in a stable so long ago that brings me to this state of mind. But, I enjoy looking back on the year just past, or maybe looking back over many years to gain perspective and to find a reason to continue, because that's what farmers seem to do best--continue. Asking most farmers why they farm is like asking them why they breathe. Yes, there are always plenty of difficuhies and discouragements, and often they seem overwhelming, but farmers continue to persevere, giving back to the world more than they'll ever take from it.

My reflections remind me that farmers come from a proud heritage. From a line of people who believed in honor, whose word meant something, who fought for our country's liberty and a belief in God. Today, farmers' roots run deep. The land sustains them. They realize that the only way to move forward is to know where they came from. Farmers love the land and struggle to maintain it, for the land is their future; their children's future; their grandchildren's future. It's not money, prestige, power or fame that keeps farmers on the land, but family, faith, and tradition. It's hard work to make a living farming, but it's also preserving an honorable way of life.

At this time of year, I'm always glad that I'm a farmer, and my good wishes go out to you all--all of you who farm, and you who are farmers at heart--I wish a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Farmers' Market Coupon Program Tops $1 Million

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced that the Maryland Farmers' Market Coupon Program that provides participants in the Women's, Infants' and Children's (WIC) Program with coupons to be cashed in at farmers' markets has redeemed $1,081,614 since the project's inception in 1989.

"This is a tremendous achievement for this experimental effort that began in 1989 with seven farmers' markets participating. In 1996, we had 45 farmers' markets authorized to take the coupons. Our farmers have found that in many cases the customers who come with the coupons, return to shop regularly at the market on their own. They are learning that the prices and the quality of our Maryland grown fresh produce cannot be beat," Riley said.

During 1996, some 21,200 eligible WIC households received farmers' market coupons and they were used to purchase $254,104 in locally grown fresh fruits and vegetables.

The coupon program is administered by the Maryland Department of Agriculture in cooperation with Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene state WIC office. The goal is to expand the use and awareness of community farmers' markets, and to provide additional resources and nutritional education to WIC participants. The Maryland Food Committee provides the financial administration of the coupon redemption process by processing coupons and issuing reimbursement checks to farmers. Seventy percent of the funds for the project come from an annual federal grant.

The program's popularity continues to grow and has expanded to all areas of the state. In 1996, farmers' markets that participated were located in Allegany, Anne Arundel, Baltimore City, Baltimore County, Calvert, Caroline, Carroll, Charles, Dorchester, Frederick, Garrett, Harford, Howard, Kent, Montgomery, Prince George's, St. Mary's, Talbot, Washington, Wicomico and Worchester counties.

Nutrient Management Program--A Good Deal for the Farmers!

Presently, there are more than one hundred Garrett County Farmers participating in the nutrient management Extension program. I would venture to say that most of the farmers are very pleased with the assistance that Bill Knepp, our Nutrient Management Consultant, has provided for the last few years. We know that over the past few years the program has saved farmers a lot of dollars through efficient management of the nutrients available on the farm. Probably, the most dollars have been saved by taking advantage of the nitrogen already on the farm and in the soil. Statewide, the records show that the farmer averages around $22.50 per acre savings in fertilizer cost. What does the program have to offer you? The finished product will be a complete and accurate nutrient management plan for all your crops. The plan will coordinate all of the available nutrients on the farm such as animal wastes and cover crops with the commercial fertilizer to meet the needs of your crops. We will even do the job that most of you dislike, pull the soil samples. Testing the soil is the only cost associated with the program; however, if you have a special "deal" with an Agri-business, we can use their testing results. Also, we provide free soil nitrogen testing on corn in early summer to determine if you need to apply additional nitrogen. Bill will collect the manure sample which is tested for nutrient content, free of charge by the University of Maryland and help you calibrate your manure spreader. Each year, Bill will work with you on updating the plan for next season. If you are interested in participating or obtaining additional information, just give us a call. Now is the time.

Rabbit and Goat Producers Cooperative

In the very near future you are going to be hearing a lot about the "Healthy Meats Specialties Co-op, Inc." We have been working very hard for the last few months in organizing this cooperative which will direct the production, processing and marketing of rabbit and goat meat products. There is still much work to be completed before we are up and running; however we need to start recruiting people who are interested in producing goats. There is a good market available and we are in the position to start processing and marketing goat meat. Rabbits will come a little later. If you're interested in goat production, please give me a call (301-334-1990).

Food For Thought

We will be closed Dec. 22-25 for the holidays.

Holiday idea: cooked sweet potatoes mashed with ginger, as much brown sugar as you dare, drained crushed pineapple and allspice. Serve hot and smile at the compliments.

Beer-mustard marinade does wonderful things for pork chops or fresh bratwurst. To a cup of beer (alcoholic or not) add ¼ cup Dijon or coarse mustard, 3 Tbs. molasses, 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, plus ½ tsp. nutmeg and ¼ tsp. cloves.

Common table salt is finely ground and usually contains additives to keep it free flowing. Kosher salt, with larger grains, adheres better to foods.

Leftover garlic bread getting stale? No problem! Grate it into delicious bread crumbs for chicken or vegetables.

Everybody's favorite, peanut butter, lasts 6 months unopened, just 2 to 3 months after it's opened (longer in the fridge). Nobody's favorite – fruitcake – seems to last forever; give it to someone else.

court proceedings of one count of petty theft.

Jason W. Hale, 20, who pleaded guilty to the offenses, was not prosecuted on four additional counts of petty theft. He will be sentenced upon completion of the investigation. According to court records, Hale was a participant in the Sept. 6 theft of 16 houseplants, some valued at more than $200, from various residences in Oakland and Mountain Lake Park. The plants were apparently found in his possession.

Jessica L. Orr, 19, Oakland, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty of one count of battery. The charge was filed on March 26 by Shawn L. Gittere who claimed the defendant grabbed and hit him, and then threatened him with a knife.

David M. Sisler, 26, Oakland, pleaded guilty to one count of battery. He was sentenced to serve six months in jail, but all of the sentence was suspended except for 60 days. He was also ordered to pay $111.32 in restitution to the victim, Donna Ferguson, Oakland, and $200 in restitution to the Domestic Violence Center. The judge placed Sisler on one year of supervised probation, and ordered him to attend batterers' and addictions counseling.

The charge against Sisler stemmed from a Sept. 7 altercation when he reportedly shoved Ferguson down several times, then grabbed and squeezed her throat, and pulled her hair.

Donald C. Virts, 22, Mtn. Lake Park, was found guilty in district court of violation of his probation. A 10-month jail term was reimposed by the judge. Virts was convicted in October 1994 of the theft of a check that belonged to George Evans. Virts reportedly found the check in his post office box and cashed it by forging Evans's name to the back.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for a Mtn. Lake Park man convicted of trespassing. Rocky Tichinel, 38, who pleaded not guilty to the offense, will be sentenced upon completion of the investigation. He was, however, found not guilty of an additional charge of fourth degree burglary.

Conditions of the judge's decision state that Tichinel must have no contact with the complainants, David and Barbara Smith, nor with any member of their family.

Tichinel was charged with the offenses on Aug. 10 by David A. Smith after an altercation on Smith's property when the defendant reportedly pushed Barbara Smith.

In a related case, Donald C. Virts, 22, Mtn. Lake Park, was not prosecuted on a trespassing charge that stemmed from the same incident. Barbara Smith claimed that Virts had entered her porch uninvited and had threatened others while there.

Chad E. Steyer, 18, Mtn. Lake Park, was not prosecuted on one count each of felony theft and third degree burglary. He had been accused by Frank Cummings of the theft of a stereo that had been in the home of Rocky Tichinel. The incident reportedly took place during the same time as the above altercation between Tichinel and the Smiths.

Two out-of-state men pleaded guilty in last week's district court to one count each of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), and were sentenced to serve 48 hours in the Garrett County Jail. Michael V. Simcox, 33, Carnegie, Pa., and Michael S. Showalter, 34, Pittsburgh, were also fined $150, placed on six months of unsupervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service by Feb. 1, 1997. Additional charges of possession of CDS paraphernalia were not prosecuted.

The charges against the men stemmed from their July 20 arrest by park rangers at Swallow Falls State Park, who found them to be in possession of CDS while at a campsite in the park. Rangers confiscated cigarette rolling papers, a plastic bag containing a small amount of marijuana, and a wooden pipe with marijuana residue from the men.

Eight persons were in court last week to face charges of drug possession after they, too, were arrested at a Swallow Falls State Park campsite. Park rangers charged Penny J. Meredith, 23, and David J. Agner, 23, both of Akron, Ohio; Forest C. Harman, 19, and Lynda M. Miller, 19, both of McHenry; Johnny D. Miller, 23, Melissa J. Miller, 21, Sean E. Beatty, 21, and Michael A. Spicer, 23, all of Morgantown, W.Va., with the offenses on July 13, after they were found with a smoking device filled with partially burned marijuana.

Beatty pleaded guilty to possession of CDS and was ordered to serve two days in jail. He was also placed on six months of unsupervised probation and fined $155. A charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted. Harman also pleaded guilty to CDS possession and was granted probation before judgment. He was placed on six months of unsupervised probation, fined $155, and ordered to complete 20 hours of community service by Feb. 1, 1997. He was not prosecuted on the drug paraphernalia charge.

The charges against Meredith, Agner, Johnny Miller, Melissa Miller, Lynda Miller, and Spicer were placed on the stet docket. Each was ordered to complete 20 hours of community service, with the exception of Johnny Miller, who must complete 40 hours.

Randall F. Frye, 22, Swanton, was found guilty of violation of probation stemming from a conviction for telephone misuse. The judge opted to withhold sanctions, extended Frye's probation until Feb. 1, 1997, and ordered him to complete 17 hours of community service. The defendant was found guilty in April of leaving a threatening phone message on a phone belonging to Darry Riley, a ranger with the Department of Natural Resources.

United Way Preparing For Role In Health, Human Service Delivery

Officials from seven area counties met recently to discuss a five-year vision to make the local County United Way the focal point for community response to government changes affecting delivery of health and human services throughout the region.

In a meeting facilitated by David L. Roule, director of organization development at The Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the group worked to erase political lines as part of a strategic plan to assess local needs. They discussed ways for County United Way to serve as a clearing house to coordinate response to anticipated changes in current programs that are critical to the quality of life for local residents.

The committee agreed that the 1997 mission of County United Way should include developing a community vision of accepted levels of financial support to be offered local agencies and the services those organizations would be expected to provide. Those assessments would then be projected into a five-year strategic plan.

CUW assists member agencies who fill human service needs in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, as well as Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Mineral, and Pendleton counties in West Virginia. The local United Way is currently working to fund a $786,902 budget targeted to meet identified needs in 1997.

"This five-year vision could then become a master plan for identifying and collaborating local support that may be needed in response to dramatic or incremental decreases in government funding and services as a result of federal budget reductions," stated CUW Executive Director Harry King.

The committee drew from the expertise of human service professionals involved in local social issues. The committee included Marvin Beckman, coordinator, Garrett County Department of Social Services; Mike Bland, Mineral County coordinator; Barry Burton, Allegany County administrator; Harry King, County United Way executive director; Monty Pagenhardt, Garrett County clerk; Ken Pack, executive director of the Eastern West Virginia Community Action Committee; Dick Paulman, director, Allegany County Department of Social Services; and Sue Radko, West Virginia Department of Health and Human Services.

The representatives will reconvene in January to begin the task of preparing a strategic plan for achieving the CUW mission. "This is a big first step," commented King, "to bring together the collective efforts of people who work every day to solve local social issues that confront our communities and to work toward common solutions."

GCC Offering Skills Training Program In Jan.

A new short-term training program will be offered starting January 13 at Garrett Community College. The new Employment Skills Training is designed to quickly prepare program completers with the skills needed to assume positions in various work settings, as well as meet the needs of local employers.

The training, according to Julie Yoder, program coach, addresses the needs of those with limited job experience as well as those of laid off or displaced workers who need training in order to transition into a new field. It is designed to provide trainees with short-term inexpensive training which will result in immediate employment opportunities in the Garrett County area.

The training program will be 600 hours in length and will include an on-the-job work experience component. Classes will meet Mondays through Fridays from approximately 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and some evenings for 17 weeks. Those who qualify can use Pell funding to assist with the tuition and books for the program. It is also anticipated that there will be dislocated worker funds available to assist with the tuition and book costs.

The specialty areas that will be a part of the original program have been selected because they offer the most immediate employment opportunities, according to Yoder. The Nursing Assistant specialty will prepare students for nursing assistant and geriatric aide positions in local health care settings. The Computerized Office Applications specialty will prepare students for work in computer applications related areas. The Small Business Management/Customer Service specialty will prepare students for work in local business and hospitality settings. It will also be valuable for those wanting to start their own small businesses. The Office Skills specialty will prepare students for work in a variety of office settings.

The training will begin with approximately 280 hours of core skills training in math, language, computer applications, problem solving, fitness, and interpersonal and job keeping skills. Simultaneously, students will be trained in one of the specialty areas. After completion of the specialty training, students will be placed in work sites for practical on-the-job training.

Upon the successful completion of the work site experience, students will be awarded short-term training certificates and will be assisted by their job coach in obtaining employment.

During the initial development stages of the program the staffs of the local employment office and Western Maryland Consortium assessed the types of jobs most available in the area. Local employers were then surveyed in order to determine their needs related to hiring employees. Surveys assessed the qualifications and characteristics employers are most seeking in new employees. An advisory board consisting of local employers has been formed in order to keep the program focused on employment related training.

This program is being developed and implemented by the small business programs area of the Continuing Education Division of GCC. Sandy Major is serving as the program coordinator.

Those interested in learning more about the program are invited to contact Yoder at 387-3089

We're the couple who says, "A floor without a rug is like a kiss without a hug."

There is a list of folks we know all written in a book, and every year at Christmas time we go and take a look. And that is when we realize those names are all a part, not of the book they're written in but deep inside our hearts.

For each name stands for someone who has touched our life sometime, and in that meeting they've become a special friend of ours. We really feel that we're composed of each remembered name, and our life is so much better than it was before they came.

Once you've known that "someone," all the years cannot erase the memory of a pleasant word or of a friendly face. So never think our Christmas wish is just a mere routine of names upon a list that are forgotten in between.

For when we send a Christmas wish that is meant for you, it is because you're on that list of folks we're indebted to. And whether we have known you for many years or few, one of the greatest gifts that God gives is having friends like you.

Merry Christmas & Happy New Year

Burton S. And Margaret Thomas Plan Golden Anniversary Celebration

Burton S. and Margaret (Burkett) Thomas, Deep Creek Lake, will observe their 50th wedding anniversary on Dec. 22.

Mrs. Thomas is the daughter of the late Harry and Etholyn (McIntyre) Burkett who lived in Frostburg. She is a graduate of Beall High School in Frostburg.

Mr. Thomas is the son of the late Charles Sr. and Mary Belle (Sherrick) Thomas who were residents of Terra Alta, W.Va. He is a graduate of Terra Alta High School and West Virginia University, where he earned his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. He is a U.S. Army veteran of World War II, and served as a staff sergeant with the 84th Infantry Division.

The Thomases met at the Stone Tavern, Deep Creek Lake in August 1946. On Dec. 22 of that year they were married at the First Presbyterian Church, Frostburg. After a small reception at the bride's home, the newlyweds spent their honeymoon in New York City.

Mr. Thomas was employed by Westinghouse in Pittsburgh and retired after 30 years of service with the company. He and his wife lived in Bethel Park, Pa., where they reared four children: Linda (Thomas) Jordan (deceased), Larry A. Thomas, Richmond, Va., Richard S. Thomas, Washington, Pa., and B. Todd Thomas, Deep Creek Lake. They also have four grandchildren.

In February 1986 Mr. and Mrs. Thomas moved to and built a home at Deep Creek Lake. They are members of the Faith Evangelical Free Church, Mtn. Lake Park, where Mr. Thomas is a member of the Brotherhood and Mrs. Thomas serves as an alternate deaconess. She also is a member of the Women's Civic Club in Oakland.

The family is planning an anniversary party for their parents on June 14, 1997, at Will O'the Wisp. The delay is for the convenience of their guests and because of the unpredictable December weather in Garrett County.

Miss Foster To Wed Mr. Detrick

Carolyn D. Foster of Crellin, and Floyd W. Detrick Jr. of Mtn. Lake Park, announce their recent engagement.

Miss Foster is the daughter of N. Joyce Wilt Foster of Crellin and the late John H. Foster. She is a 1976 graduate of Southern High School, a consumer at Garrett County Lighthouse, a member of the Lighthouse Board of Directors, and a member of the Underwood Church of the Brethren.

Mr. Detrick is the son of Floyd W. Detrick Sr., Oakland, and Dorothy J. Ours Bever, Swanton. A 1984 Graduate of Northern High School, Mr. Detrick attended Garrett Community College. He is a consumer at Garrett County Lighthouse, is a past member of the Lighthouse Board of Directors, attends Underwood Church of the Brethren, and is an illustrator for G.E.M. Publications of Accident.

A 1997 summer wedding is planned.

City Police Serve Arrest Warrant For Oakland Man

A warrant was served by the Oakland City Police on Dec. 14 for the arrest of Stephen Mitchell Jones, 20, Swanton, who has been charged with malicious destruction of property.

According to a report filed by Officer Chris Feller, the warrant was served after a domestic dispute at Sheetz in Oakland. The victim, Jamie Leigh Bowers, 20, Mtn. She later filed charges at the Garrett County District Court and the warrant was issued.

Jones was initially held on $500 bond after his appearance before a district court commissioner. He has since been released.

DWI ARRESTS

Three DWI (driving while intoxicated) arrests were logged at the city police office during the past two weeks.

Thomas Meshack Mattingly, 38, Oakland, was arrested and charged with DWI on Dec. 3 after he reportedly failed to stop at a stop sign as he traveled through the intersection at Fourth and Oak streets.

Officer Shawn Fratz conducted the 2:03 a.m. arrest. Mattingly was later released on his own recognizance.

Stuart Fairfax Hamill III, 47, Oakland, was arrested on a charge of DWI on Dec. 10 after Officer Fratz observed him operating a 1993 Chevy van at a high rate of speed on Third Street.

Following his 1:55 a.m. arrest, Hamill was released on his own recognizance.

Jeffrey Eugene Travis, 32, Oakland, was charged with DWI on Dec. 11 after Officer Feller saw him back his 1987 Mercury Marquis into the roadway in an unsafe manner.

Following the 11:24 p.m. arrest, Travis was released on his own recognizance.

MEC Web Site Design Contest Is Announced

Students and instructors in Maryland's elementary, middle, and high schools, and colleges are being invited to use their creativity to re-design the Maryland Electronic Capital's (MEC) home page on the World Wide Web. Governor Parris Glendening announced the contest last week at the Maryland Technology Showcase held at the University of Baltimore.

"The MEC allows citizens to access interactive government services, library collections, and local government information from their home computers," Glendening said. "We want contestants to use their imaginations and come up with innovative graphics and dynamic designs."

All students and instructors in Maryland's public and private schools - from kindergartners to graduate school students - are eligible to submit entries. The contest will run through Jan. 24, 1997. A winner will be announced on Jan. 31.

The designer of the winning home page layout will receive $5,000. There will be second and third place winners in both high school and college categories. The two second place winners will each receive an advanced computer with a Pentium processor. The two third place winners will each be given gift certificates for use at a computer supply store. In addition, AT&T will provide free internet access to all contestants.

To enter, the contestant must develop a new design for the MEC home page and the graphic links to the first level of information under the home page. The MEC home page can be found at http://www.mec.state.md.us/mec. Entries must be submitted on a 3 1/2" disk.

Entries must be received by the end of business on January 24, 1997, at the MEC Operations Office, 210 Main Street, Annapolis, MD 21401.

For more information about the contest, persons may contact Greg Barlow at 410-974-2570. An internet link providing information on the contest is being developed, a spokesperson noted. Contestants are encouraged to register for the contest by faxing their names and school affiliation to the MEC Operations Office: 410-974-2633.

Disaster

that participation would have been even higher at another time of year, when staff members would not have faced holiday commitments.

The drills are held at least twice per year, in compliance with state requirements and those of a voluntary accrediting agency. Friday's drill procedure incorporated feedback from the previous drill, which involved a simulated bleacher collapse at Southern High School.

Donalson remarked that a number of concerned citizens called or visited the hospital after hearing about the "accident" on radio scanners. Phone calls were referred to the Community Services Building, where hospital staff worked to keep the emergency room clear of outsiders.

In an actual disaster, media personnel also would have been required to wait in the Community Services Building. Because of the drill status, however, a photographer and reporter from The Republican were permitted to observe the process freely.

"You might have to remove his kidney," one hospital employee was overheard to comment, regarding a patient impaled on a ski pole. Without missing a beat, his colleague replied, "You'd certainly have to remove the barbecue sauce."

B&L Closing Deals Blow To County's Disabled Workers

By Peggy Santamaria

The closing of Bausch and Lomb has had widespread effects in Garrett County. The economic impact has been felt by employees and their families.

There is another group of workers suffering from the B&L decision to close their Oakland facility. These are contract workers employed through the Appalachian Crossroads program who are now without work and without income. Appalachian Crossroads Program Coordinator Jonathan Wynn commented on this difficult situation, saying, "It's tough enough for anyone in the workforce now, but for those with developmental disabilities it may be even tougher. We have barriers and stigma to overcome."

Some of the goals of the Appalachian Crossroads day program are to help people with disabilities to develop work skills, to find employment, to stick with it, and to be successful, Wynn said.

Supported employment at the day program offers three types of employment, he explained. There are enclaves, a group of 4 to 6 people working in one particular location; mobile units that perform tasks at various locations; and individual placements, those people who work independently in the community.

The form of employment sought for a client "depends what is best for that person," Wynn said. "Some start in an enclave and eventually grow into other forms of work. Some transition into community jobs. It depends on what they want and what is best for them."

One method used by Appalachian Crossroads to achieve these goals is the creation of partnerships with businesses by contracting to provide services. There were two such contracts with B&L, Wynn, recently explained.

In 1988 a grounds maintenance contract was signed to employ five people for five hours per week from April through October. The maintenance crew was monitored by a job coach on site, who supported the workers and tracked the quality assurance.

The following year a second contract was made between Appalachian Crossroads and B&L. This agreement provided employment for six people, 20 hours per week, year round.

"The contracts continued," Wynn said. "At the end we continued to work without a contract because of the situation at B&L."

Since the closing of B&L was announced, with pending loss of contract employment for the Appalachian Crossroads workers, Wynn said he has been able to assist two of the workers find independent placement with community employers.

There is an economic impact resulting from loss of these jobs for the Appalachian Crossroads workers that touches the workers, their families, and the larger community, Wynn explained. "Wages paid over seven years to disabled people exceed $180,000. By earning wages, the disability checks received by these people went down and approximately $50,000 was saved in disability payment reductions to these workers."

He also pointed out that many of these workers were the primary wage earners in their families.

Wynn continues to look for other avenues of opportunity for employment in the community. "Some employers are hesitant. They wonder if they will get quality work." He stated with certainty that the training and dedication of the Appalachian Crossroads workers has been tested and proven already in the community.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON - The above an oil painting on canvas by Garrett County artist Jennifer Evans, is one of the works featured in the 1997 Garrett County Arts Council (GCAC) calendar. Of this work Evans has said, "In my painting, Sunday Afternoon, I've tried to capture the color, warmth, and harmonious lifestyle typical of these mountains and valleys." The other artists whose works and comments appear in the calendar are Gary Yoder, Crede Calhoun, Ron Skidmore, Laura Stutzman, Elee Bookout, Sonia Pratt, Jim McNeil, Sophia McDonald, Ken Bauer, Ben Sincell, and Joan Glotfelty Sussman. The cover of the calendar depicts the award winning poster by the seventh and eighth graders of Southern Middle School, Stained Glass Window. These calendars are on sale throughout Garrett County and the proceeds from sales will be used to help fund local arts programs. Anyone who wants more information on where to purchase these calendars may call GCAC at 387-3121.

Rotary Christmas Project Delivery Set For Saturday

The Oakland Rotary Club will culminate its 16th Annual Christmas Project this Saturday morning when volunteers gather at the Oakland Armory to deliver food, toys, and clothes to needy families throughout Garrett County.

Thanks to the generosity of local citizens and visitors to the county, the project has grown from supplying food and gifts for only 10 families in 1981, to more than 400 this year, according to Rotarian Dave Bolinger, chairman of the Christmas Project. Gift trees were placed in over 20 businesses and stores throughout Garrett County with need tags listing requested clothing and toys for needy children. Christmas-spirited shoppers were then able to remove a tag and purchase the requested items and return them so the volunteers could prepare them for delivery.

The numerous volunteers from civic clubs and organizations will fill the food boxes and sort and wrap gifts at the armory beginning at 6 p.m. on Friday.

"This time of final preparation for delivery of gifts and food is one of the most fulfilling parts of the Christmas Project," said Kathy Zimmerman, Rotary Club president. "It brings people together in a kind of spirit that is reflective of the Christmas season--thinking more of others than ourselves."

Although Wednesday was the day gifts were to be returned to the gift trees, persons may still participate in the project by giving monetary donations. They may be mailed to: Oakland Rotary Christmas Project, P.O. Box 741, Oakland, MD 21550.

Accident Judges Select Holiday Contest Winners

The winners of Accident's 15 annual holiday decorating contest have been announced. Judging for this event, sponsored by the mayor and town council members, took place on Dec. 17. Becky Smith, clerk at Town Hall, said that the prizes were awarded in one commercial and three residential categories of exterior building display.

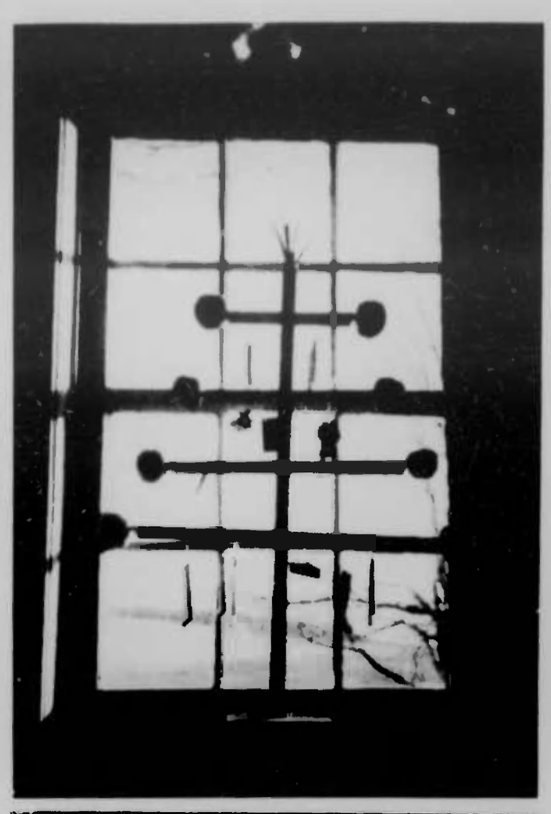
The first place winners in the Traditional category were David and Virginia Fike. Honorable mention went to Hobert and Dot Bowser.

In the Creative category, first place went to Steve and Tracy Fratz, and honorable mention went to Ron and Connie Wagner.

First place for Simplistic category was awarded to Chuck and Ruth Anne Hahn with honorable mention going to Carol Slawson.

In the commercial category, first place was won by The Accident Thrift Store and More, and honorable mention went to Phenix Technologies, Inc.

The first place winners had plaques placed in front of their homes and they received $20 checks, Smith said, and added, "The mayor and town council members thank everyone who participated in the contest and they wish everyone a happy and safe holiday."



A STEP BACK IN TIME - Visitors to the Drane House in Accident on Dec. 14 were graciously received into the early 19th century in Garrett County. Built in the late 1700s, the renovated log home of the Drane family was furnished and decorated by the Accident Cultural and Historical Society (ACHS) to reflect the residence as it may have looked over a century ago. For the first time in many decades guests were welcomed into the cabin for a Christmas visit. Pictured on the left is an apple stack. Peggy Close, a volunteer on the Drane House project, said this symbolized good luck and was used by early settlers in place of a Christmas tree prior to the 1850s. It was loaned by Schoolhouse Earth, near McHenry. In the living room, pictured above, were furnishings collected for temporary use on this occasion by ACHS members. The spinning wheel is a permanent donation to Drane House from the Garrett County Historical Society. The Christmas tree, a hemlock, would have been the type used in the last century, according to Becky Aiken, co-chair of the project. The stairway in the picture on the right was decorated rag garland, hemlock, and raffia bows. The corn husk nativity scene on the table was also on loan from Schoolhouse Earth and is typical of the time period. Anyone wishing to visit Drane House over the holidays may make arrangements by contacting Accident Town Hall, 746-6346, on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

MSP Plan Drunk, Drugged Driver Enforcement Effort

At the direction of Maryland State Police Superintendent Colonel David Mitchell and in cooperation with the Maryland Department of Transportation and local police agencies, Maryland state troopers will participate in "Operation Round-Up," a statewide drunk and drugged driver enforcement effort aimed at making the state's roadways safer this holiday season.

As part of National Drunk and Drugged Driving Prevention Month, all Maryland State Police regions and barracks, including Barrack W at Mellenry, will saturate interstates and state roads in a concerted effort to rid Maryland roadways of impaired drivers. This maximum enforcement effort will kick off at 7 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 20, and operate through Saturday, Dec. 21, at 3 a.m.

The Maryland State Police have been awarded federal funds to place an additional 146 troopers on the road during this enforcement period, according to Mitchell.

New Year's Eve Dance Set For Local Students

The Garrett County Association of Student Councils (GCASC) will sponsor a New Year's Eve dance on Monday, Dec. 30, from 8 until 11 p.m. in the Southern High School cafetorium.

This dance is open to all Garrett County middle and high school students, grades 6-12. Admission will cost $4.00, with light refreshments included. Music will be provided by "Mr. Z."

GCASC represents all middle and high school students in the county and meets monthly to discuss issues relating to students and their schools. Council members encourage students to attend this dance, which will serve as an opportunity to socialize together during the holiday season.

Resident, Business Decoration Contest Winners Named

The Friendsville Mayor and Town Council have announced the winners of this year's Christmas decoration contest. Winners were named in residential and business categories.

Winning $50 and first place in the residential category were Melvin and Twila Fike. Second place was won by Terry and Debra Spear, who were given a $30 prize, and third place was won by David and Tammy Sines, who were awarded $20.

The winning business was Twila's Old Mill Restaurant ($50). Second place was won by Ken's Tavern ($30), and third by Judy's Velvet Brush ($20).

The judges for the contest were Emily Ferren, Stephen Herman, and Bette Welch. They informed the town council that choosing the winners was a difficult task because of the beauty and variety of decorations. The mayor and council commended the townspeople for making the effort to take part in the contest.

LET IT SNOW, LET IT, LET IT SNOW - Traveling along the Accident-Bittinger Road, one may glimpse furry beasts with horns spanning 3 feet. These wondrous creatures, who don't seem to mind the cold and snow at all, are Scottish Highland cattle and they belong to Alva and Lucy Maust. "My husband calls them his weed-eaters," she said, when asked just exactly what these critters are. He explained that these animals are "kind of like goats in that they eat everything." They even help each other get a snack from time to time. "One of them will use a horn to pull down the top of a sapling and hold it there while the others eat the leaves," he described. These gentle animals will let Maust pet them when he brings them hay and grain in the winter. When he sells them in the fall he will replace them.

Man Is Charged With Arson In First Degree

A Crellin man was arrested this week by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office on a warrant issued by the Deputy State Fire Marshal. David W. "Rod" Welch, 34, has been charged with arson in the first degree, arson threat, and reckless endangerment.

Welch is alleged to have set fire and burned a trailer on Preston Lane in Crellin. Prior to the event, Welch apparently threatened to burn down the residence, according to the report.

The fire occurred on Dec. 1 and fire fighters from Oakland, Terra Alta, Deer Park, and Gorman responded to the blaze. The mobile home was occupied by Linda Burgess, according to reports. The fire fighters were apparently able to keep the blaze confined to one room, but smoke and heat damage was extensive throughout the dwelling. There were no injuries.

In other sheriff's office news, a Mtn. Lake Park man was charged with several violations following an altercation with deputies. Charles A. Craver, 27, was apparently charged by his wife for assault and malicious destruction of property. As officers arrived to place Craver under arrest, he allegedly resisted the orders of the two deputies.

Craver was charged with second degree assault, malicious destruction of property, and resisting the lawful order of a sheriff's deputy.

Richard L. Craver, 44, Hutton, was arrested on Dec. 23 following a reported altercation with his wife. The sheriff's office report states that two deputies were summoned to the home of Richard and Deborah Craver. Officers reportedly witnessed the defendant assaulting Mrs. Craver and placed him under arrest. He allegedly resisted arrest by assaulting both deputies and by damaging a vehicle owned by Larry Croseo.

Craver was charged with three counts of assault, two counts of resisting arrest, and one count each of possession of a controlled dangerous substance, possession of drug paraphernalia, disorderly conduct, and destruction of property.

Edward V. Sisler, 26, Friendsville, was arrested on Dec. 20 for DWI (driving while intoxicated), according to the report. He was apparently stopped by a

A TYPICAL SCENE in many local churches this past week is the one above, where little people portray the characters in that most famous Christian scene, the Nativity. This photo was taken at St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland just as the cuter -than-cute angels arrived at the stable. The little guy in the foreground, who looks more like a member of a pee wee hockey team, was actually portraying a little shepherd who refused to wear his headpiece, which was comprised of a tea towel and an elastic band, but had a great time with his crook. Local Fire Fighters Kept Busy As Four Homes Burn

Area volunteer fire fighters were kept busy this past week, as blazes rudely interrupted the holiday season for several local families. One mobile home and a two-story woodframe house were destroyed and two other structures sustained major damage.

The first incident occurred Saturday just after 2 p.m., as heavy smoke was observed coming from a woodframe house located at 484 Foster Road just off U.S. Rt. 219 north of Oakland. Responding to the residence of the Bill Moyer family were units from Oakland, Deer Park, Deep Creek, and Terra Alta VFDs, as well as the air cascade vehicle, presently being housed at Gorman VFD, and the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Upon their arrival, fire fighters found flames coming from the door and windows of the structure. It took over two hours to extinguish the blaze, which gutted the house, as there were numerous hot spots inside the walls, in the attic, and the roof.

The fire was discovered by passerby Ben Sincell, who entered the house twice thinking that members of the Moyer family might be inside. Sincell sent his son, Daniel, to the house of a nearby neighbor, who had also seen the blaze and had already called 911. None of the five members of the Moyer family was home at the time of the fire, however, and there were no injuries reported.

The blaze apparently started at or around a wood stove, in which a fire had been built that morning by Mrs. Moyer before her departure to Cumberland for a shopping trip. The Moyers lost nearly all of their possessions in the fire. It was unknown whether or not they had insurance on the property.

The last Oakland unit left the scene at 4:23 p.m.

The second fire of the week was reported at 8:16 a.m. Sunday when the owner of a mobile home along Jacks Lane off Bethlehem reported that her furnace

Vehicle Accident Claims Life Of Friendsville Man

A Friendsville man died Monday at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., from injuries he reportedly received in an automobile accident last Saturday near Markleysburg, Pa.

Several attempts were made for details of the accident that claimed the life of 29-year-old Tracy Lynn "Frank" Bowser, but neither the Pennsylvania State Police in Uniontown nor the Fayette County (Pa.) Sheriff's Department were able to provide any information.

Bowser was born July 1, 1967, in Friendsville, a son of Lee and Dorothy (Butcher) Bowser, Friendsville.

He was most recently employed as a grave digger with Karol Meyers.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by three brothers, Rodney Bowser and Ricky Bowser, both of Friendsville, and Gary Bowser, Cranesville, W.Va.; and two sisters, Carol Stiffen, Berlin, Pa., and Elizabeth Ann Gibson, Oakland.

Friends will be received at the Newman Funeral Home, Friendsville, today, Thursday, from 2-4 and 7-9 p.m. A service will be conducted at the funeral home on Friday, Dec. 27, with the Rev. Oren Bender officiating. Interment will follow in St. John's Cemetery, Accident.

Md. State Police Charge Injured Man After Four-Wheeler Mishap

An Oakland man was charged with negligent driving and operating an unregistered, uninsured motor vehicle following a four-wheeler accident Saturday afternoon in Grantsville that sent him to an area hospital.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, David W. Cosner, 35, was operating a Honda four-wheeler in an open field when he attempted to cross Meadow View Drive, causing the vehicle to strike a small embankment at the road's edge and then become airborne. Cosner was partially ejected from the vehicle as it struck the roadway, and he flipped over the handlebars, striking his head on the ground several times before being completely ejected and run over by the vehicle.

He was flown to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland by the state police medevac helicopter following the 5:56 p.m. accident. He was initially listed in "stable" condition at that facility, and has since been released.

Also responding to the scene of the accident were members of the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

TWO INJURED

Two people were transported to Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, following a single-vehicle accident Sunday afternoon, where they were reportedly treated and released. The accident occurred on Interstate 68, near the intersection with the Chestnut Ridge Road.

Emma S. Matthews, 46, Mt. Ranier, and 13-year-old Samantha Dowling, Landover, were injured when the eastbound vehicle they were passengers in skidded off the road, struck the center median, and overturned. The 1991 Mazda, operated by Joseph A. Morris, 40, Temple Hills, reportedly continued to slide on its side across both westbound lanes on the opposite side of the interstate.

Morris reportedly told

Bayard Man To Serve 18 Mos. For Sex Offense

A Bayard, W.Va., man previously convicted of third degree sexual offense was sentenced in Garrett County Circuit Court proceedings last week. Gary B. Pennington, 28, will spend 18 months in jail, as ordered by Judge Fred A. Thayer.

Pennington pleaded guilty to the offense in an October hearing and Thayer ordered a pre-sentence investigation at that time. Last week, Thayer sentenced the defendant to three years in the Maryland Department of Corrections and then suspended all but 18 months of the term. The remaining time will be served in the Garrett County Jail.

Pennington will be on three years of supervised probation and is to have no contact with the victim in the case. He is also to abstain from alcohol and/or drug use.

The charges against the defendant stemmed from an investigation into an inci-

Hauser To Mark 25th Gallon Of Blood Donated

If weather and health permit, January 3 will mark the day that Arleigh Hauser of Oakland donates his 25th gallon of blood to the American Red Cross.

Hauser first started donating blood in 1942, he remembered. "I worked for the Army for 32 years," he said. "I had military friends who were in the war. There were some I never saw again." Reflecting on the sacrifices made by these citizens, he recalled feeling that if he were sitting safe in his big office at the Pentagon, then he would respond to the blood bank drive that was initiated at that time. "The least I could do was to answer the call. I had no goals in mind, just doing my part," he explained.

At that time, he commented, donating was his project. "I was doing it as a military project for my military friends." But this project reached beyond his sense of duty to his friends in uniform. "It turned into a community project," he said. "It is still my project."

While living in the Washington, D.C., area in 1954, Hauser chaired the Grand Masonic Lodge blood bank. "There were 48 lodges in the area at that time and I

THE GARRETT COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY has announced the purchase of the Professional Building (formerly the old Garrett National Bank building) on Second Street in Oakland from C.W. Fedde, M.D. The society hopes to move the museum to the larger, handicapped-accessible facility by summer. The second floor of the building will be rented as office space while the museum will grow to fill the first floor. The society will sell their building on Center Street and apply the proceeds to the purchase price of the new building. An aggressive fund-raising campaign is under way to get the additional needed funds. The historical society is requesting donations from individuals, service clubs, businesses, and community organizations. A spokesperson for the society said that all such donations are tax deductible and may be mailed to Martha Kahl, Museum Treasurer, Garrett County Historical Society, 877 Fricks Crossing Road, Deer Park, MD 21550. The spokesperson hopes that donations will be generous because the all-volunteer historical society is the only organization charged with preserving the history of Garrett County and the surrounding area.

UP IN SMOKE and flames on Saturday was this two-story woodframe house located along Foster Road off U.S. Rt. 219 north of Oakland, as the five members of the Bill Moyer family lost most of their possessions. Fire fighters from Oakland, Deer Park, Deep Creek, and Terra Alta were on the scene for over two hours. The blaze, which apparently originated at or near a wood stove on the first floor, was the first of four structure fires that occurred in the county over the weekend. There were, however, no injuries reported in any of the incidents. See story.

ATB, Keystone Contribute To Habitat Program

American Trust Bank (ATB) and Keystone Financial Mortgage Corporation have contributed over $5,300 to the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity as a result of a "Home for the Holidays" program, according to Robert R. Wozniewicz, president and chief executive officer of American Trust Bank.

Employees of American Trust, and their families, have also supported the Home for the Holidays program with the commitment of more than 165 hours of community service to Habitat for Humanity.

This program is a partnership between the local housing non-profit organization, Habitat for Humanity, American Trust Bank and Keystone Financial Mortgage Corporation.

"For every mortgage that settled with the bank during the months of September and October, American Trust set aside a contribution to Habitat of $100 and one hour of community service by its employees and their families," Wozniewicz said. "Funds contributed to the Habitat will help pay for construction of homes for those in need throughout Garrett and Allegany counties. (The Garrett County Habitat for Humanity is active in Allegany County through a chapter at Frostburg State University)

Additionally, the community service hours committed to Habitat by American Trust Bank are scheduled for spring 1997. American Trust employees will perform a variety of activities in the more than 165 hours of voluntary service -- from providing lunch to the work crews to actually helping crews in building the homes.

"We are pleased to have established this partnership with such a notable organization as Habitat through our Home for the Holidays program," Wozniewicz said. "We believe this program is one which exhibits our commitment to low and moderate income housing as well as our commitment to the communities we serve."

Garrett County Habitat for Humanity is a Christian ministry whose main purpose is to build new homes for families in need of adequate housing. Habitat has built 31 new homes and renovated 113 existing homes through the area. These families must also complete 500 "sweat equity" hours working alongside the many volunteers who are both local people and people from surrounding states.

A small portion of the contribution also included funds from the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation's (Freddie MAC) foundation that supports affordable housing. Freddie MAC is one of the federal agencies that provides a secondary market for investors in mortgage-backed securities.

Last week's issue of The Republican carried a feature article about the "Knitting in the Mountains" project, and the by-line attributed that story to David Foster. In fact, the story was written by Brian Held, a staff member of The Lodge at Sawmill Hollow and only edited slightly by Mr. Foster. The error is regretted.

DWI Arrests Are Logged At MSP Barrack

A Garrett, Pa., man was arrested early Sunday morning and charged with DWI (driving while intoxicated), driving on a suspended license, failure to drive right of center, and a seatbelt violation following a traffic stop on Rt. 219, just north of Rt. 40.

According to a report filed with the Maryland State Police at Barrack W, McHenry, Bruce Edgar Caler, 61, was operating an Oldsmobile Ciera north on Rt. 219 and crossed the center line twice. The trooper then paced the vehicle at 25 miles per hour in a 50 mph speed zone. A subsequent traffic stop resulted in Caler's arrest. It was then learned that a bench warrant had been issued for him in Allegany County for failure to appear in court on a DWI charge.

Caler was transported to the Garrett County Jail following his 12:02 a.m. arrest. He was released from custody on Tuesday after posting $15,000 bond.

An early Saturday morning incident on the ramp leading from the Lower New Germany Road to Interstate 68 resulted in the DWI arrest of a Grantsville man.

James Walker Winebrenner II, 31, was charged with DWI, operating an unregistered and uninsured vehicle, and the unauthorized use and display of registration plates following his 2:30 a.m. arrest.

According to a report filed by Tfc. John LeMay, Winebrenner had driven his Chevrolet Cavalier from the Lower New Germany Road to the shoulder on the ramp to I-68, where the vehicle became disabled. The trooper noticed the driver exit his vehicle and stumble. He reportedly noticed an odor of alcohol on Winebrenner's breath and administered field sobriety tests, which he failed. It was then learned that the tags displayed on the vehicle were registered to another vehicle, and were expired.

Winebrenner was transported to the Garrett County Jail following his arrest. He was released after posting $500 bond.

One additional DWI arrest was logged at the McHenry barrack during the past week. Charles Foster, 42, no address given, was arrested and charged with DWI by Tfc. Dell on Dec. 18.

THE MARYLAND STATE POLICE MEDEVAC HELICOPTER, "Trooper 5," responded to the scene of a four-wheeler accident late Saturday afternoon in Grantsville and transported 35-year-old David W. Cosner, Oakland, to Memorial Hospital in Cumberland. Cosner was injured after he lost control of the vehicle, causing it to strike an embankment and become airborne. He reportedly struck his head on the ground several times before being completely ejected and run over by the vehicle, according to a report from the Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry. Above, volunteers from the Grantsville Volunteer Fire Department and Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad help place the injured man in the helicopter. (See story on Page 1) Photo by Craig Spelcher.

'TIS THE SEASON OF GIVING and New Year's resolutions. Roger Uber is a model of giving as he volunteers time and energy in his community. Those making resolutions might consider following his example of giving of self. Above, Roger is washing a truck at the Oakland town garage where he volunteers his sevices in shoveling snow, cutting grass, and assisting with vehicle maintenance. At right, Roger smiles as he goes about his duties at McDonald's in Oakland where he is employed.

Roger Uber Represents The Spirit Of The Season

Peggy Santamaria

Anyone attending a Southern High School football game, walking along a snowy downtown Oakland street, or stopping in for lunch at McDonald's on a Saturday has probably seen Roger Uber's cheerful smile.

Roger does not play for the Rams, he is not a resident of downtown Oakland, and he does not stop at McDonald's for lunch with his friends on Saturdays. So what is Roger doing in all of the places that you may see him? Roger Uber is working.

When he was a student at Southern High School, Roger began his football career. That career was on the side lines. He was assistant to Coach Tom Woods and, according to Woods, his services were indispensable. After graduation, Roger volunteered to continue providing support to his team by staying on as manager. That was in 1984 and he is still at it.

"Roger never misses a game," Woods said recently. "He travels everywhere we go. He's probably as well known as anyone among the coaches and players."

Woods said he relies on Roger to be there before each game to get the equipment ready and handle any needed repairs. "He's always there to help," he added. "You never need to call and remind him. He knows when all the games are."

Woods told a story that illustrated Roger's dedication to his responsibilities. He said that after Southern had defeated Fort Hill, breaking their winning streak, Woods's wife grabbed the game ball to take home and decorate in commemoration of the win. Roger approached her and said, "Mrs. Woods, I'm in charge of the equipment and unless Mr. Woods tells me it's okay for you to keep that, I'm going to have to take that ball from you." Nothing daunts Roger in pursuit of his duties.

"I like working with the team," Roger said recently of his long stint of assisting the Rams as volunteer manager. "We get along pretty good and I really like to travel."

Woods also said that Roger volunteers to perform other services for the school and to assist in projects. "He is a real inspiration to other students," he commented. He pointed out that Roger will go after and stick with what he wants to do. He just ignores whatever odds might seem to be against him.

Besides having a long history of volunteer work, Roger has a strong employment history. Working under the Department of Rehabilitative Services and with the support and supervision of job coaching from Appalachian Crossroads, he served as a job crew member and worked under an individual employment program.

It was during this time that Roger took a seat on the Appalachian Crossroads board of directors as a member. In describing Roger's activities on the board, the Executive Director of Appalachian Crossroads, Bill Aspinall, said, "He is a good board member. He is mindful of his responsibilities. He is fair and votes for what he believes is right." He also added, "I don't think you could find a bad thing about him if you tried. He's just a good guy."

Jonathan Wynn, day program coordinator for Appalachian Crossroads, has worked with Roger and knows his skills and abilities. When Bausch and Lemb contracted with Appalachian Crossroads to provide maintenance services, Wynn said Roger was an excellent candidate for a position with that enclave, noting his sense of responsibility and willingness to work. When B&L announced the closing of its Garrett County facility, members of the work enclave faced unemployment.

Wynn said he was able to help Roger find employment because he has good working skills. "He had the skills necessary for supported employment in the community," Wynn said. "And he has a sense of civic responsibility.

"When I heard Bausch and Lomb was going to close its doors, Appalachian Crossroads got a me job at McDonald's," Roger explained. "I work there on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday."

A resident of Mtn. Lake Park, Roger will often get a ride into Oakland with a family member. When that isn't possible he walks, leaving home at 6:30 in order to get to work at 7 a.m. "I like it there," Roger said of his work at the restaurant. "The people are nice to me."

Though employed and volunteering at Southern High School, Roger said he was interested when the Oakland Chief of Police told him about the amount of work that the Oakland Town Roads Department faced. "John Sines at City Hall told me that the Roads Department needed help with snow removal and other things," he recalled. So he volunteered to help out there as well.

Describing his responsibilities at the town garage he said, "I help with shoveling snow off the sidewalks and keeping the blades on the snow plows clean. I also help with taking care of the trucks by washing and waxing them." In other seasons, he explained, he helps with leaf removal and cutting grass at Broad Ford Lake.

He likes the work he does for Town Garage, he said. And he enjoys his fellow workers. "I get along pretty good with the guys. They are good to me. They buy me Cokes and things sometimes. Today the guys bought me lunch," he said smiling broadly.

As if all of the above is not enough to keep a person busy, Roger has other activities as well. When needed, he dons the furry costume of the mascot for the Greater Oakland Business Association (GOBA) and becomes the GOBA Bear making public appearances at various civic programs.

In a more serious vein, he serves as president for People First, a self-advocacy group for people with developmental disabilities. "Roger has been a front runner for people with developmental disabilities," Wynn said recently. He shows everyone what people can do who put their minds to it."

People attending the Autumn Glory parade in Oakland last fall may have noticed Roger in the parade. A group of his associates from Appalachian Crossroads rode along the parade route in the bed of a truck. Roger walked along beside it. At the end of the event a curious onlooker asked him why he had walked all that distance instead of riding with the others. Roger explained that he had been sitting in the truck while they were waiting to begin. "But then another girl came and there wasn't room for her in the truck. So I got out to walk so she could ride in the parade," he explained.

But Roger couldn't stop and talk for very long. When the parade was over he left for Southern High School, where he had volunteered to help park cars for the Western Maryland Tournament of Bands.

One Cited In Two-Car Wreck

Two local residents received minor injuries as a result of a two-car accident on Dec. 24. Garrett County Sheriff's Office deputies responded to the scene and filed a report on the 1 p.m. wreck.

According to the report, Brandon Lambert was operating a 1993 Chevrolet pickup southbound on Rt. 219 when Patricia Manown, who was driving a 1994 Ford passenger car, attempted to turn left into the McHenry Plaza. The vehicles collided and were later towed from the scene.

Manown and Lambert reportedly suffered minor injuries but both refused treatment. According to the report, Manown was found at fault for failing to yield right of way while making a left turn.

Two Resolutions...

The dawning of a new year evokes the making of new year's resolutions by many, and the list of such desired changes can become long and tedious. We offer the following two resolutions that we believe cover every single goal one could set for him or herself.

Be kinder to yourself. Most self-improvement resolutions run the gamut, from eating less, to drinking less, to quitting smoking, to exercising more, to reducing stress in one's life. All of these would easily fall under being kinder to oneself, or taking better care of one's body.

Be kinder to others; or to quote the words of one whose birth we celebrate this time of year, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." We make all kinds of resolutions to try to be better people toward those with whom we co-habit this planet. We might resolve to improve our relationships with our children, or to not snap at our spouse so quickly, or to be more sensitive to the feelings of our co-workers. Once again, all of these are covered by the simple, but incredibly wise, words above.

Of course, we shouldn't need or wait for the beginning of a new year to make resolutions of self-improvement. It serves as an excuse for putting something off that could and should be changed right now, whether it's January 1, May 19, or October 5. Resolving and making changes for the better should be an on-going, daily process throughout the year.

Nonetheless, we extend to all of our readers the wish for a happy, prosperous, and safe new year.

To the Editor:

The holidays are now upon us and the hustle of the holidays seem to make us forget the true meaning of Christmas. It is a special time of giving and sharing with our loved ones.

This past Sunday as my family was sitting in our living room, we heard a knock at the door. I also noticed a yellow beacon flashing from my window. I thought to myself what could this be! When I opened the door, there stood a bunch of children and some adults singing Christmas carols. Everyone singing was filled with good cheer.

I would like to thank all those voices big and small from the Apostolics of Oakland for spreading the holiday spirit into our home.

To the Editor:

The telecommunications Act passed by the U.S. Congress last February requires that new television sets manufactured after 1998 to have a V-chip, or electronic device that allows selected television programs to be blocked from a set. The legislation also required that a new system for rating television programs be developed and that the Federal Communications Commission establish an advisory committee to develop a ratings system if the industry has not developed voluntary guidelines "acceptable to the Commission" by February 8, 1997.

Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America and chairman of the television industry group, defended the system devised by the group at a news conference in Washington, D.C., on December 12th. The proposed ratings are as follow: For children's programs, TV-K all children, and TV-K7 directed to older children: for other programs, TV-G general audience, TV-PG parental guidance suggested, TV-14 parents strongly cautioned, and TV-M mature audience only.

On the same day in the same city a news conference held jointly by Edward J. Markey (D-MA), the American Psychological Association, and the Center for Media Education at which a letter to Mr. Valenti signed by 27 organizations and 14 individuals was released, protesting the proposed rating system. The basic objection of these organizations and individuals, mostly academic experts on child development, is that the proposed rating system does not describe content such as the more descriptive ratings used by Home Box Office, and a few cable networks, and in Canada. These include V (for violence), S (for sex), and L (for language). Children's advocates believe the rating system based on age groups fails to signal to parents what might be inappropriate for children in any given show.

Indicating that the industry was prepared for a long battle to defend its proposal arrived at after a long struggle within the industry, Mr. Valenti stated, "The minute you get into V-2 or V-3 or S-2 or L-4, when you have 300 or 400 people assigning these labels, its going to be difficult to find consistency." He said, "Our system is not God-given. It is flawed. We urge parents to read what the PTA tells them or the Catholic Church, or the Mormon Church or whatever their own organization tells them about television. Read other things; we're not claiming divine authority here."

To the Editor:

My family and I moved to Garrett County over 10 years ago. We settled here initially to fulfill by obligation to provide health care to those residing in a medically underserved area. After that obligation was completed I choose to stay here despite many financially lucrative offers. I stayed to enjoy the rural lifestyle, community and practicing medicine at the Eglon Clinic. If only I had known of the needless heartache to follow.

Five years ago our family pet dog was shot and killed. Her tags and collar were removed indicating this to be an intentional and malicious act. Everyone seemed to know who killed our family member, but due to lack of hard evidence, this crime went unpunished.

We wished for another dog, but because of what happened, we did not quickly adopt another. Last Christmas I gave my children another dog. We adopted her and she us. She quickly became a member of our family. On Saturday, a little less than one year later, while walking with Kitt no more than 20 feet from my side on my own property, she was shot. Once again, a family member was attacked. Kitt is alive, but list her front leg. This latest heartbreak to my family comes shortly after my wife's father's death. My wife's mother is now terminally ill and a planned Christmas visit from her grandchildren is now unlikely as our animal family member here needs our help.

In the meantime, I can only try to rationalize others' hatred; attempt to explain evil actions of others to my children; fear for my family's well-being; contemplate practicing medicine elsewhere; and hope there is still justice.

Sincerely,
Robert Coughlin, MD

To the Editor:

We would like to thank the merchants of Garrett County who took the time to meet with members of STEAM (Student Tobacco Elimination Among Minors) on December 2nd and 3rd, 1996. STEAM members visited all the tobacco outlets in the county to encourage merchants to comply with the youth tobacco laws by always asking for ID from any young customer.

The members of STEAM are aware that their peers use tobacco products. They realize that there are many influences on young people including peer pressure and the positive images of cigarette smoking on TV, movies and in advertisements. In addition many parents smoke or chew tobacco, serving as negative role models for their children. Making it more difficult for minors to obtain tobacco products is just one way of curbing the rise in youth tobacco use.

Many of the stores STEAM visited are already displaying the materials the students gave them. The posters, buttons, stickers, and pens were designed by Garrett County students as a way to remind store owners, employees, and customers about the laws. The logo on the materials reads "Keep Minors Tobacco Free. Always ID." Please support this campaign by letting the merchants know you support their efforts to keep tobacco away from minors.

To the Editor:

On Saturday night, December 7, there was a program at the Garrett Community College called "Open Heart Project." The program was in conjunction with the AIDS Quilt presentation. As everyone knows, AIDS is a deadly disease that is talked about and feared. There are millions of dollars spent on research in search of a cure, which cannot come too soon. There are countless programs, personal experiences, and articles by concerned people telling of the devastation AIDS brings.

This program was no exception. There were two plays involving Garrett County teenagers, a group from West Virginia, and others who read letters and poems. The players emphasized the way the HIV virus is transmitted--through sexual activity. This is a fact everyone is aware of, from all the information that is available concerning AIDS.

One student read an article that he had written for the school paper which was very moving, informative, and maybe a little critical of the school system. Not to minimize the importance of educating people to the seriousness of AIDS, the thought occurred: these teenagers hit on one of the factors that transmit the virus, sexual activity, which was extremely well pointed out.

With regard to educating, one must ask, don't people know, by now, the HIV virus is transmitted through sexual intercourse? The next question came to mind. Is society really interested in stopping the HIV virus or just a way to be able to engage in promiscuous sexual activities with whomever they desire and be safe from the HIV virus?

Think about this. When attending a large banquet the host stands up and announces to the audience that three plates of potatoes contain poison, but he is not sure which ones. How many people do you think will eat the potatoes?

We do need to educate the teenagers in our schools, in our homes, and in our churches. We need to help them understand the drives and emotional feelings associated with growing up, and help them direct these emotions in a proper and positive direction.

Walter Wachter

To the Editor:

As health educators, we feel compelled to respond to the AIDS editorial written by Josh Teets. While we are impressed with Mr. Teets's passion on the topic, it is necessary to set the record straight on some of the points he makes in his letter.

The Garrett County Health Department works closely with our school system to provide comprehensive, updated information on AIDS, as well as STDs and other communicable diseases. As a result, Board of Education approved speakers, videos, and written materials are utilized to increase AIDS awareness among our student population. At no time is any topic cut short so that the teacher may move on to "simpler subjects."

Sex education in general, and AIDS awareness specifically, are delicate and controversial topics. We agree with Mr. Teets that we should all share a common ground on this very important subject. As health educators we attempt to tread upon this common ground as we disseminate the information available to us.

While Mr. Teets's letter may be considered "an excellent piece of writing," we feel that the facts were sacrificed for the sake of literary sensationalism. We believe that education will stem the tide of the AIDS epidemic and we strive to be a part of that effort.

Sincerely,
Southern High School

Homes Burn

was malfunctioning. By the time assistance arrived, the structure was fully involved in flames.

According to reports from the Oakland VFD, the mobile home was owned by Mary Nikirk. The family residing in the home lost all of their possessions, including a female dog and several puppies. Fire fighters from Deer Park and Oakland were summoned to the scene, as was the Southern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported and firemen remained on the scene for just over one hour and a half.

It was unknown whether or not the owner had insurance.

Volunteers from the Friendsville, Accident, Deep Creek, and Addison, Pa., VFDs were called out at 10:15 p.m. Sunday when fire was reported at a hunting cabin owned by Lawrence B. Frazee and located along Mount Sinai Road near Friendsville. Steve E. Frazee, 38, was the occupant of the property at the time of the fire.

Heavy smoke and flames were coming from the windows and eaves of the structure, which had two large rooms plus an additional attached room for a wood stove. According to a report from Deputy Chief Charles Cronauer of the Maryland State Fire Marshal's Office, an investigation revealed that the installation of the wood stove was too close to the wall (less than 18 inches). It was also noted that, because the residence did not have a telephone, there was a delay in contacting the fire department.

Damage was estimated to be a total of $35,000, with $28,000 attributed to the structure and $7,000 to contents. Cronauer reported that the owner did have insurance on the property.

The two dozen fire fighters who responded to the scene brought the fire under control in about 20 minutes. Also responding was the county air cascade unit from Gorman VFD and the Northern Rescue Squad. There were no injuries reported. Firemen remained on the scene for over two hours.

A double-wide manufactured home located at 3656 Maynardier Road near Bittinger sustained major damage in a blaze Monday evening.

Fire fighters from Bittinger and Grantsville VFDs were summoned to the residence of John Campbell at 6:13 p.m. and found heavy smoke and flames coming from the single-story residence. According to Steve Wendling, fire investigator for the state fire marshal's office, the fire originated in the master bedroom of the dwelling. There was no one home at the time of the fire, which was discovered and reported by a neighbor, John L. Miller.

The cause of the fire, which caused an estimated $60,000 damage to the structure and contents, is still under investigation. Wendling reported that the owner has insurance on the property.

Some 40 fire fighters responded to the scene and remained there for over two hours. Also responding was the county air cascade vehicle from the Gorman VFD and the Northern Rescue Squad. Placed on stand-by were the Salisbury, Pa., and Accident VFDs. There were no injuries reported.

Finally, members of the Oakland VFD were summoned to the residence of Robert Winters, 3901 Hutton Road, at 9:43 p.m. last night to extinguish a flu fire. There was no major damage and firemen cleared the scene in about 20 minutes.

visited each of them at least twice that year to encourage people to donate blood," he stated. Under his leadership, 3,418 pints of blood were collected that year, representing 111% of the goal set.

When he moved to Oakland in 1971, he continued working for the local Mason Lodge encouraging others to pledge donations to the Red Cross. "I'd show up at the donation center when it opened and stay all day. I'd talk to folks about signing pledge cards to donate again the next year."

Part of Hauser's plan was to develop a grass roots net work. He explained that he would ask each person he spoke with to not only pledge to return to the donation site the following year, but to bring a friend.

For over 18 years, Hauser volunteered his services to the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross. He went to Norma Hesson, who was chairman of the chapter, and suggested setting up a program to give certificates of recognition to those who donated at various levels. Hesson agreed. And Hauser took on the program. He kept records of all the blood donors. A local printer donated his services to print up some certificates. "I would fill them out and get them signed. Then I'd give them to the donors. Everyone likes to be appreciated," he said.

At 82 years old, Hauser said he is not sure how much longer his doctor will let him continue to donate. "I do this because it makes me feel good to do it. When the time comes that I must stop, I know I will miss it," he said.

THE DAY AFTER

The English call it "Boxing Day," the first weekday after Christmas Day. I always assumed it had something to do with pugilism, which just goes to prove it pays to look things up.

The term Boxing Day first appears in the middle of the last century. It was the day when people of the middle classes (and up) gave "boxes" or presents to those who served them without being in their employ. Mailmen and errand boys are the offices named in the two resources I checked.

I often find this second day of Christmas a difficult day, the post partum blues day. After all, we had been building up to yesterday for weeks or even months. Two days ago the airwaves were saturated with Christmas music. Turn the radio or television on today, and you'd think you were in a different country.

Maybe it wouldn't be such a bad idea to dedicate the day to giving presents to the baggers at the grocery store or to the guys hanging off the back of the trash truck.

The calendar of the church seems a little eccentric as well. This is the feast of St. Stephen, one of the first deacons and the very first martyr of the Christian Church.

The association of St. Stephen's Day with Christmas goes right back to the 4th century. That is significant because it was in the 4th century that Christianity went from being an illegal and persecuted religion to being the official religion of the Roman Empire.

Follow my line of thought, and see if it makes sense. Until the Edict of Toleration in 319 A.D. those who celebrated Christmas Day exposed themselves to the possibility of experiencing the fate of St. Stephen on the next day. For all those years when faith in Jesus Christ was a criminal act, the prospect of martyrdom was a live possibility.

Then one day, the emperor waved his sceptre, and the church came above ground and could safely commit to paper what they had been practicing all along. The birth of Christ was celebrated on December 25 and the feast of St. Stephen on the 26th, a perpetual reminder of what it once cost to celebrate Christmas.

I find these rather jolting thoughts when my biggest problem is where to store all the torn-up wrapping material when the only price I have to pay is to the credit card company and to the diet I should begin.

John Mason Neale, the English hymn writer and translator, provided a way out of the wrapping paper at about the same time as other Englishmen were inventing Boxing Day. He wrote one of my favorite Christmas carols which we don't get to sing in church -- I guess -- because it isn't religious enough: Good King Wenceslas.

As every good caroler will remember, "Good King Wenceslas looked out on the feast of Stephen...." And what did he see? Someone in need. And what did he do? Helped that someone. The carol suggests to me the possibility of a new tradition for the second day of Christmas, that of helping someone, a fitting remembrance of Deacon Stephen.

The kind of help people may need today is a visit or even a phone call. And if it seems right to make it boxing day, a box of cookies rarely goes wrong. And a plate of food ready to be warmed might cheer away the loneliness of someone.

And if you don't personally know of anyone who has a need, there is a nursing home near you full of people who could use a visit from a Wenceslas on the feast of Stephen.

the police that he had steered to the right in an attempt to avoid hitting a vehicle in front of him that was experiencing difficulty, and his tires struck loose gravel on the shoulder of the road.

Morris was apparently uninjured in the 4:47 p.m. accident. The state police said all three were wearing their seatbelts and shoulder straps.

MINOR INJURIES

A Delaware woman escaped with minor injuries in a single-vehicle accident early Saturday morning on the Asher Glade Road, near Friendsville.

Regina M. Kaseluris, 42, Millsboro, Del., apparently lost control of her 1991 Dodge Colt as she traveled along the Asher Glade Road, near Mattingly Hill Road, causing the vehicle to slide off the road and strike several bushes.

Kaseluris was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by volunteers from the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. She was reportedly treated and released following the 2:59 a.m. mishap. Also responding to the scene were members of the Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department.

dent that apparently occurred in November 1995. Pennington allegedly engaged in sexual acts with a 15-year-old girl.

In other circuit court news, an Oakland man received sentencing in a theft case. Nathan T. Bendler, 21, pleaded guilty to theft in a November hearing, and Thayer handed down sentencing last week. The judge ordered Bendler to two years in jail with one year suspended. The balance of the sentence will be served in the local jail. The defendant will be on two years of supervised probation upon his release, according to the court report.

Bendler was accused of stealing a stereo from an Eagle Talon, which was parked at the 135 Amoco storage lot on July 28, 1995.

A case against a Mtn. Lake Park man was placed on the stet docket, according to the report. Terry L. Ford, 33, faced charges of battery and malicious destruction of property, which stemmed from an apparent domestic altercation on Jan. 31 of this year.

A case against Gordon L. Noble, 29, Kitzmiller, was dismissed last week. Noble had been accused of violation of probation.

Charges against an Oakland man were not prosecuted by order of the state's attorney. Wayne Burkey, 24, had been charged with trespassing, burglary, and two counts of battery as a result of an altercation in Mtn. Lake Park on Aug. 19, according to the report.

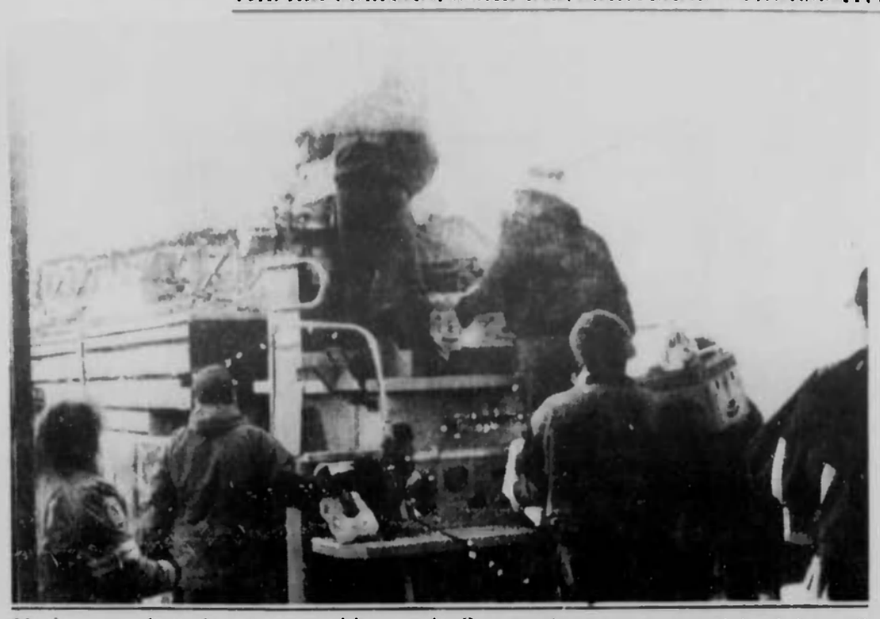
SOME 800 BOXES OF FOOD, weighing in the neighborhood of 15 tons, plus hundreds of gifts and wool blankets, were distributed Saturday by scores of volunteers to a record 423 local families in need to complete the 1996 Oakland Rotary Club's 16th Annual Christmas Project. The boxes were packaged Friday evening at the National Guard Armory Friday evening, from which volunteers made their pick-up and deliveries early Saturday to the families, who were located in all corners of the county. Tractor trailers were loaded with the items for those in the Friendsville and Grantsville areas. Pictured below are, from left, volunteers Colleen Mouyard, her daughter Brianna Thayer, and Tammy Lewis as they help load those tractor trailers. Above right, members of the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department load their deliveries on their decorated ladder truck. The OVFD members, collectively and as individuals, made over 70 of the deliveries. "The delivery effort was a coordinated event involving dozens of volunteers from various civic clubs and organizations throughout the county," stated Dr. Dave Bollinger, chairman of the project for the Rotary Club. "I extend my heartfelt thanks to them and wish each of them and their families the happiest of holidays." Kathy Zimmerman, club president, added, "Everyone who contributed to the project has helped to make this Christmas a bit brighter for the recipient families."



He is presently assigned as a shift supervisor.

He and his wife, Nancy, and their two children, Lacie and Becky, will continue to reside near Accident.

Bloodmobile To Visit Oakland, Then Accident

American Red Cross Blood Services urges all eligible donors to "work a miracle" this holiday by giving blood at the Oakland Armory on Friday, January 3, from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. or at the Zion Lutheran Church in Accident on Wednesday, January 8, from noon to 6 p.m.

"Each and every day, holidays included, patients in our country need more than 40,000 people to donate blood. Every two seconds someone in our country needs a blood transfusion," Elizabeth Huxford, blood services chairman of the Garrett County Red Cross, explained. "Locally, here in the Tri-State Region, we need approximately 240 individuals to donate each working day."

She added that all blood types are needed, but that due to the greater potential for car accidents and other emergencies, holidays typically experience an even greater demand for type O positive and O negative blood, the universal blood type. "In an emergency," Huxford explained, "type O negative blood, found in about 7 percent of the population, can be transfused to 100 percent of the population.

"An adequate, readily available blood supply must be on hand at all times. Because of testing and screening required on every unit of donated blood, it's too late to recruit donors once an emergency happens. The Red Cross and hospitals must be prepared to respond to any and all patient blood needs every day of the year," she said.

To be eligible to give blood, individuals must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 110 pounds, and be in generally good health. Donors may safely give blood every 56 days. Those with eligibility questions should call the Red Cross at 1-800-54 BLOOD.

McCLIVE'S LAKEFRONT DINING

Food For Thought

Easy supper: turn potato salad into a meal with cooked green beans, lots of mixed salad greens, matchsticks of Canadian bacon, plus sliced red onion and diced tomato.

Need to get a canned ham out of the package? Before you open it, put the whole thing in warm water to melt the aspic, and the ham will slide right out.

Bake your own tortilla crisps. Cut low-fat tortillas into wedges. Arrange on non-stick baking sheets and sprinkle with salt. Bake at 350 for 12 minutes for flour tortillas, 18 minutes for corn. Shift the pans in the oven halfway through.

What can you do with that hot pepper jelly gift? Brush it onto grilled pork chops just a minute or two before they're done.

Energy Funds Available To Help Pay Bills

For those Garrett County residents who qualify, there are still funds available through the Energy Assistance Program. According to Linda Green, Emergency Services Director at Garrett County Community Action Committee, 1,510 households have been certified so far for this heating season. "I have another 120 applications that are in process," Green explained. "I've seen a huge growth in the number of working poor. Those numbers are increasing." Energy assistance is available to those who meet income guidelines. "The benefit is calculated on the type of fuel and the family income," Green said. The gross income guidelines are $968 per month for a family of one, $1,295 per month for a family of two, $1,623 per month for a family of three and $1,950 per month for a family of five. "The purpose of the program is [illegible] pay the entire heating cost," she explained. "It is just to assist."

Application can be made by walking into the Emergency Services office at Community Action Center Street in Oakland or by calling Linda Green or Kelbe Warnick at [illegible] goal for this year is 2000 families."

Through this program, federal and state funds are made available in the form of credit applied directly to the applicant's fuel account with the energy provider. All counties in Maryland participate in this program, but due to the colder climate in Garrett County, Green said, people living here are allotted a larger amount than in some of the milder counties.

There has been a change in the profile of the appli-

Perhaps some of you traditionally receive your first gift on Christmas Eve. If not, begin the tradition this year by giving yourself a Christmas Eve gift...a most special gift.

Each year many churches observe a Christmas Eve candlelight celebration. Carols chime the birth of Jesus as the flickering candles cast an entrancing glow on stained glass windows. As the choir sings "O Holy Night" or perhaps trills the "Hallelulia Chorus" you are transported to the realms of spiritual reality. Holiday tiredness and tension are replaced by tears of joy as you are truly touched by the spirit of the Christ-child. As the steeple bells ring out at midnight, heralding Christmas Day, the warmth in your heart could melt the deepest snow. You are truly prepared to celebrate Christ's birth.

Experience the "reason for the Season" this Christmas and celebrate God's gift each Sabbath through weekly worship. Keep the gift of Jesus alive all the year through.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

NOW I CAN GO!
December 29, 1996

Background Scripture:
Luke 2:21-40
Devotional Reading:
Psalms 42:1-13

When I read the first two chapters of Luke, I am often struck with the recollection of all the great music that has been inspired by these words: the Annunciation (1:32-35), the Magnificat (1:46-55), Handel's Messiah, and a great wealth of Christmas carols (both chapters 1 & 2). In these two chapters we find a number of people who are lifted above their normal lives by the presence of the Holy Spirit: Zechariah, Elizabeth, Mary, Simeon and Anna. God's Spirit inspires them and their words, in turn, inspire us.

There is another text from Luke 2 that became an important part of the Christian liturgy in the fifth century A.D. It is known to us by its Latin name, Nunc Dimittis, taken from the opening words of Simeon: "Lord, now lettest thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word, for mine eyes have seen thy salvation which thous has prepared in the presence of all people, a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and for glory to thy people Israel" (2:29-32).

Who is this man Simeon? We really don't know anything about him except that he was righteous, devout and had received a revelation from God promising that he would not see death before he had seen "the Lord's Christ." His words lead us to believe that he was advanced in years and some scholars have deducted that he was a rabbi–the blessing he gives is that of a rabbi–and one scholar has even speculated that Simeon was the son and father of two of Judaism's greatest rabbis, Hillel and Gamaliel. But there is little evidence and no proof

LOOKING & PRAYING

We also know that he was "looking for the consolation of Israel" (2:25) "Looking" suggests that he was also praying for the consolation of Israel–the unfolding of God's promise to his people. this pious man has been praying for the fulfillment of the most stupendous promise ever made and. when he takes the baby Jesus into his arms, he realizes that that awesome reality is fulfilled in this tiny infant. It is this realization that leads him to bless God.

So what is the importance of his Nunc Dimittis? "Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace..." It means that he has now experienced that for which he has been living. It means that his life has been fulfilled, his prayers answered, and he is ready to go for nothing could equal or excel what he has just experienced.

We need to try to put ourselves in Simeon's place. What would it take for us to say Nuc Dimittis? What would bring us the fulfillment that would make life completely worthwhile? At what point could you say, I'm ready to go?

NOW I CAN GO

On a purely personal level I might say that I'd like to live long enough to see my grandchildren grown up, maybe graduated from college and married. Someone else might just want to be able to live to the year 2,000. Some people feel their lives fulfilled by writing a fulfilling book, painting a picture, or composing a piece of music that says what they want it to say. But there can be no higher aspiration then that of Simeon: "mine eyes have seen thy salvation..." All other goals and promises pale next to the assurance that in Christ I–and everyone else–can face eternity unafraid.

Simeon's Nunc Dimittis also is inspired because he suddenly realizes that, what he has sought for Israel, is actually being given to the whole world. "...thy salvation which thou hast prepared in the presence of all peoples, a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and for glory to thy people Israel" (2:30-32).

There can be no Nunc Dimittis that is purely personal and parochial. The only one that fits a promise and fulfillment so great and glorious is the one that takes the rest of the world with us.

Invite a friend to church today.

Laughs nothing alien to USA's Lost on Earth

By John Crook
TVData Features Syndicate

When aspiring anchorman David Rudy finds himself buried to playing host of a local TV puppet show, he figures there's no way his life could get any crazier.

He is terribly wrong.

That's the basic premise of Lost on Earth, a USA Network sitcom premiering Saturday Jan. 4 in which hapless David (a terrific Tim Conlon) makes a startling discovery. The life-size puppets he's supposed to work with aren't puppets at all.

In fact, they're a group of dysfunctional aliens who have traveled through time and space from a distant, unpronounceable planet to study Earth culture.

Their current physical appearance is the unfortunate result of a misunderstanding, explains their leader, Phillippe. "Just before we morphed, we were watching television to see what form to take, and those hideous Muppets were on," he says.

Besides the Groucho Marx-like Phillippe, the aliens include his sultry Angela, who quickly develops a crush on David. Khan, who lost his arms in the transfer to Earth ("I wouldn't be so bitter, but I was wearing a Rolex at the time," he says), Brad, who is insanely jealous of David and whose solution to any problem invariably involves castration, Cubby, the cheerful (and corpulent) medical officer, and Raleigh, a sweet-natured being whose mission is to breed with an Earth woman.

The premiere of Lost on Earth is pleasant, thanks to Conlon and co-star Victor Togunde, but the big laughs start in the second episode, after the puppets have established their vivid personalities.

Tim Conlon (left) and Victor Togunde have their hands full with a group of aliens who resemble life-size puppets in Lost on Earth. The series premieres Saturday on USA.

In Focus

ABC prepares for the premiere of Politically Incorrect with a look at the funniest moments from the show's run on Comedy Central. Hosted by Bill Maher, Politically Incorrect's Greatest Hits airs Wednesday, Jan. 1.

The show features clips highlighting some of the show's celebrity guests, including Roseanne, George Stephanopoulos and Jerry Seinfeld.

Maher is joined by guests Yasmine Bleeth and ABC News political analyst Jeff Greenfield.

Meet Garrett County's NEW TEACHERS

Dennett Road Elementary School introduces two new staff members, Gary Galloway, principal, and Michael Warne, a part-time Title I resource teacher.

Galloway, who previously served as principal in several other schools in Garrett County, began his career as a teacher in Fredericksburg, Va. In addition to an undergraduate degree in elementary education from West Virginia University and a master's degree in administration from the University of Virginia, he has accumulated over 75 hours of graduate credits from several other colleges and universities.

Galloway chose Garrett County as his home 24 years ago and has served in five schools in that time. He stated, "It has been a privilege to associate with many dedicated employees who serve our county's children and to work in supportive school communities." In speaking of his current assignment, he added, "I look forward to the future at Dennett Road Elementary School and to working with the team of parents, children, and staff to fulfill our goals for educational excellence."

MICHAEL WARNE

Warne, a graduate of Frostburg State University with a degree in elementary education, completed his student teaching experiences in the first grade class at Accident Elementary School under the supervision of Cindy Stanton and in the fourth grade class at Parkside Elementary in La-Vale, where he worked with teacher Krista Michaels.

A third generation teacher, Warne is the son of Michael Everett Warne, the fourth grade teacher at Grantsville Elementary, and the grandson of Everett Warne, who retired after more than ten years as the auto mechanics teacher at Northern High School. His sister, Lori Burdock, is a teacher at Broad Ford Elementary School. Warne currently resides in Frostburg.

"A school is fortunate when it can add to its staff a teacher who is caring, focused on objectives, and willing to go the extra mile; better still is a teacher who is masterful in presenting concepts in a meaningful manner. Michael Warne is that kind of teacher," Galloway said.

Earns Scholarship At Messiah College

Grantsville resident Marla L. Miller has been awarded the Messiah College President's Scholarship for the 1996-1997 academic year. Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Miller, Grantsville.

The college, located in Grantham, Pa., awards the President's Scholarship to students who distinguish themselves as outstanding leaders in community, extra-curricular, church and academic activities. Recipients are selected through a competitive application process, conducted by the college's scholarship committee. This scholarship is renewable for all four years of college.

Miller is a 1993 graduate of Northern Garrett High School and is a senior marketing major at Messiah.

Glimpse of The Past . . .

IT LOOKED LIKE THIS LAST YEAR at about this time here on the Mountaintop, but not so this year. The photo above was taken in Meyersdale, Pa., probably in the early or mid 1920s, judging from the automobile. It was taken by Garrett County's renowned photographer, the late Leo Beachy. A history of the photographer and many more examples of his outstanding work are available in a recently published book that is on sale at various locations in the county. (Last-minute gift idea, perhaps?) This photo is published here courtesy of the Garrett County Historical Society and The Republican.

State Board Increases Revenue Estimates For Fiscal Year 1997

The Maryland Board of Revenue Estimates, consisting of State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein (chairman), State Treasurer Richard N. Dixon and State Budget Secretary Frederick W. Puddester, informed Governor Parris N. Glendening last week that it is increasing its previous estimate of state General Fund revenue by $47.5 million to $7.456 billion for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1997. The Board projected that General Fund revenues will total $7.697 billion for fiscal year 1998.

"Maryland's economy has registered a steady recovery since last winter when winter storms and the federal budget crisis cast a pall over consumer and business confidence alike," Goldstein said. "However, in the spring we began seeing steady increases in sales and use tax revenue, a good indicator of strong consumer and business confidence."

Personal Income Tax

The personal income tax is Maryland's largest source of General Fund revenue. The Board is revising the estimate of fiscal year 1997 revenue upward by $4.2 million to $3.645 billion, resulting in a growth rate of 4.6% over fiscal year 1996. The Board cited particularly strong capital gains realizations, due to strong stock market performance, and stronger wage growth as reasons for the solid performance. The Board projects General Fund individual income tax revenue to total $3.806 billion for fiscal year 1998, an increase of 4.4% over 1997. This is a slower rate of growth, reflecting the Board's projections of a more moderate increase in capital gains realizations for fiscal year 1998.

Sales and Use Tax

"Maryland's second largest source of General Fund revenue, the sales and use tax, also began to rebound in the spring," Goldstein said. "Results have been good for the fiscal year to date and we expect holiday purchases to grow by about 5% over last year. The construction sector is also seeing good growth, with major projects such as the two football stadiums, convention centers and business facilities."

The Board of Revenue Estimates increased its earlier projection of sales and use tax revenue by $48.3 million to $2.092 billion for fiscal year 1997 and expects sales and use tax revenue to total $2.171 billion in fiscal year 1998. In fiscal year 1998, consumer spending is expected to slow as pent-up demand is satisfied and as high debt burdens constrain spending.

State Lottery

The Board reduced its earlier estimate of General Fund Lottery revenue for fiscal year 1997 by $49.4 million to $334.2 million, citing a 10% fall off in sales attributable to a computer system conversion and low advertising budget. The Board estimates the Lottery will generate $368.7 million in General Fund revenue for fiscal year 1998.

Corporation Income Tax

The Board increased its earlier projection of corporation income taxes by $16.4 million for fiscal year 1997 to $210.2 million. The new forecast, although revised upward, is actually a slight decline from fiscal year 1996 levels, reflecting an expected slowdown in corporation profit growth. The Board projected fiscal year 1998 corporation income tax revenue of $250.6 million.

Other Revenues

The Board projects $1.145 billion in fiscal year 1997 and $1.099 billion in fiscal year 1998 in revenue from franchises, excises and fees. Fiscal year 1997 revenues are boosted by the collection of several one-time transfers.

AmeriCorp Members Join AHEC

NICHOLAS BARBERIO

BEVERLY GREEN

The Western Maryland Area Health Education Center (AHEC) has announced the addition of two AmeriCorps members to its staff.

Nicholas Barberio, Frostburg, is the new health career enrichment educator. He works to inspire middle school students' interest in health' careers and facilitate an experiential summer program for them. He comes to the AHEC as a second year AmeriCorps member via the Western Maryland Alliance for Service, A Star! in Western Maryland.

He brings to the AHEC a diversity of problem-solving and communication skills from varied experiences. Last year, Barberio served as co-director of the teen health theater program, Pandora's Box, at the Garrett County Health Department. His past employment includes positions as graphic designer for Allegany College of Maryland and sales supervisor/trainer for Dokars of Greensboro, N.C.

Barberio earned a B.S. degree in Textile Products Design from the University of North Carolina at Greensboro in 1994, where he gained experience as a teaching assistant. He also works with the local Maryland Theatre Arts Company as actor, composer, costumer, and program designer.

Beverly Green, Frostburg, serves in the position of community health resource assistant. She is expanding community health information access through the development of an easy-to-use system for obtaining geriatric health education resources. She joins the AHEC staff as a first year AmeriCorps member working with the Center's Learning Resource Services.

Green has past experience in geriatrics as manager of the Cumberland Senior Center for the Human Resources Development Commission. She also was employed as a rehabilitation worker with Archway Station, a community based program for those with psychiatric disabilities.

A graduate of Beall High School, Green holds associate degrees in mental health from Allegany College of Maryland and interior design from the Art Institute of Pittsburgh. She is currently majoring in sociology at Frostburg State University and hopes to continue on for a master's degree in social work.

Graduate Social Work Courses Available Nearby

A graduate social work degree program is now available to area residents through the Western Maryland Master of Social Work Outreach Program of the University of Maryland School of Social Work.

The University is currently accepting applications for fall 1997 admission to the Master of Social Work (M.S.W.) degree program. Contingent upon sufficient interest in Western Maryland, courses will be offered in Allegany County during the 1997-98 and 1998-99 academic years. Students admitted to the program may complete 40 of the required 58 credits through this outreach program, including eight courses in Cumberland or Frostburg and two field placements with agencies in the student's area of residence. Coursework at the advanced level is completed in Baltimore. Program support is offered locally by the Western Maryland Area Health Education Center, including library resource services and a classroom site at the agency's facility on Columbia Street in Cumberland. The M.S.W. program is accredited by the Council on Social Work Education, allowing graduates to take the social work licensure exam now required in Maryland and most other states.

This will be the third cycle of graduate social work courses offered in Allegany County since 1992. The program has been of interest both to those seeking a career change as well as to those already employed in a social service field but wanting to upgrade their skills and career advancement opportunities. Students may specialize in the field of health, aging, mental health, families and children, employee assistance programs, social administration, community development, or a combination of these. Sub-specializations in maternal and child health or substance abuse are available, and students may also develop individualized specializations.

All of the graduates who have participated in the outreach program are now employed in Western Maryland. One of those graduates, Clint Lepley, had some experience in human service employment prior to his enrollment, but did not qualify for many of the positions of interest to him. "I knew that the M.S.W. degree was the gateway to advancing my career. Having the opportunity to complete much of the program here was an added incentive to participate," he said. He enrolled in the M.S.W. program in 1992 as an outreach student, specialized in mental health during his advanced studies, and completed field placements with the Thomas B. Finan Center and the Division of Corrections. Following his graduation and licensure in 1995, he obtained local employment with a new program, the Maryland Criminal Justice Treatment Program, providing services primarily to inmates in the Allegany County Detention Center.

Anne DeVaughn, currently enrolled in the program, is an employee of the Memorial Hospital Counseling Service with a master's degree in marital and family therapy. Now in the advanced curriculum in the M.S.W. program with a specialization in health, she is completing a field placement in the hospital's Rehabilitation Unit. "My fellow students and I have talked about how fortunate we feel to have had classes in Cumberland. Our class size has been small, allowing a high level of interaction among students and faculty in the classroom," she said. Her decision to pursue the M.S.W. degree stemmed from the increasing movement toward managed care and its emphasis on service provision by professionals in licensed fields. "The M.S.W. program provides generalizable skills, and the ability to become licensed increases my professional flexibility," she said.

The application deadline is Feb. 15 for fall 1997 admission. Those desiring more information may call the program coordinator, Janice Chippendale, at 301-777-9150, Ext. 138, in Cumberland, or may attend an information session to be held on Saturday, Jan. 18, from 9:30 to 11 a.m. at the Western Maryland Area Health Education Center, 11 Columbia Street, Cumberland. In the event of inclement weather on the 18th, a message will be available at the above number for confirmation or rescheduling of the meeting.

Grantsville Man Convicted In Dist. Court Of Violating Ex Parte Order

A Grantsville man pleaded guilty in last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings of four counts of violation of an ex parte order and one count of telephone misuse, and was sentenced by Garrett County District Court Judge Ralph M. Burnett.

Michael D. Shelley, 25, was sentenced to serve 90 days in jail for each offense (to be served concurrently), but all of the sentence was suspended except for 30 days. He was also fined $155, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to pay $200 to the Domestic Violence Center. Conditions of his probation state he must attend addictions counseling and have no contact with the victim, Trena Shelley, except for authorized visitation. Additional charges of being disorderly on private property, harassment, and obstruction of justice were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

Shelley had been charged with the offenses on four separate occasions after he disobeyed a court order to have no contact with his estranged wife. He apparently went to her home on July 29 and tried to force his way inside. He was at her home again on Sept. 3 and Sept. 5, and on Oct. 8 he called her residence at least 12 times in a two-hour period and told her if she hung up he would come to the residence.

In other district court news, a Friendsville man was in court last week to face numerous destruction of property and traffic-related charges stemming from his DWI (driving while intoxicated) arrest by Garrett County sheriff's deputies on July 15.

Ormonde T. Steinle-O'Carroll, 22, pleaded guilty to one count each of DWI and malicious destruction of property (MDOP) and was sentenced to serve three days of a 30-day jail term. He was also fined $155, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to pay $726.07 in restitution to the victims. Conditions of his probation state he must also complete 40 hours of community service by March 1, 1997, and attend addictions counseling. Five additional charges of MDOP and one count each of driving an uninsured vehicle, reckless driving, failure to stop after a property damage accident, and trespassing on cultivated land were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

The charges against Steinle-O'Carroll were filed after he drove his Ford Bronco through hay and corn fields, where he destroyed hay and corn crops, and then drove over two mailboxes and a stop sign before he wrecked the vehicle on the Accident-Friendsville Road. The total damages to the above property was valued at approximately $1,100, according to the police report filed after the incident.

Four counts each of forgery of private documents, uttering false documents, and petty theft, along with one count of theft scheming, filed against Linda S. Michaels, 32, Mt. Storm, W.Va., were placed on the stet docket, which means any of those charges can be recalled in the next year if the court deems it necessary. She was ordered by Judge Burnett to complete 20 hours of community service for the combined offenses.

According to district court records, the state police received word on July 2 that Michaels had written four checks from an account issued to David C. Ridings Sr., and cashed them at the Mtn. Lake Park IGA. The amount written on the four checks amounted to $601.74.

During a sentencing hearing for Michael W. Welch, 31, Oakland, who was convicted in November of two counts of petty theft, the judge ordered him to serve five days of a 30-day jail term for each offense for a total of 10 days. He also placed Welch on one year of supervised probation, and ordered him to attend addictions counseling, complete 40 hours of community service by Feb. 1, 1997, and pay $530.17 in restitution to CRH Catering, Cumberland. Two counts of malicious destruction of property also filed against Welch were not prosecuted.

According to district court records, on two separate occasions (in April and June), Welch broke into vending machines at a rest area on Interstate 68 and removed the coins from each.

Roy S. Williams, 32, Swanton, was ordered to serve five days in jail for contempt of court. Initially sentenced to a 30-day term, the judge suspended all but the five-day sentence. According to court records, Williams used an inappropriate expletive while he was testifying in his own defense. He was also handed a 10-day suspended sentence after receiving a guilty verdict for disturbing the peace. He was found not guilty of being disorderly in a public place.

The charges against Williams stemmed from an Oct. 10 disturbance at the Long Branch Saloon, Mtn. Lake Park, when he was reportedly using profane language, acting in a disorderly manner, and would not leave. The charging document also stated that the defendant continued to be disorderly after his arrest.

Adam D. McCulloch, 18, Morgantown, W.Va., pleaded guilty to one count of possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS). He was sentenced to serve two days in jail, fined $155, and placed on six months of unsupervised probation. He was also ordered to complete 40 hours of community service. An additional charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted.

The charges against McCulloch were filed on Sept. 2 by the Maryland State Police after he was stopped for speeding. The investigating trooper noticed a small plastic bag containing suspected marijuana in the glove box as the car's registration was being retrieved. McCulloch reportedly told the officer that it was marijuana, but he didn't know who it belonged to. A search of the vehicle also revealed drug paraphernalia and a set of scales used for weighing marijuana, according to the report.

Two passengers in McCulloch's vehicle, Gregory W. George, 18, Morgantown, who had been charged with possession of CDS and its related paraphernalia, and Jonathan E. Hutzell, 18, Martinsburg, W.Va., who was charged with possession of CDS paraphernalia, were not prosecuted.

Carl L. Welch, 50, Oakland, pleaded guilty in last week's district court proceedings to one count each of being disorderly in a public place and trespassing. He was sentenced to serve 48 hours of a 30-day jail term for each offense (to be served concurrently), fined $155, and ordered to pay $100 restitution to the Domestic Violence Center.

The charges against the defendant were filed on Oct. 8 after he reportedly engaged in an argument with his girlfriend, Rebecca S. Kemphler. When Welch refused to leave, Kemphler called the police, who then responded to the scene and told him to leave. According to the report, Welch complied with the request and left the home.

Officers were called back to the scene a half hour later and found Welch back at Kemphler's home. He had pounded on the door and forced his way into the residence. He was apparently intoxicated at the time of the incident and was arrested at that time.

James B. Thomas, 25, Oakland, was not prosecut-

CHRISTOPHER REEVE

"Faster than a speeding bullet; able to leap tall buildings in a single bound." The words surely seem empty now to the man who played Superman in the series of movies, Christopher Reeve.

The actor was thrown from his horse during a jumping event in 1995. Reeve landed on his head and the impact of his 215 pounds hitting the ground severed his spinal cord.

Christopher Reeve couldn't breathe at first, let alone move. It took mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to keep him alive until he could be put on a respirator.

There were so many times he wanted to give up and die. He fought depression, with his wife and children at his side. He wished it was all a bad dream.

But it wasn't. Reeve decided to reclaim whatever he could of his life. And he also decided to help others while helping himself.

Because he was so well known for his Superman role, he has become the symbol for all those who are victims of spinal cord injuries and other paralysis. His celebrity riveted national attention on this problem.

He had been an actor from the time he was 13, when Reeve went to the McCarter Theater in Princeton, N.J. after school and took any role offered. Because he came from a broken home, the actors there became his family.

Reeve at first did not take the Superman role seriously — he almost did not audition for it. He later did more serious films, such as "Remains of the Day."

Confined to a wheelchair, he decided to help people with the same problem. He has made several appearances on television and has stressed the need for funding for research toward a possible cure.

"It was an accident. But now I have the opportunity to make sense out of it. I believe it's what you do after a disaster that gives it meaning." He wants nothing less than a cure. The challenge he faces requires strength beyond Superman's — it takes the courage of an American hero.

More information about other role models is in the book "American Heroes, Their Lives, Their Values, Their Beliefs," by Robert B. Pamplin, Jr. and Gary K. Eisler. MasterMedia, 1-800-334-8232. Comments? e-mail GaryEis@AOL.com.

Antiques

Q. I started collecting Mar Crest pottery a few years ago. The pieces I have are dark brown, with lighter-brown raised designs. The larger pieces are marked "Mar Crest Stoneware." Smaller pieces are marked just "USA." Any information?

A. Several companies made the heavy brown dinnerware marked "Mar Crest" for the Marshall Burns Co. of Chicago. The Western Stoneware Co. of Monmouth, Ill., made most of the oven-proof stoneware, 1906-1985. Pieces include casseroles, mugs, pitchers, dinner and lunch plates, saucers, cereal bowls, nested mixing bowls, candleholders and ramekins.

Hull Pottery of Crooksville, Ohio, made some Marcrest pieces in 1958. Those items are marked "Marcrest Quality, Oven Proof." They were used as grocery-store giveaways.

Q. I saw an expensive, brightly painted corner cupboard that the dealer called a "Ralph cupboard." What is that?

A. A Ralph cupboard is one made in the 19th century by Thomas and James Ralph of Bethel, Del.

The brothers were shipbuilders who made the cupboards during the winter. Their cupboards had a scalloped trim and witches' wheel motifs, and were painted with as many as six colors. Unfortunately, many of the cupboards have been repainted.

A Ralph in original condition is worth as much as $75,000.

If you find a Ralph that has been overpainted, it might be possible to have the newer paint removed professionally to reveal the original colors.

Q. I have a collection of 60 silent-movie-star tobacco silks from the late 1930s or early '40s. The portraits are in dark red or blue. They have a facsimile signature underneath them, and the name "Old Mill Cigarettes." What company made them?

A. Old Mill Cigarettes were made by the American Tobacco Co. The actress series you describe is printed on silk with various background colors. There are 85 actresses in the set. They range from Lina Abarbanell to Flora Zabelle. They are interesting, but are worth less than $10 each.

Home Tips

SIMPLE CLEANING — I find my plasticware gets rather sticky, so I make a paste of baking soda and water to coat the dishes with, let the paste set for a while and then wash it off. It takes that stickiness off. Regina E., Ferguson, Mo.

CLEANING TOOL — I've found that a denture brush, the kind that is curved and has very stiff bristles on one end, is a helpful cleaning tool.

It is the small area of stiff bristles that makes this brush so useful. Linda R., Miles City, Mont.

STENCILING — There's a quick and simple way to test stenciling before doing the actual painting. Sometimes the scale or colors are not quite right.

Before I go through all of the work, I take a piece of waxed paper and do the stenciling on it, then I tape it to the wall. This way, I can stand back and get a good idea of the finished look and then make any changes necessary. Tessie L., Ft. Myers, Fla.

TIMESAVER — In order to save time when making coffee in the morning, I premeasure the amount of coffee needed into several coffee filters at the same time.

I then stack one coffee-filled filter on top of another in an empty coffee can and store them in the refrigerator.

You can get as many as 10 premeasured coffee-filled filters in a 26-ounce coffee can. This is much cheaper and just as convenient as the filter-packed coffee available in the grocery stores. Leila F., Harrisburg, Pa.

ed on a charge of being disorderly in a public place. The charge stemmed from an Oct. 7 incident when sheriff's deputies responded to a report about a person who was lying in the road. The deputies took Thomas home and were later called back to the area for the same type of report. This time Thomas was arrested and taken to the sheriff's office where he reportedly became unruly and disorderly.

Tricia Lapp, 20, and Tammy House, 26, both of Grantsville, were not prosecuted on one count each of trespassing. The charge against each was filed on Sept. 23 by Barbara Dixon, Swanton, who said they were on her property without permission.

Charges of being disorderly in a public place, filed against Eric E. Thomas, 18, and Nathan D. McBee, 18, both of Swanton, were placed on the stet docket. Each was ordered to complete eight hours of community service after the decision was rendered. The charge against each was filed on Aug. 11, during an outdoor party in a wooded area near the Mayhew Inn Road.

Steven A. Mills, 24, McHenry, pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of CDS. He was handed a 30-day jail term for the offense, but all of the sentence was suspended except for 48 hours. He was also placed on two years of supervised probation and ordered to complete 40 hours of community service, attend addictions counseling, and attend a 26-week alcohol treatment program with the Garrett County Health Department. A two-year alcohol restriction was also placed on his driver's license. An additional charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

The charge against Mills was filed on Aug. 2 after his arrest by the Maryland State Police for DWI (driving while intoxicated). A subsequent search of his vehicle resulted in the confiscation of a small quantity of marijuana and its related drug paraphernalia.

Glenn E. Cuppett, 30, Oakland, was convicted in district court of one count of battery. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail (suspended) for the offense. He was also placed on one year of supervised probation, fined $50, and ordered to submit to alcohol/drug evaluation, testing, and treatment.

Cuppett was charged with battery on Jan. 23 after he was found in his parents home and refused to leave. The charging statement indicated that at one point he grabbed his mother and pushed her to the floor.

Gary C. Moore, 38, Oakland, was not prosecuted on one count each of harassment, trespassing, and fourth degree burglary. The charge was filed against him on Sept. 10 by David G. Albert, Oakland, after an incident at Albert's apartment.

A charge of behaving in a disorderly manner while intoxicated, filed against Milford A. Moats, 57, Aurora, W.Va., was placed on the stet docket. The judge did, however, order Moats to complete 20 hours of community service for the offense.

Moats had become disorderly and uncooperative while sheriff's deputies were investigating an Oct. 4 fire involving his vehicle.

Christopher L. Guthrie, 18, Oakland, pleaded guilty in last week's court proceedings to one count of second degree assault. He was handed a 10-day suspended sentence and placed on one year of unsupervised probation. Conditions of his probation state he must complete 30 hours of community service by Feb. 1, 1997, and have no contact with the complainant, Cheryl Dilsworth. The charge stemmed from a domestic disturbance on Oct. 6, when the defendant slapped Dilsworth in the face, then punched her in the stomach and in the chest.

A charge of second degree assault, filed against Gary K. Stine, 53, Swanton, was placed on the stet docket. He had been charged with the offense on Oct. 6 after a disturbance at his home involving his wife and son.

One count each of CDS possession and possession of CDS paraphernalia, filed against James C. Brammer, 20, Ironton, Ohio, were placed on the stet docket. The defendant was one of five persons arrested on Nov. 28, 1995, after marijuana and drug paraphernalia were found in the apartment where they were staying.

Donald R. DeVore, 19, Grantsville, pleaded guilty to a charge of battery. He was ordered to serve 10 days of a 60-day jail term for the offense. The charge against him was filed on Aug. 27 by Lisa M. Evans, also of Grantsville, who told the police that during an argument, he punched, shoved, and grabbed her, and called her names.

During a sentencing hearing for Cathy Burns, 27, Swanton, who was convicted in September of one count of battery, the judge sentenced her to serve 30 days of a six-month jail term. He also placed her on one year of supervised probation, fined her $250, and ordered her to pay $190.91 in restitution to the victim, Tina Miller. Conditions of her probation stated that she must obtain her General Education Development (GED) certificate and attend addictions counseling.

Burns was charged with the offense on July 7 after an altercation with Miller at the Long Branch Saloon. Burns reportedly struck Miller on the back of the head with her fist, then pulled her by the hair to the floor and continued to strike her on the side of the head.

Nancy Stemple, 43, Corinth, W.Va., was granted probation before judgment after being found guilty in Judge Burnett's court of one count of battery. She was placed on one year of unsupervised probation and fined $25 for the offense. She had entered a not guilty plea. Not guilty verdicts were handed to Stemple on additional charges of being disorderly on private property and trespassing. Conditions of her probation state she is to have no contact with the victim, Dawn Lantz Sacagawea, Oakland.

The charges against Stemple stemmed from a Sept. 27 altercation at the victim's home. The defendant reportedly called Sacagawea names, shoved her, pushed her in the stomach, and refused to leave when asked to.

During a sentencing hearing for Jody L. Emerick, 18, Grantsville, the judge sentenced him to two years in jail, and suspended all but one year of that term. He also placed Emerick on two years of supervised probation and ordered him to obtain his GED and attend addictions counseling.

The charges against Emerick stemmed from his involvement in the June 23, 1993, theft of an all-terrain vehicle that belonged to a Morgantown, W.Va., resident. He was arrested for the offense on April 26 of this year.

A Grantsville couple was not prosecuted on one count each of felony theft and fourth degree burglary. Duane E. Hare, 29, and his wife, 26-year-old Lori Hare, Frostburg, were charged with the offenses after $2,148 was stolen from a desk drawer in the office at the Grantsville Holiday Inn in late August.

Terry L. Fike, 28, Falls Church, Va., pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty to a charge of second degree assault. The charge was filed against the defendant by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office on Oct. 14, after a domestic dispute involving his wife, Jannette Fike.

Elizabeth H. Magri, 24, Baltimore, pleaded guilty in last week's district court proceedings to one count of possession of CDS. She was handed a 30-day jail term, with all of the sentence suspended except for two days. She was also placed on six months of unsupervised probation, ordered to complete 40 hours of community service, and fined $155. An additional charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted by the state's attorney.

The charges against Magri stemmed from her April 27 arrest by the Maryland State Police during an open air concert on the Green Lantern Road. She was one of several persons arrested during the concert.

One count each of being disorderly in a public place and malicious destruction of property, filed against John M. Friend, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, were placed on the stet docket. He was ordered, however, to complete 100 hours of community service by March 1, 1997. Friend had been charged with an alcohol restriction offense on Aug. 28 by the Oakland City Police, who had then taken him to his home. He reportedly became combative and ripped a screen out of a door. Sheriff's deputies were summoned to the scene where they found Friend cursing and yelling, and he continued to do so until he was arrested.

Frederick W. Baker, 43, Friendsville, pleaded not guilty and was found not guilty of battery and petty theft. The charges had been filed against Baker on May 5 by Maria Atkinson who said he punched her in the stomach, knowing at the time that she was pregnant. She also said he took her fishing pole and refused to return it.

To Theresa—The Gift of Love
Christmas...Oh, you loved that day, when Jesus was born, and prayers we'd say,
with all the presents we did give,
to see you smile, for you did live, in our memories where you grace,
we should know you're in a safer place,
although your not here for us to see,
there will always be one special present under our tree.
This present that is the best,
will be brought to you at our final rest...
We end this poem with a plea to say,
please, please don't drink and drive this holiday...

Dairy Industry Association Elects Interim Officers

Officers were elected, bylaws approved and committees appointed--all on an interim basis--at the organizational meeting of the Maryland Dairy Industry Association, held December 13 at the Frederick County office of the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland at College Park.

Myron L. Wilhide of Keysville, a Carroll County dairy farmer and Farm Bureau leader, was named interim president by acclamation. Janet Shank Stiles of Boonsboro (Washington County) is the interim vice president.

Laura Kaminsky of Wentz (Carroll County) was named interim secretary-treasurer. Kaminsky is a field representative for the Maryland Farm Bureau. The Farm Bureau will house the association headquarters on a temporary basis at its state office in Randallstown.

It was agreed that all 24 persons in attendance at the meeting would constitute an interim board of directors for the association.

Edwin C. Fry of Chestertown, a Kent County dairy farmer, was appointed to chair the association's legislative coalition committee. Other committee members are William D. Godwin of Hagerstown (Washington County), Jesse I. Burall of Monrovia (Frederick County), Harold L. Lenhart of Utica (Frederick County) and Sean Jones of Massey (Kent County).

Topping the committee's priority list will be helping to line up sponsorship for a proposed "Fairness in Milk Marketing" Act to be introduced in the 1997 session of the Maryland General Assembly.

Janet Stiles, association vice president, was named to head the membership and finance committee. Other committee members are Will Godwin of Hagerstown, Fern Hines of Union Bridge (Frederick County), Jere F. DeBaugh of Boonsboro (Washington County) and Stanley W. Fultz of New Market. Fultz is the Extension dairy science agent for Frederick County.

It was agreed that association dues will be $40 per member, and all dues-paying members will have a vote. A higher fee may be charged during the first year for persons who wish to be listed as charter members. That fee has not yet been established.

Robert R. Peters, milking management specialist, and T. Milton Nelson, agricultural editor for the Cooperative Extension Service, University of Maryland at College Park, were named to the publicity committee, along with Nola (Cookie) Ramsburg of Walkersville (Frederick County). Becky Long, assistant farm editor of the Frederick New-Post, is an ex officio member.

The committee is making plans for an association newsletter that would be sponsored jointly during its first year of existence by the Maryland Department of Agriculture and the Cooperative Extension Service.

The next board meeting of the Maryland Dairy Industry Association is scheduled January 21, 1997, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at the Frederick County Extension office in Frederick.

Prices Received By Farmers Mixed For November

Prices received by Maryland and Delaware farm operators were lower than October for crops, cattle, and hogs but increased for other livestock and hay. At the U.S. level, price declines for corn, soybeans, and milk more than offset price increases for cattle and eggs.

Agricultural Land Values Increase

U.S. farm real estate values averaged $890 per acre as of January 1, 1996, 7.0 percent above a year earlier. This represents an inflation-adjusted increase of 4.4 percent.

The largest increases occurred in the Appalachian, Mountain, and Corn Belt regions (11.2, 9.8 and 9 percent).

The per-acre value of U.S. farm real estate has increased 49 percent since the 1987 upturn.

The USDA Economic Research Service benchmarks its farm real estate value data on the Census of Agriculture, which is conducted twice each decade. For years between censuses, ERS calculates annual percentage changes in value from other sources (currently the June Agricultural Survey conducted by the National Agricultural Statistics Service) and applies those percentage changes to the census benchmark values. Because the June Agricultural Survey collects its data as of June 1 and the census collects its data as of January 1, additional procedures are applied to make them consistent. Percentage changes from the 1994, 1995, and 1996 June Agricultural surveys were used as the basis for the interpolation.

Maryland's Rural Legacy Program

"The Key to Agriculture's Survival in the Decades Ahead"

"From the Governor's Office"

by Parris N. Glendening

As we move toward the 21st century, the primary question for Maryland's agricultural industry is, "Will it survive in the decades ahead? In a highly urbanized state, will there be any land left to farm?"

This issue cannot be ignored. Currently we are losing some 20,000 acres of farmland each year to development. During the next 25 years we could lose 500,000 acres of farm and forest land statewide--that's acreage roughly equivalent to the size of Baltimore County. Once that land is gone, it never will be returned to farming. That is why I will make farm preservation a key component of my Neighborhood Conservation and Smart Growth initiative.

All Marylanders have a stake in keeping agriculture prosperous. Agriculture is still our state's number one industry. From farm to distribution to consumer, it accounts for some $11 billion in gross annual receipts. Agricultural-related jobs account for about 14 percent of Maryland's work force.

Fortunately, in Maryland we already have in place the most successful agricultural land preservation program in the nation. To date, Maryland has permanently preserved more than 128,445 acres of productive farmland. This is more than twice as much as the next closest state, which is Pennsylvania. Our state's program is strong, effective and has wide support in the agricultural community.

As part of my Smart Growth initiative, I intend to propose a new Rural Legacy Program, which would be in addition to the existing Agricultural Land Preservation Program. This new program will focus on preserving agricultural land in a few key areas that are particularly threatened by urban sprawl. This voluntary program would offer rural land owners fair value, making it economically feasible for them to continue to farm. If we do not act now, sprawl will continue to gobble up open spaces and farms. We must give rural landowners an alternative to selling their properties for development.

Through the Rural Legacy Program we will save tens of thousands of acres of open space by redirecting existing funds and working with counties to greatly accelerate the purchase of easements and natural open space to preserve these unique rural lands. These funds will be made available on a competitive basis to counties or groups of counties willing to focus their efforts to protect large and important concentrations of agricultural or other natural lands from sprawl development. And, you may rest assured that the Rural Legacy Program will not jeopardize the successful Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Program in any way.

I also understand that even with strong agricultural land preservation programs in place, the best way to preserve farmland is to assure that our agricultural industry remains economically healthy. That is why one of the essential components of this Smart Growth plan is an effort to expand the opportunities for Maryland farmers to sell their agricultural products both at home and in the international marketplace.

During the last couple of years, our state's agricultural industry has made tremendous inroads into the export market. Maryland agriculture and food products can be found in many far off places. For example, we now see Maryland poultry in the Caribbean, Europe and Asia; Maryland Christmas trees in the Caribbean and Central America; Maryland bakery products in Canada, Africa and Europe; and Maryland wines in Canada and Japan. We are even selling Maryland ice cream to Saudi Arabia and South Korea.

Our agricultural land preservation effort will not work unless our agriculture industry is profitable. That is why I am currently strengthening Maryland's Right to Farm legislation. I want to do what we can to make farming a profitable and viable enterprise. Our Right to Farm initiative will ensure that a farmer's ability to make a living from the land will not be unduly restricted.

Maryland needs agriculture. All of our citizens benefit when our agriculture industry is strong. But the future of farming is no longer a sure thing. What we do now will determine whether we will have a strong agriculture industry to benefit our children and future generations of Marylanders.

Counting Up Agriculture's Success Stories Of Past Year

by Joan Waldoch, printed with permission from Farm Bureau News

It's the time of year when many people sit down and summarize the year in their holiday letters--the kind sometimes referred to as "brag letters." If American farmers and ranchers sat down to collectively write a letter like that, they'd have quite a lot to brag about.

The letter might note that the current state of agriculture isn't perfect. The year is ending with a downturn in farm prices for some commodities. Some nagging trade problems persist. Many parts of the nation have suffered severe drought; others have survived hurricanes and other weather disasters. And while millions of people wonder how they'll shed those excess holiday pounds, millions more remain hungry--a problem serious enough to command the attention of a recent world summit of political leaders.

But all in all, it was a pretty good year for agriculture. Some important agricultural laws were enacted, including the 1996 farm bill with its major change in policy. Pesticide legislation was finally updated, replaced with new, more reasonable language. There is reason for optimism on the budget front, too. A balanced budget used to be a distant dream, and it is now a goal of Congress and the administration.

So it was a fairly successful year, legislatively. But a scan through the stories that made Farm Bureau News this past year reveals that the real success took place far from the halls of Congress. U.S. farmers and ranchers turned in another remarkable performance doing what they do best--growing food and fiber.

Against unpredictable and uncontrollable forces, such as weather and fluctuating prices, they continued to become more efficient crop and livestock producers and they did so using fewer commercial chemicals. They continued to adopt practices like conservation tillage, integrated pest management, crop rotation and computer-aided precision farming techniques. They built wildlife habitats and sod waterways. They learned about herbicide-resistant seed varieties that further cut down on chemical use. They formed water quality coalitions and implemented best management practices to better protect the land and water.

They expanded their use of technology with global positioning systems and they opened their worlds a bit wider by "logging on" to the Internet. They learned about their political candidates and turned out to vote on Election Day.

In addition, farmers and ranchers took time out for "public relations." They visited schools and showed their farms to students; they talked with reporters, scientists and their urban neighbors. They shared their expertise with farmers in the former Soviet republics and other parts of the world. They donated hay to drought-stricken farmers in other states and gave food to the hungry. They promoted farm safety programs, and they got their children involved.

What farmers and ranchers do may not seem remarkable to them and may not get as much publicity as a bill-signing ceremony in the Rose Garden. But every day of the year, all the little things they do add up to something extraordinary. And that's worth talking about.

Acquisition Of Financial Trust Set By Keystone

Keystone Financial, Inc., the fifth largest bank holding company in Pennsylvania, has announced that it has signed a definitive agreement to acquire Financial Trust Corp. Carlisle, Pa.

Financial Trust, a bank holding company with four member banks and approximately $1.2 billion in assets, operates 48 community offices in seven counties in Pennsylvania and Maryland. Financial Trust's banking subsidiaries include Financial Trust Company, Carlisle, Pa.; Chambersburg Trust Company, Chambersburg, Pa.; First National Bank and Trust Company, Waynesboro, Pa.; and Washington County National Bank, Williamsport. For the nine-month period ended September 30, 1996, Financial Trust reported net income of $15.1 million, or $1.77 per share, which produced a return on average assets of 1.73% and a return on average equity of 14.20%.

Eastern Continental Divide — Joan Glotfelty Sussman

A NEW YEAR is just around the corner, and in order to help keep track of days and schedules in 1997, the Garrett County Arts Council has published a calendar that features the work of 12 regionally and nationally acclaimed western Maryland artists. The cover of the calendar is a reproduction of the award-winning Appalachia 2005 collage created by students of Southern Middle School art teacher Marcette Danner and also later constructed as a mural by members of the Ecumenical Youth Ministry. The month of December features the above watercolor landscape by Bittinger artist Joan Glotfelty Sussman and titled "Eastern Continental Divide." The color calendar is available at more than 35 area retail businesses at a cost of $7.50 plus tax. Proceeds of the project benefit the non-profit Arts Council in its mission "to aid, encourage, advance, and coordinate activities dedicated to the promotion of cultural arts in Garrett County and to integrate such activities into the life of the community." Information on bulk-order discounts (orders of at least 20) is available by calling the Arts Council at 387-3121.

Under terms of the agreement, each share of Financial Trust will be converted into 1.65 shares of Keystone, pursuant to a fixed exchange ratio. Based on the $26.50 per share closing bid price of Keystone on December 19, 1996, the value per share of Financial Trust approximates $43.73 and aggregates $371 million.

"Financial Trust is an outstanding banking organization, with a proud history of excellence in customer service and financial performance. The market area of Financial Trust, which is strong and growing, is an excellent fit with Keystone's existing franchise," Carl L. Campbell, president and chief executive officer of Keystone, said. "Our association with Financial Trust significantly strengthens our market position in Central Pennsylvania and Maryland, and affords us opportunities to achieve operating economies and enhanced revenue growth arising from a wider distribution of our products and services. The merger is expected to contribute to earnings per share growth in 1998."

"Keystone is a super community banking organization committed to service to the customer and the community. This commitment has been an important ingredient in their success and should facilitate the smooth integration of our two institutions," Ray L. Wolfe, chairman and chief executive officer of Financial Trust, commented. "Our complementary cultures and solid financial records, combined with the strength of Keystone's expanded product line, cause us to be excited about our future prospects."

The agreement is subject to approval by regulatory agencies and shareholders of both Financial Trust and Keystone Financial. Completion of the merger is expected during the first half of 1997. At that time, Wolfe will serve as chairman of the board of Keystone, and he and two other Financial Trust directors will join the Keystone Board of Directors. Concurrent with closing, Keystone expects to record a pre-tax charge of approximately $10 million to cover merger-related expenses.

Keystone Financial has five member banks -- American Trust Bank, N.A., Cumberland; Frankford Bank, N.A., Horsham, Pa.; MidState Bank, Altoona, Pa.; Northern Central Bank, Williamsport, Pa.; and Pennsylvania National Bank, Pottsville, Pa. -- which together operate 147 offices in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia. Keystone also operates several non-banking companies providing specialized services including Keystone Financial Mortgage Company, Lancaster, Pa.; Martindale Andres & Co. (asset management firm), West Conshohocken, Pa.; Keystone Dealer Finance Center, Williamsport, Pa.; and KeyCall Phone Banking Center, Cumberland.

Upon completion of the acquisition of Financial Trust and the previously announced acquisition of First Financial Corporation of Western Maryland, a thrift holding company headquartered in Cumberland, with approximately $345 million in assets, the assets of Keystone will increase 30% to approximately $6.7 billion and Keystone will operate over 200 offices in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and West Virginia.

December M.V.P.

Bonnie Snyder

Congratulations to this month's most valuable person . . . Bonnie Snyder. For over 40 years, Bonnie has dedicated her life to the well being of others as a nurse at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Although she has worked in many departments in the hospital, she is probably best known for her dedicated years in the obstetric unit. She has assisted with literally thousands of babies being born. Bonnie quotes, "You know you've been around awhile when a young mother looks up at you and says, 'You were here when my mother was born.'" Bonnie treats new mothers like they are "Queen for the Day." Co-workers describe her as compassionate, competent and fun to be around. Her family, who submitted the entry, have wonderful memories of this woman's legacy. Her son Keith states, "I remember as a child almost everywhere we went there would be a lady coming up to her and showing off her baby or sharing pictures. It was always like a reunion." Having a baby is one of life's most memorable moments. Having Bonnie Snyder there with you is God's blessing. Bonnie Snyder is a most valuable person because she has dedicated her life to giving others her precious gift of caring.

As an M.V.P. Bonnie will be awarded
* An official Denny's/KHJ M.V.P. Plaque
* A $100 U.S. Savings Bond
* A $50 Denny's Gift Certificate
* An on-air salute on KHJ 98.9 FM

If you know someone, young or old, who has demonstrated random acts of kindness, shown courage against adversity, or has made a special effort to be a positive role model to others, we'd like to know about it. Send entries to WKHJ, P.O. Box 2337, Mtn. Lake Park, MD 21550, FAX to 301-334-2152, or drop it off at Denny's in Oakland. Be sure to include your name and phone number as well as the name and number of your M.V.P. nominee.

New Horizons Now Accepting New Participants

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College is now accepting new program participants for FY97. New Horizons is the center for single parents, displaced homemakers, and single pregnant women and is designed to help program participants to access training so that participants will have the necessary job skills to make them self sufficient.

Who is Eligible?

* Single parents who are unmarried or legally separated from a spouse with sole or joint custody of a minor child or children, or are currently pregnant.

* Displaced homemakers who are adults with diminished job skills, who have lost their primary source of income through divorce, death or disability of a spouse, and who are unemployed or underemployed.

* Homemakers who lack marketable job skills because they have been caring for their family and home without salary.

New Horizons can offer program participants the following services: counseling and support which includes career exploration, goal setting and action plan; career planning, a five-week, 10-session class of self evaluation and career exploration, tuition assistance for credit and non-credit vocational classes at GCC; child care and/or transportation assistance while attending training; and referrals to community agencies for additional services.

New Horizons can help program participants to: obtain a Graduation Equivalency Diploma (GED); explore and develop vocational interests and expand job options; identify work needs, motivation, and marketable skills; investigate and evaluate occupations, training programs, and sources of financial aid to attend college; and review employment options.

For information about the program or to determine eligibility, persons may call 387-3071 or 387-3102 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The New Horizons Program is jointly funded by the Maryland State Department of Education and Garrett Community College. Grant funds in the amount of $45,000 are made available to the program through Career Technology and Adult Learning, which is 90% of the total budget for New Horizons, with Garrett Community College contributing an additional $5,200, which is 10% of the total budget for New Horizons.

CHRISTMAS GALA BENEFITS HOSPICE--More than 300 people came from as far away as Washington, D.C., to attend the Fourth Annual Christmas Gala, held earlier this month at the Oakland Elks Lodge. Party goers donned their formal attire and danced to music in the Glenn Miller style and feasted on a buffet prepared by McClive's Restaurant. The record attendance enabled Oakland BPO Elks Lodge 2481, sponsors of the event, to present a check for $3,000 to Garrett County Hospice. Shown above, from left to right, are Brenda Butscher, chair of the local hospice unit; John Smith, exalted ruler of Lodge 2481; "Rosie," the vocalist with the Fred Shannon Smith Orchestra, who provided the evening's entertainment; and Fred Shannon Smith, orchestra leader. Thanks are extended to all who made the dance a success. The Fifth Annual Christmas Gala is set for the first Saturday in December 1997.

New Horizons Slates Career Planning Class

The New Horizons Program, the New Dimensions Program, and The Caring Connection, three grant-funded programs sponsored by Garrett Community College, providing services for single parents, homemakers, displaced homemakers, and single pregnant and parenting adolescents, will offer a class titled "Career Planning" beginning Monday, January 6, through Wednesday, February 5. The class is offered over a five-week period, meeting twice weekly on Monday and Wednesday, from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. at the McHenry Campus of GCC.

This career assessment course is designed for individuals to identify their training needs and to prepare for employment. Topics to be covered during the five-week course include: personal assessment complete with interest, skills, and career testing; learning style evaluation; career information, training or retraining opportunities; and resume writing, job applications, job search strategies, and interviewing techniques.

Participants of the three grant programs, as well as the public in general, are encouraged to take this class before pursuing other vocational training. AARP, AAA To Offer Senior Driving Course

Community Action's Area Agency on Aging and the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) are working cooperatively to offer a classroom refresher course to help drivers 50 years of age or older improve their driving skills and prevent traffic accidents.

The two-session course will be held on Monday, Jan. 6, and Tuesday, Jan. 7, 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. each day, at the Mary Browning Senior Center in Oakland. Each student will be charged a minimal fee of $8 to cover the cost of needed materials. The fee will be collected on the first day of class.

The 55 Alive/Mature Driving Course is designed to meet the specific needs of older drivers. A spokesperson noted that it covers age-related physical changes, declining perceptual skills, rules of the road, local driving problems, and license renewal requirements. The spokesperson recommended that the course be taken by older persons every three years.

Volunteer instructors recruited and trained by AARP conduct the course, which is presented through a combination of slide presentations and group discussion. Betty Foy will instruct the class.

Several major auto insurance carriers in Maryland offer discounts to graduates of 55 Alive, the spokesperson said. Persons should contact their carriers for more information about discounts.

For more information persons may call 334-9431.

NAMED AS COMMENDED STUDENTS - Martin Green, principal of Northern High School, announced this week that seniors William Allen and Matthew Thomas have been named as Commended Students in the 1997 National Merit Scholarship Program. A letter of commendation from the school and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC), which conducts the program, was presented to the scholastic achievers. About 35,000 Commended Students from across the nation are being honored this week for their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the competition for Merit Scholarship awards to be offered in 1997, Commended Students placed among the top five percent of more than a million students who entered the program by taking the 1995 preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship qualifying test.

Creek, Sunday afternoon. Edna and Arthur Teets, Hazelton, W.Va., were also there.

Fannie and Bob Rizer and Freda and Glen Teets were among those attending a birthday celebration for their granddaughter, Megan Teets, at her home in Deer Park last Wednesday evening.

OTTERBEIN UM CHURCH NEWS

Pastor Joe Hatcher has been confined to his home with the flu. Arthur Davis, from Chestnut Grove, spoke at the Sunday morning worship service.

The annual Christmas program was held Sunday followed by a time of refreshments and fellowship in the social room.

The Youth Fellowship held "lock-in," Friday at the church. Grace Lee is the youth director.

The church visit to the nursing home on Saturday, December 21, was cancelled because of the flu outbreak.

Church officers for 1997 will be installed at the morning worship service, December 29.

A New Year's Eve sing will be held at the Church Tuesday, December 31, beginning at 7 p.m. Singing will continue until midnight, with an intermission for refreshments at about 10 p.m. The Mt. Top Gospelaires will be the featured groups. Ray and Carol Sweitzer; Linda, Sandy and Mary Lou, trio, and others from the church will also be singing. Everyone is welcome!

The Brotherhood breakfast will be Saturday, December 28, at the Casselman Restaurant, Grantsville, at 7:30 a.m.

Scouts In Action

Grantsville Brownie Troop #5045 met on Dec. 17 with Amanda Kinsinger calling the session to order. There were 25 girls present.

The troop did activities to help earn the math fun patch. The Brownies then broke off into pairs and measured each other with crayons to see how many "crayons tall" they were.

A jar filled with Christmas candy was passed around as part of a math guessing game. Kayla Snyder won with her guess of 400. She shared her winnings with her fellow Brownies.

Each Brownie was given an alphabet code to complete which they then used to write messages in secret code. They also worked on coloring finger puppets.

Barbara DeWitt provided the snack and Wendy Minor was the parent volunteer.

A short Court of Awards followed the meeting. Each Brownie was presented with the patches she has earned up to this point. The troop leaders also gave each girl her brownie pin as a Christmas present.

The next meeting will be held on Jan. 14, 1997, at the Grantsville Elementary School, 3:45-5 p.m., weather permitting.

Bankers Launch Essay Contest For Scholarships

The Maryland Bankers Association, through its consumer information program, will again sponsor an annual essay contest with awards to be presented to winners at the county and state levels.

Open to high school seniors in both public and private schools, the contest will judge the best essays on the topic "How can a bank and I work together to help me prepare for the future?" Preparing for the future may include career, financial, and/or educational goals. Entrants may interview bankers or community leaders for assistance.

"We live in an era where many young people leave for college or the workplace unprepared to handle personal financial issues," said MBA Executive Vice President John B. Bowers Jr. "The essay contest is one way we try to encourage young people to familiarize themselves with personal finance as well as further their education."

Student submissions should be single-sided on letter size, white paper; the length, two-to-four pages, double-spaced. Completed essays must be sent to the MBA office, P.O. Box 546, Annapolis, MD 21404-0546, postmarked by February 14, 1997.

MBA volunteers will review submissions and select winners from each county and Baltimore City who shall each receive a $200.00 savings bond donated by an MBA member bank. Winning entries from the counties and Baltimore shall be considered for a best-in-state award of a $1,000.00 scholarship provided by the Maryland Bankers Association.

Contest materials have been distributed to high schools statewide. Students interested in participating in the contest, but have been unable to obtain materials from their school may call the Maryland Bankers Association at (410) 269-5977.

The Maryland Bankers Association is the trade association representing commercial banks and thrifts in Maryland. Founded in 1896, the MBA works to provide advocacy, communication, education, and other services to its member institutions.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Army Pvt. Travis A. Sams has graduated from basic military training at Fort Sill, Lawton, Okla.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Sams is the son of Sarah G. and stepson of James D. Plank III, Deer Park. He is a 1996 graduate of Southern Garrett High School.

U.S. Army Pvt. Charles T. Granke has graduated from One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at Fort Leonard Wood, Waynesville, Mo.

The training included basic military training where trainees received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

The soldiers completed advanced individual training (AIT) as bridge crewmembers, where they learned to operate bridge trucks, light vehicles and bridge erection boats; prepare bridge sites and handle shore lines; assist in rafting operations and assembly of military bridges and installation of overhead anchorage system components; launch and retrieve ribbon bridge bays; prepare and install demolition firing systems; and arm and disarm land mines.

Granke is the son of Richard D. Granke, Germantown, and Laura J. Bowman, Oakland. He is a 1995 graduate of Southern Garrett High School, Oakland.

LOCAL CONTRACTOR RECEIVES AWARD--Building contractor Bill Thomas, left, of Blue Sky Venturea, Inc., is shown above with a group of people who received the 1996 Maryland Historical Trust Preservation Award from Harrison B. Wetherill, chairman of the Maryland Historical Trust Board of Trustees, second from the right, during a recent presentation in Annapolis. Thomas's company was the general contractor for a project called Bear Garden, a house built in the 1760s in Frederick County. The house, which had fallen into disrepair, was purchased by Sarah Pearre, third from the left, who employed the help of noted historical architects Michael Trostle, second from the left, and Peter Pearre, far right, to undertake a "museum quality" restoration, which requires extensive attention to detail and very stringent guidelines to ensure that all aspects of the project conform to what was previously in place. The Bear Garden project was the only privately funded project to win an award, and is now on the Register of Historical Houses in Maryland. Thomas and his family moved to Garrett County last year, and he is now involved with renovations in this area. He can be reached by calling 387-2878.

The Bureau provides legal assistance in civil matters to eligible persons. Services are available at no cost to those whose income and property holdings are below certain federally mandated levels.

The Western Maryland office of the Legal Aid Bureau is located at 110 Greene Street in Cumberland. The office can be reached in Garrett County by calling 334-8832.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call in advance to schedule an appointment for the Outreach location or for an appointment at the Cumberland office.

Young Men May Register Via On-Line Service

For the first time ever, young men can initiate a registration with Selective Service using a computerized on-line service. "This will make registration even easier for men in millions of computer households," said Gil Coronado, director of the Selective Service System in Arlington, Va. Coronado heads the federal agency which preserves America's capability to conduct a military draft in a crisis.

In addition to providing a wealth of information to the public through its Internet home page (http://www.sss.gov), Selective Service has teamed with CompuServe to allow young men to initiate a registration on-line. The Agency's joint venture is with CompuServe's "All Things Military." A young man with computer access to CompuServe simply utilizes GO MILITARY and requests a registration form. Once the information is entered on-line, the information is forwarded to Selective Service for processing. Within 30 days, the new registrant receives a personalized registration card in the mail. After checking the information on the card, signing and dating it, the young man mails it back to SSS.

Young men must register within 30 days of turning 18 in accordance with federal law. More than 35 million men have registered since 1980; however, none has been drafted. The last draft ended in 1973. "By having the names and addresses of men ages 18 through 25 on file in the Selective Service System database, America remains ready to face any threat in the future," Coronado said.

"Being able to offer an on-line means to help men register is just another way to further our goal of providing a wide range of military-related services to our CompuServe members," said Dan Meeks of CompuServe's "All Things Military." CompuServe, Inc., connects more than five million home and business users in more than 185 countries.

According to Earl Neiderhiser, district engineer for PennDOT's District 9, the apparent low bid of $53,095,150 was submitted by New Enterprise Stone and Lime Co., Inc., of northern Bedford County.

Two other bids were opened, with Baker Heavy & Highway, Inc., of Coraopolis submitting the second low bid of $53,436,000. The third bidder was Mashuda Corporation of Cranberry Township with a bid of $56,817,346.

The project was re-bid this month after a Commonwealth Court judge ruled in November that the contract could not be awarded to the low bidder from the Sept. 12 bid opening.

Neiderhiser said the bid review process for this round of bids will be expedited in order to verify the low bid and award the contract to the successful bidder as soon as possible.

PennDOT anticipates awarding the contract and having the documents executed within the next several weeks so that a notice to proceed can be issued by late January.

Neiderhiser said the actual start of construction depends on the contractor's plan of operations and the weather conditions through the remaining part of the winter, but at the latest, work will start by spring.

The project involves construction of a five-mile, four-lane bypass around Meyersdale, with an interchange located south of town near the former IGA Foodliner market. A two-lane portion of Route 219 will also be constructed north of the Gnagy Pony Farm to eliminate a sharp curve known as Black's Curve.

The southern tie-down point for the project will be just south of Hunsrick Summit.

Overall construction for the project is anticipated for completion of the project in the fall of 1998.

General Permit 96-GP-0015 for storm water and hydrostatic test water from petroleum terminals. This permit authorizes discharges of storm water discharges from storage tank diked and loading rack areas and hydrostatic test water from petroleum terminals. Both federal (40 CFR 122) and State (COMAR 26.08.04) regulations require discharge permits for this activity. Specifically, State regulations require that dischargeS of any wastes or wastewater regardless of volume be authorized by a discharge permit. This applies to discharges to surface or ground waters. Federal regulations address discharges to surface waters only, requiring a permit for the discharge of pollutants.

This permit sets numerical limits on the concentration of the petroleum product contamination following treatment of the storm water or hydrostatic test water. The limits are based on what has been demonstrated to be technologically achievable. Self-monitoring is required to verify compliance. The permit also requires testing to verify that the discharges with a specified volume and duration be tested to verify that the discharge is not toxic to aquatic life, and if toxicity is present, the permit requires its elimination. This is a requirement of the federal Clean Water Act. This permit also sets operational requirements, such as inspection routines.

General Permit 96-GP-0016 for discharges of treated ground water from petroleum contaminated ground water sources. This permit authorizes the discharges of treated ground water that has been previously contaminated by petroleum products as the result of leaks or spills. This permit sets numerical limits on the effluent concentration of the petroleum product contamination following treatment of the contaminated ground water. The limits are based on what has been demonstrated to be technologically achievable. Self-monitoring is required to verify compliance. The permit also requires testing to verify that the discharges with a specified volume and duration be tested to verify that the effluent is not toxic to aquatic life, and if toxicity is present, the permit requires its elimination. This is a requirement of the federal Clean Water Act. This permit also sets operational requirements, such as inspection routines.
